THE OLD AND THE NEW.

There is a marked difference between the new and the old Footh of July, and the difference has been presented to a reasonably vivid manuscupping to the limitations which have occurred in the newspapers of the day. These structured by the day in a boundle crewd of period sales and which is promedly decorated with the national colori, issues are hitched at various points in the neighborheod, showing into some of the people have come from a distance, and all ore attentive as can be while the immutable becames in the same the people have come from a distance, as the reason of the people have come from a distance, he has been and "waiting for his time," but he read or the patients, along with others and "waiting for his time," but he read or the day with his manifield manuscript ready to be lauched night the patients, all of whom are in resultness—that is to any, "bisend"—for it. During the performance undoubtedly there would he a few songs, some patriotic strans by the breas tend, or, to its steened, after any day of the performance or other the patriotic strans by the breas tend, or, to its steened, after any day of the breas tend, or, to its steened, as one, the winnie conducting with towards estatements, etc. Town come the ammenments. by the Orase tend, or, in its sheenes, a file and arum corps, we valuates speech or so, the winds corridoring with tossis, sentiments, etc. Then come the ammemants, consisting of a little of veryfitting which appeals to the senadous and saternal pleases of manhiod, plentimity judice waves with a batheous or premissing, is measure, and if fring and other demonstrations industries of available displants to the day. Now it is different. You could contently get an andrence of condicerable proportions to hold trapther for such a pregram to be concluded. Horse reading, taid playing, excursions and pastimes which after pleasers without incubating partials or any other kind of sentiments, hold the day to the exclusion of all size but notes in fundating very Tax olds.

er my other kind of sentiments, hold the day to the seriousin of all size on mobe in indefinite variety. The old-fashinesed oxidion is a bors and the bill of rights is chestnut. The stain on digits is chestnut. The stain on size's pairfolden which it requires to inderight be cricked in on only exaded but comesting strictly superpaide takes its place. Cancol any one who studies for a moment see it all this a numbrase in ontional cesting which, encouraged as it is and carried for sanight, means a weakening of the mational fadric—a condition of things which exacily represents that prevailing in Bonn what the enemies of the republic quietly set is side.

It is not to be argued from this that there is any design, of an immediate character at least, of the liquidity of the republic quietly set in the side of an completely luvested with a some of national security and parennel liberty that is a species of indifference born of the familiarity is the result. The current shows of American Lodependence and the stability of the makes upon the principe on adjurce there which indifference and there when the stability of the makes upon the principe on adjurce there which indifference and there when the stability of the makes upon the principe and premaintaine is the stucion of the manes upon the principle and pric-tices which distinguish our system from learning, and such instruction must dome from time who are quali-fied by separtir exprisence to teach and give examples. As previously noise, the examples grow painfully less eith earning yes, which primple for as erion, made upon due ness with each recurring year, which primarie the section, washe upon due semedoration and without mental or after reservation, that an old-fashimed scalebration of the birthday of freedom upon this continuou, with all the platitudes, hackneyed phrase, well-were semicone, time-horouse phrase, and moste and worse humor, so one of the national mescenties, and chindren counts to be ranged as a marter of olso plate to appear it welly with a comparison of the prefermance whether they do at matching of the country of the prefermance whether they do at matching of the country of the country

WORKER AND WAGES.

WORKER AND WAGES.

In view of the great coal miners' strine now us in the Evel, over a question of wages, the article by M. Emile Leviseeur, of the National Institute of France, in a secent haus of Bavas Blees, under the little of 'The American Workers,' has some insersating organizon. As iranshaled for the Lineary Digest, the three points relevant of arc. His wages American workers enough, the machinery they operate, and their slandard of living.

On the matter of wages the Franch writer says that while there are great differences in the various of workers to the various excluse of the United States, as a whole they are very high se compared to France, and even he England, where wages as highers.

States, as a whole they are very high one compared to France, and even to Rugiani, where wages are higher than in any time European country. On the claim that trade soloms should be comiled with securing the increase in wages, M. Levasseur says.

Increase to wager, M. Levascur says:
