News from New York.

NEW YORK, 22.—The Tribune says: At an early hour this morning, Thurlow Weed was believed to be dying. He was found to be unconscious yesterday morning, and only rallied once in the course of the day, when he recognized his daughter Harriet. Three physicians were in attendance upon him. He continued to sink during the afternoon and evening, and the beatings of his heart were at times almost imperceptible. When they were counted they fluctuated between 132 and 150 a minute. At last reports the attending physicians did not think Weed could survive for any length of time. He suffers no pain but his body is worn out and he is slowly but surely passing away.

The Herald, editorially, says: "According to the last annual report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, large portions of the public domain are unlawfully taken possession of in many of the western States and Territories by the action of rich and influential land pirates, to the great injury and detriment of bona fide settlers. In California it seems that this evil prevails to a greater extent than in any other part of the Union. Thousands and thousands of acres it is asserted, are illegally enclosed there by brush fences, and the ownership of them is asserted as against immigrants and settlers who if they attempt to take up farms within these fraudulent boundaries are harrassed in the courts, which, as a rule, are on the side of the land grabbers. This is an outrage which the general government should promptly redress. The public land is a sacred trust for the benefit not only of this generation, but of the generations that are to come. We have already given far too much of it away to railroad and other corporations, and the land wolves should not be permitted to steal what is left of it. If these speculators will settle down and cultivate the 80 or 160 acres to which each one of them is legally entitled, all right; but they should not be permitted to seize that to which they have no just right or title. They might just as well rob the treasury vaults in Washington or Wall Street as steal the public land.

Railroad Regulations.

CHICAGO, 21.—President Cable of the Rock Island Road, in an interview to-night, said the only basis on which his company will settle the present war on rates from the northwest is 30 per cent. of the business to Minneapolis, and 26 per cent. to St. Paul. Until this is conceded, he states, the Rock Island will continue to fight.

St. Louis, 21.— Commissioner Midgely had a conference here this afternoon with Capt. C. W. Rogers, General Manager of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, regarding the admission of that road into the Colorado pool. It is understood that matters were favorably arranged, and that the admission will take place at the next meeting of the pool.

New York, 21.—A notice was posted on the Stock Exchange to-day, that the Denver & Rio Grande would within 30 days issue $3,840,000 in shares, the money to be expended in further construction, thus increasing the capital stock to $33,000,000. The Board of Directors explain that the object of this is to avoid floating debt.

It is ascertained that 25,000 shares of Northern Pacific preferred were registered yesterday in the name of Drexel, Morgan & Co.

The "Jeannette."

WASHINGTON, 21.—In the Jeannette Court this morning, Engineer Melville continued the account of his search for DeLong and party. The narative was very pathetic. He gave the details of the discovery of the party frozen to death on the banks of the Lena. The attention of the searchers was first attracted by hut poles sticking out of the snow. Upon seeing these the party advanced a few steps, when they saw a hand reaching out in the snow, which afterwards proved to be DeLong's The rest of the part were then discovered, the remains of a fire near them, and evidences that the unfortunate men had been trying to remove their effects with the evident view of reaching the banks of the river. Melville said they evidently recognized the fact that if they died near the bank of the river their bodies would be carried away by the floods. Melville examined DeLong's journal found near where his body lay. The bodies were all frozen to the ground, but as soon as discovered were pried up, rolled together and covered with tent cloth. It was found when Ambler's was turned over he clutched DeLong's pistol. From this Melville drew the inference that DeLong died before Ambler, and that the latter had taken the pistol to keep of animals. Melville gave directions to have the bodies taken out of the snow and placed in a hut near by. He also directed those removing the bodies to be very careful to preserve any articles found on their persons.

Dr. Collins, of Minneapolis, brother of Jerome Collins of the Jeannette expedition, is here. In an interview he reiterates the charges against De Long and Melville for their treatment of his brother. Among other things he furnishes extracts from his brother's diary after the sinking of the Jeannette, which say: "We are preparing to go south; nothing is ready; we started with a rush, burst three sleds. There is no experience governing our movements, resulting in a mess of the worst kind, the men growling among themselves at the mismanagement." The notes show Collins killed the most game on the retreat. After a vivid description of a terrible fight in an open boat, he says "he never experienced such misery; wet by every sea, trembling with cold, and hopeless except in the mercy of the Almighty God. We sat jammed together for nearly 72 hours, when we sighted a low coast off the Lena Delta. Five days and nights we were in open boats, and then had to leave the boats a mile and a half and pack in a storm." The second day after reaching the Lena Delta he writes: "The general plan of running the machine, which has been our bane so long still holds like a leech, and sucks our chances of escape away. Our allowance is half a pound of meat per day." The sufferings of hunger are then described in pitiful language. The last entry was made September 30th. The doctor says he can establish the utmost cruelty of treatment of his brother all through the trip, even at the time when Melville was inscribing the names of DeLong's party on the cross erected over their graves, he placed his name, although the scientist of the party, under the head of sailors simply, J. J. Collins.

