

FOR GOOD ROADS BETWEEN CITIES

Commercial Club Launches
Movement and Asks for Support.

WILL SEE PUBLIC OFFICERS.

Committees Are Named to Begin
Work for Highway Between Salt Lake and Farmington.

Depending for its effectiveness on the creating and focusing of public sentiment, the Commercial club is now launching a good roads movement. While one committee, under H. P. Clark, is turning things over in the convention line, another is now at work on the road matter, and it will be assisted by a number of sub-committees.

The plan is to have a sub-committee see the county commissioners of Salt Lake, Davis and Weber counties, and work in conjunction with them in securing better roads. A campaign for a general macadamizing of the roads is admitted to be impracticable, but efforts will be centered on collecting data as to where roads may most advantageously be improved, and then on working to have these sections macadamized.

ROAD TO FARMINGTON.

A particular object of immediate interest is the improving of the road from Farmington to Salt Lake, and on the committee to keep in touch with this matter the following have been appointed:

W. H. Ellison, A. H. Christensen, P. J. Moran and Dr. Fred Stauffer.

Thomas on the committee to confer with the Davis county commissioners are J. Bergerman, John Brooks, Sam H. Sharnaud and W. P. Kirt.

The committee to confer with the Weber county commissioners consists of Jesse C. Little, C. A. Quigley, De Witt B. Lowe and George T. Odell.

To urge the improving of the roads leading to Salt Lake from the south the following committee was named: Samuel Paul, E. D. Miller, F. E. McGurran and John P. Cahoon.

Only a little cold in the head may be the beginning of an obstinate case of Nasal Catarrh. Drive out the invader with Ely's Cream Balm applied straight to the inflamed stuffed up air passages. GOVERNOR RECEIVES OFFICERS

Official Family from Fort Douglas Repays Official Call.

Lieut. Col. Williams, commandant at Fort Douglas during the illness of Col. Scott, accompanied by the regimental and battalion staff officers of the post and the officers of the line, paid an official call upon Gov. Cutler at his West Temple street residence last night. The staff of the commandant-in-chief of the National Guard of Utah and the officers of the Salt Lake organizations and headquarters were also present to meet the officers from the post. The formalities of the visit were so arranged that they did not prevent those present from becoming well acquainted, the evening providing a bond between the official family at Fort Douglas and the national guard officers. The evening was much enjoyed and expressions were made by several to the effect that the acquaintanceships formed, aside from affording pleasure to both the regular and national guard officers, will result in much profit to the guardsmen, who were urged to call upon their professional brothers when in doubt or when not in doubt. In addition to Col. Williams, the following officers from Fort Douglas were present: Maj. Purviance and Arrasmith, Capt. Palmer, Savage, Harper, and Cavanaugh; Lieuts. Seaman, Sampson, Ward, Upham and Butcher and Chaplain Clemens.

The national guard officers present were: Adj. Gen. E. A. Wagoner, Brig. Gen. Sam C. Park, Col. C. G. Plummer, Col. Lund, Greenwald, Irvine, Seaman, Daynes, Deane, Bower and Kessler, Lieut. Arns, acting regimental adjutant; Capt. Bassett, Webb and Bourne, Lieuts. Barnes, Smith, Worthen, Brown and Altire.

During the evening the band of the First regiment, N. G. U., furnished lively music on the lawn. Miss Edna Evans was heard in a number of pleasing vocal selections. In the course of the evening short speeches were made by Gov. Cutler, Lieut. Col. Williams, Gen. Wedgwood and Park, Col. Plummer and Irvine, and Willard Done, secretary to Gov. Cutler. Following the reception, many of the governor's guests attended the veteran's ball in the armory.

W. H. CAHILL KILLED.

From Goldfield comes the news of W. H. Cahill's death April 20. Cahill was a conductor on the Las Vegas & Tonopah and was known to many Salt Lake residents who have traveled through Nevada. The Goldfield Tribune had this account of the killing: W. H. Cahill, the popular passenger conductor on the Tonopah railway, and running regularly between points on the line, was accidentally shot at Las Vegas, and died from the result of a wound within a few minutes. A brief telegram announcing the sad accident was received by his running mate, Conductor McGovern, and said that Cahill met his death while transferring a rifle from a car to a baggage truck. It exploded when thrown on to the truck, the shot entering Cahill's breast.

WOMAN FEARS HUSBAND.

