CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Discussing the Sugar Tariff.

NEW YORK, 2.—At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, to-day, Mr. James M. Brown, banker, presiding, a resolution was adopted declaring that the system of examination for appointment to places in the custom house, which has ruled during the last few years, has been of a substantial view to the mercantile community, and should be continued and extended. The committee appointed to prepare a reply to Secretary Sherman's letter to Chandler, last February, in reference to the collection of duties on sugar, presented their report. They declare the secretary's letter evasive, as no attempt was made in it to refute the facts set forth on behalf of the importers. Referring to the trial of the case of Welch vs. Merritt, at the last term of the United States Circuit Court, they say: "In the trial of that case, importers offered no evidence whatever in rebuttal to the testimony of Treasury witnesses. They claimed they were conducting their business within the law, and were satisfied to rest their case solely on the law. The court sustained importers, and notwithstanding all the evidence introduced by the Treasury, directed the jury to find a verdict for the plaintiffs. We make a point of the result of this trial, because it is a direct refutation of the allegation set forth by Mr. Sherman in his letter, and a confirmation of the position taken by the chamber. It is conceded on all hands, that for the purpose of evading duties, it is a fraud to color sugar after it becomes sugar. Scientific treasury agents told the secretary that sugar became sugar as soon as the crystals formed in the entire product from the cane; but, of course, this was not the sugar of commerce, and so far the court has sustained the position of the merchants, upon which, as a matter of law, they rest their case, namely: That so long as the article in question is a sugar of commerce, its color, by comparison with the Dutch standard, is the sole test of a dutiable classification. In conclusion, the committee remark that the treasury department cannot secure the kindly aid and good will of merchants, for which Sherman expressed a desire, when the merchants are, in a wholesale way, charged with fraud, and without any evidence in support of the charge.

Colonel Frederick A. Conkling, brother of ex-Senator Conkling, made a long speech, in which he upheld the course of Secretary Sherman in refusing to rescind his order of September 2d, '79, or refund the alleged excess of duties on sugar collected under its provisions. The committee's report was then adopted, Conkling alone voting in the negative.

A letter was read from James E. Ward & Co., enclosing a copy of a letter sent by them to Secretary Windom regarding the refusal of Collector Merritt to grant clearance to the steamship Newport, on the ground of smuggling by members of the crew. Ward & Co. say: We claim that the interpretation given to the United States laws by officers administering the law division of the custom house is, to say the least, an unfair one, as we cannot believe it was the intention of any government or legislature to make the innocent suffer for the guilty. Farther than this, these officers decline to prosecute men caught in the act of smuggling, but claim the right of holding a ship and her master for an offense, when the written report of the officers making one seizure stated the cigars were found on the persons of some of the crew, who were attempting to land them. Thus they desire to make our captains and officers revenue officers without pay, and our ships virtually boundsmen for them. The letter was referred, and the chamber adjourned till October 2d.

THE POLITICAL STRUGGLE.

The Herald's Albany special says: The dispatch of Conkling to Mahone has created a genuine sensation here. Representative stalwarts say it has very great significance, and predictions are made that it will have a marked effect on political affairs. Conkling has placed himself and friends on record for all that is good in Mahone's policy, and have taken just the opposite ground of that adopted by Garfield and Blaine. It is claimed that the senators and assemblymen who vote against the re-election of Conkling practically oppose the sentiments uttered in the senior ex-Senator's dispatch.

Dispatches from our correspondent at Albany show that the friends of Conkling are resolute. How far they will follow him is the question of the hour. There is talk of democratic combinations that are feasible and probable, but at the same time so grave that we should not venture upon the responsibility of advising it. If such a combination could be made, it would satisfy the independent element of the country. If he cannot be Cæsar, he can be Coriolanus.

Commercial's Albany: The half-breeds policy is first to elect Cornell to Platt's place by the aid of enough of Conkling's present supporters to give them the required 81 votes. Before this is done half-breeds are to require the assent of their allies that half-breeds shall have the absolute right to name Conkling's successor, then they will name Reuben E. Fenton and the allies will be compelled to assent.

