PROTEST AGAINST REMOVAL PLANS

West Side Citizens Say Their Children's Welfare is
At Stake.

ASK SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE

Many Reasons Given for Keeping
Tenderloin District in the Heart
Of the Uptown District.

Citizens and taxpayers of the west side, in a communication addressed to the "News" and received this morning, enter a vigorous protest against the proposed removal of the red light district to the residence section of their portion of the city. Ten days ago notice was made of a transaction whereby a notorious Ogden woman of wealth had closed a deal for the purchase of a large tract in west Second South street near the Rio Grande depot. It was also announced to be the intention of the woman and others interested with her in the scheme to build a large number of apartments in the inclosure to become the habitations of women of respectability and that in the meantime, gradually, it appears, intending to remove the hard core now found in Commercial street and Victoria avenue into the new west side district.

ARE REARING FAMILIES.

The communication received this morning points out that in that section of the city there are many large families being reared. The signers of the communication indicate that they are not of a wealthy class, but profess respectability and that in the rearing of their children they are not confronted with the menace which the removal of the red light district into the heart of the uptown district has reached the heart of the communication, they say, that leading capitalists of the city are to become partners to the scheme. In a rather pointed question they ask if these capitalists would welcome such a district in their section of the city—into East South Temple street, or east First South street.

The signers of the communication voice the opinion that the capitalists who are figuring on the scheme are not doing so to benefit the city or the women who would be concerned, but are seeking to enlarge their fortunes. If this be true, they urge that they devote their money to the building of a factory where employment might be given to young men and women who are eager to earn their livelihood in honorable pursuits.

WOULD JEOPARDIZE CHILDREN.
The communication points out that the young sons and daughters of the signers are frequent passengers upon the street cars leading to the west side while others habitually traverse the sidewalks of that side in leaving and returning to their homes. Such being the case, it is argued that the children, young and older, will be forced to come into rather too close contact with the women who would become habitués of the inclosure and also with the classes who would visit the place. It is not desired that this situation be permitted to become a reality, and to the entire proposition a most vigorous protest is made.

ASK FOR SUPPORT.

The signers urge that the people of the city stand up in opposing the scheme. They point out that it is the act of wisdom to keep the creatures of the underworld in the center of the uptown district, in the heart of the proper police control. The letter argues that it would require 10 minutes' time for the patrol wagon to respond to a call from the district, and that the removal of the women to the west side station would tend to create a feeling of freedom from proper restraint among the denizens and in this way prove to be a breeding place for the future of the young boys and girls being reared in the section of the city near the Rio Grande depot.

FOR A SPRAINED ANKLE.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions which it contains faithfully, the cure may be effected in many cases in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable bruise or rheumatism, and you are certain to be relieved in a few days. It is the only remedy for a sprained ankle which affords. For sale by all druggists.

STUDENTS AT BANQUET.

Graduating Classes of Forrest School Form an Alumni Society.

A novel gathering of schoolboys and schoolgirls occurred last night at the home of Preston D. Richards, principal of the Forrest school, who is to leave soon for the east to study law. The occasion was a banquet tendered this year's graduating class by the school, which was held at the home of the principal. About 150 young men and young women were present and also in attendance were the Misses Hyatt and Pendleton and Principal Richards of the school faculty. This event is much in the nature of an annual affair, for at the gathering last night the formation of an alumni society was effected to consist of the graduating classes from the school. The 1908 '08 class formed the nucleus of this association and elected officers as follows: Paul Richards, president; Granville Simmons, vice president; Viola Freeland, secretary and treasurer; Bessie Gallagher and Ethlyn Smith, members of executive committee.

The evening was spent most enjoyably by the young students. Selections were given by Vera Kimball, Laura De Camp, Ethlyn Smith and Bessie McGhee. Brief speeches were made by Preston D. Richards, the retiring principal, Paul S. Richards, the new principal, and Granville Simmons of the '07 class, Earl McCullough, Florence Summers and the Misses Hyatt and Pendleton. Misses Bessie Wright and Grace Richards were in the audience. The home of the principal was found a very pleasant one, where a dainty refreshment was served. The guests in amusing and entertaining style. The home of the principal was decorated in the school colors, purple and white.

