

BANNER YEAR FOR RAILROADS.

What Salt Lake's Managers and Agents Have to Say.

GOOD SIX MONTHS' SHOWING

Will the Next Half Year be as Good?—L. P.'s Immense Traffic in Horses—Other Business.

Probably in no way can the state of the trade of the country be determined better than by the traffic upon the railroads. The traffic managers and the general agents of the various roads have their fingers on the pulse of business and can tell its condition as no others can.

The railroad men of Salt Lake without exception speak of the first six months of 1900 as one of unusual activity and in comparing it with the year previous state that on the whole it has been better than the year before. There is a difference of opinion among them in relation to the chances of the last half of the year equaling the first, but the outlook is at least hopeful and all say that 1900 will be the banner year among the intermountain railroads. Below are the opinions of some of them as given to the "News" today.

General Agent Cheate of the U. P.—There has been a great increase of traffic this year above any in the history of the Union Pacific here. It is safe to say that the increase will reach 20 per cent over the first six months of 1899. Some of this is due to the large numbers of range horses that have been sent east to the middle States to take the place of those sent to England for South Africa. We have alone handled 40,000 head, and it is safe to say that from 75,000 to 100,000 head of range horses have gone east, and this is all new business. All live stock business has been very heavy. Wool, however, is not going to the market fast as it was during the first half of the year. I do not think the increase can keep up to the present standard, and that there will be a falling off during the next six months.

H. B. Kosser, Missouri Pacific.—The business of this year has been fully 20 per cent better than a year ago. There has been an increase in traffic in sheep and horses, and there is a very large amount of stuff yet to handle. I think the next six months will equal those just past.

General Agent Nevins, Denver & Rio Grande.—We have had a fine increase over last year and the prospects of the next six months are fine.

General Traffic Manager Hallock of the Rio Grande Western.—There has been a general increase of business in all lines of traffic during the first half of 1900. In fact the business has been immense. I think, however, that the maximum has been reached, and we will consider ourselves fortunate if we keep the increase we now have.

General Agent L. D. Downing of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.—We, too, have had a large increase in the outlook of the future is bright.

Livestock Agent Tuttle of the Oregon Short Line.—The increase has been great in all livestock shipments, but I think that it has reached its limit.

John Reeves of the Short Line traffic department.—The business of the past six months has been wonderful and the figures of the first half of 1899 will be eclipsed. I do not see any chance or hope for a decline during the next six months. The crops along our line are heavy and the trade in general merchandise from the East has been greater than in any past year. There is a great amount of livestock yet to handle and I am of the opinion that the trade of the next six months will equal that of the six months just past.

General Agent R. F. Nesten of the Burlington.—The Burlington has had a large increase in traffic and I do not see why the next six months will not equal those just past.

General Agent Oglesby of the Chicago and Rock Island.—We have had a splendid business for the past six months—much larger than in any time in the past. I am of the opinion, however, that the maximum has been reached. There will be a heavy movement of live stock from now on, but other things will drop off so that if we hold our own we will do well.

General Agent Rose of the Illinois Central.—Business has been enormous with us during the past six months and the outlook for the remainder of the year is quite bright. Our coal traffic has been so heavy as to necessitate the ordering by our company of 1500 new engines since February.

These are the latest machines of the kind in existence and were recently described in the "News." Prospects for the future are particularly favorable in Illinois and Iowa and are quite good in the South. We are also doing nicely in Utah considering the length of time our office has been located here.

SHARP GENERAL MANAGER.
Directors of the Pleasant Valley Coal Co. Confer that Title Upon Him.

The directors of the Pleasant Valley Coal company have performed a graceful act in recognizing the worth of Mr. W. G. Sharp by appointing him general manager of the company, instead of general superintendent as his title now is.

Assistant Superintendent Williams, who has had charge of the mines, will be general superintendent. This change of title does not change the work done by these officials, which will be carried on the same as before.

SPIKE AND RAIL.
General Agent Warren of the Santa Fe went north this morning.

