FRAGMENTS.

Lake bathing is in the height of its glory.

The District Court convenes to-morrow.

Chinese railroad laborers are in the city in full force.

Passenger traffic eastward from the Coast is lively just now.

The D. and R. G. pay-car will leave Denver on Tuesday next, to pay off for May.

Fred Hoff says he expects to be pardoned out of the Pen after a while.

Hox. JOHN W. Young, we regret to hear, has been ill for the past few days.

Lieut. R. W. Young and wife, at Governor's Island, New York, will be home in a few days on a visit.

The matter of the D. and R. G. Western receivership will be decided in the District Court to-morrow.

It is thought the D. and R. G. Railway will be running through trains from Denver to Ogden in about five days.

Pending the arrival of the D. and R. G. pay car numbers of needy laborers are fed and lodged at the city's expense.

Governor MURRAY's commission, nominally for four years, but actually for perhaps four months, was received in this city last evening.

A TYPOGRAPHICAL error made us state yesterday that Lawrence Barrett would play at the Theatre July 11th. It should have been August.

ADAM PATTERSON, who owns a ranch twenty-five miles north of Grantsville, was sunstruck on the 4th inst., and was unconscious for seven hours.

The Deseret Hospital is going to change its location, and will shortly occupy the commodious building heretofore used by the Deseret University, on the Warm Spring car line.

A ROLLE in the street in front of the St. James Hotel, and another one in the culvert at the corner of 8th and 9th South Sts., are terror to buggy riders. Who will fix them?

The regular monthly business meeting of the Calumet Society will be held at Calder's Hall, on Saturday evening next at 8 o'clock p.m. A full attendance of the members is specially desired.

D. M. McALLISTER, Sec'y.

MEDICAL J. W. Sumner & Co., in an advertisement in another column, call upon their patrons from whom they have purchased wool, to deliver the same at once. They are desirous of filling, at the earliest possible date, all contracts which they have in hand.

John Carroll, who was released yesterday from the county jail, where he has been serving out a term of imprisonment, found himself again in a durance vile before the rising of another sun. He was threatening to kill somebody when the police overhauled him shortly after midnight this morning.

LOCAL NEWS.

Condolence.—We deeply regret to learn of the death, last evening, of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson, of the 15th Ward. The sad event occurred at about half past 7 o'clock, and was due to cholera infantum. The little one was but three months old and an only child. She was named Patti, after the great diva who sang in the Tabernacle a few months ago. The funeral was held at the residence, 41 E. North Temple Street, at 2 p.m., today.

The German Mission.—A private letter from Bishop E. W. Schoenfeld, now president of the Swiss and German mission, says that Elder Thomas Diesinger, who was imprisoned to Austria for preaching the Gospel, was released at the expiration of his term, but was not expected, and is again laboring in Vienna, where he has been joined by Elder Jas. E. Jennings. The latter, it will be remembered, was expelled from Bavaria several weeks since. Other parts of the mission are prospering.

Missionary Labors.—We have perused a letter addressed to President W. Woodruff by his son A. W. Woodruff, now on a mission in England. The young man is laboring in the Leek District of the Manchester Conference, in company with another Elder named Allen, and gives an interesting account of some of his late experience. On the 11th of June they walked 30 miles to Macclesfield, where they preached to a large assemblage of people on the public square. Elder Allen led off with a discourse on the First Principles of the Gospel, and Anabel, who is quite a youth, spoke on the universal apostasy from the primitive Church, and the restoration of the fullness of the plan of salvation in these days. He also bore witness to the divine mission of Joseph Smith. They afterwards delivered tracts, which were eagerly sought for, among the people.

Subsequently they traveled from place to place and held a number of meetings—open air and in-door.

They visited a hamlet for the purpose of preaching to about 90 people who inhabited it, but were denied the privilege by Mr. Ward, the proprietor of the entire place.

At a place called Tean they asked of an old miserly man who lives there the privilege of sitting upon a lounge in his house overnight, but he refused. They were total strangers in the town, but after hesitating they were entertained by a kindhearted woman, who also found them comfortable lodgings in the house of a Mr. Perkins.

At a place called Lenton the two Elders held a meeting, at which about 300 people were present, including the mayor of the town, a number of policemen and soldiers. A clergyman who was there asked some questions, and was put to shame by the ready and intelligent answers of Elder Allen. Brother Asahel addressed the assemblage for 45 minutes.

Nine meetings were held between the 11th and 21st of June, some of them in places where the Gospel had not been preached for many years, and the brethren think that much good will be the result, if the efforts of the Elders are maintained.

