

SPECIAL COURSE FOR TEACHERS

State University Summer School Issues Circular of Interest to Pedagogues.

CONTINUE STUDY EACH YEAR

By Following the Course Certificate May be Secured Without Interfering With Regular Work.

From the office of the superintendent of public instruction has been issued the following circular, the same being of peculiar interest to the teachers of the state:

The state university summer school, at the suggestion of the state board of education and in accordance with the desires of a large number of the teachers of the state, has announced that it will offer a special 10 weeks teachers' course, beginning May 7, 1908. This is especially designed for those who are now teaching on temporary permits and for others, who may desire to obtain a five years' state certificate without discontinuing their regular school work as teachers. The university may be induced to continue this work four consecutive terms or a period of 40 weeks, as outlined below. This special teachers' course will begin earlier, but will discontinue at the same time that the regular six weeks' summer school closes. The credits received will have the same validity as those obtained in the university and in the regular summer school.

FIVE-YEAR CERTIFICATES.

At a recent meeting of the state board of education a resolution was passed providing for the proper recognition of this special work. Teachers who successfully complete the subjects prescribed for the first term and who are favorably recommended by the summer school management will be granted a teacher's certificate valid for one year.
This certificate will be renewed from year to year if the work is completed, and at the end of the third or fourth year sufficient credits may be secured to entitle the teacher to a five years' state certificate.

The state board of education considers this a splendid opportunity for all of its school teachers to qualify themselves for their professional duties, and recommends the courses to all who are interested in the educational welfare of the state.

The summer school announcement, containing a full description of this special teachers' course and of the regular university summer school work, will be sent to any address upon application to the secretary, Mr. F. W. Reynolds, University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah.

AS TO RENTAL VALUES.

Scheme of Chicago Business Man to Determine Worth of Property.

A local business man says that while in Chicago recently, he noticed in the store where he was calling a man standing at the window counting the number of people as they passed by. When asked why he did this the party replied that the owners of the premises were figuring on giving a long lease, and they were proposing to base their rental on the number of passers by within a given time during the day. They argued that the greater number of passers by, the greater amount of business that would be transacted at that point, and the receipts of the tenants would expand accordingly. On this was based the estimate of property values with a rental to correspond. On a less frequented thoroughfare, with less people passing, business would be correspondingly less and valuations for business purposes lower in proportion. It struck the Salt Lake visitor that this might be a way of settling the question of rent or lease that would be equitable both for owner and for tenant.

Weak Hearts

Upon the heart action depends not only health, but life. Over-work, worry, great mental effort, sickness, or any unusual strain upon the nervous system, affects the heart, by increasing its labors. In this hustling age it is not surprising that one person in four has a weak heart. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure strengthens the heart nerves and muscles and restores healthy activity.

"I wrote the Miles Medical Co., asking advice as to how suffering with heart trouble and had been for two years. I had pain in my heart, back and left side, and I had been able to draw a deep breath for two years.
Any little exertion would cause painful, and I could not lie on my left side without suffering. They advised Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine, which I took with the result that I am in better health than I ever was before having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it. I took about thirteen bottles of the two medicines and haven't been troubled one bit with my heart since. I recommend it to every one suffering as I did."

"Brewster's Millions" and Salt Lake Girl Score Together

There was a tremendous outpouring of people at the Salt Lake theater last night, the impelling cause of the throng being the fame of "Brewster's Millions," and the fact that a Salt Lake girl, Miss June Mathis, was to appear in the principal female part of the comedy. Judging by the laughter, applause and curtain calls, the audience was thoroughly satisfied. The application of critical rules might find that the play occasionally bordered on talkiveness, but on the whole, it is a diverting story, and the superb mounting and the whirlwind fashion in which it was selected to fill the principal part in a play so noted as "Brewster's Millions," which is still running in London and the east with no signs of a diminution of interest. Miss Mathis had a charming part in the girl bureau, and she did it in excellent style and taste. Her voice is rich and her training graceful throughout. She shared the honors with Mr. Ober, the leading man, who very graciously brought her out again and again after the curtain calls.