Fearing that her husband would do harm to her and her children, Mrs. Klink Ainsworth of 291 F street called at police headquarters last night and asked for protection. On Tuesday night Ainsworth became insane and was taken to the county jail. Yesterday he was discharged from custody. Upon returning to his home he began to act in a strange manner, according to Mrs. Ainsworth. In view of the fact that Ainsworth had been discharged by the court, the police did not feel justified in arresting the man. Mrs. Ainsworth finally went to a neighbor's, where she spent the night with her children.

GREEK LABORER ROBBED.

At 10:45 o'clock last night a Greek named Thomas Gurg was held up and robbed of $10 by two highwaymen. The holdup occurred at First South and Fifth West streets. One of the robbers pointed a gun at Gurg while the other searched his pockets, taking all the money he had. Gurg gave a good description of the highwaymen when he reported the matter to the police.

WANDERING AIMLESSLY.

Aged Man Picked Up By Police Tells Odd Story.

George Fraser, an aged rancher from Stevensville, Mont., was found last night wandering about in the sloughs in North Salt Lake. The police were notified of the man's strange actions and Sergeant Roberts and Officer Harris were sent out to investigate. The aged man talked in a rambling manner and seemed to be mentally unbalanced. He insisted that he had walked down from Butte in one day. Asked where he was going, he said he was going to Salt Lake to meet his wife and that she was in a hospital.

Upon investigation it was found that Mrs. Fraser had been in the Ecough-Hammond hospital but started back to her home yesterday. Dr. Hammond said he had wired Fraser to meet his wife in Butte. Fraser had a bankbook showing a balance of $25 in the Bitter Root bank and he had $12.20 in cash.

FIND HOME FOR BABY.

Infant Deserted by Its Mother Gets Kind Treatment Elsewhere.

"It's mother is a tall, yellow negress, who married a Chinaman," said Mrs. Alice Rogers, as she handed a bundle containing a four-months-old colored child over the counter of the juvenile court to Mrs. A. L. Young yesterday afternoon. "She did the same thing once before," continued Mrs. Rogers. "I know the woman, but she called for the other infant the next morning, but she has not returned for this one."

In a jocular manner the woman told Mrs. Young she would take $10 for the baby. She said the youngster screamed all night, and she did not want it any longer. Mrs. Rogers is a color-

MRS. CLEMENT DEAD.

Mrs. Helen M. Clement, formerly Mrs. N. M. Libby, died yesterday at the Holy Cross hospital, the cause of death being brain fever. The deceased was a daughter of Mrs. Jennie S. Palmer, and was born in this city May 19, 1875.

The funeral will be held from the Sixth ward meetinghouse, Third West between Fourth and Fifth South, Sunday, commencing at 12:30 o'clock. Friends are invited to attend the services.

BETTER PRICES FOR WOOL.

Officials and members of the Utah Wool Growers' association say a better market is being noticed already, probably as a result of the growers' stand for better prices and no sales on a panic market. President Callister is quoted as talking in this strain:

"We have had reports to the effect that a few clips have been sold at 15 cents, and that 15 cents was refused by the owner for another clip. Before we took the action we did the buyers quoted prices ranging from 7 to 12 cents, the latter figure being the highest. The buyers announced that they would pay no higher than 12 cents, and the clips they would not touch at all."

HOW I TOOK MY WRINKLES OUT

After Facial Massage, Creams and Beauty Doctors Had Failed.

BY HARRIETT META.

Trouble, worry and ill-health brought me deep lines and wrinkles. I realized that they not only greatly marred my appearance and made me look much older, but that they would greatly interfere with my success, because a woman's success, either socially or financially depends very largely on her appearance. The homely woman, with deep lines and furrows in her face, must fight an unequal battle with her younger and better looking sister.

I therefore bought various brands of cold cream and skin foods and massaged my face with most constant regularity, hoping to regain my former appearance. But a third treatment would not go. On the contrary, they seemed to get deeper. Next I went to a beauty specialist, who told me she could easily rid me of my wrinkles. I paid my money and took the treatment. Sometimes I thought they got less, but after spending all the money I could afford for such treatment, I found I still had my wrinkles. So I gave up in despair and concluded I must carry them to my grave. One day a friend of mine who was versed in chemistry made a suggestion, and this gave me a new idea. I immediately went to work making experiments and studying everything I could get hold of on the subject. After several long months of almost numberless trials and discouragements, I finally discovered a process which produced most astounding results on my wrinkles in a single night. I was delighted beyond expression. I tried my treatment again, and lo and behold! my wrinkles were practically gone. A third treatment and I was free of them. I had no wrinkles and my face was as smooth as ever. I next offered my treatment to some of my immediate friends, who used it with surprising results. I have now decided to offer it to the public. Miss Gladys Desmond of Pittsburgh, Pa., writes that it made her wrinkle disappear.