TERRITORIAL NEWS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

Diphtheria is said to be scourging Denver.

Denver is waiting 300,000 gallons of artesian water daily.

The Ogden postoffice is about to move into new and much better quarters.

Mrs. Langtry performed fourteen times in San Francisco and netted $26,000.

A Denver waiter was astonished to see an eight-foot snake come sliding out of the water pipes into his bucket the other morning.

Sheriff Turner, of Provo, has in his possession three horses which are probably stolen property. He describes them in another column of this paper and requests the owners to call upon him.

Ute Indians in Laplata County, Colorado, attacked some cowboys on the 3d inst. They killed eleven horses and drove off 100, besides burning the camp outfit and stealing the provisions. Five Indians were killed in the encounter.

The young tramp who was run over by a C. P. engine train near Ogden Wednesday evening is named George W. Howell, of Wichita, Kansas. His leg was amputated just above the knee, and it is believed he will recover. He is only 15 years old.

Miss Della Herbert, of Beaver, while horseback riding on the 7th inst., was seriously injured through the turning of her saddle. Her feet were fast in the stirrups and she was dragged some distance, her body being dashed from side to side in a shocking manner. Her injuries are not considered fatal.

L. E. Gerber sends us particulars of the celebration of the Fourth at Gooseberry, Ashley, Utah County. It was the first occasion of the kind in the place, and went off with considerable enthusiasm. The exercises consisted as usual of national salute, unfurling of the flag, music, procession, a good programme in the meeting house, and dances in the afternoon and evening.

A case of shooting is reported as having occurred on the evening of the 8th, in which Patrick Egan, of the Park City Hotel, was shot by Patrick Murphy of that place. The cause is not known, though Egan is reported as his antagonist, and says he only acted in self-defense. There have been threats of lynching, but his statement of the wounded man, who is believed to be dying, will probably prevent such action.

An exchange has the following: "The blockade of business by washouts on the Salt Lake extension of the Denver & Rio Grande has forced the Burlington management to look around for a safer and better route through the mountains to Salt Lake City. The Denver Tribune, speaking of the movement, says: 'The Burlington is surveying a new route from Denver to Salt Lake through Boulder Canon and Middle Park. This is not conclusive evidence, however, that it has decided to build an extension.' It has had surveying parties out between this point and Salt Lake for two years. All the routes have been rejected as too costly. But a road through northwest Colorado would pay from its local traffic. It would open a virgin country that is full of valuable resources."

Filshammer gives a description of the way the National Holiday was observed in Wanship: "Salutes were fired at sunrise, and at intervals during the day. The programme consisted of the reading of declaration, orations, songs and recitations, followed in the afternoon by a children's dance, at which the little ones were liberally supplied with oranges, lemonade, candy, etc. In the evening a ball was given for the adults. Our correspondent says the farmers will have a bounteous harvest if the Fall frosts keep away and the caterpillar, which is beginning to appear, restrains its appetite long enough for the grain to mature. Considerable property has been destroyed by the high water, such as the washing away of valuable land, and the piling up of debris on the same; but the water is fast falling, hence good fishing for 'ye Nimrods.'"

Between Two Stools.—It is said that the contemplated reduction in wages on the Utah Central Railway, to take effect on and after the 15th inst., will be met with a protest and proposition from the engineers and firemen of the road, many or all of whom are members of the National Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. It is also understood that this action is mostly inspired by the societies in question, and is not spontaneous with their members employed on the local railroad. The latter, it is reported, are not nearly so exacting as the societies they belong to, and could be conciliated with little trouble, but the obligations of their membership compel them to acquiesce in the policy pursued by their organization, in order to reap the benefits of membership. It is therefore a question of allegiance with them, between the society which guarantees them relief and assistance, on condition of compliance with its rules, and the Railway Company by which they are employed, and can be turned adrift, for refusing to submit to its regulations and decrees. It is rather awkward for the engineer and the fireman, but such is the situation. However, it may all be amicably settled between the Brotherhood and the Railway Company.

The Designing Artist.—It will be remembered that about a month ago one H. C. Burke, "a designing artist," sent thickey for parts unknown. On arriving here he registered as a leading hotel with the above title appended to his name, and during his sojourn made himself so attractive and agreeable that when he suddenly disappeared, a lady complained of the loss of a fine gold ring and about $500 currency, "borrowed for a few minutes" by the hero. His landlord was also left in the air of $40. A mercantile house in this city was also slightly taken in by the designer. He represented to the proprietors that he had patented about 200 original designs for pocket watches, and presented a contract signed by Burke, guaranteeing the firm in question the exclusive right to use these various designs for one year, including a book of instructions, for the sum of $7.50. He got the money, and next day left town without notifying anyone of his departure.

