

SALT LAKE GETS IN GLASS TRIAL

Delmas Particular to Place Pickernell in This City in January, 1906.

BRIBERY HERE INSINUATED.

Sudden Development in San Francisco Affair Assumes Special Interest Throughout Utah.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—Alfred J. Stice, formerly an official of the Pacific States Telephone company, was called at a witness for the prosecution on the resumption of the Glass bribery trial this morning. He testified that he was assistant general manager of the corporation under Louis Glass at the period of the alleged bribery, and that Theodore V. Halsey, as "opposition agent," worked directly under Mr. Glass. Mr. Stice said he accompanied Henry T. Scott to Portland in February of 1906, immediately after the selection of the latter by President Fish of the American Telephone and Telegraph company to be president of the Pacific States company, succeeding the late John J. Sablin.

"At that time," said the witness, in response to a question by Mr. Heney, "Mr. Scott had no practical knowledge of the telephone business. The supervisors are alleged to have been bribed by Halsey in the latter month. Speaking of the coming to San Francisco of Mr. Pickernell, assistant to President Fish, to organize the coast coast as, Stice said: 'If you will allow the expression, the condition of the Pacific Telephone company at that time was rotten. For one thing, it was the rule of employees to go over the heads of their direct superiors. I know, because I drew up the organization chart which indicated diagrammatically the official superiors and subordinates of the system.'

SALT LAKE MENTIONED. Without divulging the purpose, Delmas drew from Stice much more of the testimony at Mr. Pickernell was to have met himself and President Scott at Portland in January of 1906, and returned with them to San Francisco, but that he failed to do so because he was delayed in Salt Lake City. To Heney the inference of this was that Pickernell's task in the Utah metropolis might have been the bribing of public officials, inasmuch as a strong opposition was being advanced there by the Home Telephone company, and that if he bribed Salt Lake officials a reasonable opposition would be that he subsequently authorized the bribing of San Francisco's supervisors.

STUDYING SITUATION. To offset this covert suggestion to the jury, Heney asked Stice: "What was Pickernell doing in Salt Lake? Do you know?" "He was engaged there in looking into the opposition situation, I believe. I know that only from hearsay."

POINTED QUESTION. "Was Pickernell in Salt Lake bribing supervisors—Did Glass tell you that?"

"No, Mr. Glass didn't tell me that, and I don't know that it is true." John F. Cannon, for 12 years in the employment of O. D. Mills, testified as sub-agent but the building he rented to Agent Halsey for temporary use of the three furnished rooms in that building, in which, according to the confessions of the supervisors, some of the telephone bribes were paid.

President Henry T. Scott of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company was called by Mr. Heney. He wore jauntily a white carnation in his coat and blushed violently during the administration of the oath. The gist of his testimony was that he had accepted the presidency of the corporation at the hands of President Fish of the American Bell Telephone company in January of 1906, on the condition that he should not assume his duties until after his return from a trip to New York and the books had been examined. He left San Francisco for the east a few days after the alleged payment of the last bribe. Adjournment was taken until Monday at 10 a. m., at which time Mr. Scott will resume the stand.

Copper shares ended with the

"JOHN D." MYSTERIOUS FATHER.

Much mystery surrounds the father of John D. Rockefeller, the world's richest man. For some unknown reason none of the sons of William A. Rockefeller, reported to be about 96 years of age, will give any information regarding him, whether he is living or dead, or where, in the former event, he lives. Frank Rockefeller, brother of the Standard Oil king, is reported to have characterized his brother as "a monster" who has used all in his power to wreck every enterprise in which Frank has ever engaged and it is Frank who says his father is alive and that the reason he is kept in seclusion is because John D. fears his open criticism should be found and induced to talk. The last the world at large ever saw of William A. Rockefeller was when he was the life of a family reunion at John D.'s Cleveland estate, in 1892. Since then he has utterly disappeared.

OUR WORKSHOP

The development of a large jewelry business has of necessity developed a repairing and manufacturing department that has grown almost without effort on our part and little known by most of the public and the purpose of this advertisement is to let our patrons know more fully of a large industry that is in keeping with greater Salt Lake and its requirements.

In operating a retail jewelry diamond watch and silverware business many articles become damaged by handling and must be repaired and refinished, many pieces prove unsalable and must be converted into new forms, stock diamonds must be mounted in safe and artistic settings, watches and clocks require overhauling, regulating and refinishing, and to be able to keep all these salable and give our patrons goods that will reflect credit on the house only skilled workmen are employed.

Our shop is large, light and fully equipped with modern electrically controlled machinery and is in charge of men not only skilled in their art but fully trustworthy to handle, repair or overhaul valuable gems, mountings and other merchandise.

It is our purpose to develop a much larger repair and manufacturing department as our patrons give evidence of much appreciation of the class of work we do and the monthly growth in this line alone has forced us to add to our help until we are doing four times the work we were a very short time ago.

We make and repair everything that requires skilled gold and silver-smiths watch and clock makers, and engravers, and to make it easy for our patrons we will send our messenger to any part of the city for anything needing our attention, and will guarantee safe return.

We have a six ton safe and the safe is in one of the largest fire and burglar proof vaults in Utah making our facilities for protection of our customers' valuables unexcelled.

Few people realize that the beauty and color of many diamonds and other gems are ruined by clumsy and inartistic mountings both in design and workmanship, and that a few moments spent with our designer and a few dollars spent for the work will convert a lot of very ordinary jewelry into objects of beauty.

We are here to design and create jewelry to please the most exacting and to advise the best methods for doing it.

The Leyson Company stands for all that's fair in business and the reasoning public can readily see that with our equipment we are better prepared to do good work than most others and that our price will be in keeping with the service performed.

Good workmen cannot be hired for small pay and good work cannot be done for the price of poor work and taking it for granted that owners of jewelry and other valuable possessions want good work, we cater particularly to that class. We give estimates and submit designs, and Leyson's responsibility ought to have much to do toward influencing most people where they should have their jewelry and watches made and repaired.

We will take pleasure in showing our shop and our vault to any interested parties.
