LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, JULY 23.

NICE THUNDERSHOWER this afternoon, the dust laid, and the air moister and cooler.

BUILDING UP.—South Cottonwood Ward is being rapidly built up. Something over twelve brick buildings are now being erected there, and are in various stages of progress.

A CHANGE.—We understand that Mr. Sigor, superintendent of the German-smelting and refining works, will soon retire from that position, when the vacancy will be filled by Mr. Wise.

BIG EXCURSION.—The rush for tickets for the 20th Ward Lake Side Excursion, on the 24th, has been so great that those conducting the affair have been compelled to charter another car, making nine in all.

TWO DAYS' MEETINGS.—It will be seen by a notice in another column that two days' meetings will be held in the new Tabernacle on Saturday and Sunday, August 9th and 10th. There is likely to be a large attendance.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Eugene Callay, conductor of the Utah Southern Railroad passenger train, met with an accident while at his post this morning, by which he had the fourth finger severely crushed; luckily no bones were broken, though the flesh was badly bruised and mutilated. Dr. Benedict attended to the injury.

STORMY.—That thunder storm yesterday was pretty powerful while it lasted, and so was that shower. The latter was only of a few minutes' duration, when at its greatest height. A steady, gentle shower for a few hours would be of great benefit to the crops just now.

DISCHARGED.—Wm. Nixon and T. Taylor, the young men who were arrested on suspicion of being concerned in robbing Mr. Shepherd, of California, of $1,000 last Thursday, were discharged from custody to-day, there being no evidence produced to show their connection with the crime.

ACCOMMODATION.—On every evening when the Theatre is open, for the accommodation of those who attend, the street cars run until the close of the performance. This will be a great convenience to parties visiting the Theatre who reside at some distance from that building.

MADAME ANNA BISHOP.—This lady and her troupe gave the opening one of three concerts at Platt's Hall, San Francisco, last Thursday night, a large audience being in attendance. The Figaro speaks glowingly of the quality of the performances and says the audience was very enthusiastic.

THE COMING EMIGRANTS.—A dispatch in another column says a "thousand Mormons" for Salt Lake passed through Omaha yesterday and the day before, Sunday and Monday. The emigrants are usually four days coming from Omaha, which would make it Thursday or Friday for the arrival of this company. But as it is a large company, and probably coming by special train, it is possible for it to be here on Wednesday evening, though it is more likely to be Thursday evening. However we may have a dispatch giving more definite information before the arrival of the company.

THE ARTESIAN WELL BORING PROJECT.—At a meeting of gentlemen interested in the above experiment, held yesterday, in the absence of a quorum to effect a perfect organization, the following persons were elected to act temporarily as officers: Henry Lawrence, President, B. G. Raybould, Treasurer, Bentham Fabian, Secretary.

It was further resolved that an assessment of twenty dollars on each share be made for the purpose of paying the contractor for work done up to date, and that the Secretary notify subscribers to pay said assessment to the Treasurer at the Banking House of Walker Brothers.

BEWARE OF THEM.—There are any number of unmitigated rascals in this city now-a-days, who are ready to take advantage of every favorable opportunity to lead the young and unsuspecting into the paths of sin. Young women, beware of them. Do not, under any circumstances, form acquaintances with strangers with whose characters you are unacquainted. Parents, look after your daughters and also your sons, and do all in your power to keep them out of the way of temptation.

A case of a young woman of this city leaving the home of her father and mother and going away with those who are capable of leading her to ruin was brought to our notice a few days ago, and this is only one instance among numbers of others.

MISERABLY CONTEMPTIBLE.—From a gentleman who resides in the Tenth Ward we learn that some miserable scoundrel broke into the school house last Wednesday night and took from the Sunday school library collection of books, a number of Books of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants, and Bibles. Some charred remains of the books were subsequently found on the bench about a mile east of the school house, indicating that the animus of the person who committed the deed was unadulterated meanness and spite. Such a wretch is beneath all contempt, and it is to be hoped he will be discovered, that it may be known who is the smallest man in the country, as well as that he may be punished according to the law.

A carpenter who was at work in the schools discovered, on Thursday morning, that some one had been inside the building the night previous, as he found that one of the windows of the old school house, which connects with the new, had been unfastened.

THE LAKE.—There is a luxury within reach of many of our citizens which does not seem to be appreciated to that extent that it deserves. We refer to bathing in the waters of the Salt Lake, one of the most healthful and pleasant recreations imaginable. The waters have a most bracing and strengthening effect upon invalids, and their buoyancy enables ladies and children to bathe in them with little or no danger of drowning, it being nearly impossible for an individual to sink. With a great many people "distance lends enchantment to the view," and it is probable that if the Lake were from one to three hundred miles distant from here quite a number of our citizens who have never been close to its shores would visit it for recreation, pleasure and health.

