EDITORIAL NOTES.

Very latest returns show the total population of Greece to be 2,087,000.

Three gold nuggets, varying in value from $190 to $100 each, and worth in all between $400 and $500, were found in a hydraulic claim in Washington township, Nevada County, a few days since.

Every vessel entering the port of Naples is liable to an impost of 20 cents per ton, even if she enter merely to leave mails and passengers. This has prevented many steamships from calling, and the municipal authorities are agitating for its abolition.

Jack Mallery, of Round Valley, made final homestead proof in the United States Land Office at Bodie, Nevada, last week. Jack is a full-blooded Piute, and has lived on his eighty-acre ranch for seven years. He has a wife and four children. They live in a three-roomed house and have abandoned their tribal relations. Jack raises a crop of barley and garden truck every year. There are a number of Piute farmers in Inyo County who have taken up homesteads.

In a Hampshire, England, court lately, judgment was given against the proprietor of one of the inns of the town, and the bailiff was ordered to seize the first thing he could, which happened to be the omnibus plying between the inn and the station. In the omnibus was seated the Judge who had ordered the execution, and as it was not permitted to complete its journey to the station, the learned gentleman was obliged to get out and walk, and he missed his train.

THE BELLE HARRIS CASE.

THE Sacramento Record-Union, a journal which no one will accuse of favor to anything "Mormon," has an editorial with the above heading which we copy below almost entire:

Belle Harris lived in Sevier county, in the Egypt of Utah. She was brought before the Grand Jury of the Second Utah District and asked, "Are you a married woman; and if so, when and by whom were you married? She replied that this was a privileged question, and declined to answer. With her babe at her breast, and leaving another child behind her, she was brought several hundred miles to Salt Lake and confined for her contumacy in the penitentiary. Of course the purpose of the question which led her into contempt of Court was to ascertain who claimed to be her husband, in order to aid the indictment of a man for having married a 'plural wife.' The Mormon organ at Salt Lake lauds the courage and fearlessness of Belle Harris, and declares that she is a 'lady' with strength of character, who is defending a principle; that her right as a witness is as sacred as any rights recognised in Courts; that she is a martyr to a personal right, and in defense of a vital principle of freedom. The question was not directed to her knowledge of any crime, but to her social relation to another, she not being charged with any offense. Had she claimed that her answer would criminate her, the way would have been clear to her personal freedom; but she does not appear to have taken this ground. As a devotee of her Church, she could not admit that living in polygamy is a crime, and so she goes to prison as a religious martyr.

The natural sympathies will be shocked at the imprisonment in such a dismal and unwholesome place as the Utah Penitentiary of a woman with a few weeks old infant in her arms. The law cannot, it is true, make distinctions when contumacious conduct in contempt of its processes is to be punished. But it does not appear that the Grand Jury was under the necessity of relying wholly upon this woman's testimony, or in proceeding to the extent of reporting her for contempt. Surely polygamy is rank enough in Utah; Mormonism is sufficiently full of the corruption to enable a jury to search it out without "fishing" for a man they declare is unknown to them. * * *

Why was it necessary to plunge Belle Harris into prison and refuse her bail, in order to ascertain who is the father of her several children? The woman has exhibited courage in a bad cause, that nevertheless excites respect coupled with pity. We fear our Gentile friends in Utah lack discretion in their zeal. * * *

In the same week in which Belle Harris was sent to prison, a Gentile doctor of Salt Lake openly married a young girl, though he had a wife living a few miles in the country. After much trouble, the wife managed to procure from the authorities a warrant for his arrest for bigamy, but there was such bungling work that he was allowed to escape after the service of the warrant. Very naturally, the Mormons charge, 'This was because he is a Gentile; had he been a Mormon he would have been chained down before the officers would have taken any chance of his escaping.' And the impartial mind must admit that there is force in the sheet of the Mormons. The two cases do not speak well for the Federal officers of Utah. * * * Our officers must show by their conduct that criminals are not rigorously treated because they are Mormons, or that rigor is relaxed because the accused is a 'Gentile.'"

