LOWER COURT IS TWICE REVERSED

Two Decisions Handed Down Today Ordering New Trials of Cases Appealed.

TAX LIEN LAW IS INVOLVED.

Jesse W. Fox Wins a Point in Controversy to Quiet Title With Investment Company.

The supreme court today handed down two epinions, both of which were reversals of the judgments of the lower court. In the case of the Salt Lake Investment company against Jesse W. Fox, appellant, the judgment of the lower court was reversed and a new trial ordered. The action was brought to quiet title to lots 25 to 36, block 2 South Lawn addition to Sait Lake. The scuth Lawn addition to Sait Lake. The property was bought at a tax sale in 1896 by M. C. Moon and sold to plaintiff, who entered into possession of the same in 1897, but the tax deed did not issue until 1898. The lower court found that plaintiff held the property by adverse possession during the statutory period of seven years.

The supreme court holds that adverse possession does not begin to run in such cases until the tax deed is issued and that during the redemption period the purchaser at a tax sale is suced and that during the redemption period the purehaser at a tax sale is not holding the property adverse to the real owher. Hence in this case it is decided that the ciaim of adverse possession hould run from 1898 and the plaintiff has not held the property adversely for seven years. The judgment of the lower court is reversed and a new trial granted. Chief Justice Mecarty wrote the opinion of the court carty wrote the opinion of the court, which is concurred in by Justices Straup and Frick.

NEW TRIAL FOR HANAUER.

The judgment of the lower court in the case of P. J. Donovan, appellant, vs. A. Hanauer, Jr., is also reversed and a new trial granted. The action was brought in the city court to recover damages in the sum of $499, because of the failure of defendant to carry out his part of a contract and pay the purchase price of the Wellington and Jumbo group of five claims, located in Iron county. Defendant agreed to pay $1,500 for the claims at a specified time and also agreed to pay damages in the and also agreed to pay damages in the sum of $500, should be fail to do so. He refused to purchase the claims or to pay any of the money, and his de-fense was that plaintiff did not tender s good title to the same. Upon this de-fense judgment was rendered in his

It developed at the trial that the reason plaintiff could not furnish a good title to the property was because of the failure of defendant to pay the money as agreed upon which plaintiff was to complete his title. The supreme court holds that the defense of Hauauer could avail him nothing if he failed to live up to his part of the contract. Hence a new trial is granted. Justice Frick wrote the opinion of the court, and it is concurred in by of the court, and it is concurred in by Chief Justice McCarty and Justice

NEW TRIAL ORDERED

In the Case of Salt Lake Route vs Board of Education.

A new trial will be had in the case of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railway company versus the Salt Lake Board of Education, ac-ording to a decision handed down by the Supreme court yesterday. the Uintah school, and the board of education, believing that the property would be almost useless for school purposes, owing to the close proximity of the tracks, asked for damages. A judgement of $8.000 was rendered in favor of the board in the district court, and the case was carried to the Supreme court, which now sends it back to the first tribunal.

passenger transportation department, and consists of two splendid specimens of the locomotive builders' art from the Pennsylvania works. These engines have just been delivered to the road at Pueblo, and will be put on the western division of the road to pull trains over the Soldier Summit into the Salt Lake valley.

The locomotives are numbered 836 and 837, respectively, and weigh light on their drivers 90,000 pounds. Something like 18 more engines will be added to the road's equipment as rapidly as possible, and the motive power of the Rio Grande will be so improved in the freight department, also, that trains which heretofore required 24 hours to pull from Grand Junction to Helper, may now be bauled that distance in 14 hours. The Rio Grande has during the past two months put more real improvements on its grade and rolling stock than for a long time previous, and among the big propositions being carried out is the double tracking of the line over Tennessee Pass to Minturn, which, according to parties who have just gone over the line, is progressing in good shape.

The plans for improvement of the Rio Grande system, it is understood, contemplaie the double tracking of the road in several places, the shortening up of the line by the construction of cut-offs at all available places, and the reduction of the grade wherever possible, so that with added motive power and rolling stock, low grades and shortened distances the Rio Grande, will he able to deliver the goods from one side of the country to the other with the best of them.

