GRAND CENTRAL STILL CLIMBS UP

Lively Trading in Sunbeam at Higher Prices.

PETRO A FEATURE OF CALL

Over Six Thousand Shares Held at Low Figure, Value to Mount—The Sales for the Week.

TODAY'S METALS:

SILVER 50 1/2
LEAD 94-95
COPPER 17 1/2

This morning's call at the mining exchange opened without much activity and it looked like a dull day for the Grand Central stock. The first sale was at $10.50, a good 1000 of 20 shares were sold. This was only the beginning, however, and it kept on selling at advancing figures until 11:30 a.m. when it closed at $11.50.

Northwestern Light offered an opportunity for buying, selling at from $10 to $11.

There was a little activity and was quite active in the trading.

There was one of the features of the call. The trading of the Petro stock, which was at the ground in the morning's session, and the trading of the Petro stock, which was at the ground in the morning's session, and the trading of the Petro stock, which was at the ground in the morning's session.
