

EXCITING SPORT IS ICE YACHT RACING.

Ice yacht racing is now in full swing. Owners of the beautiful craft are now preparing for coming championship contests. The yachts fly over the ice at a fifty miles an hour pace, making the sport the most dangerous and expensive of winter pastimes.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

Miss Agnes Evans gave a talk before the Fremont teachers last week on the subject of the value of the production. Her effort was praiseworthy.

Miss R. Pollock, supervisor of primary instruction, spoke before the Utah county teachers at Provo today. Subject, "The Relative Value of Various Forms of Expression."

President Newman of the board of education, accompanied by Mr. Glaugue were visitors at the Lincoln on Tuesday.

Miss Goble has resumed her work at the Franklin.

Miss Pollock visited the beginning teachers at the Lincoln, Lowell, Emerson, Grant, Utah and Riverside during the past week.

President Newman, Mr. Glaugue and Mr. Pinner visited the Union the past week.

Miss S. S. and Mrs. Storer treated the subject of geography very interestingly at Miss Pollock's meeting on Wednesday.

G. P. Daniel, teacher of physical culture, was an Oquirrh visitor on Tuesday. Other visitors were Mr. McDermott of Nevada, Mr. Goodyear of California, Messrs. Woolley, Jones, Canamille and Hesselberg and Miss Beattie and Pike.

Principal McKay was very pleasantly surprised by his corps of teachers at his home on Thursday evening. Mr. McKay was led to believe by Mrs. McKay that a friend was coming in to spend the evening, when to his great surprise his full corps marched in upon him and took possession of his fire. A most delightful evening was spent.

Visitors at the Bryant the past week were: Mrs. H. W. Dorchner, Mr. Rhomney, Mr. Wells, Agnes Felt and Lucile McLester.

The following program was rendered in room 3, Bryant school, Friday afternoon: Piano solo, Altus Van Post reading, Raymond Bailey recitation.

New officers for Bryant Literary club are: President, Edgar Eavis; secretary, Halle Foster; vice president, North Bell.

Superintendent Christensen and President Newman were at the Riverside this week.

A spelling contest between rooms 7 and 8 at the Fremont this week resulted in a victory for room 7 by a fraction of 1 per cent.

State Superintendent Nelson spoke to the pupils of the eighth grade at the Lincoln on Thursday afternoon. His address was replete with good advice and was in the highest sense uplifting.

Supervisor Wetzel held an optional meeting for teachers of the fourth and fifth grades today. He had been invited to speak before the teachers of Washoe county at Heber today, but was obliged to forego the invitation.

Supervisor Elliott was called to Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, on Tuesday, by reason of the critical illness of her father.

Miss Helen R. Jenkins, of the Lincoln school, was the recipient of a pleasant surprise on Friday afternoon, by the pupils of her room. With the aid of the teachers the table was prepared in room 1, and when everything was in readiness Miss Jenkins was invited in and was confronted with a well-filled table of delicacies, the full corps of teachers and her pupils. She was taken completely by surprise, as she knew nothing of the affair. The whole scheme was pleasantly conceived and successfully carried out.

Room 8 at the Franklin was victorious in the spelling match between rooms 6, 7, 8 and 9.

New officers of the Eighth Grade Literary society at the Franklin are: President, John Nelson; vice president, Bennie Howells; secretary, Minnie Harkin; treasurer, Deborah Risley; sergeant-at-arms, Lloyd Sinclair; editor, Samuel Risley.

Roy Craddock and Willie Ford, of the Franklin, received special promotions this week. Superintendent Christensen and Dr. Whitney were visitors.

In the educational notes from the B. Y. academy, of January 11, the statement is made that the academy has taken the initiative in following Dr. Devey's plan of having a specialist teach various branches. This is a mistake, as the scheme was introduced here in September by Superintendent Christensen, and has worked with many writers. Attention is called to the error on the part of the academy people.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The High school now feels that it has at last secured a permanent home. At a meeting of the board of education this week arrangements were made for the purchase of the University building, the present quarters of the High school. With the contemplated changes and improvements the building can be made very comfortable. The Union school building will be used for the science work and the classes that cannot be accommodated in the main building. The pleasant grounds make the situation very desirable.

Very interesting programs were given in both assembly rooms Wednesday morning. In the senior room the program opened with a well rendered violin solo by Prof. Skelton, accompanied by Miss Thorn. He responded to an enthusiastic encore with another equally good selection. Mrs. Stanley Price followed with a delightful vocal solo, "Dost Thou Know that Sweet Land?" by Mignon, piano accompaniment by Miss Alice Miller. She, too, responded to an enthusiastic encore with another equally good selection. Mrs. Stanley Price followed with a delightful vocal solo, "Dost Thou Know that Sweet Land?" by Mignon, piano accompaniment by Miss Alice Miller. She, too, responded to an enthusiastic encore with another equally good selection.

In the first year room Mrs. Volmer gave a carefully prepared review of "Black Rock," one of Ralph Connor's best works. The speaker first gave a few points about the author, then described the setting and plot of the story. Enough of the story was read to rouse interest, and make many desires for reading the book. Mrs. Volmer closed by calling the attention of the pupils to the great lesson taught by the book—that of temperance. The program concluded with the same musical selections that were given in the other assembly room.