NO NEED OF SUFFERING FROM RHEUMATISM.

It is a mistake to allow anyone to suffer from rheumatism, as the pain can always be relieved, and in most cases a cure effected by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is almost worth mentioning. It makes sleep and rest possible. Even in cases of long standing this liniment should be used on account of the relief which it affords. Do not be discouraged until you have given it a trial. Many sufferers have been surprised and delighted with its pain-relieving qualities. 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by all druggists.

SEWER CONTRACT STIRS UP STRIFE

Councilman Fernstrom Leads Assault Against Davis
And Heuser.

IS NOW UP TO THE COUNCIL.

Finance and Engineering Committees
Wrangle Over Affair and Finally Recommend Award.

The matter of awarding the contract for constructing sewer extension No. 186, comprising the district on the north bench from Third to Sixth avenues and from a street east to the reservation, was the cause of a lively wrangle at the meeting of the finance and engineering committee of the city council held last evening. There were two bidders in the field, namely, Davis & Heuser, whose bid was $54,506.92, and James Kennedy, whose tender was $55,819.

After the bids had been opened, a motion was made that Davis & Heuser be awarded the contract. Mr. Fernstrom opposed the motion, stating that Davis & Heuser had not lived up to their previous contracts with the city, specifying sewer contract No. 178, which was completed in February. Mr. Fernstrom said that an inspector named J. H. Griffiths, who had been since discharged by the board of works, had inspected this work while on an inspection tour, and that he had made such an assertion to Fernstrom. Fernstrom insisted, however, that the story was true, and said that Griffiths had gone down to the factory with Heuser and had looked over the pipe at the factory, which is contrary to the rules of inspection, which require that all pipe must be inspected at the ditch.

REDDALL VS. FERNSTROM.

Mr. Reddall of the committee denied the assertion, stating that Griffiths had denied to him that he ever made such an assertion to Fernstrom. Fernstrom insisted, however, that the story was true, and said that Griffiths had gone down to the factory with Heuser and had looked over the pipe at the factory, which is contrary to the rules of inspection, which require that all pipe must be inspected at the ditch.

L. H. Krebs, assistant city engineer, asked about the matter, and he said he had found the pipe in bad condition and condemned it. He also stated that 40 per cent of the 24-inch pipe which was brought to the ditch, was defective.

Mr. Heuser was given the floor, and he stated that while he since learned that it was not just the right thing to have the pipe inspected at the factory, he did not think there was enough deviation from the rules in that case to cause any trouble. He denied that Griffiths was intoxicated at the time of inspection, and said he could prove what he was saying.

Mr. Fernstrom said that the firm had not intended to do right by the city, and when they put in extension 178, they had been backed by the position of Asst. City Engineer Krebs. "And if it had not been for Mr. Krebs," said Mr. Fernstrom, "the pipe would have gone in, bad as it was. It shows me there is something rotten in that sewer work, and I do not think this firm should have another contract."

SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES.

Thomas W. Roylance, Who Lost Legs Under Engine, Dies at Hospital.

After two days and nights of intense suffering, Thomas W. Roylance died at St. Mark's hospital shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. From the time of the accident, early Wednesday morning, by which he lost both of his legs, it was feared that the shock would prove too severe for the injured man to withstand, but he bore up so well during the first few hours that hope was entertained for his recovery. He began to sink, however, yesterday afternoon, and death came at the hour indicated.

Mr. Roylance resided at Springville and was a member of the well known railroad contracting firm of Roylance & Reynolds. He was superintending work in Denver when he met with the accident which resulted in his death. During the fog that prevailed at that place Wednesday morning, Mr. Roylance was struck by an engine on the Utah Copper company's line and his legs were severed about the knees. He was brought to Salt Lake on a special train, and the limbs were amputated.

Mr. Roylance is survived by a wife and nine children, the children ranging from 16 years to 11 months. He was highly respected in his community, and elsewhere, having a wide acquaintance throughout the state.

The body was taken to Springville on this afternoon's R.R. Grand train, and the funeral will be held in the general meetinghouse of the city on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