Miss Mathis received a wealth of floral offerings and her friends took possession of her dressing room to make it a perfect bower of flowers.
Mr. Ober, in the part of Brewster, a role which might have been written for Willie Collier, was very happy throughout, and played with care, taste, and vigor, combined. He was well supported throughout, especially by the young men who took the parts of his business associates.
The scenery was admirable, and nothing like the yacht effect with the boat in the storm, has been attempted on our stage for a good many seasons.
"Brewster's Millions" will run this afternoon and evening and people who expect to obtain a seat at either performance would do well to apply early.

In this city. We have very flattering prospects to get it let us, as one grand body, make a united effort to get it. It is due the intermountain region to have an opportunity to entertain the saviors of this republic.

The Grand Army encampments are the greatest conventions held in this nation, they cause more out-flow of true love-of-country than any other gathering. Think of what a grand lesson to the young of the city and state as the remnants of the old armies 25,000 to 30,000 strong, march through the streets of this city, with the remaining squads of the old commands, with their treasured and battle-scarred old flags, as well as our treasured and beloved battle-scarred and aged old defenders of the grandest country, that God has ever permitted to exist.

Think of the national and world characters that will be in attendance here, if we secure the encampment; think of the advertisement this city and state will get if we secure the encampment; think of the favorable opinion that the encampment will bring of this state if we secure it. Now, then my fellow citizens, it is up to you and your commercial organizations.
Twenty thousand G. A. R. men in this city will spend at the lowest figure $25 each. This is the business end of it, and no business man will fail to see the point. Let no one discourage you on the accommodations of the grand army; 30,000 old soldiers can be put in this city and be well accommodated, every man in the city can afford to contribute to the encampment fund. You will pay out a few thousands and take in a million. The old soldier, who attends the national encampments has plenty of money and is willing to pay reasonable prices. Let us get the great convention by a united effort.
THOS. LOUGHNEY,
Salt Lake, March 7.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATES.

Eight Schools Have Entered Contest
For Medals and Championship.

Eight of the high schools of the state have entered the race for the state championship in debating. Silver medals are to be given the winners, and a trophy cup is to go to the victorious school. While the University of Utah debating council is leaving the details to the schools it is suggested by members of the committee that the schools to the north compete for championship to meet the champion of the schools around Salt Lake, and that this victor meet the winner of a similar series of the secondary schools from the south. The final contest is to be held in Salt Lake the evening of the state cock meet.

RESIDENTS STIRRED UP.

People Along City Creek Fear Recurrence of Last Spring Flood.

Residents of the Third precinct are getting stirred up over the excellent prospects for a reproduction of last spring's flood down City Creek. Former Councilman E. E. Rich calls attention to the fact that the city has done absolutely nothing, except in the way of a little cleaning up, and that does not avail anything in the way of prevention of a repetition of previous disastrous experiences. The proposed condit has not been built, and with that open waterway still facing them, and this week's heavy snowfall over the City Creek watershed, residents feel that something should be done, and done without delay to prevent threatened damage to property.
It is regarded as almost certain that another overflow will be followed by a long string of suits for damage against the city.

IT IS TO IRRIGATE.

ject Tonight.

The Press club of this city launches its reclamation project at the Commercial club tonight and it is expected somewhere in the neighborhood of jected to judicious irrigation. Music, wit and "stunts" will accompany the menu, and the usual hilarious time is anticipated. Those who have mailed

SALT LAKE CONCERN REACH- ING SURPRISING PROPORTIONS

Did it ever occur to you that there is an institution in this city that is every week converting 30 tons of sugar into the finest grades of confection put up in the American market, and that the name of J. G. McDonald Candy Company is fast becoming a household word among the epicures of every state in the union?
These facts are doubtless new to those not familiar with the growth of this big concern. It was in 1882 that the quite unpretentious firm of J. G.
McDonald began the manufacture of simple confections. It was due to the perseverence, shrewdness and breadth of the management that the present magnificent results have been obtained. Nearly forty-six years of experience in manufacturing, comparing, testing and experimenting and finally the producing of unexcelled confections have given this Utah firm its present merited prestige.
The building occupied at present is a veritable hive of industry. Its 300 employees are, for the greater part, chosen for their skill in their respective departments. The machinery is of the latest model. These very valuable acquisitions have been made to the plant as the result of the inventive genius of the manager. These three machines are labor saving devices. As to the cleanliness of the entire building from the basement to the top of the fourth floor one could justly apply the old saying of "being able to eat off the floor."