The few people who reside around the margin of the Lake attest that the atmosphere is very conducive to health, and that the difference in this is noticeable within a distance of only a few miles of the shore. This is probably explainable on the ground that a certain degree of moisture is favorable to animal as well as vegetable life. The evaporation from the Lake in summer time is very extensive, so much so that around its margin a heavy dew falls upon the contiguous land every evening at sunset, remaining on the ground till an hour or two after sunrise, causing a moisture to exist in the atmosphere that is exceedingly grateful to the senses and is very invigorating to the human system, and hence in the vicinity of the Lake what is known as summer complaint among children is comparatively unknown, whereas in localities where the atmosphere is dry and arid such diseases prevail to an alarming extent.

It is the opinion of some who are acquainted with those facts that if these items were more widely understood the side of the Lake would become a more frequent place of resort than it is at present, and that the number of summer residences thereabouts would largely increase.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, JULY 23.

FROM SANPETE.—Judge Peacock, of Mant, Sanpete Co., is in town.

THE EMIGRANTS.—We understand the coming emigrants will be in this city at ten o'clock to-morrow morning.

THE THIRD COMPANY.—The third company of emigrants for Utah was expected to leave Liverpool, July 9th, and to number about 300.

THE EMIGRANTS.—Read the list of names of arriving emigrants and see if your friends and acquaintances are among the number.

QUITS.—There will be a quit contest to-morrow at R. Margetts' grounds, Second South Street. We understand that from fifteen to twenty competitors have entered their names.

CAPTURED.—Warden Rockwood informed us to-day that the convict, Peter Angerson, who escaped a few days ago, was captured yesterday in the First Ward, and that he is now safely in custody.

FROM BEAR LAKE VALLEY.—General C. C. Rich and his son, Col. J. C. Rich, arrived in the City to-day. They report that harvest prospects in Bear Lake Valley are excellent.

THE TWENTY-FOURTH.—According to custom, the printers wish to enjoy themselves in celebrating the arrival of the Pioneers in this valley, consequently we shall publish no paper to-morrow.

RETURNED.—Elder George Nebeker reached home this morning, from the Sandwich Islands, in good health. He had a pleasant trip going and returning. He left Honolulu on the 8th instant. Brother Mitchell and family and the brethren generally were well when he left. Elder King, who has been laboring on the Sandwich Islands for several years, with his wife and family and two native boys, will be in this city in a few days.

THAT GALE ON MONDAY AFTERNOON.—Warden Rockwood dropped in this morning and informed us that the gale, on Monday afternoon, carried a new, large and very substantial outhouse, which he had had erected on the fair grounds on Jordan St., into the air for a few rods, the fall completely demolishing it. A circular tent, 24 x 16 feet was considered in great danger, and the guard directed two of the prisoners to hold on to it. The men did as they were told, but their strength was not sufficient, and they and tent were carried aloft a few feet. The men reached terra firma again uninjured, but the tent was destroyed.

ST. GEORGE.—By courtesy of President George A. Smith we are enabled to print the following, received by Deseret Telegraph this morning:

ST. GEORGE, July 22, 1873.

President Geo. A. Smith:

The work on the Temple is steadily progressing. Foundation on west end, north-east and half of east end six feet high.

Weather warm and dry, range about 112. Crops light. Not much sickness, but considerable wilt. Heberville co-operative farm encouraging.

ROBT. GARDNER.

VIRGIN CITY.—James Humphries writes from Virgin City, Kane Co., July 14th, as follows:—

"We have very hot weather in this part of the country and very dry, the driest season for many years. Our wheat crop is all gathered. Late corn is beginning to be planted, early corn looks well, also sugar cane; and as far as I can learn the people of Virgin City are all rejoicing in the principles of the Gospel. Our Sunday and day school is well attended, and, as a general thing, the health of the community is pretty good."

GAS, WATER AND STEAM.—Mr. William J. Silver has been for some time engaged in laying gas, steam and water pipes in the City Hall. The steam pipes are to be used for heating the interior of the building. When the gas arrangements are completed the town clock will be lighted up at nights. While the fittings are being arranged for lighting the clock the public are requested to look upon it as an unsafe time indicator. This will not be for a few days, however, as the work cannot be done till some of the "fixings" arrive from the east.

U. S. MAIL COMMISSIONER.—General Slonaker, of New Orleans, General Commissioner or Superintendent of the United States Railroad Mail service, is in town. The General has the superintendence of the railroad mail service for the entire country, and it is on business connected with his office that he is now traveling in the west. On leaving this city he will proceed to California. He has the supervision of the making of contracts for carrying mails; assignment of routes, etc., throughout the United States.

The General, who served in the Confederate army, under General Longstreet, states that of 190 representatives in the State Legislature of Louisiana, 93 are colored, and of 44 senators 33 are colored, besides there being a colored congressman, United States senator, and auditor of public accounts.

