CITY'S MAYOR AND COUNCIL AT OUTS

Incident in Police Department at Boise Causes Official Tilt.

PATROLMAN IS REINSTATED.

Petition for Local Option Filed With County Commissioners-Defunct Bank Declares Fifth Dividend.

(Special Correspondence.) OISE, July 8.—The stir created last week at police headquarters by the summary dismissal of Patrolman Boswick and the reprimanding of Police Captain Van Dorn as a result of an investigation based upon charges of misconduct by W. H. Estabrook, who with a party of friends, was arrested for drinking beer at a past midnight luncheon, has not died completely down yet. The order for the action above referred to was vetoed by action above referred to was vetoed by Mayor Pence, but was, notwithstanding that fact, carried into effect by the Republican council and Bostwick was suspended from the service and Van Dorn received his reprimand. The following day, however, Mayor Pence, reappointed Bostwick and he is now on duty again, and the council sit looking at each other wondering what move to make. As yet nothing has been decided upon, but members of the council are quite unanimous in the declaracili are quite unanimous in the declara-tion that further developments in the case are to be looked for. This is the first decided tilt between the Democratic mayor and the Repub-lican council; but more are to be ex-pected if present indications count for

NEW LIQUOR ORDINANCE. Following immediately upon the heels of the Estabrook affair, a new liquor ordinance has been introduced in the council providing absolute prohibition of the sale, barter or delivery of liquor at any hotel, restaurant or cafe, or other place where meals are served to the place where meals are served to the public, between the hours of mid-night and 6 o'clock in the morning. The proposed ordinance is now being considered from the point of making allowance in cases of commercial, fra-ternal and political organizations, where banquets by such are held past the hour of midnight. Many think if this allowance be not made, Boise will be discriminated against in selecting a place for such functions.

LOCAL OPTION PETITION.

Bearing the real signatures of no less Bearing the real signatures of no less than 3,848 citizens of Ada county, Harry S. Kessler, the local option leader, has filed-a petition with the county attorney asking for a special election to determine whether or not the majority of the voters of this county want the sale of intoxicants prohibited. The petition contains about 300 more names than the required 40 per cent, and there is no doubt that the commissioners of the county will call an election, which will occur probably sometime in September.

The liquor interests are already busy.
They have detailed a committee of three men to examine carefully the petition as to the bona fide character of the signatures. They do not hope to prevent the commissioners from calling a special election, but they de-clare they will defeat the movement at the polls.

REV. LUCAS FINED.

In the case of Rev. Dr. Lucas in probale court, as reported last week, in which a charge of assault was pre-ferred by Mrs. Mary Mills, the defend-ant was found guilty and fined $50. Imant was found guilty and fined $50. Immediately upon the pronouncement of the verdict by the court, the attorneys for the defendant filed notice of an appeal to the district court. Lucas was released on a $200 bail bond.

According to the city attorney the city authorities are convinced that the operations of Dr. Lucas here, under his "occult sciences," are in violation of the city ordinance, and there will doubt-city ordinance, and there will doubt-less be instituted against him prose-cution on that ground. Chief of police Reeves is also looking up his record in Denver and other places where he has operated, which, the chief claims, is not developing in a very complimentary way to the reverend gentleman. Dr. Lucas is still conducting his preaching services and practising his cures by means of "mystic" science.

THIRD TRIAL OF NEAL.

County Attorney McArthy will appear in the Ada county district court today, and ask for a dismissal of the Swaln indictment against H. E. Neal, former cashier of the defunct Capital State bank, whose third trial for forgery was set for the present term of court. This action is due to a telegram received vesterday by the prose-cuting attorney from the United States National Bank of Omaha, Nebraska, in which it says in reply to a request from Mr. McCarthy for witnesses in the pro-posed trial: "We will not send wit-esses now or at any time."

This attitude of the bank last referred to is unexplained, although it has re-peatedly refused to assist in the matter. The effect of the bank's refusal, however, to furnish witnesses, applies only to the Swain forgery of a $5,000 note. If witnesses can be procured other indictments will be proceeded with at the present term of court.

BANK TO DECLARE DIVIDEND. The payment to depositors by the wrecked Capital State bank of the fifth wrecked Capital State bank of the fitted dividend has been ordered by Judge Fremont Wood, the same to commence July 15. This will make a total of 70 for cent of the deposits, paid out to the depositors since the institution went to the wall through the forgeries of Cashier H. E. Neal, which amounted to aver $88,000. d to over $68,000:

CASE SET FOR JULY 10.

The rate of the Barber Lumber company in this city is soon to be decided. The indictment under which they are to answer in the United States district court involves the title to approxi-mately 35,000 acres of timber land, ly-ing principally in the Boise basin. The case is set for July 10, but the assistant United States attorney general. Peyton Gordon, who has been in this city at work on the case for over a month, announces that he cannot have his side of the case in readiness by that date, and has asked for more time.