SPRINGING SURPRISES.

It has been the policy of the firm to spring little surprises on the public and its competitors; for, when in January, 1907, the announcement was made that the J. G. McDonald Candy Company would confine its efforts to the production of fine chocolates, it was regarded by the public as being too great an undertaking for so small a firm in so limited a field. A little over a year has proved beyond the shade of a doubt that Mr. McDonald's plans were very carefully laid and his campaign cautiously outlined. As evidence of this fact one has merely to be permitted to have access to the stacks of orders that come from every state in the Union for the McDonald brand of chocolates. With this decided success as a precedent, Mr. McDonald decided that there was really nothing in the line of confection manufacturing that was beyond the powers of his concern. So, he began the study of cocoa manufacturing, and for 13 months made careful inspection of this big industry. Nothing escaped the observation of his representatives. Expensive machinery was brought from Dresden, Germany, and installed in one of the upper departments of his building. Everything in their readiness, with machinery installed, the best quality of cocoa beans imported from South America at hand, and skilled labor from Holland at their service, the J. G. McDonald Candy Company now enters the field of cocoa manufacturing. The first day brought them an order for 2,500 cans. Their success is already assured. In their second department, regarded as their sanctum sanctorum, where none but the employees of that department are allowed to enter, is being produced a superior grade of cocoa bearing the name of McDonald Soluble Cocoa. It can safely be said that the firm of J. G. Mc-Donald Candy Company is still in its infancy, and that under its present management its products will continue to bespeak the enterprise and vast resourcefulness of our Utah citizens.

After a notable period of experiments McDonald has developed a cocoa, the quality of which is on a scale characteristic of his chocolates, famous the world over because of their superiority over other high grade bonbons.

The finest cocoa on the market today—better than any other made in America; superior to the best produced in Europe.

A strong statement for a house to make—a fearless statement because it is the statement of a fact.

It is in the character of the beans used —the rare and exclusive, grown only in limited quantities—withall the expensive beans; in the peculiar blending attained by his Holland experts; in the perfection of the imported machinery.

It is of double strength, richer in aroma better in color and of heightened flavor.
It lasts longer and therefore is more economical.

Of superlative excellence the chocolate is soluble by pouring on hot water, and then—here is the important point to remember:

Make it according to directions—make it the McDonald way. Do not use skim milk; do not use milk. Use cream or condensed milk!

Then will be produced an exquisite beverage different in taste from the cocoa you have been accustomed to—for the other grades which are sold are cheap, medium and good (the latter manufactured only by three concerns in the world.

Mark it: This extra choice McDonald cocoa will make cocoa-lovers.

This is attested by the unprecedented, overwhelming sale in Salt Lake, Denver, Seattle, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Minneapolis, Chicago, New York—wherever the McDonald cocoa has been introduced.

According to local reports, letters and telegrams McDonald's pure cocoa is the sensation of the hour.

You cannot conceive of the delicacy of the drink unless it has been prepared and served the McDonald way.

2500 cans used in Salt Lake Monday—10,000 cans the first week.

The drug stores here and elsewhere are now serving Mc-Donald's cocoa at the fountains. The fountain men find it a pleasure to offer an article which elicits a customer's praise Housewives are delighted with it! Members of the family now insist upon it once a day at least.

Women who have enjoyed at the fountains place an order forthwith. Men who have partaken of it carry home the news of its rareness [and a can of the cocoa.]