H. L. Youngerman Was There When Strike Was Declared.

Judge Morse today rendered a judgment in favor of plaintiff in the case of F. W. Brockmeyer against George Helbert for the sum of $64.39 being his portion of the partnership business conducted by plaintiff and defendant at Bingham Junction. The parties were in the saloon business and defendant undertook to sell the business out without accounting to plaintiff for Strike Was Declared.

H. L. Youngerman, traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island Route, is back from a week's visit to the coal mining camps of Wyouning. Mr. Youngerman was in Rock Springs when the labor troubles were on, and says that there is liable to be something doing if conditions don't ease up pretty soon. "The miners struck," said Mr. Youngerman, "but not for more money. All they wanted was recognition of their union, and that the mine owners would not grant, so the men went out." Many of the miners left the camp, some going back to the men went out." Many of the miners left the camp, some going back to Pennsylvania, and some to other camps, where conditions are peaceful. Rock Springs has always been a non-union camp, and during the last three or four months a sentiment has been working up for unionizing it. This movemet has met decided opposition on the part of the operators, who refuse to recognize the union. Mr. Youngerman said it was impossible to tell how long the mines would be shut down on account of the troubles. The management propose to maintain a high-class resort, but the neighbors are much disturbed over the prospect, particularly the occupants of the terrace to the west and one property owner said today, that the law would be invoked if he thought occasion called for it. Mr. Rees antect the Amusement people to but a Main street frontage of his immediately north of the terrace, and erect apartment dats on the "L" shaped property as a desirable investment. son at this house opened last night in the presence of a big and brilliant audience. People who look to the Orpheum to supply them with a grade of entertainment only slightly below the highest priced traveling attractions, were out in force to pass on the merits of the aggregation which the popular play-house had brought together. The bill chosen was Clyde Fitch's "Cow-boy and the Lady," originally written for Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott, but not long continued in their repertoire, and later presented in Salt Lake by S. Miller Kent, While it might have been better for the company to have made their initiative venture in a play entirely new, it can be said that last night's rendition lost nothing by comparison with the previous production here and in many points it excelled it. The first impression gained last night was one of completeness. The company seems large enough to cope with any of the ordinary stock plays of the better class and this means not only that the leading parts will be well filled, but that the lesser roles and the character bits, so essential to an all-round stock presentation, will be capably handled. Mr. Phillips, the new leading man, is handsome, capable, a good reader, and an experienced actor. One gains the idea that he will be better in parts of the more heroic mold than in one written so especially for Nat Goodwin, as "Teddy." but he is quite effective throughout. The leading lady, Miss Moore, played with good taste and quiet feeling, though the part is not one which fully enables her to show her real mettle. Miss Mable Florence, who made so many friends with the Mayall, company last year, increased the list last night. She has a sunshiny way with her that lights up the whole stage and her gifts were given excellent play in the role of "Midge." Miss Hondrie gave an excellent character Mrs. George W. her company at the Grand commenced with a well-filled house and a manifest enthusiasm that augurs well for the remainder of the week. The play, "Under Two Flags," is one of the most thrilling and pleasing melodramas on the stage and though it has been played in Salt Lake several times, it has never been seen to better advantage than last evening, the prices of admission considered. The company presenting it is an evenly balanced aggregation, well above "average in point of ability, and careful and painstaking in the rendition of the lines. With such players in such a play a satisfied audience is assured, and those present Monday night manifested their approval in a manner not in the least uncertain. Miss Frankenfield, in the role of "Cigarette," was fully equal to every requirement of the exacting part, and the others in their respective lines left no room for adverse criticism. The same bill finishes out the week, with the usual matinees.

with the usual matinees. Lyric—In an excellent vaudeville bill at the Lyric this week, Onetta, an Arabian dancer, is easily the leading feature. Her grace and her beauty are making a decided hit with the patrons of the little playhouse. On the opening night it was necessary to give three performances and a rushing business night it was necessary to give three performances and a rushing business is promised for the remainder of the week. The program is as good as any seen at the Lyric since vaudeville replaced the stock company. Among the other good numbers is the mimicry of Tom Brantsford and there is a laughable comedy sketch by Hawley and McCrea. The same bill goes for the balance of the week with the usual matiness.