Traffic Manager Eccles of the Short Line went out on the road this morning. Live Stock Agent Hudnall of the Midland is expected in from Oregon tomorrow.

Thirty-six cars of horses are being loaded along the Southern Pacific for the East.

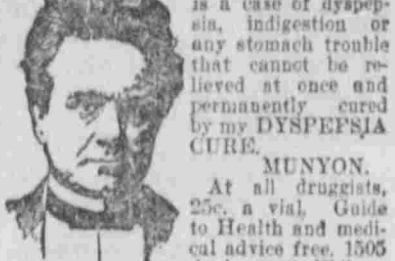

A cut of 25 has been made from the Portland rate by the Oregon Short Line.

Live Stock Agent Gregory returned this morning from the South. He reports large shipments for his road, the D. & R. G.

General Traffic Manager Eccles of the Short Line went north last night. Mechanical Superintendent Dunn is home from Chicago.

J. F. Dendrick has been appointed acting superintendent of the American River line in the place of L. D. York, resigned.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

According to the Denver Republican, the new management of the Colorado Midland have already considered several extensions to mining camps along the route.

County Treasurer Lynch will not be a candidate for re-nomination this year. He is a supporter of W. H. Dale and hopes that gentleman will be his successor.

A. H. Tarbet, accompanied by his wife returned home yesterday afternoon from attending the Democratic national convention. He was extremely sorry that he was compelled to resign from the convention completed his labors, but private business made it necessary. Mr. Tarbet is enthusiastic over Bryan's nomination and declares that he is sure to win.

Estate of Bishop Woolley.

The appraisers of the estate of the late Samuel A. Woolley, Bishop of the Ninth ward, consisting of C. S. Martin, Adam Spiers and J. W. West, have filed with the clerk of the probate court an inventory of the estate, which shows as follows: Cash, notes, stocks, etc., $4,005.51; real estate and improvements, $16,250; household goods, $256.80; miscellaneous personal property, $860.25; dividends due on investments, $167.20; total, $41,579.79.

Wife Seeks Divorce.

Mrs. Hilda Lax is suing Carl J. Lax for divorce on the ground of desertion. According to the complaint, the marriage between the parties took place at Stockholm, Sweden, on August 2, 1888. During the year 1892 the defendant deserted the plaintiff, who, in addition to a decree of divorce, asks to be awarded the custody of the two minor children.

Gustave H. Backman is Mrs. Lax's attorney.

Estate of George Curtis.

James Johnson filed a petition in the probate court yesterday afternoon, asking that he be appointed administrator of the estate of George Curtis, deceased. The estate, consisting of real and personal property, is valued at $6,400, and the heirs are two daughters. The petition will be heard on August 1st.

THE ANTICS OF "BOBS" ON THE DEAD LINE.

The spectacle of Lord Roberts, shriveled and sear-faced, plunging into the smoke and struggle in South Africa and emerging with "the garter" in one hand and a dukedom in the other, is an exciting and suggestive in view of the "dead-line-at-fifty" discussion. Roberts, as an old man, who had fought his battles and won his medals, who had all to lose and nothing to gain, stayed at home during the early weeks of the war. And younger fighters, Meggison and Buller, set out on the search for easy glory. What they got is a painful history for England.

Roberts and Kitchener—the younger man was expected to do the big things—were sent out as an eleven-hour hope. For a few weeks Kitchener's picture loomed large in the papers; but he dropped out of sight. And in the end it was Lord Roberts, twenty years past the dead line, who fought out the war. It is futile to lay down general laws; folly to apply them to individuals. Yet the dead-line-at-fifty theory has been accepted as gospel by so many people that it is worth following up, with "Bobs" as a banner. Undoubtedly there is a dead line, as some men have already passed it at thirty; others never reach it till they follow a clergyman's feet first out of the church. A young business man is naturally in touch with the new methods that revolutionize trade every few years in these rapid times; but the older one who keeps up with them is his equal and his superior by the weight of his added experience. For a few weeks long a man whose study lamp still burns, fifty is but a milestone on the road to greater power. And for him there is always something to be won and a new way to win it if the old one will but try. He is learning and planning and executing. He is climbing trees, like General Wheeler, to see what the enemy is up to; or drumming up wheat, like Mr. Armour, to freeze on the other side of the world; or planning a great home rule program like that lively octogenarian, the late Mr. Gladstone. The ability to see new conditions and to meet them is the secret of youth's power in this world today. And so long as a man has that ability, the years count for nothing. You can draw a dead line behind him, but you can't catch and push him over it.—The Saturday Evening Post.