A gentleman representing the firm that was now in San Francisco, and quoted one Burke, of the street, and said, "Young man, I want you." The artist tremblingly asked what he was wanted for, and made a break to run, but was held firmly by his accuser. The matter resulted in Burke's going back to the money, which he had to hand to the gentleman, who then said he would communicate with him, and he would be called on at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, on the 10th inst.

MORE LAW-BREAKING.

ANALYSIS OF RECENT INQUIRY TO INDIANS.

The reprehensible practice of selling of spirituous liquors to Indians, in violation of the law forbidding it, has lately had more than one illustration. Two cases of this character are now pending in the courts.

Last evening, Captain Hawley, a detective in the employ of the U. S. R. R. G. Railway Company, arrested in this city one William Moore, of Pleasant Valley Junction, charged with selling a wine of Indian Reservation, from the effects of which drink one Indian, a chief, afterwards died.

The drink is said to have contained glycerine, tobacco juice, kerosene and alcohol. All the Indians became very sick after using it. Moore, who is alleged to have sold it to them, was working for a saloon man named Lettner. The dead chief was buried near P. Junction last Wednesday, and Capt. Hawley was directed to follow Moore to this city, where he was taken into custody, and arrested him. He was placed in the city jail and will probably have a hearing before U. S. Commissioner McKay to-morrow. Captain Hawley has telegraphed for witnesses, including the Indians who survived the effects of the deadly drink, and they are expected in on the evening train.

The other case is one in which P. J. Sadler is accused of selling liquor to Indians on the same reservation. He has been charged with the sale of spirituous liquors, having been brought here by Sheriff Colton, of Kansas, and is awaiting the action of the Grand Jury. But last evening, on a writ of habeas corpus, Sadler was taken before Judge S. P. Travis, sitting in chambers, where the question of his right to be released on account of a stay in the warrant of commitment was considered. Sadler, who is a resident of this city, was represented by Judge Hodge, his attorney, and District Attorney Dickson. Judge Travis took the matter under advisement till this morning.

At 10 a.m. the following decision was rendered:

In the matter of the application of P. J. Sadler, against U. S. Marshal for Utah Territory. Before the Hon. S. P. Travis, Associate Justice, Supreme Court of Utah Territory.

The above entitled matter having been argued by U. S. Marshal for the petitioner and by W. Dickson, U. S. Attorney, on behalf of the Government, and submitted upon the petition and return thereto, and appearing to me, the said Justice, that there is probable cause to believe that the offense of selling spirituous liquors to Indians under the charge of an Indian agent was committed in Utah County in said Territory on or about the day of June, 1884, and that the petitioner is guilty thereof, and that further proceedings should be had, I do hereby order that said petitioner be held to answer said charge, and that he be admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000, and that in default thereof, he be committed to the custody of the U. S. Marshal, in the matter of said charge, and that at the conclusion thereof, said Commissioner make an order thereon, that said petitioner be held to answer said charge, and that he be admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000, and that in default thereof, he be committed to the custody of the U. S. Marshal, and that he be admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000, and that in default thereof, he be committed to the custody of the U. S. Marshal.

And it is further ordered that E. A. Ireland, U. S. Marshal, bring the said Sadler before some one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of this Territory, on the 21st day of July, 1884, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the court room of the Third Judicial District Court at Salt Lake, and that he also produce said certified copy of said complaint and return thereto, and for each order of commitment or discharge as to the said Justice the evidence adduced by said certified copies shall warrant.

STEPHEN P. TRAVIS, Judge.

Home To-night.—President Taylor and party will return from Logan at 7:15 this evening.

March Improved.—The Tribune and Farmer, a weekly publication devoted to the farm, shop and freetime, comes to hand to-day in an enlarged form, and a new dress and under an entirely new management. It is filled with useful facts and general information for farmers, and the subscription is only $1.00 per annum. Office No. 30, Rose St., New York.

Obsequies.—The funeral services of Sister Jane Gollightly Winter were conducted this morning in the 6th Ward Assembly Rooms. The hall was filled to overflowing by friends and relatives of the deceased, to whom words of consolation and instruction were uttered by President Joseph F. Smith. Short remarks were also made by Apostle J. W. Taylor, Bishop Wm. T. Hays, and Bishop J. W. Watson and Jesse West.