The Record-Union expresses the views of a large number of non-"Mormons" on this subject. It is not a case of prosecution but of persecution. And the Carrington affair, particulars of which have appeared in this paper, shows conclusively that those who make so much ado about "Mormon" polygamy are rank and arrant hypocrites, for they have not a word to say about this flagrant case of "Gentile" bigamy, and make no effort to urge the capture and punishment of the criminal. If he had made any pretense of being a "Mormon" the officers would have been vehemently censured, a full description of the scoundrel would have been published by the "Gentile" papers, and the country would have been scoured for his re-arrest. The anti-polygamy outcry is a humbug, and the Belle Harris imprisonment a lawless outrage.

"PAUPER IMMIGRATION."

A dispatch from Washington, which will be found in another part of this paper, speaks of "a party of pauper 'Mormons' from Switzerland," and of instructions to the Collector at New York to prevent their landing if they are paupers within the meaning of the immigration act." That little "if" cuts a big figure in the instructions. The whole thing turns on it. The fact is that there are no pauper "Mormon" immigrants from any part of the globe at any time. That is, however poor they may be, they are not dumped down in New York or at any other place, to become chargeable to the public. They are usually forwarded to Utah, where friends are ready to receive them and aid them to a start in life, by which, with prudence, industry and economy they can gain comparative independence.

There are no immigrants who land in New York from European ports who have among them so few persons that may be properly classed with paupers as the "Mormon" companies. And there are none that excel them as honest, working people, valuable to any State, Territory or community. They are chiefly from the class that form the bone and sinew of society. They are never from the criminal classes or the vicious "lower orders." Mechanics, laborers, people accustomed to gain their bread by the sweat of their brows or in some branch of skilled industry, they, in most cases, have been able to save means sufficient to pay their own way to America, and many of them the entire journey to Utah. In some instances they are assisted by friends in this country or from a fund raised by donations. But in no case are they left as objects of public charity in New York or elsewhere.

There are thousands of people, however, shipped to the ports of the United States from various parts of Europe who may be properly classed as pauper immigrants. Some vigilance on the part of Government officials in relation to them would be consistent and in accordance with law. But the attempt to hinder "Mormon" immigration, whether by silly circulars or the plea of pauperism, is altogether out of place, and will surely prove abortive. The "Mormons" are able to take care of all their co-religionists who leave their homes in foreign lands to come to America and grow up with the country. They will prove sources of wealth instead of public burdens, and the more of their number who identify their lives and fortunes with those of the United States, the better for this great and glorious nation.

ITS A POOR RULE, ETC.

"The Salt Lake anti-polygamy papers always speak of polygamists as 'polygs.' It sounds a little like pig and a little like pigmy, and is altogether a good and suitable abbreviation."

We clip the foregoing from an eastern exchange, which figures as a first class paper. If "polyg" is a suitable abbreviation for polygamist, and sounds anything like pig or pigmy, would not "monog" be a suitable abbreviation for monogamist and sound still more like hog with a moan or a grunt to it? Even with the added aspirate it is not so much of a stretch of etymology or imagination as the other. And from a somewhat extended acquaintance with human nature in many lands we are forced to the conclusion that where there is one piggish or pigmy polygamist there are many thousands of hoggish and moaning monogamists.

PRICES OF WOOL.

WOOL is not likely to command very high prices this season. The effects of the new tariff are already being felt in the markets of this country. We will endeavor to keep our readers posted on the prices ruling in Utah. Below is a list of the figures now given at Provo:

Medium, prime condition,		17 "

LEPROSY OR WHAT?

If the small clique of carpers who are trying to make a leprosy sensation out of an eruption on a boy's arms, will look among their own scribbling crowd, they will find a face which bears more resemblance to incipient leprosy, if nothing worse, than anything seen on the poor little Kanaka. If they can stand that color right under their own noses they should not sniff at a few fever sores at a distance of several city blocks. "Burly brutes" is a more fitting title for such persons than for quiet returning missionaries, minding only their own business.

