THEY GO HORSEBACK RIDING

President Suggests a Little Jaunt and Prince Falls in With the Idea—Not on Program.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Prince Henry this afternoon enjoyed one event not on his official itinerary when he and President Roosevelt, in a rainstorm, went on a horseback ride for an hour and a quarter through Rock Creek valley and the suburbs in the northwest section of the city. The ride was arranged during one of their talks at an official function.

PRINCE HENRY'S FAREWELL CALL ON PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Men of Affairs

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

One may sail the seas and visit every land and everywhere will find that men of affairs, who are well informed, have neither the time nor the inclination, whether on pleasure boat or business, to use those laxatives which cause excessive purgation and then leave the internal organs in a constipated condition. Syrup of Figs is not built on those lines. It acts naturally, acts effectively, cleanses sweetly and strengthens the internal organs and leaves them in a healthy condition.

If in need of a laxative remedy the most excellent is Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is required the safe and scientific plan is to consult a competent physician and not to resort to those medicines which claim to cure all manner of diseases.

The California Fig Syrup Co. was the first to manufacture a laxative remedy which would give satisfaction to all; a laxative which physicians could sanction and the friend recommend to another; so that today its sales probably exceed all other laxatives combined. In some places considerable quantities of old-time cathartics and modern imitations are still sold, but with the general diffusion of knowledge, as to the best medicinal agent, Syrup of Figs has come into general use with the well-informed, because it is a remedy of known value and ever beneficial action.

The quality of Syrup of Figs is due not only to the excellent combination of the laxative and cathartic principles of plants, known to act most beneficially on the system, with agreeable and refreshing aromatic liquids, but also to the original method of manufacture. In order to get the genuine and its beneficial effects one should always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package.

GOV. TILLMAN REPUDIATED.

The Charleston Exposition Directors Stand by President.

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 28.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the exposition company, Lieut.-Gov. Tillman's letter to President Roosevelt was fully discussed, and the following resolution unanimously adopted: "Resolved, That the president of the exposition company, be and hereby is, requested to communicate at once with his excellency, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, and extend to him the cordial greetings and good wishes of this board of directors, with assurances that we look forward to his promised visit to the exposition with the greatest pleasure and that he will receive from our people the warmest welcome."

Resolved further, that the president be informed that this board of directors denies any responsibility for the recent communication made by Col. J. H. Tillman to President Roosevelt, and expresses their utter lack of sympathy with his action in that matter.

A committee was appointed by the board of directors to convey the invitation to President Roosevelt.

Successful Art Sale.
New York, March 1.—One of the most successful of recent art sales has just been concluded in this city. The last day's sales reached the total of $153,867, while the entire proceeds were $288,000. Most of the paintings went into private galleries, although the bidding was done almost entirely by art dealers acting on commission. For this reason the real names of the purchasers were in many cases not disclosed.

The highest price received for an oil painting was paid for a canvas by Henri Reymont, "Automaton and The Horse of Achilles," which brought $12,500. It was said that this is the first painting by Reymont to be offered at public auction in this country.

"La Puente," landscape by J. B. C. Corot, brought $11,500. None of the other pictures brought over $10,000.

MISS STONE'S RELEASE.

Bulgaria Instructed Brigands Not to Accomplish it on Her Ground.
London, March 1.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily Chronicle believes it to be practically certain that the Bulgarian government, instructed the brigands not to release Miss Stone on Bulgarian territory and that this accounts for the delay in the liberation of the girl.

The brigands had no alternative but to keep them until the relaxation of the Turkish military cordon allowed the brigands to smuggle Miss Stone and Mme. Talika over.

THANKS HER FRIENDS.

Boston, March 1.—In recognition of the great sympathy shown for Miss Stone, the missionary to Bulgaria, who has just been released from captivity, her mother and brothers have issued a letter of thanks to friends known and unknown who have in any way proffered aid or sympathy. A debt of gratitude is especially acknowledged for the efforts put forth by President Roosevelt, Secy. Hay and Asst. Secy. Adee of the state department.

Fog Signaling Experiments.

New York, March 1.—Some most interesting experiments with a new fog signaling apparatus were made in mid-channel Friday between the mail packet Calais and the French steamer Nord, says a London dispatch to the Herald. Signals were exchanged between the Nord and the Calais when six miles apart. If successful the invention will be a boon to channel navigation, owing to the great danger of collisions in the crowded waterway.