Waves from Washington.

The Postmaster General on behalf of the United States and the Belgian Minister on behalf of Belgium, have signed an agreement between the two countries for the exchange of money orders.

Indian Inspector Pollock had an interview with Secretary Teller this morning regarding his recent suspension. Secretary Teller says no conclusion was arrived at, and further interviews are to be held on the subject.

It was reported yesterday that Secretary Chandler in his forthcoming annual report will recommend that the life-saving revenue marine and coast survey bureaus of the Treasury Department be transferred to the control of the Navy Department. It is thought here should Chandler make this attempt and succeed, he will follow next year by asking for the transfer of the marine hospital service another branch of the Treasury Department. Chandler declines to state his intentions in the matter.

The Cabinet meeting to-day was quite brief and uninteresting, the only discussion being relative to the contents of the annual reports, the principal topic being in regard to the internal revenue. It is asserted by persons of position to know, that Commissioner Raum will recommend a large reduction of internal revenue, and that his recommendation will be endorsed by Secretary Folger and President Arthur.

The annual report of the Treasury shows the receipts of the fiscal year ending June 30th, $403,525,250; expenditures exclusive of redemption of public debt, $257,981,439.

In referring to the distribution of coin and paper currency, the comptroller of the currency says, from November 1, 1881, to November 1, 1882, the production of gold by mines within the United States is estimated at $43,359,021, and the amount of gold exported from the country in excess of amount imported, $36,122,536; difference, $7,236,485, the increase during the year. The Director of the Mint estimates that $2,700,000 of this amount has been used in the arts, leaving $4,536,485 as the increase in stock of gold remaining in the country, and available for circulation. The total excess of imports of gold over imports from the date of resumption to November 1, 1882, has been $161,311,578 and the total gold product of the mines of the United States for the same period is estimated at $147,509,021.

Assistant Attorney General Truman is preparing an elaborate report on the Southern marriage associations and kindred societies, which will be submitted to Postmaster General Howe to morrow. It is understood he has taken strong grounds against the legality of such concerns.

The joint select Congressional committee on shipping this afternoon held a private session and discussed various points presented by those who appeared before the committee, so far as they related to legislative obstructions to the successful running of American vessels in the foreign trade after they are built. The committee unanimously concurred in the opinion that all such legislative obstructions should be removed, and Senator Conger and Representatives Cook and Dingle were appointed a sub-committee to draft a bill in accordance with the views expressed by the committee. It is intended to have this committee report at the opening of Congress.

Retired.

Rear Admiral J. B. Creighton has been, at his own request, placed on the retired list, having been over 40 years in the service.

Demanding the Debt.

RICHMOND, Va., 21.—The Virginia funding act, of 1871, under which the bond-holders released the State from one-third of her old debt and agreed to look to West Virginia for that third, contains a provision that annually after the year 1880, there shall be collected the same as other taxes, a tax of two cents on one hundred dollars of assessed valuation on all the property in the State, for a sinking fund to pay off the principal of the bonds. Counsel for London bondholders to day applied for a mandamus to compel the State officers to collect this tax.

Cape Cod Canal.

BOSTON, 21.—Capt. Nathan appleton states De Lesseps and General Turr, Hungarian canal builder, will be interested with him in building a ship canal across Cape Cod. The application on file in the State House gives three years to complete the job, with two million dollars or three million.

Chess Champion.

PHILADELPHIA, 21. — The fifth champion game of chess between Wilhelm Steinitz and the president of the Philadelphia Chess Club, like the other four, was won by Steinitz. The game lasted six hours. Martinez retired after the fifty-ninth move.

Crime and Criminals.

JANESVILLE, Wis., 21.—Burglars blew open the safe of the Milton postoffice and secured $2,000 in money and a quantity of jewelry and other valuables. No clue.

