HONEY. Why is it the purest sweet in the world? It is, and has been, used in the healing art, to the satisfaction of thousands, who can say aught of white, beautiful honey, gathered from the countless thousands of the splendid flowers that adorn our fields and gardens. Honey-hounds! What mother lives that is not acquainted with its virtues in banishing coughs and colds from the family; why is it so well known that every family should have its own supply of honey? It is the vegetable production of the beautiful plant tree that grows in our southern forests; and by the aid of chemistry it is found to contain medicinal qualities universally admitted by physicians of the highest standing. Its preservative qualities are well understood by every shipowner, and when contagion, disease and death attend their results, they point to the pollen that slip from stem to stem with tar, thus removing the danger of disease and death, insuring the health and life of every passenger on board.

Honey, Horsebalm and Tar combined together, aided by science and the highest chemical skill, form a remedy admitted by the most experienced physicians as the best, most certain and harmless preparation ever made for the relief of and speedy cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Influenza, and all Bronchial Affections leading to Consumption, from which thousands are suffering. This valuable remedy is known as ance at the Fair was very large, the total number of people present being at least 2,000. The probability is that the fair will prove a success. A large number of additions have been made in the various departments—fine arts, ladies' goods, minerals, leather, flowers, fruits, vegetables, agricultural machinery, vehicles, stock, etc. The martial band, under the leadership of Captain Beasley, is in attendance to-day, and this day is also contributing in that line.

Among the prominent features exhibited to-day, are a fine assortment of home-made trunks made by J. H. Clementshaw; clothes from the Washet Woolen Mills; fruits of fine quality and variety; Dr. Bredemeyer's fine collection of minerals, and Mr. L. E. Holden's exhibit of square set timbering, used in the Old Telegraph Mine, with various samples of ore and bullion worked up by that company.

In the art gallery, among other attractive features, is a painting by C. C. A. Christensen, of Ephraim, Sanpete County, representing "Mormon" teams bringing in the poor, a scene of about 35 years ago. The picture is quite an interesting study. A. V. Thomsdottir's engraving and fancy printing, and the pen drawings of Willie Hurst, a boy 18 years old, were also the objects of favorable comment.

Limited space forbids extended comment or there would be much more said of the excellent showing to be seen at the fair.

Ill Mannered.—The other evening, a lady was pursuing her way home, when a couple of young men, in a buggy, stopped the vehicle on the crossing which she was just about to pass over, and evinced a disposition to remain there indefinitely. The way on either side of the buggy was wet and muddy, and the lady, not desiring to yield the right of way under the circumstances, requested them to drive on a little, so as to allow her to pass. They hesitated to comply at first, but finally did so, as the lady went on her way, her ears were saluted with a torrent of foul language, evidently leveled at her, for the lady had displayed in claiming the privilege of a pedestrian.

Such actions, on the part of men, are disgraceful, to say the least, and no person claiming to be a gentleman, would be guilty of such mean conduct. There are some, however, who lack the instincts of honor and manhood, and upon such the penalty of violated law should be brought to bear, in lieu of the mild
