

FRAGMENTS.

JOHN FOTI, for drunkenness, was fined $5 today.

D. H. PERRY, Jr., of Weber County, has been appointed a notary public.

There is a message at the Western Union Telegraph office for E. Dods.

ALBERT BRETSCH was arrested today for stealing rabbits from Price's "beengrocer stand."

CHAS. H. RUSH, a member of company C, Sixth Infantry, is lodged in the city jail on a charge of petty larceny.

TEACHERS, do not forget the last-lyte on Saturday, the 11th inst., at the Thirteenth District schoolhouse.

The funeral of the late William Thompson will take place at 2 p. m., Friday, the 10th inst., at his residence, No. 375 s. Sixth Street.

J. S. JACOBS, who was arrested yesterday for drunkenness and profanity, paid $20 to the city coffers for his diversion.

"WILLIAM TELL" will be given tomorrow evening at the Theatre on the occasion of the benefit performance to John S. Lindsay. It is being well rehearsed, and should draw a good house.

SEE special column for terms upon which spectators may be admitted to the series of lectures on the evening of the 10th inst. The first lecture will be given by the Rev. Mr. Thompson at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the Orphan's Home and Day Nursery.

J. F. SMITH was before Justice Tyler today for stealing a ride on the D. and K. G. W., and was fined $15. He also answered to the charges of being drunk and using profane and obscene language, for which an additional assessment of $15 was levied.

A Midnight Marriage.

At three minutes before midnight last night Commissioner Norrell performed the ceremony of matrimony for the marriage of two residents of Salt Lake City. A short time before, he had received a message asking whether he would officiate, and replied in the affirmative. The parties then appeared and gave their names as Luke Hickman and Sallie J. Kephart. Several friends of the bride and bridegroom witnessed the ceremony.

The Benefit.

There is a decided fitness in the character of the performance to be given by Mr. Lindsay for his complimentary benefit at the Theatre tomorrow evening. After a range and extent of amusements embracing all shades and every phase of the dramatic art except the most legitimate drama, he now proposes to supply this, and to give a good one—something to inculcate lofty patriotism and personal daring in the cause of right. He is capable of doing the part of "William Tell" full justice, and we hope a full house will see him do it.

A Midnight Adventure.

One evening last week Mr. John Collier, who lives about a quarter of a mile north of the Asylum, on the bench, was aroused from his peaceful slumbers by a most terrific barking of his dogs. It being an unusual thing for his canine to make such unearthly yells, he got up and went out to investigate into the matter. On arriving at his booby house, a rough shanty on his premises he found an object that appeared to him as being an unusually large owl, sitting with all the complacency in life on the roof of the little structure. He leveled his gun, took deliberate aim, and fired: when the was thoroughly certain about the being extinct, he went up to it, and found, to his surprise, that it was a monster which had been kept in the house for some time. It weighed about fifty pounds, and had several pounds of fat from the fat from the cold weather must have driven it from the mountains.—Utah Enquirer.

Third District Court.

Proceedings before Judge Zane today: John A. Lawrence vs. Park Mining and Milling Co.; motion of defendant for a new trial granted. L. P. Kelsey et al. vs. W. J. Crowther; demurrer to complaint overruled; ten days to answer. Mary A. Martin vs. John Beck et al.; motion of defendant to quash service of summons overruled. H. S. Young et al. vs. George F. Culmer et al.; motion to strike out parts of complaint, and demurrer to complaint argued and submitted. A. B. Thompson vs. Henry George; demurrer to complaint, and demurrer to answer argued; demurrer to complaint overruled; demurrer to answer sustained. Marie L. Hayhoe vs. Hiram Yeager; motion to relax costs overruled. George C. Kildner vs. George C. & Park City Railway Company; motion of defendant to strike out parts of the complaint argued and submitted.

In the matter of the estate of Aurilla Hood; suit instituted to bring about a partition of the property; by agreement of the thirty-nine heirs of the deceased, a decree for sale of real estate was made, and John F. Lee appointed referee.

New Incorporation.

The articles of incorporation of the Salt Lake Supply and Forwarding Company were filed with Clerk McMillan, of the Third District Court, today. The incorporators are: John W. Young, 488 shares; George Crismon, 200 shares; B. S. Young, 200 shares; Le Grand Young, 200 shares; Arthur Stayer, 200 shares; Chas. W. Hardy, 200 shares; F. S. Richards, 200 shares.

The organization proposes to conduct a general supply and forwarding business in and about the Territory of Utah and the adjoining states and territories. The principal place of business is Salt Lake City, and the capital stock of $50,000 is divided into 1000 shares. The directors are: John W. Young, president; Le Grand Young, vice-president; Arthur Stayer, secretary; Le Grand Young, treasurer; F. S. Richards, Chas. W. Hardy, Geo. Crismon and B. S. Young.

Extract from a Letter.

