

NEW TARIFF LAW NOW OPERATIVE

Pres. Taft Signed Bill Five Minutes After 5 O'clock, Aug. 5, 1909, Payne Furnishing Pen.

EXTRA SESSION ADJOURNS.

Senator Heyburn Was Greeted by the President as "Old High Tariff."

Washington, Aug. 5.—The tariff has been revised and the extraordinary session of Congress has been brought to a close. Both houses adjourned at 6 o'clock tonight. That is the time entered upon the journals, but as a matter of fact the house adjourned at 5:58 p. m. and the senate at 5:55 p. m. satisfaction or dissatisfaction. The conference report was agreed to by the senate, 47 to 31, at 2 p. m. and soon afterward the concurrent resolution making certain changes in the leather schedule was adopted by both houses.

TARIFF SIGNS BILL.
President Taft arrived at the Capitol at 1:45 p. m. and entered the president's room. His appearance there, the first time since being president caused congressmen to form in line to be received by him. There was a constant procession of handshaking statesmen through the president's room from the time of his arrival until his departure at 5:50 o'clock.
At six minutes past 5 the Payne tariff bill, as the measure will be known, was laid before the president. He picked up a pen supplied by Chairman

Payne, which had been used by both the vice president and the speaker in signing the bill, and attached his signature.

After writing "William H. Taft," the president added, "Signed five minutes after 5 o'clock, August 5th, 1909.—W.
H. T."

With the president at the time were Secy. Knox, Secy. MacVeagh, Atty-Gen. Wickersham, Postmaster General
Hitchcock, Secy. Nagel, Secy. Wilson, Senator Aldrich, Representative Payne and many others of the senate and house.

As the senators filed into the room the president had something of a personal nature to say to each, and good nature appeared to be overflowing. Senator Tullafiero of Florida, in rather a plaintive tone, said:

"Mr. President, surely you are not going to sign that bill with that pineapple paragraph in it?"

He referred to the fact that he had gotten the duty increased on pineapples in the senate, but the advance was eliminated in conference.

"What would you have me do? Shall I strike out pineapples altogether or just write in a rate to suit you?" asked Mr. Taft, laughingly.

A short time afterward Senator Fletcher of Florida was telling the president good-bye. The Florida was dismissed with a "Good-bye, old pineapples. Take care of yourself!"

The president tried to mollify Senator Warren for his disappointment over free hides, and greeted Senator Heyburn, who said on the floor today that no rate in the bill was too high to suit him, with a "How are you, old high tariff?"

When the committees of the senate and house, appointed to inform the president that the extraordinary session was ready to adjourn, called at the president's room, the bill had not been signed.

"Well, I have not signed the bill yet," said the president. "Do you think that I ought to adjourn Congress before I sign it?"

The announcement had been made by Mr. Aldrich on the theory that nothing stood in the way of adjournment. There having been a great deal of talk about the possibility of a veto, everybody in the room thought of the significance of the president's jocular query.

"I certainly do not," hastily replied Senator Aldrich. "The delay in laying the bill before the president was due to Mr. Payne's desire personally to convey the document to the president."

After attaching his name to the general tariff bill, Mr. Taft signed the Philippine tariff bill.

PHILIPPINE BILL SIGNED.
The president picked up a mother-of-pearl pen which had been sent him from the Philippine islands to be used in signing this measure. He wrote his name with a flourish which was not in evidence when he signed the general tariff bill.

The president left the Capitol at 5:50 to return to the White House through the rear entrance.

The signing of the bill had been preceded by a busy day, both in the house and senate. Meeting at 10 o'clock, the senate devoted four hours to final debate on the measure. At 2 o'clock the vote was taken on the adoption of the conference report. The senate then adopted Mr. Aldrich's concurrent resolution providing for a reduction of the tariff on manufactures of leather to meet the views of western senators who have been defeated in their efforts to obtain protection for hides.

Senator McCumber's resolution providing additional rebate regulations for the bill, amended at the instance of Senator McLaughlin to include a provision for free cotton bagging, was adopted without division.

Six o'clock was agreed upon by the two houses as the hour for final adjournment. Senators lloitered about until the arrival of the hour. A resolution offered by Senator Culberson, expressing the appreciation of the senate for the able and impartial manner in which the vice president had presided over the session, was adopted.

Mr. Sherman thanked the senate for the courteous treatment extended to him at all times.

Wishing the senators a happy return to their homes, he declared the extraordinary session of the Sixty-first Congress adjourned without day.

ber, Nelson, Newland, Overman, Pen-

Gallinger with Taylor, Nixon with Owen, Richardson with Clarke (Ark.), Warren with Money, McNary with Davis.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The house devoted the last day of the special session to perfecting the tariff bill and transacting a mass of routine business.

Speaker Cannon announced his committee appointments, and they were received with varying degrees of satisfaction.

The concurrent resolution amending the hatter schedule of the tariff bill was adopted without a dissenting vote.
The McCumber-McLaughlin resolution revising the drawback provision and placing cotton bagging on the free list, previously adopted by the senate, had no such luck. On the claim of Chairman Payne that it was not in order, it was consigned to the committee on ways and means.

A half hour remained before the appointed hour of adjournment, and the time was dragging so heavily that, by direction of the speaker, the hands of the clock were set ahead 25 minutes.

Before adjourning the house, Speaker Cannon thanked the members for their service during the session.

