News Notes.

Ogden, July 30.—The European hotel was the scene of a robbery yesterday, F. A. Campbell, a guest in the house from Salt Lake, being relieved of his wallet containing $300, by a friend who gave the name of Sam Riddip of the same city and who registered as Sam McFady.

As near as could be learned, Campbell came to the hotel on Wednesday evening and secured a room. That night or early the next morning he met Riddip in the hotel and the two were together most of the time.

In the early part of the afternoon Riddip managed to get into the room of Campbell and extracted the pocket-book. The latter discovered his loss and immediately went out in search of his man. Thinking that may be Riddip would go to the canyon, Campbell hired a rig and drove to the Oaks. Upon reaching the canyon, Campbell saw Riddip in a vehicle going toward the mouth of the canyon. Upon arriving at a telephone Campbell communicated with the sheriff's office and the Wilson and Deputy Sheriff Clark left immediately for the canyon. A search of the canyon resorts was made by the officers, but the man could

The funeral services over the remains of John Herman Cardon were held in the Lyman Mortuary yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Bishop George Smuin presiding. The music was furnished by the ward choir with solos by Hagar Anderson and Mrs. Mary Farley. The speakers were Bishop James Wetherpoon, Bishop Smuin, John Farr, David C. Eccles, E. A. Larkin and Walter Crane. There was a profusion of floral offerings from friends and relatives in Ely, Nev., as well as this city and county.

The deceased was a member of the city council and manager of the branch of the Eccles Lumber company. He was one of the popular young men of Nevada as well as this city and county.

WEDDING BELLS.

A marriage license was issued yesterday afternoon to James S. Quinn and May Brookheart, both of Washington county, Ia. The couple were united in marriage by Elder George Folkman in his apartments in the courthouse.

WILL PROSECUTE FOR BATTERY.

Despite the protests of Eliza Wadsworth, the case against her husband, Frank Wadsworth, which she brought about 10 days ago, charging battery, will be prosecuted by the county attorney, who refused to dismiss the case. A postponement was taken in the case yesterday to enable the defendant to prepare his case.

Several times of late family and neighborhood quarrels have been brought into the police court and when it came time for trial the complaining witnesses in the case would fail to appear or ask for a dismissal of the charges. The city and county attorneys in a number of cases have had warrants issued for the witnesses and brought them into court and have prosecuted the cases.

BILLPOSTING CASE.

The billposting case of which there has been considerable litigation in the district court between the Utah Billposting company and W. B. Sawyer, has had another chapter, which is in the nature of a restraining order.

The order is directed against W. B. Sawyer and enjoins him from interfering with the billboards of the Utah company and commands him to appear in the district court on Aug. 3 and show why a temporary injunction should not be issued against him. The action, it is alleged, is to prevent Sawyer from engaging in business in this city after having once sold out to the company.

BOX CAR THIEVES BUSY.

Box car thieves are again busy, and after breaking into a car in the Rio Grande yards, Wednesday night, succeeded in carrying off enough merchandise to start a store. Among the more valuable articles taken were fifteen large combination canvases and leather coats, a number of bottles of gin and two boxes of pipes. A seal on the door was broken and the robbers succeeded in making their get-away before the watchman had made his rounds. The police have no clue.

ARREST FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

A. J. Heather, an employee of the Columbia Club cigar company, was arrested at about 9 o'clock last evening by Capt. Brown and Detective Hutchins, upon the complaint sworn to by Max Davidson charging embezzlement. Heather had acted as salesman for the cigar company, and it is alleged that while acting in this capacity he collected money which was not turned over to the company.

stood on the earth floor, and the air was foul beyond endurance.

Nearby was another cellar work-room where three Polish girls of low grade and a man who was feeble-minded worked in the underground dampness. From the closed door steps led up to the yard. The room was not over eight feet square, and on dark days the air was so thick with the gas that there was no way of heating the place in winter or drying the damp floor and wall in summer. And such conditions are not unusual. It must be remembered that these are the work places of the least vigorous of the children, the old women, the girls who are broken down with illness and who have lost their speed and an inert majority of unskilled women, too ambitious to learn something that pays better, too spiritless to combat exploitation—Elizabeth Butler in the July Charities and the Commons.

BERESFORD AND SCOTT ARE BOTH EXONERATED

London, July 30.—The admiralty, after a full investigation, has exonerated both Admiral Lord Charles Beresford and Admiral Sir Percy Scott from any blame in connection with the mistaken signal incident of the last naval maneuvers. It seems that Lord Charles gave the signal for evolution which, if obeyed, apparently would have brought the cruisers Argyle and Goodhope into collision. Sir Percy, who was on board the Goodhope, doubted the accuracy of the signal and refrained from obeying it. The admiralty finds that the maneuver was not dangerous, but at the same time, as Sir Percy thought there was risk he was justified in turning his cruiser the other way and Sir Charles so informed him at the time.