We take the following from a private letter written from London, Jan. 20, by Elder Henry Ballard, now on a mission there: "I have had great joy in carrying the Gospel to my relatives and friends and warning them at least. But it seems the Gospel has no charms for them at all. As a prophet I have told them that they were to see me no more, as they had turned the books I gave them for their own minister did not believe in my doctrine and teaching, and they did this to keep their children from reading the books. Now the question came up in my mind, are the parents in Zion as careful over their precious sons and daughters that the Lord has given unto them to raise up to be mighty bulwarks in His great cause here on earth, in teaching the nations that know not God nor His laws?"

ANTI-FUSION MEETING.

The Liberals Will Make a Straight Ticket.

About 7 o'clock last evening a large group of Liberals formed in front of the Federal Court House. Additions to its numbers were made, until by 7:20 there were probably about 50 men assembled, when the doors of the court room were opened, and the crowd became seated within it. By 7:30 the hall was about full.

Inside the railing were Judge Rosebrough, General P. E. Connor, E. D. Hoge, General Maxwell, B. F. Whittemore, E. R. Clute, C. E. Allen, Judge Gilchrist, P. L. Williams, O. J. Hollister, W. H. Sells, and a number of other prominent Liberals.

"They don't die in as fast as I thought they would," said a Liberal who was inside the railing.

Mr. Sells called the meeting to order and P. L. Williams nominated Judge Rosebrough for chairman.

He was unanimously elected, and in stating the object of the meeting he said: We have before us two propositions for a municipal government.

The Territory is mostly governed by municipalities. One of these propositions is a bill in the Legislature, providing for ward representation, which for some reason had been embargoed.

This bill does not provide for minority representation, but for the rule of the majority in the municipal wards.

The other proposition is the granting to the minority of a representation by what is claimed to be the magnanimity of the majority. Why was not that bill passed? The election could have been postponed if necessary, long enough to mature and pass it.

The bill would have given the minority representation on the American system, not by favor, and we will get it by law, not by favor, and we will wait two years for it. (Applause.)

It is urged that the HELP OF THE LIBERAL PARTY is wanted to aid in important municipal improvements, and that this is the reason why the proposition for a fusion was made by the People's party. But if this proposition is made in good faith, why not that bill passed?

This proposition has less to do with municipal government here, than with furthering certain purposes in Washington. The speaker said that he had just heard that the "Mormon" Church and the "People's" party in territories were prepared to report adversely on the bill for the purpose of getting this business through. He was in favor of getting at the "Liberals" by a "square-toed fight," and was in favor of keeping up the fight. The temper of his remarks on this point was very belittling.

He continued his remarks at some length, inveighing bitterly against the "Mormon" Church, and accusing a certain class of Gentiles of paying tithes to it. He predicted that in two years more, the Liberals would control the city.

J. W. FISK was nominated for secretary. Carried unanimously.

P. L. Williams moved the appointment by the chair of a committee of five to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiments of this meeting. Carried unanimously.

The chair appointed as said committee P. L. Williams, E. D. Hoge, C. E. Allen, S. A. Morrill, and Col. Sells. Mr. Hoge declined to act, and the chair appointed W. F. James.

The committee on resolutions reported, and there were calls for a speech from W. G. VAN HORN.

who responded. He said: We have not as citizens of the Liberal party, and recent events make it necessary that we should consider what we are doing and where we are going. He said that he was not in the party, (waits applause.)

So far as he was concerned, union with the "Mormon" Church was a proposition that he would not support. He said that he believed that the "Mormon" Church would support any ticket nominated by that party. But if those gentlemen are not bound by any such nominations, then we can work in harmony.

In electing them, he felt to say that if those gentlemen were willing to have their names placed on a Liberal ticket, he would be willing to vote for them. He would be unwilling to make any compromise with the majority party; he would be willing to support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket. He said that he was not in the party, and he would not support a ticket that would be a straight ticket.

osing the right to have each municipal ward select its officers by a majority vote of the qualified voters of said ward. Nowhere, he is resolved, that we, the citizens of Salt Lake City, and members of the Liberal party, in making a straight ticket, will not make a straight ticket. First—Look upon the temporary concessions as a trap, set by the "Mormon" Church, to prevent a full show of opposition to the fusion ticket. Second—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers. Third—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Third—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Fourth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Fifth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Sixth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Seventh—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Eighth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Ninth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Tenth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Eleventh—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twelfth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirteenth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Fourteenth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Fifteenth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Sixteenth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Seventeenth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Eighteenth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Nineteenth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twentieth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twenty-first—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twenty-second—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twenty-third—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twenty-fourth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twenty-fifth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twenty-sixth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twenty-seventh—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twenty-eighth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Twenty-ninth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirtieth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirty-first—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirty-second—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirty-third—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirty-fourth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirty-fifth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirty-sixth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirty-seventh—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirty-eighth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Thirty-ninth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Fortieth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Forty-first—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Forty-second—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Forty-third—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Forty-fourth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Forty-fifth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

Forty-sixth—Consider it to have been adopted as a means of avoiding the just and responsibility of refusing to change the present unjust and inequitable laws, and of securing the people the right to elect their own officers.

of access, the inducements are many and the drawbacks are few. As soon as his financial arrangements are made, he will come to El Paso and make this city his home and base of operations. Such men are always warmly welcome.—El Paso, Texas, Tribune.

