our lawmakers is duly appreciated by the citizens of southern Utah.

Our district schools are running with eight departments, all of which are in charge of efficient teachers; of course, the chronic grumbler finds place in our midst, and occasionally pours a broad-side fusilade into the camp of the school trustees, their pet theme being the impropriety of paying our teachers such exorbitant high salaries, and in this regard I am told the ladies receive $40 per month, while the two male teachers receive $135; $50 for the prin-

The board of county commissioners held a special session Saturday. The Enquirer Company was awarded the contract for publishing the delin-juent tax list. James E. Hall, mayor of Springville, uppeared before the board and claimed that Springville city had been assessed and had paid taxes for the years 1896-7-8 amounting to $162.18, the same being illegal and erroneous, and asked that the same be refunded. Referred to the ounty attorney.

E. C. Lackner, attorney for the Tellu-ride Power Company, called attention of the board to the bad condition of the county road in Provo canyon near the Ferguson place. Taken under advisement for investigation. Berg & Alexander were allowed $3,000 and Homes & Watkins $300 on county infirmary contracts. The Rio Grande Western Railway Company asked to be allowed to build an overhead wooden bridge at the an mouth of Spanish Fork canyon over the large cut just completed. The petilarge cut just completed. The peti-tion was granted on condition that the company maintain and keep the bridge in repair, and that it be not less than 14 feet wide with railing on the sides high enough to prevent cattle or sheep from jumping off.

FARMINGTON.

Davis Stake Priesthood Meeting-Religion Class Organization-Mutual Work, Special Correspondence.

Farmington, Davis Co., Nov. 24 .- The Priesthood of Davis Stake of Zion con-yoned in regular monthly meeting at Farmington at 1:00 p. m. today. The members of the Stake presidency were present, as well as representatives of the Eishoprics in all of the wards in the Stake, and all of the members of the High Council, except two alternates, and all the Stake organizations were well represented. Fifteen young men, fourteen from East Bountiful, one from East Layton, were recommended by their Bishops as worthy to be ordained Elders, and the accommendations were endorsed by the Priesthood RELIGION CLASSES.

In addition to the usual instructions given at such meetings a matter special importance was transacted. Fresident Hess announced that it was the intention of the proper authorities to organize "religion classes" throughout the Stake, similiar to those con-ducted in other Stakes. A Stake board, consisting of President John. W. Hess, his counselors, Jos. H. Grant and Jos. S. Clark, and Elders John J. Smith and Stearns Hatch, was sustained to carry out this work. Elder E. A. Cotterell of Farmington was appointed Stake su-perintendent, whose duty it will be to go to each ward of the Stake and organize these classes. The Stake board of the Y. M. M. L. A., with the officers of many of the ward associations of the Davis Stake, He accommodations at the Branch

Spring City, Sanpete County, Nov -Today the people of Spring City parents justly honor our veteran Bishop, A. Allred. In accordance with arrange decorated At the back of the stand hung a large portrait of Bishop Allred accompanied by the legend, "God Bless Our Shep-As the Bishop entered the house escorted by his counselors, the congregation arose and remained standing until he was seated. An interesting program was well rendered through

A beautiful badge was presented to the Bishop with touching words by his eight-year-old granddaughter, Lola Backman followed by a tender poem from Miss Loelettie Christensen commemorative of the 80th anniversary of the Bishop's birthday. A brief review of the Bishop's life was given by Brother Samuel Allred. Speaking in extremely eulogistic terms of the life and sterling character of our respected Bishop. Patriarch R. N. Allred spoke briefly and blessed the Bishop. Our guest was then presented with a gold headed cane with his name and title inscribed upon it. This cane was purchased with the contributions of the people and shall ever be held as a token of their love. Bishop Allred, although greatly touched, spoke a few comforting words to the people and thanked them for the honor they had shown him, praised the Lord for His kindness to him, and said, Lord has made me what I am. After a hearty handshake with Bishop all departed feeling to thank God that we have such a man in our Bishop Allred is eighty years midst. ld, has been a faithful servant in his official calling for seventeen years.