(Special Correspondence.) RESTON, July 6 .- Amid a blaze of glory the two days' celebration of our nation's birthday anniversary closed in Preston tonight with a fine display of fireworksthe best that was ever given in this neck of the woods-on the grounds of the Preston Park & Fair association. A. A. Olsen of this city had complete charge of the fireworks department. True to a precedent established here a year ago, Preston celebrated two days, the 5th and 6th, an army of peo-ple from Cache, Malad and Gentile val-leys coming to participate in the fesleys coming to participate in the fes-tivities. The celebration began with a meeting in the opera house, presided over by Mayor J. W. Condie. A splenover by Mayor J. W. Condie. A splendid oration was given by Atty. A. A. Law of Logan, and a special song composed by a patriotic Idahoan of Shelley entitled, "Idaho, My Idaho," was rendered by Misses Laura Hobbs, Mary Moser, Mabel Smith and Dora Shumway. Two matched ball games for a purse of a hundred dollars each were played Monday and Tuesday. The first game was between Smithfield and first game was between Smithfield and Preston. Batteries—Smithfield, Chris-tensen and Sims; Preston, Harrison and Settle Richardson vs. Preston was Tuesday's schedule. Batteries—Rich-mond, Hawes and Johnson: Preston, Harrison and Settle. Preston won both games, the former by a score of 12 to 3 and the latter by a score of 5 to 4. The respective teams played good ball, but Harrison carried the larger assortment of shoots, curves, slants and twists. An itinerant aeronaut made a balloon as-

BIG CELEBRATION OF INDEPENDENCE DAY

Citizens Meet at Marsh Center and Have a Day of Perfect. Enjoyment.

O NEIDA, July 6.—The citizens of Marsh Center celebrated the anniversary of Independence day on the 5th inst. The Stars and Stripes was raised on a new 75-foot flag pole, erected on the 3rd inst. At 9:30 a. m. the people commenced to come to the meetinghouse in vehicles to spend the day, many coming eight or ten miles, as the majority of the people here are homesteading. At 11 a, m, the meetinghouse was well filled. The nouse was beautifully decorated and the Goddess of Literty and her escort, "Uncle Sam, were seated on a raised dias and in front of them, a little lower down, were 13 young ladies dressed in white, each representing one of the original 13 tates.

The program consisted of national songs, reading the Declaration of In-pendence, a spirited oration, solos, spice box and a unique stump speech. This was followed by luncheon. A dance was given for the children. 'all games and sports of all kinds were indulged in. In the evening all mingled together again in the dance. All went home sober, as nothing insoxicating was used by any of the participators of the day's Harris' house for a bucket of water. leaving her children playing near the house. The youngest child, Willard S., 2-years-old, must have started to follow its mother as soon as she lefthe house, and going through a wire fence at the rear of the bishop's house (while its mother went around the corner to the front gate) the child walked right into a pool of water formed in the yard by the waste water from the irrigating of the grain. Mrs. Stanford on returning ran around in search of it and discovered it lying in the pool, only about a foot deep, and apparently lifeless. Relatives and friends were called in and they worked faithfully with the child for an hour to bring back respiration but to no avail. The boy was dead.

This fatality was a sad ending to the day's festivities and no ball or other amusements were indulged in. Mr., and Mrs. Stanford have the sympathy of the community in their sudden and sad bereavement.

TEMPERANCE LECTURER VISITS MONTPELIER (Special Correspondence,)

ONTPELIER, July 1 .- On Sun-M ONTPELIER, July 1. day, June 27, the citizens of Montpelier were honored by the visit of the noted temperance lecturer, William O. Clark of Los Angeles, Cal., who came here to visit with his nephew, Bishop W. W. Clark and other relatives in this and adjoining towns. He will talk on temperance at several places. In the temperance lecture which Mr. Clark delivered at the L. D. S, hall he brought forth many strong points and narratives in favor of the abandoning of the liquor traffic. The abandoning of the liquor traffic. The lecturer, who is also a brother of the tate Ezru T. Clark of Farmington, Utah, was 92 years of age on Friday last, June 25, has the distinction of being one of the oldest war veterans now living and has spent over 50 years of his life in the cause of temperance, visiting not only in the United States but he has circumnavigated the glob, visiting every civilized country of the earth, studying the habits and statistics of these countries and raising his tics of these countries and raising his voice in defense of the purity of the home and against the blighting curse home and against the bighting carse of the wine cup.

In a short interview with the lecturer at the close of the service on Sunday evening Mr. Clark said: "Though I am now 92 years of age I still hope to live to see the day when every saloon and grog shop shall be also throughout our fair land and closed throughout our fair land and the liquor traffic effectually put down." The lecture was very opportune, es-pecially from the fact that petitions are now being circulated petitioning the county commissioners of Bear Lake county to call a special election to vote upon the local option question this fall. It is reported that the petitions are being freely signed.

CHANGES SINCE JULY 4, 1776. "I should like to come back to the earth a hundred years from now to see what changes science, art and politics would bring in the interval," said Benjamin Franklin shortly before his death in 1790. It was a characteristic remark. It was in line with the aspiration of thoughtful persons in all ages of the world. But what would the American who died on July 4, 1776, think if he should be permitted to take a glance at his country today? The 13 struggling British colonies of his time-for the Declaration of Independence was merely a desire, which was not transmuted into fact until after several years of hard fighting—have grown into a nation of 46 states.