To Rid Sea of Derelicts.

New York, March 1.—Steps have been taken by the government to rid the sea of derelicts, those dangerous menaces to navigation, which are now so thickly strewn along the Atlantic seaboard. The cruiser Cincinnati, one of the squadron which were ordered here to meet Prince Henry, has been directed to proceed to Newport, R. I., there to take on a supply of mines and then to cruise along the coast and sweep up every derelict that can be found.

Japan May Borrow in America.

New York, March 1.—Regarding the reported report that Japan had concluded a loan in this country, arising out of a large transfer of gold to San Francisco, through the sub-treasury, the Journal of Commerce dispatch has information to the effect that a large financial institution in this city—a national bank—has within a few weeks, been considering a tentative proposition for a loan. It may be accepted as a fact, however, says the paper quoted, that Japan has not offered a loan, either in this country or England and that she will not make a formal offer until assured that it will be accepted on terms she considers satisfactory.

Both the premier and his nephew suffered severe contusions and were cut by broken glass but they took a cab to their home. While no danger is feared the injuries sustained by the premier will keep him in his room for many days.

A Mysterious Kidnapping.

New York, March 1.—Much excitement prevails at Montreal, says a dispatch from that city to the Herald, over a mysterious kidnapping. Edgar Wayland, the two year old son of E. J. Wayland, manager of a large boot and shoe firm, is believed to have been carried off by a servant girl, who called herself Audrey Erie, but whose real name is believed to be Ethel Young.

Mrs. Wayland Left the Boy.

The nurse's care at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon when she returned at 6, she learned that the girl had packed a valise with many valuables belonging to the house. Carrying this and leading the child, she had told the other servants she was going to deliver the valise to a girl to whom it belonged. That was the last seen of her or of Edgar. The case was put into the hands of detectives but no trace of the pair has been found.

One theory is that the abductor had been urged to the deed by men who hoped to obtain a reward for the child's recovery. Another is that the girl had been inspired by the reading of novels. She is only 15 years old, and has $6,000 which is in trust for her in Toronto.

Killed by Falling Tree.

Almagordo, N. H., March 1.—During a high wind at the camp of the New Mexico Tie and Timber company near Clondroft, John Cotton and another American, name unknown, a recent arrival from Old Mexico, were instantly killed by a tree which fell across the tent which they occupied. Their bodies were crushed to pulp.

Bp. Potter on Saloons.

New York, March 1.—Speaking on the Sunday question before the Outlook club of Montreal, N. J., Bishop H. C. Potter of New York made a plea for prohibition as a social and moral reform. He said that the saloon was the central public house trust, created for the purpose of controlling the administration of the public house. Curiously enough we have not recognized the remarkable success of this organization.

Big Order for Oregon Pine.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 1.—The wholesale lumber dealers' association of Pittsburg has placed an order with Northwestern lumber dealers for 100,000 feet of Oregon fir, being the largest order given in the history of the organization. The contract price aggregated $4,000,000. The material will be used in the construction of large derricks.

It has been found impossible to secure in the east lumber of the requisite length for this work.

China Hoodwinks the Powers.

London, March 1.—Cubling from Peking, the correspondent of the Times says he has reason to believe that the agreements granting Russia exclusive mining and other concessions in Manchuria were with improper consent, ratified by Li Hung Chang long ago, and that the recent Russo-Chinese bank negotiations were only devised to hoodwink the powers.

Amsterdam Diamond Firms Failed.

London, March 1.—The Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail says that two important diamond firms of Heyman and Grannboom are reported to have failed. Heyman is said to have failed for $25,000 and has been arrested. It is believed that Grannboom has fled to the United States.

The correspondent says the diamond trade at Amsterdam is in an acute crisis owing to defalcations extending over several years and that the strike of the cleavers at Antwerp has had a similar effect on the trade here.

PRINCE LEAVES WASHINGTON.

Splendid Dinner Given Him at German Embassy.

IS SERENADED BY TEUTONS.

Desires His Countrymen to Give Their New Home All the Good Qualities of the Fatherland.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Prince Henry's visit to the national capital had a fitting culmination tonight in a splendid dinner given at the German embassy, and later a tremendous outburst of popular enthusiasm from the German residents of Washington as the imperial visitor was about to start for his southern and western tour.