WHY SO MANY FAIL.

President James Rea, of the New York Commercial Teachers' association, tells in "Success" for July, why many persons fail to obtain and hold good positions:—

"Many of your men fail to achieve success, because they lack the power or inclination to do hard work. The head of one of our large department stores, in addressing a body of teachers, said: 'No man in the practical world of today can hope to get on if he shirks his work. I ask you to use all your power and influence to instill in the minds of those you teach the truth that a man owes work to the world, while the world does not owe him anything.' An expert accountant of many years' practice said: 'The best man I ever had in my employ was a plodder.' The writer, in his experience as a teacher, coming into contact with many thousands of young men, has rarely, if ever, found a student who did not possess sufficient ability to make a successful start in life if he was thoroughly imbued with the precept—'Keeping everlastingly at it brings success.' Many young men fail to render valuable service, through lack of ability to do accurate, systematic work. The business community demands well-trained minds, capable of grasping details and carrying out instructions in a correct and orderly manner. This faculty is a rarity, and never need be without profitable employment."

"Above all else, the young man who would succeed must be honest and temperate. He must be what he would appear. There is a premium upon those who possess sterling manhood, fidelity of purpose, and a determination to overcome obstacles. Life's honest prizes are within their grasp."

VETERANS ARE YOUNG AGAIN

Greatly Enjoy Their Excursion to Lagoons Today—Pleasant Ride and Fine Program—Incidents.

The most popular excursion of the season is that conducted by the Old Folks' committee, of Salt Lake. It is not only the best patronized outing, but it is in every respect the one in which all classes of the community take the greatest personal interest. Almost every nationality is represented; nearly every family in the city has its representative veteran, who has passed the three score and ten years allotted to man, and whose declining years are cheered and made glad by these annual midsummer socials and excursions.

Through the courtesy of Simon Bamberger, Esq., the twenty-sixth annual Old Folks' outing and social was held at Lagoons, and the grandfathers and grandmothers of Salt Lake City to the number of 500 were given a free ride on the Old Folks' special, which left the city at 10 a. m. It is conservatively estimated that at least 400 more were taken to the resort on earlier and later trains.

The pleasure of the ride through the beautiful orchards, gardens and farms of Davis county was enhanced by the sweet music discoursed on the way by the Old Folks' choir, under the direction of William H. Foster, which passed through all the thirteen cars of the special, discoursing sweet melodies. The Old Folks' committee and their aids and the proprietors of the resort, were indefatigable in their efforts to make the old people happy, and sought in every way to make the day most pleasant and agreeable, and were eminently successful. Judging from the many words of commendation and appreciation heard on every side. The ample grounds and generous shade of the cool and beautiful resort were highly appreciated by all, particularly by those who called to mind the almost shadeless resort to which the old folks went a year ago.

At 11 a. m. the choir gave a short concert in the dancing pavilion, the principal numbers of which were:—America.....By the Choir
"Hail Smiling Morning".....By the Choir
Solo and chorus "Dear Heart, We Are Growing Old".....By the Choir
.....Mrs. Julia Silverwood
Tenor solo and chorus "Cousin Jedediah".....Henry Gardner and Choir

Besides the old folks of Salt Lake City and Stake, large contingents of veterans came in carriages from all parts of Davis county; many of the Bishops and prominent people of the county were also present in large numbers, and the grounds were pretty well filled with veterans who enjoyed the occasion to renew old acquaintances.