General Strike All Along the Line.

CHICAGO, 25.—All doubt of a general strike among iron workers June 1st, has been removed by the flat which has gone forth from the headquarters of the amalgamated association of iron and steel workers, demanding that the present scale of prices be maintained. Members of the association in this city and vicinity received orders to stop work May 31st, at midnight, if the companies do not accede, and notices to that effect were generally served upon the manufacturers yesterday. In every case compliance with the demands was refused and preparations are being made for a general shut down. Workman, as a rule, do not look forward to an indefinite period of idleness with any degree of satisfaction, but they lie under the control of the associations and there is no alternative. Manufacturers are equally reluctant to idle idle, but while they express sympathy for the men, they say according the demand would result in actual loss. The strike will effect only what are termed western establishments, which include all the mills west of the Alleghany mountains. Those east of the mountains having no amalgamated association to deal with. The Alleghany range is numerically the dividing line, about the same number of mills being on either side. In the western division there are about 350 blast furnaces with an annual capacity in pig iron of about 4,000,000 net tons. With the exception of the steel rail mills and a very small per centage of iron works which employ non-union men exclusively, these establishments will all be closed, and at least 100,000 operatives be thrown out of employment. Of this number Pennsylvania will have about one-half, Ohio about the second largest number, and Illinois the third, with Indiana a little less than Illinois.

Collinsville, Ill., 25. — The situation to-day was more strained than yesterday. Not a mine on the Vandalia road between the east and St. Louis and Troy is in operation. All are closely watched by the strikers. The mayor, last night, ordered the saloons closed at 8 o'clock, and swore in 50 deputies. As drunkenness increased among the miners, 18 or 20 shots were fired about midnight, in a spirit of devilitry. At two o'clock this morning 360 striking miners assembled at the Abbey mines, they ascertained that the men driven off yesterday had not returned, then they detailed 50 men to see that no attempt was made to start up. Some 200 started east on the railroad track. A picket was left at No. 4. When the Collinsville mine was reached they were told no attempt at work would be made to-day. They then started for the Confidence and Troy mines. No work was going on at the Confidence mine, but upwards of 100 stopped there. The Belleville and Caseyville miners were joined by a strong delegation from miners on the Ohio and Mississippi road. Those who did not remain at Confidence pushed on to Troy seven miles from here and surrounded the Brookside mine, which was the last on the Vandalia track. It was in operation yesterday, but upon the appearance of the mob this morning the men struck work. The situation is critical and a crisis will be reached to-night.

Loss of the "Pilot."

SAN FRANCISCO, 25.—The steamer Pilot blew up this morning near Lakeville. It is estimated that 15 persons were killed; particulars wanting.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

BISMARCK, 25.—A boiler in the brick yard of Blye & Granberry exploded yesterday, instantly killing Foreman Carpenter and fatally injuring two others.

Virulent Smallpox.

NECHE, Da., 25.—Reports from the half-breed settlements show that the ravages of smallpox are rapidly increasing. Ten persons have died recently from the plague, and it is impossible to state how many cases there are. Every effort is being made to prevent the further spread of the plague.

The Big Brooklyn Bridge.

NEW YORK, 25.—People have been crossing the bridge all the morning at the rate of 5,000 per hour. Curious and characteristic scenes occur. It is remarkable, said the toll-master, what subterfuges are already attempted to beat the toll. Every imaginable device is tried. A number of drivers have attempted to drive through the gateway and get away before they could be caught.

Attacked.

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., 25.— An attack was made on the jail last night by 60 armed men. The sheriff was wounded in the knee and several others hurt.

Spurious Teas.

WASHINGTON, 25.—The Treasury Department has been informed that attempts may be made to violate the act "to prevent the importation of adulterated and spurious teas," by means of importations from Canada. The attention of customs officers upon the frontiers is therefore especially invited to this matter and in case of doubt they are instructed not to deliver teas imported into their districts until proper samples have been sent to the nearest United States officer appointed under the provisions of the act and his report thereon received.
