Mr. Miles Says Few Americans Have Acquired the Power of Repose.

Professor Eustace H. Miles, formerly lecturer at Cambridge Ulversity, Eng-land, and the head authority on athletics in that institution, contributes to the current Saturday Evening Post a leading article on Fallacies About Training. In the course of it he writes: Training. In the course of it he writes: "A serious evil in the modern train-ing system is the constant tension of the nerves and muscles. At Cambridge I used to watch my athletic pupils, and none of them seemed to have acquired the power of repose. They were always on the stretch. When the time came near, for instance, for the University boat race or the football match, the tension reached an extreme, and the men scemed quite unable, to be at their ease. It is strange that, while the trainers perpetually teach their men to exercise, and try to teach them how to exercise, and try to teach them how to exercise, they never teach them to rest. The whole of nature seems to work on the principle of alternations; first work, then rest. We see it in day and night; in breathing out and breathing in. I need not give other instances, many of which can be found in one of Emerson's Essays. What I wish to insist on here) insist on here Essays. What I wish t is that, while we tead h men to exert rive, and to tie its, we seldom or is that, while we teach men to exert themselves, and to strive, and to the themselves up into knots, we seldom or nover teach them to relax themselves, to be at rest, and to undo their nerves and muscles. Two of the most popular and sensible of modern writers, namely, Professor James, of Harvard Universi-ty, and Annie Payson Call, have drawn the atention of their readers to the e attention of their readers to the ed of relaxation. It is Americans esneed of relaxation. It is Americans es-pecially who need to relax, to smooth themselves out, and, for example, to let their arms and hands hang limp and heavy. If the business man were to give up only three minutes each day to standing with his knees bent, and with his arms and hands hanging down quite loose and limp, and with a con-tented smile on his face, and with his mind as empty as possible the differ. mind as empty as possible, the differ-ence in his state of feeling during the day would be almost beyond bellef.

THE NORTH POLE.

It is a Constantly Varying Point on the Earth's Surface.

Supose an explorer actually makes is way to where the North Pole ought to be, and when he gets there finds that it has moved. This is what would be likely to happen. Then, too, the pole moves in a most mysterious way. There is nothing to show the direction i takes; no trail to follow. And in order to catch up with it, the man on the scene must know exactly where the pole was on such and such a date, and where it ought to be on that particular day that he hopes to overtake it. In other words, the pole is not a fixed, but a constantly varying point on the earth's surface. It has been discovered that the sea

It has been discovered that the sea-level is changing, and even the motion of the moon is affected by the displac-ing of the earth's axis and the resulting uneven rotation. The longitude and latitude of all points fluctuate. The instability of the pole and the shifting of latitude will disconcert the survey-ors, raise fegal complications and con-troversies over deeds and descriptions of land and may unset national bounof land, and may upset national boun-daries to some extent, for it is proved that all artificial boundaries are constantly changing. Determination of longtitude will cer-tainly be exceedingly awkward to make if absolute exactness is desired, as the basis of the world's longtitude, the meridian of Grenwich, is not spared the uncertainty, as its position is oscillat-ing around the observatory at Green wich, which is by observation the zero longtitude of the world. But the odd circumstance is that points on the earth's surface may at times be east and at other times west of the town

150 Tons of Hay Burned.

Special Correspondence. Leigh, Idaho, Nov. 7.—Work on the creamery at Driggs has commenced. The directors tried the donation plan at first but it would not work. They have concluded to build if of rock 40x40 feet. Peterson & Healey have the contract at $1 per perch for front and 60 cents for rear walls. It will cost $1 to quarry and $3 per cord to haul the rock. The directors are Frank Hubbard of Leigh, directors are Frank Hubbard of Leigh, T. R. Wilson of Frait, Geo, Bush of Chapin, Geo, Tonks and N. Porter of Victor, D. C. Driggs of Driggs and H. Todd of Darby. The last named will be sent to the A. C. college at Logan for three months to learn how to run a creamery successfuly. The plant all told will cost about $3,000. The directors have decided to have it strictly owned by residents of the valley. They expect later to put a skim-ming station at Leigh and another at Victor. They are crecting the building on the spot where D. C. Drigg's store stood which was burned in 1898.

John Holland, who lives on the west side of the valley, had 150 tons of hay burned the first of the week, two bottles that had had coaloil in were found near by and oil could be traced from the stacks to the house, but the fire had not followed it.

PRACTICAL JOKES. That Have Turned Out Fortunately for a Few People.

One day, some years ago, a merry party of ladies were bathing in some swimming baths in Vienna. Miss Eugenie Joachim, granddaughter of the famous violinist, and at that time a child of 15, was standing on the edge, when, just for fun, Mme. Bettleheim. the great contralto, pushed her in. Miss

Joachim could not swim, so screamed for help. The singer, struck by the ex-LIBERAL LEADERS IN CHINA. traordinary power and sweetness of the voice, made amends for her practical Are Chang Chih-Tung and Prince loke by securing good music-teaching for the now famous teacher. "Another great Liberal leader of the same general stamp is Chang Chih-tung. I would advise every reader of this article. In Ceylon the ponds and lakes are known as tanks. By way of enlivening the duliness of their existence several young tea planters got up a duck-shooting party. One of their number was a greenhorn fresh from America. Him they left in a punt on a small tank, with a gun, and directions to shoot any ducks that flew over. They laughed as they walked off, for not a duck was likely to be seen within miles. The newcomer took the hoax very well when they told them about it. At supper that night he suddenly pulled a cartridge out of his pocket, with the remark that he "thought he had put thew all away." Some one, of course, picked it up and cut it open. "Great Scott! what a lot of shot!" said the present of a sector of the sector.

nan; and while the emperor was issu-ing his reform edicts this great viceroy was writing one of the most notable books that has ever been written by a Chinese. It is called 'Leaves of Learn-ing,' and in it are discussed all prob-lems relating to the weifare of the em-

through which you have passed, as compared with China." "You want to know truly their con-Yamen would not allow you to enter-tain the foreigners on New Year's Day as you wished, 'L said. '''No,' he replied, 'but this thing will not continue. The world is rapidly slipping out from under these old men's foot. There are not any strong men dition Yes, I want to know truly.' "Well, they are in a much better con-dition than China. They are more pawerful, cleaner, and more enlightened.' "It is said that the empress dowager was not well pleased to hear the truth, but her lips remained sealed.

"A few months ago Sir Claude Mac-Donald, the British minister, suspected that Li Hung Chang was favoring Rus-sia against Great Britain, and he man-aged to have Li Hung Chang removed from the Tsungli Yamen. This was the worst move he could have made. In a few weeks the old statesman managed o ingratiate himself into favor with the mnress dowager in such a way as to cure his own appointment as viceroy

We cannot separate n him before? We cannot separate a man from his wife and family even though she is a "foreign devil." "It could not add much of interest to the readers of this paper to describe in detail the other leaders of the con-servative party. They are Prince Tuan, Li Ping Heng and Tung Fu-Hsiang. Prince Tuan is the son of the fifth prince—that is the son of the fifth brother of the husband of the empress downger. This husband was never heard of until his son was selected to be the successor to the son of the emfeller. A large part of his wealth lies in pawnshops. He is probably the greatest pawnshop owner in the world." --I, T, Headland in Ainslee's.
