

A QUEER TANGLE IN LIQUOR BILLS

One of Two, but Which, Must Be Killed, but, Also, by Whom?

HANSEN BILL WITH SIFTERS.

They Will Probably Ask That the Badger Measure be Killed—Conference on Appropriations.

"A condition, not a theory, controls" might aptly be said by both branches of the legislature. The house has in its possession S. B. 148, known as the Hansen liquor bill, and the senate has in its possession S. B. 149, known as the Hansen bill with sifters. Both bills have been passed by their respective bodies, and the question is now being asked by the senate whether it is to pass the bill as it is, or whether it is to pass it with "sifters" which would kill the bill.

The Hansen bill was submitted to the senate shortly before noon and was referred by President Gardner to the sifting committee. That body is composed of Senators Benner, Smith, E. T. Hansen and Carl A. Badger. They will probably ask the house to kill the bill, and will then recommend that the Hansen substitute be passed.

CONFERENCE ON APPROPRIATIONS.

The appropriations bill was returned to the senate this morning, after having been amended and passed by the house. Most of the changes were concerned in the upper branch, but a few were not exactly to the liking of the senate, and a conference committee was appointed to meet with a like delegation from the house, to adjust differences. The committee named by President Gardner was Williams, Miller and Steadley.

CONSIDERED IN SENATE.

H. B. 230, by Mr. Nielson, to prevent certain abuses connected with the drilling, operation and abandonment of wells on lands producing or containing petroleum or natural gas, passed, with President Gardner casting the only negative vote.

H. B. 232, by Mr. Archibald, relating to the classification and the manner of changing the class of a city. This bill makes cities of 30,000 inhabitants as first class; cities of more than 4,000 and less than 30,000, second class; and all others, cities of the third class. In case of change of city of the third class into one of the second class, the boundaries of the school district in which such city is located, should include area outside such city, shall remain the same, and the territory embraced therein lying outside such city, shall remain a part of the school district of such city until changed in the manner provided by law. Passed.

H. B. 123, by Mr. Dyren, defining and classifying transient stock, and providing for the assessment, collection and distribution of taxes on the same. Passed.

H. B. 82, by Mr. Porter, providing for a state veterinarian, and providing that his salary shall be paid, partly by the state and partly by the Agricultural College of Utah. Passed.

H. B. 130, by Mr. McCracken, relating to the term of office and bond of the sheriff and county clerk. This bill provides that the sheriff and county clerk shall be elected every four years, and that the provision shall apply to such officers who were elected in 1908.

Senator Wilson moved that the entire clause be stricken out, contending that the measure is "ridiculous and pernicious." "If the committee in other counties is in line, that we want to get rid of certain officials, the opportunity should be given every two years. In some counties Democrats have been elected, and we want to get rid of them; unless it happens that the Democrat be a better official than the Republican."

"You had better be careful, Senator Wilson, or you will be out of the party, like some of the rest of us," said Benner to Smith.

"Oh, I have already been read out of the party," replied Mr. Wilson, and a general laugh was created.

GRAND SPY'S CURATOR FAMILY

or Willard Hansen, of Salt Lake. Mr. Hansen is a practical dairyman, and is a son of Representative W. S. Hansen of Baxendale county.

The state legislature contains three chambers. M. St. Steele of Panguitch is the member from the south end of the state. A. G. Glaucue, of Salt Lake and W. T. Farnsworth, of Salt Lake are the members from the north end.

On the board, while W. H. Thain of Logan and W. D. Candland, of Mt. Pleasant are reappointed. The retiring members are William J. Lynde, of Salt Lake, T. G. Callister of Fillmore and Henry Hayes.

R. W. Salisbury is re-named on the state board of equalization. Harden Bennett, of Garfield and George Black of Salt Lake City are the new members of the board, who serve for a period of two years.

Frederic W. Chambers of Ogden is named as state fish and game commissioner, vice H. B. Cromar, retired.

J. E. Taylor, of Salt Lake, is appointed state horticultural inspector.

The board of trustees of the state industrial school, consists of Harry Joseph, of Salt Lake, reappointed; John Walsh of Farmington, and Harold E. Peery, of Ogden. The retiring members of the board are Dr. E. M. Conroy of Ogden, and T. B. Evans.