Washington, 21. — Wilmot H. Ward and W. F. Colter are indicted by the grand jury of the District for offering money to employees to abstract from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, paper upon which notes are printed. The object in view, it is alleged, was to prove looseness in the management, and thus influence Secretary Folger to remove Col. Irish, superintendent.

Troy, N. Y., 21. — The property stolen by five masked men on August 16th, from the residence of Alexander J. and Thomas M. Gilchrist, in Charlton, Saratoga Co., was recovered at New York through negotiation. The property included $25,000 in bonds and mortgages, certificates of deposit aggregating $30,000, and $800 in cash. A ransom of $950 was paid. At the time of the burglary the family were bound and gagged, and the safe opened with a key.

Halifax, 21. — Capt. Courtney of the fishing schooner, J. W. Smith, was murdered to-night by one of his crew, Alfred Baubellier.

Wool.

Boston, 21 .— Demand for wool steady and moderate; prices unchanged. Foreign wool quiet, and nothing of any consequence has been done. Stocks of both clothing and carpet wools are sold up close.

Rates Reduced.

Philadelphia, 21.—Iron and steel men here do not believe the reports of a general depression in the rolling mill industry in the West. At the monthly meeting of the rolling mill proprietors here yesterday, rates were reduced two-tenths of one per cent. and under the schedule prices of labor will be reduced 5 per cent. on December first so that no loss will be sustained in the business.

Chicago, 21.—The threat of the steel mills in this district to shut down in view of the unprofitable outlook is the general theme of conversation to-day. Said one gentleman well versed in the finances and business of the country, when talking on the subject: "It appears to me that the relations existing between the railroads and iron mills in this section are somewhat cordial and favorable to a joint bear movement on stock. Perhaps after a few weeks, when these get low enough, when the small fry are frozen out and the large fish have fed to satisfaction, the roads will stop cutting rates, and the mills will conclude to close."

Still Stubborn.

BOSTON, 21.—A unanimous vote for dissolution was adopted this afternoon by the Boston Fish Exchange. The fishermen are still stubborn, and refuse to sell to members of the exchange. Many took their fish to Gloucester.

The Strike Spreading.

PITTSBURG, 21.—The strike of the coal miners is generally spreading. Officials continually assert that before the week has elapsed all of the pits not paying four cents will be idle if miners on the Pan Handle quit work; it is claimed those on other roads pay more. The operators are very firm against granting advance.

A Farmer's Failure.

LEXINGTON, 21.—Robert J. Johnson, horse breeder and farmer, made an assignment to-day. Liabilities $80,000; assets valued at $150,000.

Death and Disaster.

WASHINGTON, 21.—Private advices announce the death in New York this morning of Tariff Commissioner McMahon.

Richmond, Va., 21 —Jas. Cowardin, founder and senior editor of the Dispatch, died this afternoon, aged 72.

Sag Harbor, L. I., 21.—E. G. Haven, who was accidentally shot while duck hunting, died nine hours after receiving his injuries. He did not regain consciousness after being shot. His funeral took place to-day.

Pottstown, Pa., 21.—The Jacoby powder mill, Montgomery County, exploded. John Scumaker is crippled for life. The mill was first started in 1780.

Providence, 21, midnight.—Up to this hour only three victims of the disaster have died, the two girls before reported and Thos. Manor, foreman of the Robinson jewelry shop. No hope for Mary McSoley, Mary Cuddy and Delia Gassett. Sixteen others were injured, three seriously. The remainder are in a hopeful condition.

Elkhart, Ind., 21.—This afternoon S. Baker and W. Ransom, while repairing a leach tub in a paper mill, were precipitated into the boiling liquid by a breaking board, and so badly scalded the flesh dropped off. Neither can live.

Bryant's Brother.

PRINCETON, 21.—Arthur Bryant, brother of the late Wm. Cullen Bryant, resident of this city has just suffered amputation of a toe, attacked by gangrene. He is over 80 years old, and his case is very similar to that of Governor Hendricks, of Indiana.

Lecture to Soldiers and Sailors.

BALTIMORE, 21. — Rev. Hugh Magevney, Jesuit priest, lectured to-night on the "Worth of Battle field Memorials" under the auspices of the Society of Soldiers and Sailors of the Confederate States, for the benefit of the Southern Historical Society.