FOUND THE HORSES.—Some time ago John Bright, of Riverdale, Weber County, had six horses stolen from him, and since then Sheriff William Brown, of Weber county, has been hunting for the animals and thieves. A few days ago he recovered two of the horses, which he found in possession of a man in Ophir, who had bought them from two men named respectively James Dolen and W. Bean. These two individuals were found in this city yesterday, with two of the animals in their possession, and were arrested. Dolen said he bought the horses but could give no definite idea as to whom he bought them from, while Bean claimed to be only an employee of Dolen.

This morning the following dispatch was received by Capt. Andrew Burt.

LEHI, July 23.

Capt. Burt:—I hear you have two of the horses and prisoners. I have got the other horses and will be in the city this evening.

WILLIAM BROWN, Sheriff.

In every case which Sheriff Brown has undertaken, so far as we have had opportunity to observe, he has showed that he is a most efficient officer. When he starts out after anybody, he keeps up an incessant and indefatigable hunt until his object is accomplished. He keeps the object to be attained in view and never lets up until he has either accomplished it or till perfectly satisfied that the case is fruitless. Weber County is fortunate in having so able, industrious and efficient an officer.

FATAL SHOOTING CASE.

Shortly before seven o'clock last evening H. M. Garvey was shot and killed by William B. Sullivan, in Harry Wright's saloon, East Temple Street. The two men entered into a dispute, gave each other the lie and then commenced a rough and tumble fight. Several persons who were present at the time interfered, among the latter being the proprietor of the saloon, Mr. Wright, and separated the combatants. Sullivan was put out of the place and Garvey retired toward the rear end of the saloon. When Sullivan got as far as the outside of the door he drew his pistol, opened the swinging door with his left hand and pointed the weapon at Garvey. The latter ran from him in a stooping attitude, as if to avoid the bullet, when Sullivan fired. The ball entered Garvey's back beneath the shoulder blade and, taking an upward tendency, owing to his stooping posture, came out under his collar bone, and went through the partition door casing and fell to the floor.

Dr. Hamilton was immediately called in, who said at once that the case was hopeless, and informed the deceased to that effect. The latter only lived about twenty minutes after receiving the wound.

After the shooting, Sullivan gave himself up, and was taken to the City Hall and lodged in jail, where he now lies.

At half-past nine o'clock in the evening Coroner George J. Taylor and a jury held an inquest over the remains of Garvey, when Edward Prebble, Harry Wright, and Yung Cut, the latter a Chinese waiter, were examined as witnesses.

The testimony given by these witnesses was, in effect, that a few minutes before the shooting took place, Sullivan called Garvey to go over to a corner of the saloon and talk with him, which request was complied with, and while the two were conversing something was said about $500 and some mining property. The lie was passed on both sides, and they engaged in a rough and tumble fight, were separated, Garvey retiring to the rear of the saloon and Sullivan going out of the door, and while at the door the latter shot Garvey.

The Coroner's jury returned the following verdict:—

TERRITORY OF UTAH,
Fourth Precinct, Salt Lake City.

An inquest held at Salt Lake City, fourth precinct, Salt Lake County, on the evening of the 22nd day of July, A. D. 1873, at 9 p.m., at the saloon of Harry Wright, upon the body of H. M. Garvey, there lying dead, before George J. Taylor, Coroner of said County, by the jurors whose names are hereto subscribed. The said jurors, upon their oaths, do say that he died from a pistol ball from a weapon in the hands of one William Sullivan.

In witness whereof the said jurors have set their hands the day and year aforesaid.

F. D. BENEDICT, M.D., Foreman.

WM. NAYLOR,

H. DINWOODIE,

GEORGE J. TAYLOR, Coroner.

Garvey was a member of the order of Odd Fellows, and those who belong to that society took charge of his body, which was taken to the City Sexton's.

He was aged about thirty-three years, and was from the State of Iowa. He had light hair and eyes, fair complexion, and his features were very sharp and pointed, although of medium height his limbs were long and loose-jointed. We are informed that he was generally quiet when sober, but when in liquor was apt to be quarrelsome, having been before the police court on several occasions for threatening and presenting weapons at individuals.