Among the prominent people from the city were President Joseph F. Smith, Apostles Brigham Young and Francis M. Lyman; Bishop Robert T. Burton and John R. Winder of the presiding highpriest; James S. Brown and Oliver G. Workman were representatives of the famous "Mormon" Battalion; Nathan Tanner, Sr., was the only representative of the few remaining survivors of Zion's Camp, a body of Elders which marched with the Prophet Joseph Smith from Kirtland, Ohio, to Jackson county, Missouri, in 1834. Prominent among the ladies were a large number of Relief Society members of both Salt Lake and Davis county stakes. Mrs. M. Isabella Horne, president of the first named organization, enjoyed the occasion very highly.

Of course the great majority of the veterans were wearers of the red badge—indicating that they had arrived at—and passed their 70th milestone—but there were a few who wore the blue badge, and there were quite a number who had passed their 90th year, and were white rosettes. At 12 o'clock lunch was served in the pavilion and refreshments of cake, coffee and lemonade were served by the committee and aids. This has always been a prominent feature of these outings. The committee is noted for its generous care of the aged excursionists.

OLD FOLKS' COMMITTEE.
The old folks' committee is composed of the following well known gentlemen: William B. Preston, Chas. R. Savage, Wm. Eddington, Wm. Naylor, Wm. L. Plinder, John Kirkman, Andrew Jensen, Nelson A. Empey and Heber S. Goddard.

AFTERNOON FESTIVITIES.

At 1:45 this afternoon festivities began in the pavilion, the inimitable C. R. Savage, master of ceremonies, the choir singing "Jerusalem," for an opening chorus.

Hon. Ezra Clark of Farmington followed with a speech of welcome. Heber S. Goddard next sang the old people's favorite—"Hard Times Come Again No More," the concourse of people all joining in the chorus. The honorable Judge J. F. Kinney, a veteran of 84, who came to Utah 46 years ago, and was at one time the chief justice of Utah Territory, responded to the call for a speech in a very happy and patriotic vein. He said he was pleased to meet with the veterans who had helped to redeem the desert and make of Utah the paradise that it is. He remembered Salt Lake 46 years ago, as a hamlet, and he was proud today of its palatial and comfortable homes.

Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edward very sweetly rendered the Scotch favorite, "Comin' thro' the Rye." Apostle Brigham Young followed in a short and happy address, reminiscent of early scenes in Utah, and referred to the honorable career of Judge Kinney when on the bench and since. The speaker was glad to meet with the veterans of pioneer days, and was pleased to note the efforts made to make glad their declining years.

"Let the Mountains Shout for Joy," was joyously rendered by the choir, who never seemed to tire of singing for the aged sires and matrons. Apostle Francis M. Lyman, was the following speaker and his felicitous and happy address was much enjoyed by the audience. His references to old times and early scenes in the history of the State were full of tender reminiscences.

The amusement began, however, when the old folks themselves came on the program with songs, recitations, stage dances, cake walks, for which suitable prizes were given as mementoes of the occasion. This part of the program was still in progress when the "News" report closed at 4 o'clock. After the program lunch was served.

The train bearing the larger part of the old folks will reach the city at about 7:30 o'clock this evening.

SHORT LINES PLAY POKIES TWICE.

Tomorrow and the Day Following at Walker's Field.

LINEUPSOMEWHAT CHANGED

Howman Plays First Base, Berkley Catches, Taylor Pitches, and Asbury in Center.

Tomorrow afternoon and the afternoon following two more State league baseball games will be played in this city. The contests will be between the Pocatello and Short Lines, and there is every reason to believe the games will be real snappy. It is hoped by local fans that tomorrow both teams will do their best to put a stop to the usual Saturday "dukes." The home team is steadily improving and is able to give the "Pokies" a rub and a tight one, too. The position the Short Lines now occupy, it is argued, is due to ill luck more than inability to play ball. The team has some of the best players in the league and they endeavor to play ball, too. The two teams are pretty evenly matched and therefore the games will undoubtedly be close and determined. The teams will line up as follows:

Howman.....2b.....Haynes

SUNDAY GAMES.