Mrs. M. W. Graves of Bridgeport, Conn., states: "There is not a wrinkle left, my friends say I look 20 years younger. I consider your treatment a godsend to womankind." Mrs. James Barrs of Central City, S. D., writes: "The change is so great that it seems more a work of magic."

I will send further particulars to any one who is interested, absolutely free of charge. I use no cream, facial massage, face steamings or so-called skin foods; there is nothing to inject and nothing to injure the skin. It is an entirely new discovery of my own and so simple that you can use it without the knowledge of your most intimate friends. You apply the treatment at night and go to bed. In the morning, lo! the wonderful transformation. People often write me: "It sounds too good to be true." Well, the test will tell. If interested in my discovery, please address Harriett Meta, Suite 1144A, Syracuse, N. Y., and I will send you full particulars.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—If you have a weakness for a good wholesome love story—and who has not—you cannot afford to miss "Glorious Betsy," now holding the boards at the theater. Even if you are a pronounced woman-hater the play is more than worth while as a demonstration of good acting, staging and costuming. As an historical production it holds the interest, although the playwright has taken some liberties in the last act and reunited the lovers, as it should be in all well regulated plays.

Mary Mannering in the title role has what is undoubtedly her best vehicle so far. From the time of her entry as a bare footed romping, healthy young girl to the last act where wan and pale she returns broken hearted to her home in Baltimore, she runs the gamut of the emotions and carries her audience with her. Possibly as the merry antics girl in the first and second acts is she the more convincing. "Glorious Betsy" is an ideal Shubert production, which means that from the star's support down to the smallest stage detail all is excellence. Frank Gilmore in the role of Capt. Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon, shares the honors with Miss Mannering. On his entry he momentarily lapses from the accent, but as a lover he is good to look upon and is restful to listen to. He interprets his part in a courtly fashion and never approaches the border line of rant. "The William Patterson, dotting father of Betsy, of Herbert Carr, was a finished delineation, and the three gallants, especially the Sir Henry Blake, the rollicking Irish baronet, of Edward Trevel, added to the interest of an admirably told story. The others were satisfactory.

To brush up on history: Elizabeth Patterson, belle of Baltimore, married Jerome Bonaparte early in the nineteenth century, but Napoleon refused to allow him to bring his bride to France and later a divorce followed. Elizabeth lived and died in her home town at a ripe old age and the present attorney general of the United States is the grandson of the union, about which the story of "Glorious Betsy" is constructed.

Undoubtedly the play should be presented to crowded houses tonight, tomorrow night and next.

The sale for "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," the farce that set Salt Lake laughing last fall, opened at the theater this morning.

Orpheum—Tonight is the regular society night at the Orpheum where an excellent bill with the serious play, "The Fifth Commandment" as the headliner is the attraction.

Grand—At the Grand theater last night following the production of "The Factory Girl," an unusual scene was shifted to the boards. It was the wedding of George Gillespie, a member of Company the Fifth U. S. Infantry, and Virginia Carleton, daughter of Mrs. Martha Carleton, 49 Canyon Road. The ceremony was performed by Dean Benjamin Brewster of the Episcopal church, and was witnessed by perhaps the largest audience ever present at a Salt Lake wedding. The announcement that the wedding would be a feature of the evening drew larger crowds than is usual at the Grand and the playhouse was filled from pit to gallery. Within a month Carleton will retire from the army, and the happy couple will make their home in this city. For the present they will reside with the mother of the bride.

The Isis will run the Passion Play this evening, 6 to 7 o'clock, for the benefit of 22nd ward Sunday School.

The Man from Rome

This is the title of a continued story by Marie Van Vorst, starting in this week's issue of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

An American, rich beyond the dreams of avarice; a young son with pockets bursting with spending money; a daughter spoiled and beautiful; also the man from Rome. These persons act a powerful story, tragic in places, which will be illustrated by A. B. Wenzell and Vernon Howe Bailey.

The title suggests a hinted international marriage—but not this one.

Better begin to read this story now. It is hard to get back numbers of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST. This week's issue is now on sale.

At the Newsstands, 5 cents.
$1.50 the year by mail.