FRUITA, COLO.

YOUNG MAN SUICIDES.

Edward Redd in Fit of Despondency Shoots Himself.

Special Correspondence.
Fruita, Colo., July 28.—On Wednesday morning, July 28, a tragedy occurred in Fruita which cast a deep gloom over the community. Edward Redd, prominent among the younger circles of Fruita, became despondent and it is believed temporarily unbalanced, and took his own life.

The young man arrived home from a trip to Grand Junction on the early morning train, and had been mingling with the family in apparently normal physical and mental health, until about 7 o'clock, when he picked up a 22-caliber rifle, and walking into the yard, deliberately placed the muzzle of the rifle to his left temple and blew out his brains. In the pocket of the young man was found a note to his mother, in which he stated that he was tired of life, and believed he would be better off dead. This would indicate that he might have been suffering from an unbalanced mind. For some time, while those nearest and dearest to him failed to see his condition.

Robert Edward Redd was born in New Harmony, Washington county, Utah, June 1, 1879, and was 29 years, 1 month and 21 days old. He was the eldest son of Benjamin and Nancy Redd. The young man leaves to mourn his untimely death his mother, now, Mrs. N. B. Colton, of Fruita, and three brothers, John, Leonard and Arthur.

The funeral was held at the family residence, July 23, under the auspices of the Woodman lodge, of which the deceased was a member.

FOR STOGIE SMOKERS.

Whenever a cellar is used by the Pittsburgh stogie rollers, they work in the cellar. When the upper part of the house is used, they work at the staircase landing or at the entrance of the dark room where tobacco is stored. They are sometimes negroes, sometimes Slavs, sometimes Jews, of a lower grade than the molders of the leaf, and they are quite willing to take such places as are provided for them. Recently I went into a cellar opposite one of the best factories. Two colored women and one colored man were stripping there in a room whose ceiling was not over seven feet high, and whose only source of air was a narrow door leading by a flight of steps up to the street. The tiny slit of a window at the far end was close barred, and two-thirds of the air space in the room was taken up by barrels of tobacco and cases of striped stock. Pools of muddy water

CASHIER SHORT $18,330.

Seattle, July 30.—R. F. Parkhurst, assistant cashier of the First National bank of this city, was arrested today and when confronted with an apparent discrepancy in his accounts confessed to a shortage of $18,330. Parkhurst had been on a vacation and was arrested just as he was returning to the bank. He said he had been expecting to be arrested and has made no effort to secure bail. Parkhurst covered his shortage, it is said, by opening dormant accounts, transferring amounts from one to another as the occasion demanded. The bank is protected by a surety bond. Parkhurst is married and expects to live style of living is said to have been the cause of his downfall.

BLAZE IN RESTAURANT.

Chinaman's Heavy Loss—Court Hearings—Teachers Resign.

Special Correspondence.
Provo, July 31.—At 4:25 yesterday afternoon the fire department responded to a fire alarm and in less than four minutes had the fire spread to the building, doing very efficient work, keeping the fire confined to the building in which it started, a Chinese restaurant, Lorie Quong, who conducted the restaurant on Center street, was killing flies and other insects by the spraying of gasoline and accidentally knocked a can of grease over on the stove, which ignited, causing an explosion in which the Chinaman sustained some very severe burns. The kitchen is entirely in ruins and had the fire spread to the building on the west, occupied by a retail hardware company and who carries considerable powder and other explosives, the damage would have been greater. The building is fully covered by insurance, while the fixtures were not and the Chinaman's loss is estimated at $900.

MANASSA.

Stake Conference—Y. L. M. I. A. Re-organized—Fine Crop Prospects.

Manassa, Colorado, Colo., July 28.—The quarterly conference of the San Luis stake was held in Manassa July 28 and 29, 1908. Elders John Henry Smith and A. V. Evans from Salt Lake and Samuel O. Benjamin from the Central States mission were in attendance and spoke at all the meetings. Thomas D. Rees, Jr., second counselor in the stake presidency, having removed from the stake, was released and Samuel Jackson, Jr., chosen to fill his place. The stake Y. L. M. I. A. was reorganized with Emily J. Smith as president; Jessie Smith and Grace Crowther, counselors; and Maggie Harrison, secretary.

William King Briggs, with a company of 50 young people from Sanford, presented the opera, "A Navajo Princess" to a large and appreciative audience in the Opera house at this place last night.

The weather is very hot and dry; the river is getting low and water for irrigation is quite scarce. Prospects are, however, that fair crops will be harvested, especially of early sown grain. The potato crop is looking very promising. The dry weather is cutting the hay crop short.

A decided improvement is being made in the appearance of the public buildings by repairing and painting the fence around the stake house and the district school buildings.