The commissioners of insurance, a new position created by a recent enactment of the legislature, has not yet been announced for the reason that the bill has not yet received the executive approval. This it is expected will be approved today, or tomorrow.

The new official appointments indicate seem to point to Col. George R. Squires as being the incumbent of the insurance commissionership.

The legislative session is now in its closing hours. At the end draws near, a sigh of relief is heard on all sides, even among the members themselves, many of whom have remained in the city to assist in the closing up of the business of the session when their presence was really imperatively demanded at their distant homes. Their faithfulness and patriotism has been commended on all sides, and the session of early release from legislative duties is now in the horizon. The session, it is thought, will not last longer than tomorrow, perhaps at noon. The liquor bill and the conference in the appropriation bill, which it had been expected would be finally acted upon. The senate will doubtless today hold an executive session in which to pass upon the governor's appointments.

The house this morning passed senate bill 208, which is a substitute for senate bill 91, by Badger, relating to license tax for corporations. Representative Barnett succeeded in having the bill passed, and the bill is now excluded from the list of corporations paying such tax.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION.

The house also passed S. B. 158, by Seely, providing for a Utah state conservation commission; S. B. 204, by H. X. Smith, prohibiting the taking of unlawful rates of interest; S. B. 211, by Miller, providing revenue for the state government and state and district schools for the years 1909 and 1910.

The house concurred in the senate amendments to H. B. 231, providing for a school for the adult blind, of the state. The amendments provide for an appropriation of $1,000 for the purpose named to $4,000.

The house passed senate joint resolution No. 4, providing for an amendment to the state constitution to the effect that the state should be permitted to bond for general purposes to the extent of 1 1/2 per cent of the assessed valuation of property. The provision of the constitution now limits the state indebtedness to $250,000, and the amendment provides a movable scale which is considered more desirable.

PILOTS OUT OF WORK.

The house killed senate bill 159, by Benner X. Smith, providing for a state commissioner of navigation, to inspect boats on Great Salt Lake; also senate joint resolution No. 4, providing for homestead exemptions. The house passed senate joint resolution No. 2, by Hyde, in which the Utah representatives in Congress are asked to work for an amendment to the interstate commerce act providing for the prohibition of the transport of alcoholic liquors into this state in certain cases.

The house adopted the following amendment to senate joint memorial No. 2, asking for the retention of the tariff on lead.

"Whereas, even under the present tariff on lead in ores a majority of the lead mines of Utah cannot be operated at a profit, on account of the low metal prices, and whereas, it is the policy of the state to develop the present tariff is reduced at all, our labor in the lead mines would be compelled to compete with Mexican people making the production of lead in Utah prohibitory."

WEATHER REPORT.

The weather is uncertain today, although the weather office predicts "fair and warmer" for tomorrow. A low barometer is over the entire country, but there is no precipitation in view of the high winds. The mercury here has been moderate.

Relatively low barometric pressure prevails over the greater portion of the country this morning with center of depression over the Rocky mountains, south slope of the Rockies and the British northwest territory. Precipitation has occurred in the Rocky mountains, the lake region, middle Mississippi valley, 14th, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico.

At Salt Lake, the temperature was 58 degrees at 8 a. m., 55 maximum, 50 minimum, 35 noon, 57 which is a decrease since the first of the month. Accumulated excess of temperature since Jan. 1, 28 degrees. Total precipitation 2.2 inch. Total precipitation since first of month, 1.8 inches, which is 4.1 inch above normal. ## DOG DAYS HAVE COME.

The Ideas of March Betide Evil For The Meandering Mongrel.

Every dog has his day, an old saying runs, and Chief Barlow is determined to see that no Salt Lake dogs fail to get what is coming to them. Barlow is disgusted with the present municipal dog law, and is issuing orders to the "harmless bulls," as well as the "fly cops" and other minions of the law to round up every dog within the city limits, and to be ready to be carted away to the city dump.

Barlow believes it a "doggone" shame that the city is overrun with so many mongrels, and he proposes to rid the city of the "harmless bulls," as well as the "fly cops" and other minions of the law to round up every dog within the city limits, and to be ready to be carted away to the city dump.

The strike leaders claim that victory is within their grasp. Business houses are sending special messenger services to maintain communication with the provinces as well as points outside of France. The government has prepared a bill to extend the time on financial paper until the state services are again normal.
