Activity at the Navy Yards.
WASHINGTON, 29.—Great activity prevails at all the navy yards.

MAINE.
Astronomical Fire.
CALAIS, Me., 29.—A fire broke out this afternoon, in the rear of Samuel Ridout's livery stable; the stable was instantly destroyed, together with the stores occupied by Blake & Taylor, W. Todd, Jun., M. Shellester, A. E. Neill, Jas. Perkins, Miss Hill, Boardman Bros., S. S. King & Sons, W. P. Harrison, Wadsworth & Kelly, Nickerson & Ridout, Horton Bros., G. W. Nye, D. Hill, C. Waite & Co., Bailey's photograph room, the Calais Advertiser office, Wadsworth & Kelly's grain mill, Benjamin Hutchinson's saloon, Hitchcock & Cones' livery stable, Peabody, McDonald & Co's machine shop, Hamilton's foundry, the St. Croix Hall, with the city rooms and post office. Below many dwellings and tenement houses were destroyed, a large quantity of lumber and much what property; also thirteen vessels, lying at the wharves; Nickerson & Ridout, and W. Hinds & Robertson ship yards, and three vessels on stocks; marine, railway and dry docks; the Congregational vestry and the Masonic Hall. Much property was burnt after removal from the stores and houses. No estimate of the loss.

ILLINOIS.
High prices for breadstuffs—on what predicted.
CHICAGO, 29.—The Germans are making extensive preparations for a great sanitary fair, which will commence on Tuesday next. A grand procession of all the German societies is to be formed to march to Farwell Hall, where the fair is to be held, and listen to the opening speeches in German and English. The Hall is to be decorated and a large amount is expected to be realized from the affair.
CHICAGO, 29.—The Tribune's New York special says John Morrissey, sheriff of Erie and Congressman Fox, the leaders of the old Democracy, have raised a fund of a hundred thousand dollars to start a newspaper organ. It is to be called the Free Press, and will make its first appearance on Wednesday next, as an evening paper. Its policy will be to devote itself energetically to the exposure of the corruption of Tammany. There is much alarm among the Tammany Democrats, and their Republican allies. All the leading New York papers, of both parties, are subsidized by Tammany. Over one million dollars per annum, in the shape of advertising, is bestowed upon the city press to insure silence about the Tammany frauds, most of the Republican press being in the ring. The feeling in the produce market is that breadstuffs will continue to improve, as the demand from Europe, for the French and German armies, promises to be active. This takes in connection with the falling off in the estimated receipts at the lake ports, would argue better prices. The breadstuffs market will be very materially affected by the length of the war, and everything now points to a long war. The exasperation of the belligerents is deepening and, in France, it is unanimous and at fever heat. As soon as the impending battle has been fought, and the French lose Paris or the Germans are driven from Paris, the French will have a settlement with Napoleon. The fall of the empire is certain to be followed by a report for the seating of an Orleans prince on the throne by foreign bayonets. But this cannot create a permanent government. A French republic means a irritable in Spain, the expulsion of the pope, revolutionary troubles in Italy and eventually in Germany. All these convulsions will involve time, and perhaps render the continent a vast battle field, in which all the people will participate. In the meantime, while production ceases and waste goes on, the United States and Russia must feed Central and Western Europe. It is upon this theory that most of the leading New York operators in breadstuffs trade are calculating on high prices this fall and winter.

MASSACHUSETTS.
WORCESTER, MASS., 29.—A fire, last night, destroyed the yeast factory of M. A. Worcester, eight houses and two stables on Mechanic, Bridge and Eberline streets. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $15,000. Thirty-two families lost all their effects.

