SAVE YOUR HAIR | TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.

CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.

LYON'S

KATHAIRON,

Discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Yale, is the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.

Besides being the best hair dressing ever produced, Lyon's Kathairon will positively prevent grayness, and will restore new hair to bald heads, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.

It actually performs these seeming miracles, of which the following is

A FAIR SPECIMEN

I had been entirely bald for several years, constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and, to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.

COL. JOHN L. DORRANCE, U. S. A.

In every important respect the Kathairon is absolutely incomparable. It is unequaled.

1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair.
3. To Remove Dandruff.
4. To Dress and Beautify the Hair.

BEAR IN MIND.—The Kathairon is no sticky paste of sulphur and sugar-of-lead, to paint and daub the hair and paralyze the brain. It is a pure and limpid vegetable lotion, intended to restore the hair by natural growth and reinvigoration. It is splendidly perfumed, and the most delightful toilet dressing known. No lady's or gentleman's toilet outfit is complete without Lyon's Kathairon.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 27.—The credentials were presented of Senator Shields, of Missouri. Shields then took the oath of office,

A large number of bills were referred, including one by Ferry to re-organize and discipline the militia of the United States.

The bill reported from the committee on naval affairs, on Thursday last, to abolish the volunteer navy of the United States, passed.

The House bill authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to pay Catherine and Sophia Gormain $2,500 out of the annuities due the Cheyenne Indians, they having been captured by said Indians while en route from Georgia to Colorado, passed without discussion.

Edmunds, from the judiciary committee, reported back to the House joint resolution proposing an Amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the payment of claims of disloyal persons for property injured or destroyed in war of the rebellion, and an amendment in the nature of a substitute. Placed on the calendar. Edmunds said the judiciary committee thought the resolution, as it passed the House, was totally inadequate for the purpose indicated by the title. He gave notice that he would call up the bill for consideration at an early day.

After disposing of the morning business and passing several bills on the calendar, the bill to pay Warren Mitchell for cotton taken during the war was taken up and a long discussion followed.

Edmunds moved that it be indefinitely postponed. Rejected—yeas 21, nays 23.

Hill, in opposing the bill, said he would vote against it because it was a war claim. He was opposed to the payment of all war claims, whether they be from loyal or disloyal persons. He might, probably, except a few religious and educational institutions whose property was destroyed. To pay these war claims would bankrupt the government, and as we could not pay all, it would be unjust discrimination to undertake to pay some. The senators on the republican side said Warren Mitchell was disloyal and should not be paid, while the senators on the democratic side said he was loyal and should be paid. What was meant by the word loyalty? Did it mean a man devoted to states under the Constitution? It was an easy matter for a man in Maine or New York to proclaim his devotion to the Union during the war, but further down, where the sun is warmer, it requires courage for a man to say he was devoted to the Union. He (Hill) knew thousands and tens of thousands of men in the south who stood up and proclaimed their fidelity to the Union to the very last moment. There were many men who fought secession until it become a fact, and submitted to disunion as they submitted to the death of father or son. When secession came, the only thing they could do was to go with their people. This question of loyalty had not received a proper definition. He knew thousands of men in the south who would at any time during the war, have terminated it upon the basis of honest re-union. He believed the greatest possible calamity which could happen to this country would be one section exercising the power of Congress over another. Since he had been in Congress he had heard men denounce the southern people as disloyal 13 years after the war, and he believed in his heart that if these men had been south they would have rivaled William L. Yancey in their devotion to secession, because they were men of the same temperament. The people of this country ought to wake up to the conviction that the late war was an honest war; it was fought on account of the conviction that they were right. This perpetual talk about rebels and fidelity did not come from a magnanimous spirit. The war is over. The Union is restored, and it was time that we should leave the passions of war behind. He maintained the southern soldier would never ask Congress for a pension; his widow and orphan would never ask for it. They accepted their losses as a penalty for failure as brave men should do. The sooner the people of the south were taught to repair their losses by work, by frugality and industry the better it would be for them and the country. Let the losses of war go, and if the people desire to avoid such losses in future they must avoid war. He was the humblest man in the democratic party. That party was now about to return to full fledged power, because the people were satisfied that the republican party was no longer competent to remain in power. There were four things which the democratic party ought to proclaim to the world and adhere to them with fidelity. First, he would not pay any war claims whether the parties were loyal or disloyal. Second, he would vote no more public money or lands to build up railroad corporations. Third, he would, in good faith, pay every dollar of the public debt, principal and interest, in good money of standard value. Fourthly, he would restore the Constitution of the country, and honesty in its administrations. Do these things, and in his judgment, the child was not born who would witness the termination of democratic rule in this country.