Our reporter visited Sullivan, at the City jail, this morning, and, in conversation he made a statement which in effect was about as follows:

Some time last Fall Sullivan went to Garvey and asked the latter to loan him some money, for which he would give him 100 feet in the "Porcupine" mine, Farley's Canyon. Garvey responded so readily that Sullivan let him have 150 ft. instead of 100, to be even with him. Sullivan also gave Garvey authority to sell for him 350 feet more in the same mine, for which he wanted to get $7,000. Garvey asked Sullivan what he would get providing he sold for 10,000, and Sullivan said if he did he should have $5,000. Some time ago Sullivan asked Garvey if he had sold the 350 feet in the "Porcupine," when the latter said he had not. Sullivan subsequently learned, however, that he had sold, and Garvey afterwards told him he had disposed of the property to Jack Shane, for the latter's note for $500. The conversation in the saloon was relative to this transaction, Sullivan telling Garvey then that $350 of the $500 belonged to him, and from which the quarrel ensued. Sullivan claims that Garvey struck the first blow. Sullivan is a native of Ireland, is between thirty and forty years of age, of medium height and has very dark hair and whiskers. He bears the marks of hard usage in the fight, one of his eyes being somewhat battered and most of the whiskers on the left side of his face was torn out by the roots.

The examination of the case will probably come off to-morrow or Friday.

The Twenty-fourth.

AMERICAN FORK.

We have had a grand display, a good orderly celebration, without drunkenness, and entirely worthy of the day. The procession formed at nine o'clock a.m., and marched through the principal streets. It extended one-third of a mile, and consisted of ox teams representing the past, American Fork brass band, infantry, mayor and municipal authorities, committee of arrangements, invited guests, fathers in Israel, relief society, twenty-four young ladies, Sunday school, 300 children, farmers with mowers, reapers, rakes, etc., artisans and mechanics representing their different trades and occupations. The co-operative tannery made a fine display of leather, shoes, with workmen currying, shoemaking, etc. Vulcan at the forge was well represented by five blacksmiths plying their trade. The various banners contributed to a fine display.

Upon arriving at the Bowery the assembly was called to order by the marshal of the day, Col. W. Chipman, and was favored with speeches by Mr. Wm. Greenwood, orator of the day, upon the establishment of the various kingdoms of the earth, and of God's kingdom in the latter days; Hon. L. E. Harrington, in behalf of the pioneers, who gave a vivid account of the past and contrasted the present temporal condition of the people with that of twenty-six years ago; recitation by Mr. John Duncan, Estabrook's "Advice Gratis;" songs by adult and juvenile choirs, Prof. Grant, Messrs. Peters and Hunter, sisters Featherstone and Durrant; volunteer toasts, sentiments, poetry, &c.

There was a dance in the afternoon for children in the spacious Hall recently erected by Mr. H. Bates, and another in the evening for adults. Messrs. James Preston, Alva Green, John Peters, S. Wagstaff, and John Durrant, committee of arrangements.

A meeting was held at 3 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of taking contracts for grading upon the U. S. R. R.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH B. FORBES.

PLEASANT GROVE.

The 24th is past and right well was it spent. The committee appointed were Wm. M. Frampton, Henson Walker, R. Petersen, and J. M. Ballinger. The exercises commenced with a parade of the Sunday School, and the display made was second to none ever witnessed in this place. At nine a.m. the crowd had assembled and Bishop Brown reviewed the causes why this day should be commemorated by us, in that happy vein and style that riveted the attention of all who listened. Speeches were made by Bro's Holman, Walker, and Halliday, fraught with no unusual interest to Latter-day Saints. The afternoon services were equally interesting, varied with songs, music and toasts. I cannot close this report without favorable mention being made of the voluntary assistance of the Pleasant Grove Band. Much credit is due to Bro. Frampton, not only for his untiring energy to make the occasion pass off well, but for the happy selection of songs made by him, as leader of the choir. Dancing commenced in the evening, and the "we sma" hours found the young and old keeping time to music. Thus the 26th anniversary of our arrival in these valleys has passed and will long be remembered as the most pleasant ever celebrated here.

H. WALKER, Marshal,

BEN. W. DRIGGS Jr., Reporter.

TIDE POWER.—Much has been said at times concerning the utilization of the power of the tides for milling or manufacturing purposes. Where the tides rise to any considerable height this economization of their power is one of the simplest things. All that is required is two reservoirs with water gates and between the reservoirs one or more mill races, the upper reservoir to be open at high tide and closed at low tide, and the lower reservoir to be closed at high tide and open at low tide. Here would be a magnificent water power, replenished every twelve hours. The power obtained would be that afforded by whatever fall could be secured between low water in the upper reservoir and high water in the lower reservoir. For instance, suppose the tide rose 20 feet. Reckoning three feet depth of water for consumption in the upper reservoir and three feet to be filled up by said consumption in the lower reservoir, would give a water power with a minimum fall of fourteen feet. Larger reservoirs, or at least a larger lower reservoir, would give a correspondingly larger minimum fall.

The gates of the high tide reservoir could be advantageously opened when the surface of its water was on a level with the surface of the incoming tide-water, and closed at the high tide. The gates of the low tide reservoir could be advantageously opened when the surface of its water was level with the surface of the outgoing tide, and closed at low tide.

Let every man and woman who may see these lines take a note "on it."—Ex.
