EVENING NEWS.

Saturday, . . June 18, 1887. HE DARKS TO BE A DEM-

OCRAT. Some strong remarks discreditable to Governor Zulick having appeared in Pomeroy's Democrat, the following communication followed, which, with the comments of the editor annexed, we copy out of respect to the worthy

Tucson, Arizona, May 24, 1887. Mark M. Pomeroy:

Some references to Governor Zulick, of Arizona, in your columns lead me to infer that you are not much acquainted with the man, and have not received full information in regard to his official course. It is no to be expected that any public functionary will fully satisfy everybody, or that he will never make mistakes. But "Brick" Pome roy has such a reputation for the advocacy of old fashfoned Democracy and opposition to fraud and injustice, that your censure of one whose efficial acts show that he is a friend of the former and a foe to the latter is a little surprising, and can only be accounted for by what I have suggested.

Governor Zulick, on entering upon the duties of his office, proceeded at once to expose official joidery and to remove men who were guitty of preying upon the public for private ends. In doing this he may have exceeded the anthority which the law by a strict con huction of its letter extrust. by a strict con bruction of its letter extrust-ed to him, but he accomplished a great pub-lic good and was sustained in his action by the people and by all who were not inter ested in corruption.

He has so directed and given tone to Arizona affairs that the Territory is now thoroughly democratic in politics, and its material interests of every kind have received a progressive impetus. No one who have read his message to the Legislature at its read his message to the Legislature at its latest session can fail to see in it the marks of a sagactous mind and a firm and deter mined hand fady to smile wrong and assist right, and to lead out in the path to a brilliant future. The Assembly was overwhelmingly democratic in both houses through the wise policy he pursued on assuming executive responsibility.

And here I must cite one instance of the force of the force of a grayness and resolution that I suming executive responsibility.

And here I must cite one instance of the Governor's Isirness and resolution that I think will be duly recognized by those who like yourself, are not atraid to Iace a mighty majority when that majority is incred by unreasoning prejudice and willing ignorance. A law passed at a previous session imposed upon voters a stringent and un innerican test oath. It required the citizen, before exercising the elective franchise, to swear among other things that he was no a member of a church, organization or association which held certain doctrines and taught them as articles of faith. The object of the law was to prevent the Mormons of Arizona from voting. It was understood that they were not, except in a few in stances, practical polygamists, and the Edmunds act of 1882 disfranchised every person who was a bigamist, polygamist, or guilty of unlawful cohabitation. So the Arizona statute was not directed against the actual polygamists but was designed

Arizona statute was not directed against the actual polygamists but was designed to distranchise all who simply believed that polygamy was proper or admissable, or who, not having any belief one way officiery which held the doctrine as part of its creed. creed.

In his message to the Legislature Governor Zulick, while uring the suppression of polygamy and all other practices forbidded by inw. pointed out the unconstitutionality and intolerance of this provision in regard to the qualifications of voters and usged it repeal. In doing so he exhibited a courage and firmness which, considering the tremendous force of the anti-Mormon tide which he had to stem, was truly admirable. creed.

which he had to stom, was truly admirable this induence with the Assembly prevailed and the obnoxious and indefensible law was repealed early in the session.

and the obnoxious and indefensible law was repealed early in the session.

Governor Zulick has been strongly assailed for this and other official acts that do not suit the demago ues and corruptionists but he has secured the support of the better classes of the Territory, and of the people who have been thus relieved from improper political disabilities and who form a strong element in the Territory and are welcomed by those who desire to see the country developed by patient and honest in dustry; for the excellent qualities of those much abused Mormons as colonizers and permanent, peaceful and solier residentiare acknowledged by all classes of the community. They are also Democrafs to the full sense of the term, and that is one reason why they are special objects of radical Republican aversion.

I mention this that you may see what kind of a man the Governor is so that when you hear reports concerning his career you may be able to judge of his cathere. A public officer who lights fraud and stands up for the appressed, advocating justice in the teeth of a howling and uareasonable multitude, is not the kind of a brave to be mentify.

Yours, for fairness,

Yours, for fairness, Jeffersonian. Very glad are we to thus be able to rive place to the above letter, which is from one of the best Democrats and pest informed men in the west. Poli-tical pobery is one of the gigentic cur-ses of this country we have for more than a quarter of a century contended against. We believe in partisauship within the lines of patriotism; that without political organization no suc cess can be reached or retained by any party. We would have such organization protect the public by brieging to the front only persons of proven integrity and love for great principles [Liws should be made to rest ovenic upon all. Administrations should pro-met all and labor to prevent the 100 bluzer wronging of any. Our opposition to Governor Zulick loes not arise from any good acts that ne has done, but from the fact that he was not a resident of the Territory whose estinies e list arkadimesare confided to his keeping. In this matter we feel that the President di not honor his promise to the people and that he has made the Democratic party that pledged itself to this man n r of observance to public duty, to pose as a faithless prevaricator, in case does not protest against such ignor-log of promises to the pieners and pledging to correct Democratic principle.

Governor Zulick is making history.
In all that he can and will do to purify public service and thus to benefit the people, we will give him support and good words. We are indeed giad to know that in cases where he strains the law and anchors in the realm of official discretion that he is on the side of right, truth, justice and humanity. The law should only be administered for the public good and not to enrich orivate purses. This is our idea of a Democratic administration. It is no part of one's official duty to single out any one tace or creed, sect or faction. any one race or creed, sect or faction to benefit or oppress, but to care for all alike-sain. sinner, Jew, Gentile, Christian, Infidel, Mormon, Methodist or person of no creed. ine statement of our esteemed correspondent as to the purification of politics and patriotism from the infamous, un-Democratic, unpatural or unuccessary test oath that has been accomplished by Governor Zulick raises him to a high position in our estimation. It is no province of liberty or of law to declare that a resident of a State or Territory that a resident of a State or Territory must confess his religious faith and swear to worship according to the dic tates of another. No one asks us in the State of New York as a condition to voting whether we believe in a spirit God or a wooden one; whether we are married or single; whether we are a married or single; whether we are a husband or a widower; whether we have one wife or more: whether we intend to est cheese in 1888 or strawberries in 1889; whether we sleep at home or in a brothel. The people of the United States have no constitutional right to ask such questions or to apply any such test oaths as are applied in Utah and as were applied in Arizons.

So long as Governor Zulick s'ands

So long as Governor Zulick s'ands like a patriot, a man, an executive to defend honest people from dishonest and unconstitutional laws, so long will be have our respect, friendship and endorse ment. they can vote, and the law nor any of its agents have any right, divise, hu-man or legal, to interpose a test oath between a man and his right to the ballot.

Before the year closes we expect to visit the Territories of Utah, Idaho and Arizona, in order to learn more of the conduct of officials and the character of the people of these Territories, and our correspondent may rest assured that our tomahawk will never fall upon any friend and upholder of constitutional liberty and the inalien-able rights of American citizens. Meanwhile we will watch the course of Governor Zulick, as one who appears to have what is ever needed-backbone and a warm heart and a coo