The art department has produced many beautiful selections this week. Two very good studies in oil of roses and vegetables were completed by Lillian Connelley and Aetna Smith. Owing to the production of two very artistic book covers in water color representing Grey's "Elegy" and Longfellow's "The Bridge." George Hartz completed a book cover designed for "The Choir Invisible," and a poster with a conventional design of the iris in purple and gold. Frank Moore did a book cover in pen and ink of a Cuban scene and one in water color designed for "San Toy," the conventional design being chrysanthemums. Another very original pen and ink poster for the Utah art institute is the work of Frank Moore.

Mr. Travis' first period civics class discussed the question: Resolved, "That anarchists should be excluded from the United States." These debates are given each Monday morning and are proving of great interest and profit to the students.

The cadets received their rifles this week and are now being drilled in the manual of arms. The army in the basement is not yet completed, but is being fitted up with gun racks and lockers and will be ready for use next week.

Miss Duke's American literature class has completed the study of Longfellow and short poems from Lowell are now being read. The seniors have begun the study of Macaulay's "Essay on Milton." The first year commercial class is reading Rip Van Winkle.

Wednesday, Miss Yardly's first year algebra class finished the contest of factoring begun last week. Gertrude Clayton and Ruby Malin were the successful contestants on the different sides. These contestants tried for honors Friday but the result was a tie.

Miss Moffett's first year classes will begin the study of the Iliad next week. Her sophomore classes in composition are now doing work in original character study.

In Miss Goddard's room may be seen many beautiful pictures that add much interest to the study of Marmion, the classic now being read by the mid-year pupils.

Miss Carahan's English classes held contests Friday in writing rules for common errors. The successful contestants were as follows: First period, Zayda Bothwell; 50; second period, Etta Prick; 48; fourth period, Viola Burrell and Eva Johnson, each 53; fifth period, Gadd Callison, 45.

The basket ball game between the girls of the L. D. S. and the High school scheduled for Thursday afternoon, had to be called off on account of the failure of the L. D. S. girls to appear. Overlillian Connelley and Aetna Smith, Owing to the production of two very artistic book covers in water color representing Grey's "Elegy" and Longfellow's "The Bridge." George Hartz completed a book cover designed for "The Choir Invisible," and a poster with a conventional design of the iris in purple and gold. Frank Moore did a book cover in pen and ink of a Cuban scene and one in water color designed for "San Toy," the conventional design being chrysanthemums. Another very original pen and ink poster for the Utah art institute is the work of Frank Moore.

Another of the series of Red and Black dances was given last night at Christensen's.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

Salt Lake City.—The basement of Barrett hall is now being plastered. The preparatory department is very comfortably located in the Social hall.

A new class in algebra will begin on Feb. 7. The class in advanced arithmetic will take up algebra at that time.

Higher psychology, philosophy of education, geology, physiology, botany, commercial law, English literature, and solid geometry, are among the classes that will be commenced at the beginning of next month.

The new gymnasium was used for the first time on Thursday evening for one of the league games of basketball for the championship. The Y. M. C. A. team defeated the National Guards, and the Y. M. C. A. Juniors outplayed the Webster school, in very closely contested battles.

Bookkeeping, typewriting, telegraphy and shorthand in the business college, are represented by able and ambitious classes, the largest and best in the history of the institution. Nearly every week one or more of these students is called for to take some position in business.

For several days past the students of zoology have been engaged in dissecting and studying the pigeon, which was selected as a type of the bird class. Careful comparisons were made particularly with the lizard, the latter having been studied previously as representative of the reptiles. The actual work done in these classes would be very interesting to any physician.

Prof. Chamberlin recently received for determination two collections of centipedes from California, one from the vicinity of Quincy, the other from Los Angeles county. From a study of this material he has now established a genus and three species not before known to science. The professor has found four species, previously unknown, in Salt Lake valley.

On Wednesday morning the work which the students are doing in the fitting up of the new gymnasium was the subject of some remarks by President Paul. He said the students who were thus contributing to the success of the institution, were really putting into the school something of themselves—something of their own work in music and brain; that it was a good thing to be present at the foundation of a structure and to assist in building an enduring monument; and that every one of these students would always feel proud that some part of the institution was the work of their own hands.

The magnificent gift of Hon. Moses Thatcher to this institution of property and land valued at $250,000, was referred to in morning devotional exercises by President Paul as a generous and thoughtful act that was fully characteristic of the donor. Mr. Thatcher has always been a warm friend of education whom, the speaker said, he had known for years as a trustee of the Brigham Young college. In that position Mr. Thatcher had consistently shown himself kind, consistent, and progressive, and ready at all times to do whatever lay in his power to advance the educational interests of the people. His most recent contribution entitled him to the thanks of the students especially who would be the immediate beneficiaries of the gift of this good friend.

BRIGHAM YOUNG ACADEMY.

Provo, Utah, Jan. 16.—Oscar B. Young a member of the Board was present at devotional on Monday.