FOREIGN.

British Briefs.

LONDON, 21.—The Queen, conferring the decorations at Windsor, said: "I have called you here to-day to express my best thanks for the gallantry and devotion you displayed in the short but decisive campaign in Egypt, and say how proud I am of my soldiers and sailors, who have added fresh laurels to those already obtained in previous campaigns, and of their devotion to their Queen and country.

When the Queen finished conferring the decorations, she presented a medal to Baron Hagenu, of the German Ministry, an attache of the British army in Egypt.

The formal charges against Arabi Pasha cite the articles of the Ottoman penal and military codes. Bradley and Napier, counsel for Arabi, in a public letter contend that to be convicted under those codes, rebels, must have waged war against the Sultan. The letter also declares the prisoners will prove the Porte approved their action from first to last, and that the Khedive also, long before the commencement of the war wavered between the Renegade party and the Nationalists, but that after the arrival of Dervisch Pasha in Egypt he acquiesced in the early phases of resistance.

There is reason to believe the opium question with China will soon be settled. If the Chee Fog convention be not ratified, the settlement will be on the line of that instrument.

London, 21.—Admiral Seymour and Gen. Wolseley are gazetted.

A communication was received last evening from a gentlemen in the confidence of the Malagasy Envoy stating that the French authorities threatened unless their terms are at once acceded to they will send French gun boats to attack certain points in Madagascar.

Chadwick & Sons, woolen factory near Leeds, have failed; liabilities £70,000

Albert Pell, member of Parliament, has started for America to inspect and inquire into the large cattle trade.

Dublin, 22.—Three of the men sentenced to be hung for the murder of the Joyce family, arrived in Galway this evening under a strong guard. They were hooted at by a large crowd.

After the conclusion of the Joyce murder trials, the juryman who had been one of the armed party which attacked the houses in County Clare, was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude.

French Presses.

Paris, 21.—Parliament and Temps regard the visit of Deglers as foreshadowing a revival of the alliance between the Emperors of Germany, Austria and Russia.

The Chamber of Deputies adopted a bill ratifying Debrazza's treaty with the Congo Chief, Makoko. Duclerc, President of the Council, said the execution of the treaty could not give rise to any difficulty.

Duclerc also read the text of the treaty of 1836 with Portugal. He pointed out that it reserved all right to France. The Government, he said, will shortly ask for a grant of $200,000 francs for Debrazzas expedition, to enable him to establish twelve scientific, commercial and hospital stations along the Congo river.

Berman, a member of the International society, was arrested to-day, being concerned in the anarchist demonstrations at Lyons.

Secret Service.

Berlin, 21.—Deglers leaves here Wednesday. He and the Russian Ambassador observe the strictest reticence in regard to the visit to Varizen.

Wrecked.

Quebec, 21.—Advices are received that the steamship Wearmouth, for London, lumber laden, was wrecked during the gale and snow storm on Magdalen Island, Sunday night. The vessel broke in four pieces. The crew all perished except five. The names of the saved are McCalland, Townsend, Martin, and Chief Engineer Hutchinson. The vessel and cargo were insured in London.

The Wearmouth went ashore half an hour after midnight. The gale and snow storm were terrific. The crew hung by the vessel until 11 o'clock yesterday, when she broke up. The crew numbered 20 men; 16 were drowned trying to reach land. The vessel was owned by J. D. Barwick, Sunderland. She does not belong to any line.

Mexican Light.

Monterey, 21.—Last night the Plaza was lighted by electricity. The Monterey street tramway will be open for travel next week.

Softened by Time.

Less than a month ago a woman about fifty years of age walked into the headquarters of a Georgia railroad, announced her name and said she had come to make a settlement.

"Settlement of what?" asked the superintendent.

"For killing my old man."

"When?"

"Nine years ago yesterday."

"Where?"

"About fourteen miles from Macon."

And so it proved. When the circumstances were hunted out it was found that she was the wife of a deaf man who had been killed while walking on the track, and no one had been able to identify him.

"Why didn't you come here sooner," was asked.

"Just heard of it the other day," she replied. "I supposed the old man was parading around somewhere and would come home when his knees wanted new patches."

"And what damages do you ask?"

"Well, it was a long time ago, and my grief has been softened up a good deal, and I reckon that $25 and a pass to Atlanta will be about right."

Settlement was made on the spot and she took the next train for the capital.
