WASHINGTON.

Death of Ex-Secretary Stanton.—The New Postal Convention—General Terry assigned to the command in Georgia.

WASHINGTON, 24th.—The President to-day issued an order assigning General Terry to take command of the Georgia District under the reconstruction act, in addition to his duties as commander in the South. The official proclamation was made to-day of the New Postal Convention, between the United States and Great Britain, which will go into effect on January 1st. The Ex-Secretary of War and Justice E. M. Stanton, died this morning at 3 o'clock, of congestion of the heart. Stanton has been confined to the house about a week. The President and the Vice President called last Saturday at his residence, it being his birth day, when the former tendered him his appointment as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, for which Stanton expressed his gratitude and acceptance. Yesterday Stanton complained of sickness, but the family were not alarmed, as he had been in a worse condition frequently. Shortly after midnight the symptoms became alarming. Surgeon-General Barnes was present on his accustomed visit and found it impossible to afford relief. The Reverend Dr. Stankey, of the Church of the Epiphany (Protestant Episcopal) was summoned, but shortly afterwards the sufferer lost consciousness and was unable to converse with any one. The pulsation of the heart ceased for a few seconds and then returned, the breathing being very faint. It was not until an hour before his death that his family could realize he was dying. About 3 o'clock this morning he expired quietly, passing away without a struggle. At his bedside in his last moments were his family, consisting of Mrs. Stanton and four children.

The Star says the death of Stanton was first announced to the President while walking in Pennsylvania Avenue with Senator Williams; the President's first remark was one of surprise, and when assured of the fact, he showed much emotion.

A large number of prominent citizens called at the residence of the late Secretary Stanton to-day. The President issued orders announcing his death to the people and paying a high tribute to the official labors of Mr. Stanton, and directing all departments to be draped in mourning and closed on the day of the funeral. Secretary Belknap also issued orders, announcing the decease, the wording of which was highly eulogistic of Stanton's character and services. He directed that proper military honors be observed on the day of the funeral, which was to take place on Monday at noon. He will be interred at Oak Hill Cemetery, by direction of the President.

La Revolution, a Cuban organ, gives an account of the attempt of the United States' mediation with Spain; the most of the particulars are already known. The portion of the statement which is of interest, is that about the 1st of September, in a Cabinet Council it was decided that the Government would give Spain ten days in which to accept or refuse the proposals of the United States. In case it should be refused it was considered probable that a proclamation recognizing Cuba would be issued on the thirtieth by the President, announcing that decision. This information was not contained in documents sent on Monday.

The Captain-General in his belief that a conspiracy is on foot to displace him; it is not probable that the request will be complied with, as a rumor for ousting Derodas is growing stronger every day.

It is said that 2,400 Spanish soldiers died in October of disease.