A Lover of Baseball Thinks the Sabbath Should Not be Desecrated.

The "News" is in receipt of the following communication from an ardent lover of baseball who thinks, however, that it should only be played on week days, a thought which will find almost universal support among "News" readers.

"Mr. Editor:—I am known by my friends as a baseball enthusiast. It is a fact that I would, many times, rather go without my meals than miss a good game of ball. It is a pretty, clean and healthful sport—the most thoroughly American game in the field of athletics. I like to see it supported and am willing to do all I can in that direction. So many of my friends, but not to the extent of giving our patronage on Sunday. I know that this is a metropolitan city; that it has a considerable percentage of people who are not religiously inclined and who would rather go on an excursion or attend a game of baseball than go to church on the Sabbath day. Nevertheless the fact remains that this is a Christian city; that the great majority of its people are against Sabbath desecration. Their wishes and our own self-respect, it appears to me, should appeal to the authorities to put a stop to Sunday sports. That would interfere with no one's rights. It would in no wise inflict injury upon the national game. But it would help us maintain our reputation for order and respect for law. Why cannot this be done?"

AT THE SAUCER TONIGHT.

Lawson's Motor Repaired and Will Race With Chapman.

The big event at the bicycle races tonight will be the motor-cycle race, between John Chapman, "Deed Catcher," said to be the fastest machine built and the "Terrible Swede's" motor. The latter has been put into good shape by the arrival of a new igniter for it. The race will be for five miles and the finish will undoubtedly be something wonderful to behold.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Bankers are anxious to play the city and county team another game in the near future. They think a few things about baseball have been learned by them recently and they would like to show them to the officials.

Captain Ryan of the Z. C. M. I. believes he can defeat the Skylocks, and he believes it so hard that he has challenged them for another game.

When John Lawson's new Motor-cycle arrives he will match Gust with Chapman again, for any distance from fifteen miles to fifty. He is willing to put up a good bet that Gust can defeat the "Southerner." He will have no trouble in finding people to take his bet. The "Terrible" expects his new motor today.

CANCER Cannot be Cut Out or Removed with Plasters

Surgical operations and flesh destroying plasters are useless, painful and dangerous, and besides, never cure Cancer. No matter how often a cancerous sore is removed, another comes at or near the same point, and always in a worse form. Does not this prove conclusively that Cancer is a blood disease, and that it is folly to attempt to cure this deep-seated, dangerous blood trouble by cutting or burning out the sore, which, after all, is only an outward sign of the disease—a place of exit for the poison?

Cancer runs in families through many generations, and those whose ancestors have been afflicted with it are liable at any time to be stricken with the deadly malady.

Only Blood Diseases can be Transmitted from One Generation to Another

—further proof that Cancer is a disease of the blood. To cure a blood disease like this you must cure the entire blood system—remove every trace of the poison. Nothing cures Cancer effectually and permanently but S. S. S.

S. S. S. enters the circulation, searches out and removes all taint, and stops the formation of cancerous cells. No mere tonic or ordinary blood medicine can do this. S. S. S. goes down to the very roots of the disease, and forces out the deadly poison, allowing the sore to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. at the same time purifies the blood and builds up the general health, in a short time making a complete cure. I have gained in flesh, my appetite is splendid, sleep is refreshing—in fact, an enjoying period has begun.

A little pimples, a harmless looking wart or mole, a lump in the breast, a cut or bruise that refuses to heal under ordinary treatment, should all be looked upon with suspicion, as this is often the beginning of a bad form of cancer.

Our medical department is in charge of physicians of long experience, who are especially skilled in treating Cancer and other blood diseases. Write for any advice or information wanted, we make no charge whatever for this service.