This Theatre was well filled last night at the second and last presentation for the present engagement here of "The Gypsy Baron," which went off in the vigorous style and received the same rapturous applause as on the preceding evening.

War Department, Signal Service, U. S. Army. DAILY WEATHER BULLETIN. Meteorological Reports Received at Salt Lake City on February 9, 1888, at 11 a. m. local time.

PLACE OF OBSERVATION.	TEMPERATURE.	WIND.	STATE OF SKY.
SALT LAKE CITY.	45 40 35	SE Light	Cloudy
PORTLAND.	40 35 30	SE Light	Cloudy
STOCKTON.	40 35 30	SE Light	Cloudy
ST. GEORGE.	40 35 30	SE Light	Cloudy
PROVO.	40 35 30	SE Light	Cloudy
LAKE PARK.	40 35 30	SE Light	Cloudy

Signal Service reports taken at 5 a. m. SALT LAKE CITY. Barometer 29.88. Forecast for 24 hours, Feb. 9, 1888. W. A. KORTZ, Sergeant Signal Corps.

Special Notices. Admitted to the Theatre Galleries to witness the performance and ball for the benefit of the Orphan's Home and Day Nursery this evening for 50 cents each.

IMPORTANT TO HOUSEHOLDS. For cleaning pots and pans nothing so good as the "Eagle Brand" manufactured by R. Whitmore, South Cottonwood. For sale at Z. C. M. L., at wholesale and retail, and at all stores throughout the country.

Call at Beck's Hot Springs and take a bath. HAMMOND TYPE WRITERS. C. M. L. at Beck's Hot Springs.

Every Grocer keeps Pearlina. ORPHAN'S HOME BALL. On Thursday, the 9th.

See programme for Orphan's Home and Day Nursery Entertainment and Ball, on the 9th.

JUST RECEIVED: Linsey Sheet, Wool Batting, Overshirts and Underwear, Blankets, Trunks, etc., at JOHN C. CUTLER & BRO., Agts. Provo Woolen Mills, No. 36 Main Street.

Pearlina for All Housewives. Beck's Hot Springs repaired and in full blast.

NOTICE. Whereas, certain parties are in possession of the Utah Nursery Co., by certain false claims I publish the enclosed: J. A. Goodhue, Salt Lake, Dec. 24, 1887.

DEAR SIR:—Referring to the attack made by A. Milton Mueser upon you and your business I have to say that I have not a word to say in regard to the Utah Nursery Co., nor any interest therein. I did subscribe for one share of stock in the company, but have since sold it, and the stock was never issued to me.

Very truly yours, S. V. YANAK. The Utah Nursery Co. was organized to do a legitimate business, and how by honest and fair means to hold the trade they now have and increase it. J. A. Goodhue, Manager.

Used two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm and it has cured me completely. I have been suffering from a skin disease for many years and could not get anything to do me any good before. Ely's Cream Balm cured me sound and well. I will warrant it to be a sure cure for those diseases which it is recommended for. If parties doubt this let them write to me and I will answer them.—Chas. W. Carrill, Great Eastern Mine, Genevieve, Mo., Cal.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm for dry catarrh (that eastern persons are subject who come to live here) and it has proved a cure.—B. F. M. Weeks, Denver, Col.

A Candid Acknowledgment. Extract from a letter of Dr. W. A. Atkinson, Sioux Springs, Ark. "I know that many physicians are very much prejudiced against all proprietary medicines, and I think sometimes foolishly so. I am, however, willing to acknowledge merit wherever it is deserved. I have prescribed Simmons' Liver Regulator, and have given it a pretty thorough trial myself, and think it deserves all the praise it receives. I have watched its use for the last five years and do not know of a more popular medicine. My patients praise it very highly and it gives good results wherever it is used."

Sore or Inflamed Eyes speedily cured by the use of Daryl's Prophylactic Field. It allays the inflammation and irritation and is peculiarly efficacious by reason of its power in cleansing and destroying all poisonous matter. Chafing, bruises, humors, eruptions, boils, large and small sores, and those more serious and tenacious maladies, Scald Head, Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, are speedily cured by the Field.

The "Lullabies of the Nations," one of the features of the Entertainment given by the Orphan's Home and Day Nursery, February 9th.

The Orphan's Home and Day Nursery folk are peculiarly fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Sarah Olsen Langford and Agnes Olsen Thomas at their grand entertainment at the Theatre on the evening of the 9th.

Try a luxurious bath at Beck's Hot Springs.

At Night Always have four or five years are Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by Z. C. M. L. Drug Dept.

Frenchmen can properly be called "Knights of the table." They are good judges in its refinements and delicacies. In order to stimulate the appetite and keep the digestive organs in good order they give preference to Angostura Bitters. When you try them be sure it is the genuine article, manufactured by Dr. J. C. B. Siefert & Sons.

Be sure and bear Mrs. Anna Olsen Thomas at the Theatre on the 9th. You'll be sure to give a proclaming her praise.

The "Throat"—"Bronchitis" "Tracheitis" act directly on the organs of the throat, and have a powerful effect in all disorders of