The "White and Blue" came out on Wednesday, speaking with wit and good humor.

Mrs. Ida S. Dusenbery lectured before the Relief Society conference in Lehi last Friday.

Bishop William Knight and wife of Canada were visitors at school on Wednesday.

Owing to increased demands, a special class in elementary German has been organized under the direction of Miss Zora Smith.

On account of the stake conference last week Sunday school Domestic department was postponed.

Miss Lulu Gates will give a concert in the Tabernacle on Saturday evening for the benefit of our domestic department.

Among this week's visitors were Mr. Chilcote of San Francisco, Miss Laura Hickman and J. T. Hoyt, former students now teaching in Provo schools.

Mrs. Freda Barnum Cluff of Salt Lake City will teach Sunday school at the Academy this semester. Mrs. Cluff will also have charge of the ladies' classes in the gymnasium.

Training school opened in the new

Beaver Branch B. Y. A.

Beaver, Jan. 17.—Professor R. Maesser delivered an interesting lecture last Friday evening before the Polytechnic society on "Scenes from Germany and Switzerland."

A students' ball will be had tomorrow night, Benjamin Cameron, R. Allen and John H. Stoney having been appointed as a general committee to attend to its management.

The polytechnic society has arranged for lectures in the near future from Prof. John T. Miller, Prof. W. M. Wolfe, of the B. Y. A., and Prof. John M. Mills, of the L. D. S. University.

The music department anticipates giving an entertainment in the near future, to consist of choral work in connection with a good cantata. This department, in connection with the others of the school, has materially increased since the holidays.

Logan Jan. 17.—With the reopening of school after the holiday vacation, a number of new students were in attendance. About fifteen have been added to the college roll.

Nine members of the faculty were in attendance at the State Teachers' convention, among them Miss Peterson, critic teacher, who read a paper at the convention.

A new Barometer has been received lately in the college, and some historical material.

Principal Cutler, of the Onida Stake academy, visited school today.

Prof. Hall will deliver a lecture in Preston tomorrow to the teachers of that city.

Mrs. Ferrin, Miss Dales and Mr. Crate, O. S. L. agent, visited the college today and Miss Ferrin rendered a beautiful solo in chapel exercises.

Work is progressing nicely at the college.

Training school opened in the new building on Monday. The professors think it a novel experience to teach in the sixth and seventh grades, but are confident that the plan is a good one.

There are now one hundred and twenty stalwart young men enrolled in the missionary class. They are all interested in their course and will, in time, do good work in the mission field.

Supt. A. C. Nelson lectured before the Parents' class on Wednesday evening on the subject of "The Relation of the School to the Home." The normal students were especially interested in the lecture.

There are now more students in the academy than ever before. The enrollment has reached the twelve hundred mark and the majority of those in the training school and kindergarten have not yet been registered.

Prof. Mills of Kansas, who will give a series of lectures in Utah, will appear in the Academy on Feb. 13. Prof. Mills will lecture chiefly on economic subjects.

Prof. N. L. Nelson went to Eureka on Tuesday to make arrangements for an excursion train to be run from that city to Provo on the occasion of Lulu Gates' concert.

The floor of the gymnasium will be put down this week and it is expected that the work on the building will be entirely completed by the 22nd inst.

The music department is the happy possessor of a new Emerson grand piano. The one formerly used will be transferred to the kindergarten department.

The Alpha Beta Club met on Friday night and reorganized with the following officers, president, John G. Allred; vice president, Nellie Schofield; and secretary, Eugene Roberts.

Prof. Nelson lectured in the pedagogy class Thursday evening on the subject, "The Grammar." He showed clearly what a teacher should know of the subject and how best to obtain that knowledge. The professor strongly advocated diagraming as a means of gaining analytical power.

The large attendance of students at the Stake quarterly conference last week has been a subject of much comment. It was estimated that on Saturday, two-thirds of the people in the center of the Tabernacle were academy students.

The class of 1905 has elected Orrin W. Jarvis president for the year 1905-1906. The vacancy was caused by W. A. Colton's departure for Leand Stanford university. Mr. Jarvis is a "pusher," thoroughly capable of leading the class with honor.

PUTNAM

PUTNAM NAIL CO.

New York, Nov. 13, 1890.

Dear Sir,—

In reply to your favor I would state that I have used the Putnam Nail for several years, and have advised my friends to use it only.

It is hardly necessary for me to add that I prefer it to all others.

Yours truly, Albert Bonner.

The Putnam Nail enjoys the distinction of being the only Hot-Forged and Hammer-Pointed nail made by machinery, and which imitates the old hand process.

ROBERT BONNER INSISTS ON ITS USE.

All others are COLD ROLLED and SHEARED, as an examination of their edges near the point will show, and are liable to SPLIT or SLIVER in driving, to injure and perhaps kill the horse.

The above picture, from a photo representing Mr. Bonner in the act of handling his smith a Putnam nail, while superintending the shoeing of a horse, will be sent in the form of a half ton, size, 5x8, in thick, white paper, with wide margin, on receipt of 2 cent stamp for postage, etc.
