THE RELIEF SOCIETY CONFERENCE.

On Saturday last, June 17, there was a conference in the Salt Lake Temple of an important woman's organization—the Relief Society. It is the oldest of all women's associations among the Latter-day Saints, and in its purposes reaches to every department of work engaged in by the quorums that have membership in the Church of Christ. It is organized for all that exalts and exults, whether at home or abroad, whether in maiden, wife or mother. The blessing it is designed to confer is not limited to its membership, but extends to all who need a helping hand in requirements of mind or body. And all women members of the Church owe it to themselves to make the conference and operations of this society an important success.

AVOID IMMEDIATE ELEMENTS.

This is the season for outdoor amusements and pleasures, and very many opportunities are afforded for indulging therein different to those presented at other seasons of the year. Some of these are good and some are not. Health-giving recreations and pleasures are to be commended; but those that are between them and that which save the mind and physical life of the participant. That recreation which is not beneficial with pleasure is in a better condition, comparatively speaking, than the man intoxicated with strong drink. In either case there are indulgences which bring evil to their train.

THE WHITE SQUADRON.

The people of Utah have required a reputation for enjoying themselves healthily. This they have done by allowing reason to rule so that pain does not come on the pleasure they indulge in. The fact, concerning and admitted is a good sign for the future—it is the common sense guide which teaches moderate enjoyment. In all things, we mean that excessive indulgence is violation of nature's law and gives us true enjoyment.

POLITICAL CASUALTIES 45-INSURE.

The necessity as to the issue that would be coupled together at the election of the Republican National ticket in November is swept away by the nomination of McKinley and Hanna. It is a reality well settled that if McKinley is elected the silver Republican candidate the political support will be largely at his side, the one and the other will be an aid in right or wrong. But the Democratic nomination is so much of an unknown quantity as it ever was, so as to be a serious impediment to anything that might be accomplished in November from that quarter by the voters of the silver Republican candidate the Colorado men there are few Democrats who would be willing to follow his lead, and the great bulk of the party, and will, either to make a selection from the available material in their own ranks. Or the Democratic candidate for the first time on the ticket the following six in the Utah will be unopposed candidates in legitimate protest to them in a convention of the Republican Party.