The speaker said:
"Representing as we do, in the aggregate, 90,000,000 of people, scattered as the population is, from the Atlantic ocean to the Golden Gate, and from the northern boundary to the southern boundary, producing as we do one-third of all the products of all the civilized world, it is but natural, when the chosen representatives of the great body of the people come together, with varying interests, with virile constituencies, that they should disagree as to the correct policies that should govern the enactment of legislation. Out of that disagreement comes compromise. Legislation is impossible except by the vote of a majority, and the majority cannot agree without compromise."

"The majority is responsible from time to time for our legislation. We have performed our duty to the best of our ability. At times the contests have been warm, but there is one good thing about representing the American population. When the contest is over and the legislation is complete, unless it is objectionable, the people of the country conform to the provisions of the legislation, and we move on."

"And as representatives, whatever the contests have been, the feeling passes away when the contest is over."
"I thank you, and the hour has arrived for adjournment. Wishing you a safe journey to your homes, health and a safe return, nothing is left for me, under the provisions of the concurrent resolution, but to declare the first session of the Sixty-first Congress adjourned without day."

The actual time of adjournment was 5:33 p. m. The members did not indulge in the usual hilarity which marks the close of a session, and they filed solemnly out, exchanging a few words and there a goodbye and best wishes for a pleasant vacation.

POLICE DOGS PROVE THEMSELVES WORTHY

New York, Aug. 6.—After a careful investigation, Commissioner Baugh has come to the conclusion that the police dogs have earned for themselves a permanent place in the machinery of the police department. An order has been issued for the purchase of 30 additional dogs. They will be secured abroad, turned over to Lieut. Wakefield, the department dog trainer, and then sent to duty in outlying districts.

CHILD'S STRUGGLE FOR LIFE.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—Holding in her arms her dying babe, which she had starved through ignorance, Frances Nowitzka, a Polish woman, burst into the central police station last night, asking in broken English every uniformed officer she met to save the child.
She cried for a half-hour before she was able to inform the officer that the emaciated infant needed care.

The superstition of a Polish man, whom the woman thought doctor, prompted her to feed the child nine months old, on coffee and bread. For several weeks the infant struggled for life on this diet. When the child was sent to the hospital by the police authorities, physicians there said it was starving to death.

Chances for its recovery are slight.

WOULD DRIVE ORIENTAL DANCE OUT OF CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 6.—The oriental dance which has thrived here since the World's Columbian exposition is to be abolished in Chicago, if Acting Chief of Police Schuetzler can find a legal weapon.

"Personally, I am against that sort of a dance," said the chief. "We were happy and had just as much fun before they came to town. And I think we would get just as much amusement out of the life hereafter if that dance were not shown in this city. If any one will show me a legal way I will be glad to show it to the board of aldermen."

Complaints concerning the performances given in some of the amusement parks have been frequent.

REV. BURROUGHS AFTER GRETTA GREEN RECORD

Bristol, Tenn., Aug. 6.—The Rev.
Alfred H. Burroughs, striving for the world's record of Gretna Green ceremonies, yesterday reached the mark of three thousand couples, dating from an incidental marriage of the kind here Aug. 4, 1888. The last deceased bride's young cousins, to him at the rate of from 24 to 40 a month.
Most of the couples married by him came from Virginia, and West Virginia, having eloped because the laws of those states forbid the marriage of minors except by consent of parents.

EGYPTIAN LOTUS FLOURISHES IN INDIANA

Chicago, Aug. 5.—The Egyptian lotus is flourishing in the Calumet river three miles east of Hammond, Ind. Thousands of the gorgeous flowers are in bloom.

The Nile and Calumet rivers are said to be the only streams in the world where this flower grows in a state of nature.

The flower is five or six inches in diameter and is of a delicate yellow tint, tipped with green. It is open during the day and closed at night.
Old settlers of Hammond have no account of the importation of the plant from Egypt, and believe it is indigenous to the Calumet as well as to the Nile river.

LIGHTNING STRIKES CRADLE, BABY UNHARMED

Marion, O., Aug. 6.—Lightning struck Charles Kitzmiller's home last night and ignited the bed clothing in the crib of a sleeping baby, who was not even awakened. The bolt descended by way of the chimney, traveled along the iron framework of the child's crib and passed down a gaspipe to the cellar.

Mrs. Kitzmiller found the infant still sleeping with the fire creeping towards its feet.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe, She had so many children she didn't know what to do,
She had so much trouble to keep their clothes clean, Till she got Fels-Naptha, with the wrapper red and green,
Now her washing's easy, clothes are cleaner, too, Isn't it a good thing, she found out what to do?

Here's an arithmetic problem that's worth figuring out.

How many hours do you spend each week in washing clothes?

Multiply the number by 52.

Then divide the total into two parts and one of those parts is how much time you would save in a year by using Fels-Naptha Soap.

You would likely save more.

Most women who use Fels-Naptha Soap do their washing in less than half the time it would take in the old way.

And with one-fourth the work.

And without any extra expense for fuel because Fels-Naptha Soap cleanses clothes in cool or lukewarm water.

No boiling; no scalding; no steaming suds. Summer or Winter.

Don't spend more of your life than's necessary in washing clothes.

Do them the quicker, better way—the Fels-Naptha way.

Just follow directions on the red and green wrapper.