Beck, in reply, defended the claim of Mitchell, and had read the Crittenden resolutions, adopted in July, 1861, to show that the war was not waged for conquest, but to preserve the Union. He knew that there were many fraudulent claims. There were men here now making affidavits of loyality, men whom they had, as Union officers, arrested during the war for disloyalty, and they made affidavits now simply because they wished to get a share of the claims.

The Senate then went into executive session on motion of Conkling. When the doors reopened a message was received from the House in answer to the request of the Senate transmitting the testimony before the committee of that body in regard to Stanley Matthews, the senator from Ohio. It was not laid before the Senate to-day. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 27.—Wright's bill, loaning $500 to every man not worth $300, desiring to take advantage of the provisions of the homestead law, was taken up.

After discussion the bill was defeated, yeas 22, nays 22.

Bills introduced and referred:

By Young, providing for a treaty with Mexico.

By Fenn, proposing an amendment to the Constitution providing that the term of judges of the supreme and inferior courts of the United States shall be limited to twelve years and that the offices of those now on the bench who have served twelve years be vacated.

By Dunnell, from the committee on commerce, declaring the jurisdiction of the United States over the harbors and navigable waters of the United States. Ordered printed and recommitted.

Hashell moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to erect headstones over the graves of Union soldiers interred in private village or city cemeteries. Agreed to.

Whitthorne moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill for the erection of a number of buildings, chiefly in the south.

Mills inquired why there was not an appropriation for a building in Texas, and moved to adjourn. Agreed to—yeas 153, nays 81.

A democratic caucus was announced for the evening.

EASTERN.

Sitting Bull Across the Line.

WASHINGTON, 27.—The Secretary of the Interior has received information tending to confirm the report that Sitting Bull has crossed the Canadian line and there is apt to be a large gathering of hostile Indians in his vicinity. Immediate hostilities are, however, not feared, but the matter is deemed of great importance and will be the subject of consideration at to-morrow's cabinet session.

Ferry's Militia Bill.

The bill introduced by Ferry, today, provides that all able-bodied male citizens, between the ages of 18 and 45, resident within the respective States and Territories, except such as may be exempt by law, shall constitute a militia. The militia are to be divided into two classes—the active, to be known as the national or State guard, as the legislature of each State may prescribe, and the inactive, to be known as the reserve militia. The bill proposes to appropriate $1,000,000 for the purpose of providing arms, ammunition, and other ordinary and quartermaster stores for the active militia.

Postal Affairs.

The communication from the postmaster general asking an appriation to supply deficiences in this department, was laid before the Senate, to-day. The following are the principal items: For compensation of postmasters for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1878, $241,921 to be paid out of the postal revenues of that year; for printing and binding for the fiscal year ending June, 1879, $40,000; to pay balance due for transportation of mails by railroad during the fiscal year ending June, 1879 and previous year, $319,799.

United States Bonds.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular to the holders of United States 6 per cent. 5.20 bonds, in which, after calling attention to the act of Congress just approved entitled an act to facilitate the refunding of the national debt, he says: "Under the provision of this act the department will exchange 4 per cent. consols of the United States for an equal amount of any outstanding and uncalled for 6 per cent. 5.20 bonds of the United States. In addition the department will pay to the holder of 6 per cent. bonds, the interest accrued and the additional interest for the period of three months, also a commission on the same as for the sale of bonds under the circular of January 1st, 1879." The Secretary of the Treasury states that under the refunding act there was an authorized aggregate amount of $1,500,000,000 of bonds to be issued for that purpose; that there has already been issued of 5 per cents. $500,000,000, and 4½ per cents. $185,000,000, and of 4 per cents. $168,200,000, in all $853,200,000, leaving of the 4 per cents. still to be issued $646,800,000 of bonds at present redeemable.

There is now outstanding consols of 1865, $26,085,550; of 1868, $310,614,000; of 1868, $37,465,300; of 10.40s, $194,565,300; in all, $568,731,150; showing that there are enough 4 per cents. authorized to take up all the bonds which will be redeemable.

Fatal Street Fight.

AUSTIN, Texas, 27.—In a street fight with pistols, Sheriff T. Wilson, of Poloco, was instantly killed. Ellison, a bystander, was dangerously and another seriously wounded.

An Insane Murderer.