FOREIGN NEWS.
GREAT BRITAIN.
McMahon defeated.
LONDON, 29.—It is reported that McMahon was defeated in a great battle with the Crown Prince, which began on the evening of Sunday. The latest dispatches report the contest not yet decided, and that fighting was still going on between Charville and Ardennes. Sixty thousand troops have left Paris to join McMahon. All the palaces in France are to be appropriated as hospitals for the wounded. Russia and England are strongly opposed to the dismemberment of France. Americans are rapidly leaving Paris, and most of the hotels are already deserted. Steinmetz is reported to have been removed from his command.
A Republican conspiracy has been discovered in South Germany. A coup d'etat, at Madrid, is looked for. It was Bismarck who ordered an immediate advance on Paris, and the King acquiesced, though his generals strongly opposed it. It is rumored that the French ambassadors at the neutral courts have asked the intervention of the great powers to guarantee the French dynasty. A French frigate is cruising in St. George's Channel. The London Times says that Paris must and will be saved, but the removal of the seat of government is indispensable. There says the Prussians will never reach Paris without a complete victory over the French army, and even then their stay will be short.
The Irish war fever is intense. Bands in aid of the French wounded are rapidly accumulating. Trochu has issued a proclamation, ordering all strangers, and all of course now at war with France, and not naturalized citizens, to leave Paris, and the department of the Seine, within three days, and they must quit France, or retire to the other side of the Salt. All violations of this edict will be disposed of by military tribunal, unless a special permission to remain has been received from the government of Paris.
There are ten thousand peasants and fifteen thousand soldiers that up in Metz. The Prussian Landwehr is in vesting Thionville. The Prussians hold all southern Alsace.
A Berlin telegram to the London Times says the Prussians are advancing on Paris, two hundred and twenty thousand strong. They have cut the railway at Caucis and Gravelotte. The Bois de Boulogne is filled with cattle to be used as food in case of siege.
Wells, the Scotch aeronaut, has been summoned to the Prussian headquarters.

PENNSYLVANIA.
PHILADELPHIA, 29.—David Kirkpatrick, a prominent hide and leather merchant, died this morning.

NORTH CAROLINA.
Held to Bail.
RALEIGH, 29.—Three parties named Willey, Mitchell and Roan, are held in five thousand dollars bail each, for the murder of one Samuel Stevens.

NEW YORK.
A cable sent to the N. Y. World, dated London 29 says, the statement of the Opinion Nationale that Steinmetz was badly defeated on the 22d and Frederick Charles on the 24th, is not confirmed. Private telegrams from Baden say the Prussians have 300,000 troops along the line of railway, ready to move across the Rhine, to reinforce either German army in case of defeat. Prussia cannot send more troops to the front yet owing to the difficulty of feeding such reserve. The King and Crown Prince advance rapidly on Paris. Immense preparations are being made at Paris for defenses. Fifteen one hundred pound guns are in position and provisions for three months have been accumulated, but there are loud complaints from the inhabitants because the Crown Prince has been allowed to advance unopposed. There is talk of removing the government to Lyons, with the vast army assembled there.

The Prussians attacked Epernay but were repulsed. Ten thousand Prussians attacked Verdun yesterday, and the garrisons drove them back with serious loss. These German movements are regarded as feints. We have had no tidings of Bazaine at Metz. There will be heavy fighting very soon. Prussia cannot afford as long a campaign as France can. To-day there are great rejoicings at Berlin, a public procession carrying four mitrailleurs, twenty three cannons and one eagle, captured from the French, passed through the streets. The Queen came out on the balcony of the palace and received the congratulations of the people. Great excitement prevails.
A cable special to the New York Sun, dated Arcen, 23, via Brussels, says the Prussians summoned Longwy to surrender, but the commanding officer refused.
New York, 28.—Mail matter, per City of Paris, to the eighteenth, brings no additional particulars of the battles around Metz. Communications from Metz, of the fourteenth, states Bazaine's forces at a hundred and sixty thousand. The Prince Royal and Prince Frederick Charles having each from 130,000 to a hundred and forty thousand and Steinmetz 100,000.
Bishop Bayley, of Newark, preached at the cathedral in that city, yesterday, being his first appearance in the pulpit since his return from Rome. His theme was the adoption of the dogma of papal infallibility by the Ecumenical Council; he made a severe attack on the London Times for its false and sensational reports of the proceedings of Council.
A cable special to the Herald dated Berlin 28, says, the disposition of the different German armies is as follows: There are 18 corps d'armee, containing 40,000 men each. The first army under Steinmetz has the 1st 7th and 8th corps at Metz. The second, under Prince Frederick Charles, the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 10th corps. The third army, under the Crown Prince, the 5th, 6th and 11th and the Bavarian corps is marching on Paris. The fourth army, under the Crown Prince of Saxony, has the 4th and 17th corps and the Saxon and Prussian guards. The fifth army, under General Werther, has the Wurtemberg and Baden divisions, and is engaged in the siege of Strasbourg. The sixth army, under the Duke of Mecklenburg and Schwerin is on the Rhine. The seventh army, under General Van Constant and Lowenfeld, is at Berlin. Three of these armies are in reserve.