The dinner was given at the embassy at 8 o'clock, the prince being the guest of honor, and those invited to meet him being representatives of the highest official and diplomatic society.

As the guests arrived they were met by Ambassador von Holleben and escorted to the handsome drawing room where they were presented to Prince Henry. Owing to the large number present the spacious ballroom of the embassy was transformed into a banquet hall.

The walls were hung with garlands of smilax and also decorated with the imperial colors and those of the various states of Germany.

Prince Henry occupied the seat of honor at the table, with the German ambassador sitting opposite him. To the right of the prince sat Frau von Reuber-Paschewitz, and to her left the wife of Chief Justice Fuller of the supreme court. To the right of the ambassador sat Lady Pauncefote, the wife of the British ambassador, and at his left Mrs. Aspiroz, wife of the Mexican ambassador.

The following program of music was rendered by the orchestra during the evening: "The Invincible Eagle," Sousa's overture, "Marta," a selection from "Faust," "Hyll," "Evening Breeze," Langley's caprice, "Heart's Message," Santelmann's selection from "Lohengrin," "On the Beautiful Rhine," "Florida," march, "Hands Across the Sea."

An enormous crowd gathered about the embassy while the dinner was in progress, filling Massachusetts avenue with a solid mass of humanity for a block in either direction. At 9:30 o'clock the long line of German marchers who were serenading the prince made their appearance, bearing pitch-pipe torches. At the head of the column moved the stars and stripes side by side with the German national flag.

Following the torch bearers came 100 strong-voiced German singers, who formed on the terrace immediately before the high balcony of the embassy. The balcony singers, gathered around the balcony, sang the German national anthem, and then the prince stepped upon the balcony, and amid a storm of cheers, bowed his salutations to the throng. He then turned to the balcony of the navy, showing the order of the Black Eagle, and the family order of Hohenzollern.

About him were ranged groups of ambassadors and officers in their brilliant uniforms, while at every window were the radiant faces of the ladies in their ball dresses. Without hat, and calmly puffing cigarette, his highness surveyed the animated scene below. Then above the cheers rose the voices of the singers in "Das Deutcher Lied," followed by "Die Wacht Am Rhein," and then by "The Star Spangled Banner." As the last song was being sung the representatives of the German residents of Washington were escorted to the balcony where Prince Henry gave them a cordial welcome.

In behalf of his associates, William Ellrich spoke of the friendship between Germany and America which was sealed anew by the act of the emperor in sending his royal brother to offer his aid to the United States. Reference was made to the prince laying the wreath of peace on Washington's tomb, and the greetings between him and the president, the speaker, in conclusion, saying:

"No one can feel happier over these facts than we American citizens of German descent do, and we ask your highness the great favor to interpret this joy in his imperial majesty. Germania is our mother, Columbia is our sponsor."

Prince Henry acknowledged his heartfelt appreciation of the splendid reception which he had received and applied in its fullest sense to those who had honored him tonight. He asked whether those who had rendered the songs were now American citizens, and receiving a reply in the affirmative, the prince said:

"I wish you would give to the United States all the good qualities which you have brought from the fatherland. Endeavor to be useful and good citizens of this great and glorious country."

At 11 o'clock the prince, escorted by Ambassador von Holleben and by a squad of police, left the embassy for the Pennsylvania railroad station, where he boarded the special train for a 12:30 o'clock for his western and southwestern trip. The prince's suite accompanied him.

Cleveland, O., March 1.—A consolidation has been effected between the American Exchange National bank and the Metropolitan National bank of this city. The bank will be known as the American Exchange National, with a capital of $500,000, paid up surplus of $100,000 and deposits of a million and a half. Richard Parmelee will be president of the bank. The action was decided upon at a joint meeting of the directors of both banks.

Senate Rules Amendments.

Washington, March 1.—Senators Platt of Connecticut and Hoar of New Hampshire introduced amendments to the senate rules, evidently suggested by the McLaurin-Tillman episode. Senator Platt's amendment provides:

"That if it is in the power of the senate to punish a member for disorderly behavior by debarring such member from participating in the proceedings of the senate."

Senator Hoar's amendment reads: "No senator in debate shall impute to any other senator conduct or motive unworthy or unbecoming a senator. No senator in debate shall utter any reproach upon the character or history of any state of the Union."