BELFAST, Me., 27.—At Mortvill, Saturday evening, John McFarland, wife and granddaughter, were killed by an insane man named Howell, who was later shot dead by a neighbor whom he had attacked.

Industrial and Commercial Situation Improving.

NEW YORK, 27. — Various evidences are cited by the Commercial Bulletin to show there can be no question that the industrial, not less than the commercial situation is steadily improving hereabouts, and that the outlook for the coming spring and summer, as regards employment for the laboring class is more promising than it has been since the panic. The revival of building enterprises under the combined stimulating influences of cheap money, cheap material, and low wages, is also noticeable. Future movements of that kind are announced as under way in many of the great cities throughout the north and northwest. Most of the great manufacturing establishments centering in and about New York are doing satisfactorily, and if the scale of wages is down to anti-war level there is a corresponding reduction in house rents, food, clothing, and other necessaries of life. On the whole the condition of mechanic and working classes, at this moment, is better than it has been for years. They have fairly turned the corner of the hard times and have every reason to look forward to an improvement of their position.

Wants to Surrender.

LINCOLN, 27. — Runners from Sitting Bull have arrived at Standing Rock agency bearing distinct proposition from the chief to return and surrender his guns and ponies.

He says his people are hungry and cold and his spirit broken.

The Reno Inquiry.

CHICAGO, 27.—In the Reno inquiry, to-day, George Heerteen, of Bozeman, M. T., who was a scout with Custer, testified that he heard Custer order Reno to move out and take the scouts and he would follow. During Reno's fight in the wood witness took a position in a buffalo trail, and fired upon the Indians. When he left his rifle pit he came upon Major Reno sitting upon his horse in an opening. The Indian scout "Bloody Knife" sat on his horse within 10 feet of Reno. At this instant, a volley fired by the Indians killed "Bloody Knife" and wounded one man in the command, which was drawn up near by. He heard Reno give a command, which he thought was "dismount," and immediately afterward Reno cried "mount," and the retreat began. He estimated the fighting force of the Indian village at 3,500; did not believe the Indians could have driven 100 soldiers from the timber, provided the latter had plenty of ammunition.

Captain E. S. Payne, Fifth cavalry, testified as to the exact distance by measurement, from the place where Custer was killed to Reno's entrenchment on the hill, and it was four miles, 160 yards.

The Late Caleb Cushing's Will.

NEWBURYPORT, 27.—The will of Caleb Cushing directs his property to be divided into two equal parts, one for the children of John N. Cushing, and the other for the children of the late William Cushing. The will was made in Madrid in 1876.

Action for Salvage.

LONDON, 27.—In the admiralty division of the High Court of Justice an action has been brought by the owners of the steam tug Admiral against the United States ship Constitution, to recover £1,500 for salvage. The sum of £200 had been rendered to the owners of the tug boat, but was rejected. Plaintiffs asked leave to serve a notice of motion upon the captain of the Constitution and the United States consul at Portsmouth. The application was granted, but the judge stated that he could not allow an order to issue upon the captain. He would be prepared to hear an argument on the question on Wednesday next. In the meantime he would communicate with government.

Bulgarians Incompetent to Rule.

A Sophia dispatch says: It is believed that a group of influential Bulgarian deputies to the assembly of notables for the election of a ruler over Bulgaria, will oppose an adjournment of the election for prince and a prolongation of the military occupation and civil administration for two years on account of the difficulty of finding Bulgarians competent to assume the civil administration, and because of the dangers arising from a weak government at the outset. A report has been drawn up by a majority of the foreign consuls for their governments, in which they express the opinion that it will be impossible for Turkish troops to return to Roumelia and the Balkans, and that there is every prospect that the future governor of Roumelia will meet with a general passive resistance.

Yakoob Khan.

A Calcutta dispatch from Jelalabad states that Yakoob Khan had seized Fort Fizen, belonging to Kakahil Ghilsea and taking the chief prisoner, in consequence of which Ghilseals have commenced hostilities against Yakoob Khan. Kohistanis and Gibsals have also deserted Yakoob Khan.

Hunting the Piratical Steamer.

The British gunboat Goshawk left Cork on Saturday, to seek the alleged piratical steamer. The Goshawk has overhauled many vessels, but has learned nothing.

The Catholic Education Difficulty.

The Edinburgh Scotsman publishes the following from its London correspondent: If I am rightly informed, Cardinal Manning has had the opportunity offered him of explaining personally to Lord Beaconsfield his views respecting the Catholic education difficulty in Ireland. The question will probably be brought forward very prominently next session, under the auspices of the government.