Following was the first ballot today: Conkling 34, Jacobs 50, Wheeler 19, Rogers 11, Cornell 21, Fenton 2, Pomeroy 1, Edick 1, Folger 1, Crowley 1, Bradley 1, Tremaine 2, Chapman 1, Butcher 1, Lapham 1, Platt 1.

Following was the vote to fill the Platt vacancy: Platt 28, Kernan 53, Depew 28, Cornell 11, Lapham 8, Evarts 2, Ward 3, Folger 3, Crowley 2, Miller 2, Butcher 2, Wadsworth 2, George B. Sloan 1, Van Cott 1, David Dudley 1, Fenton 1. On the second ballot Cowles changed from Conkling to Cornell. Conkling 33, Wheeler 11, Jacobs 52, Bradley 1, Rogers 15, Cornell 28, Fenton 3, the others scattering.

Second ballot for the vacancy of Platt, as follows: Platt 28, Depew 30, Kernan 52, Cornell 13, the remainder scattering. One of Conkling's votes, that of Astor, was withheld from a pair with Forster.

Further voting was postponed till to-morrow.

It is in the failure of the half breeds to unite upon a candidate that the stalwarts see their opportunity. It is suspected that Conkling has had several months active with the half breeds, who are kept there for the express purpose of preventing agreement on candidates.

A special to the Express (democratic say): Half-breed republicans are in a terrible quandary. In the beginning of the fight Senator Robertson and his staff mapped out a programme, which was not to be extended, and which provided only for the defeat of Conkling. That, of course, would also shelve Platt as well. As the day and hour rolled around when the most sanguine of Roscoe's friends were forced to acknowledge that their leader was defeated, the admission induced the half-breeds not only to abuse the exboss, but to amend their first programme by attempting to replace Conkling and Platt with two pronounced enemies of stalwartism, their first mistake and forced a halt which may make irreparable injury. It is to get out of this unfortunate quandary that the secret meeting was held last night. One thing is certain, if determination to land two half-breeds as winner's is the programme, it will be futile, and for this reason Conkling has 35 members who will cling to him until he retires from the race, and after that to any two men who are in sympathy with him. Besides these, there are 13 members who are anxious to cast their ballots for Conkling, but dare not do so and accept the sentence of their indignant constituencies.

Mackey's Dinner.

A dinner was given last evening to Governor Thomas L. Young, of Ohio, by John W. Mackey, of bonanza fame, at which were present Senator Jones and ex-Congressman Daggett, of Nevada, and other interested in mining business. This meeting, connected with the fact of Mackey's sudden return from Europe and quick departure for Nevada, caused considerable comment among those interested in mining shares.

Mormon Immigrants.

The Herald says: Three hundred men, women and children arrived from Europe to go to Utah. They might have been secured for any other colony were the alleged opponents of Mormonism enough in earnest to put money into the business of offering counter attractions to Europeans, among whom the Mormon missionaries always work.

Government Regulations.

WASHINGTON, 2.—The Treasury Department will, to-morrow, issue another circular letter relative to excursion steamers for the information of officers of the inspection service in general, as well as for the information of the traveling public, who are invited to present to the proper officers authenticated proofs of violations of steamboat laws, in order that offenders may be prosecuted. Inspectors will be required to exact from captains and owners strict compliance, in all cases, with instructions.

Samples of flour or other perishable substance are declared unmailable, except when put up in transparent bags, and sealed so that no particles can sift through. Bags must be enclosed in boxes or tubes made of hard wood or metal, with sliding, clasp or screw lids, and without sharp corners.

The Ute Removal.

No news has been received from General McKenzie en route to Los Pinos. The Ute commissioners are awaiting the arrival of troops before proceeding with the removal of the Utes.

The Dye House Explosion.

