IN MEMORIAM.

The late "Aunt" Rhoda Richards, daughter of Joseph and Rhoda Howe Richards, was born on the 8th of August, 1784, in Hopkinton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts. She was the eldest sister of the late President Willard, and Elders Phineas and Levi Richards; and, with them, at an early date embraced the gospel and gathered with the Church, with which she has remained, sharing the trials and persecutions the Saints have endured. In 1835, she emigrated, in company with her brother Willard, to this valley, which has since been her home. In the prime of her womanhood she was deprived, by death, of her first and only love to whom she was betrothed, and to whose memory she ever remained true. She retained the use of her faculties to an unusual degree; on the day she was taken with her last illness, she wrote to a friend in the south, informing her that, unassisted, she had walked across her room which she had not been able to do for more than a year.

After a brief illness, she passed away peacefully, and without a struggle, to her final rest, on the 17th of Jan. 1879, thus closing a long and useful life of over 94 years, during which she had experienced much suffering. She was faithful to the end, having a bright hope of all blessings promised to the Saints of God.

A large number of friends and kindred attended the funeral services, on the 21st inst., in the 20th Ward, at which appropriate remarks were made by Presidents Joseph Young, A. M. Cannon, Elder Lorenzo D. Young and Bishop John Sharp. Pres. Joseph Young having been the first elder to preach the gospel to his deceased cousin, gave some interesting reminiscences of the departed, and testified to her many virtues and faithfulness.