Typhus raging.
BRUSSELS, 28.—Prussian scouting parties are at Meux, one hour from Paris. BRUSSELS, 29.—Marshal Bazaine is certainly under the walls of Metz. A Prussian report says typhus fever is raging dreadfully among the troops at Metz, rendering long resistance impossible.

French prisoners arriving.
BERLIN.—The prisoners taken in the late battles who are arriving here are already so numerous that the fortresses are full to overflowing; camps are formed at Wurtemburg and elsewhere to receive them.

FRANCE.
More fighting.—Vigorous preparations for the siege.
PARIS, 29.—The Monitor, this morning, says as the attacks of McMahon and Bazaine on the Prussians, near Metz, may be delayed for a day or two and the road to Paris is open, the arrival here of the Prussians must be calculated upon. According to daily marches about six days will be needed and perhaps they will arrive sooner. It would serve no purpose to conceal this. The authorities are doing all that is possible to prepare Paris for a siege. L'Opinion Nationale says that Palikao must have entire authority during the critical moment. The authorities must be a unit. The first cannon shot will scatter all political differences. Palikao announces that he can arm immediately a force of national guards in addition to those already supplied. The minister of agriculture has collected, at Paris, immense supplies of all kinds, sufficient for the subsistence of the city three months. A large quantity of salt provisions is stored, as well as hay and fodder for the horses. Munitions of war are also plenty.
MESSIERES, 27, via Brussels.—The railway which was destroyed between Carignan and Montmedy, has been repaired.
The Prussians are retreating before the French tirailleurs and peasants from Stenay to Dur.
PARIS, 29, via Brussels.—The sieges of Strasbourg, Toul, Thionville and Metz have made no progress. The capitulation of Bazaine, for want of supplies, is expected.
The Press says that the official announcement made in the Chambers that the Prussians were marching on Paris causes neither astonishment nor fear. The Parisians receive it with quiet resolution. King William is fatally led to this hazard in spite of a series of strategic persons which should warn him from it. If it is considered that this obstinate old man raised a million men whom he will never take back across the Rhine, it will be easily seen that he finds it necessary to risk a bloody battle at the foot of our towers. There is not one German in all Prussia, Bavaria, Wurtemberg or Baden who would not scorn and curse the King if he did not make a supreme effort to come here and dictate a peace in Paris. How could he return to Germany in the midst of a decimation of families, the misery and depopulation of city and country, should he not win a bloody success? His defeat would be complete. This is the decisive reason, which brings the old King under our walls.
Garrier de Cassagnac has petitioned the Chambers, at the request of many of the inhabitants of Paris, that all Germans now in Paris and its environs be expelled. It is proposed, in case of siege, that the Minister of War shall leave Paris; that the military administration of the city may not be at any time impeded.
ARLON, LUXEMBOURG, 28, evening.—There has been fighting all day at the village of Duss, between Stenay and Verdun; the firing was steady from morning till night; no particulars have yet been received.