PHILADELPHIA, 2.—By the explosion in the dye house yesterday, Frederick Descher, Thomas Cody and Mrs. Hannah Dooley, who were on the steps of the house directly opposite, were prostrated, Descher being instantly killed, and the other two injured. Frank Harbison, an employee was taken out of the ruins dead, and Robert Bradley, a lad of four years was killed by flying debris. The others injured were Louis Lehr, John Harbison, Albert Stevenson, John Morrison and Nellie and Michael Duffy, children. The dye works took fire afterwards and were destroyed together with the stock, involving a loss of $20,000. The debris was sent in all directions. The boiler was blown fully 400 yards, forcing its way through a back brick wall, through two fences, knocking down posts and landing on the railroad depot yard in the front works. No engineer was on the premises and only a fireman, Dennis Cully was employed. He has a scalp wound and scalds.

White Banqueted.

BERLIN, 1.—A farewell banquet was given to-night to Andrew D. White, U. S. minister, by the members of the lower house of the Reichstag. Many celebrities were present. The minister of war proposed a toast to the Emperor. Dr. Lucius proposed one to President Garfield, and Greist proposed a toast to White. He replied in a long speech in English, pointing out the historical friendship of Germany and the United States. He referred to the sympathy shown the United States by Germany during civil war, and to America's interest in German literature and civilization. He concluded his speech in the German language by proposing a toast to the mighty German empire. Excuses of General Count Von Moltke, Herr Maybach and Herr Stephanie, for their absence, were then presented.

Correspondence.

TWIN CREEK,
Uintah Co., Wyoming Ter.,
May 24, 1881.

Editor Deseret News:

We thought a few lines as we wander through the scene of railroad operations, might be interesting to the many readers of your valuable paper. Twin Creek and Hams' Fork are the scene of busy operations, hundreds of men and teams all busy at work piling up mother earth preparatory to receiving the rails. From appearances the iron horse will soon be heard in Bear Lake Valley.

There are two roads under construction; both companies are energetically pushing their respective lines, namely the Utah and Wyoming Railway and the Oregon Short Line Railway Co's. The former is to make western connection with the Central Pacific and eastern connection with some road near the Black Hills, the latter road connects with the U. P. at Granger Station and will run to Baker City, Oregon. The two lines are in close proximity to each other from Granger to the mouth at Twin Creek, a distance of about 75 miles, crossing each other in numerous places, and in many places running on the same ground for many hundreds of yards. We learned from Messrs. Eldredge and Moffat, contractors on the U. and W. road, that the Oregon road have graded some three or four miles of their road bed (the U. & W's road) and that legal proceedings are about to be instituted against the Oregon Company for damages and trespass on right of way.

We were somewhat amused at seeing teams drawing dirt in one direction and other teams drawing same dirt back again; on inquiring cause, were told that both companies claimed prior right of way, the teamsters seemed to be indifferently attending to their own duties and were on friendly terms, also many teamwere standing mingled together, while the teamsters were enjoying the shade near by. The teamsters refuse to fight over the matter, saying it is the business of the companies and contractors to legally settle, a sensible conclusion. It looks as if law suits of some magnitude were looming up in the near future. One of the companies is talking of securing armed men to protect their work; if they resort to violent measure harm will be the result. The canons are sufficiently wide for all purposes if the matter had been amicably settled. Both companies are making every effort to secure the control of the extensive coal lands between Ham's Fork and Twin Creek, which are said to be the most extensive in the United States. Among some of the most promising are the Mammoth, the N. W. Ham's Fork and Bells. The Mammoth is owned by a number of Utah gentlemen. We measured one vein of coal in the Mammoth which was 78 feet, one tunnel is run in some 70 feet, showing coal inexhaustible, numerous other tunnels are in on the Mammoth, making a fine showing o coal, the coal lays on the east side of the mountain, and dips to the west at an angle of about 30 degrees. We cannot say what owners, if any understand that negotiations are being made with view of sale.

The Bear River is up to high water mark, there are two good ferries in running condition near the mouth of Twin Creek; Ham's Fork, Black's and Thomas' Forks are up and "booming." More anon.
