MEETING OF STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

Attendance This Afternoon So Meager an Adjournment Was Taken

UNTIL 8 THIS EVENING.

Features of Meeting Will be Addressed By President Varian and W. A. Lee.

The Utah State Bar association will hold its annual meeting in the Federal court room this evening at 8 o'clock. The opening session was to have been held this afternoon, but owing to the meager attendance and the inability of Judge Whitcomb to deliver his address, the session was adjourned until this evening. It is anticipated that a majority of the lawyers of the city will be present. The showing this afternoon was rather discouraging and indicative of a woeful lack of patriotism or esprit de corps among the legal brethren of the state, when the legal bar is considered that there are over 200 lawyers in this city alone. While there were only about a score present from the Salt Lake bar, and so far as could be seen there was not one representative from a larger attendance, the president of the association was on hand promptly at the hour fixed, as was also the secretary, Closson Kinney. Among the others present were Judge George F. Givins, F. L. Whitcomb, F. S. Richards, Edwin B. Jones, City Attorney George L. Nye, Gerald R. Letcher, Judge S. B. Stewart, W. A. Lee, Scott Wells, Walker T. Gunter, Col. M. K. and a few younger members of the bar.

After President Varian called the session to order Elmer B. Jones made a brief talk on the necessity of the lawyers to mingle together in order to promote among them a fellowship that is most seemly in a state bar association.

Attorney Parley L. Williams moved, that as much as one of the speakers would not be delivered viz. that of Judge Whitcomb, because the latter was detained at his home on account of sickness; and with the hope of securing a larger attendance, the meeting be adjourned until 8 o'clock this evening. The motion carried unanimously, and the State Bar association filed down the stairs and out into the street.

The features of this evening's session will be an address by President Varian, which promises to be an admirable one, and an address by Attorney W. A. Lee.

SALOON MEN WERE CAUGHT.

Police Officers Sherry and Smith had a lively time of it yesterday running down violators of the Sunday closing ordinance. They arrested three alleged offenders, and it is claimed in one case, there was a gun play which, say the police, might have resulted seriously but for the timely interference of Officer Smith.

At places where it is alleged the law was violated were the Klondike, the Comstock, and the Little Denmark. The officers had been alerted by Chief Miller to do the work and they did it. In each place they say they found men under the influence of liquor. At the Comstock they heard the guard at the door cry out, "Watch de booze, here comes de cops," but the bartender was not quick enough and was detected in the act of disposing of some of the liquor. The man gave his name as John Davis and was arrested. He was taken to the station and placed under $500 bonds. He was charged with assault with a deadly weapon as well as violating the Sunday law.

At the Klondike saloon was where the real trouble occurred. W. J. Price, the bartender, is charged, was caught in the act of selling liquor, and when informed he was under arrest he ripped out an oath and a big Colts' revolver and prepared to do damage when Officer Smith and a bystander sprang upon him and disarmed him. He was taken to the station and placed under $500 bonds. He was charged with assault with a deadly weapon as well as violating the Sunday law.

At the Little Denmark, the bartender was pushing schooners to the thirsty and was caught in the act and scooped in.

STREET CAR ACCIDENT.

Louis Viallet Sustains a Dislocated Shoulder in Collision This Morning.

Car No. 55, one of the heavy double track Waterloo cars, struck No. 29 square amidships at the intersection of State and Fifth South streets at 7:30 this morning. Fortunately no one inside was injured but a gentleman named Louis Viallet, who was standing on the rear platform was thrown on to his shoulder in the road and when picked up it was found he had sustained a dislocated shoulder and cuts on both hands and the hip. Dr. Richards was called and after the man had been attended to he was sent to his home, 335 West Sixth South.

The blame attached to the collision seems to rest with the motorman, Pete Peterson, who admitted after the accident that he did not see the car until it was too late to stop.

THE EXPEDITION IS CALLED HOME

Brigham Young Academy Exploring Party Required to Return to Utah on Account of War Troubles in South America.

The Brigham Young Academy South American Exploring expedition has been abandoned and the explorers will be called home. This decision was arrived at yesterday at the meeting of the trustees of the B. Y. academy which was held at Provo. President Joseph F. Smith was present and presided and the action met with unanimous approval.

President Smith stated this afternoon that the step was taken because of the war conditions in South and Central America, which have been a great hindrance to the exploring party for some time. There are only about six members of the latter in South America now, the rest of the party having been called home about a year ago. President Cluff, who is at the head of the expedition, and his companions will be notified to return home as soon as possible. President Cluff and one companion are ahead of the main party and some difficulty may be experienced in getting word to him immediately.

Whether or not the expedition will be resumed if tranquility is restored throughout South and Central America in the near future, has not been considered but it is not likely that it will be put in the field again.

MINISTERS SATISFIED.

Thinks Police Are Now in Earnest About Sunday Closing.

The ministerial association at its weekly meeting this morning, unanimously passed the following resolution: "The ministerial association is satisfied that the city administration is fully determined to enforce observance of the Sunday liquor ordinances, and therefore has no intention of being or even seeming to be officious in this matter. As long as the police force is efficient, and the saloons closed on Sunday, we have no desire to complain."

There was no discussion on this topic, as the members all seemed to be satisfied that the police meant business, and that the saloon keepers would be made to feel the power of the law.

A feature of the meeting was an able paper by Rev. Dr. R. G. McNeice, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church of New York. The paper was prompted by a biography prepared by Dr. J. C. Hall, professor of theology in Union Theological Seminary in New York. Dr. McNeice made extended reference to the distinguished services of the late Dr. Hall, and at the close of the meeting personal thanks from members of the association.
