

EVENING NEWS. Wednesday, Sept. 29, 1888.

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

A small steam engine is for sale at the Church blacksmith shop. See advt.

On Monday night, Sept. 17th, a dark brown mare mule, was stolen from the premises of W. Woodruff, in the Hig Field. A reward is offered. See advt.

Yesterday afternoon, A. D. Dible, of the Dumore, charged with arson, in setting fire to the premises of L. D. & A. Young, was by Justice Spier held in $500 to wait the action of the Grand Jury.

We are requested by Sister E. B. Wells to invite the ladies who are aiding Brother Stephens in preparing the costumes for Friday night's concert, to meet at the Theatre tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. Prompt attendance will greatly oblige.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Call and Get It.—A volume of the Millennial Star, supposed to have been lost by an immigrant, has been found. It can be had by the owner, at this office.

Wigget.—If John Wigget, from England, came in the company which arrived in the city on Monday night, he will please report himself at Bishop Hunter's Office, at the Third Store, immediately.

Small-pox at Mesa.—Intelligence has reached this city to the effect that President A. F. Macdonald and his wife Agnes are among those who are afflicted with small-pox at Mesa City, Maricopa County, Arizona.

What is a Car-load?—Nominally a car-load is 20,000 pounds. It is also 70 barrels of salt, 70 of lime, 90 of coal, 90 of whisky, 200 sacks of flour, 6 cords of soft wood, 18 or 20 head of cattle, 50 or 60 head of hogs, 100 head of sheep, 9,000 feet of solid boards, 17,000 feet of siding, 10,000 feet of flooring, 40,000 shingles, one half ton green lime, one tenth ton of jolt, scumming and other large timbers, 340 bushels of wheat, 400 of barley, 400 of corn, 500 of oats, 200 of flax-seed, 300 of lupine, 200 of Irish potatoes, 400 of sweet potatoes, 1,000 bushels of grain.

Lynching at Cheyenne.—A few days ago the dispatches gave an account of the murder of two men near Cheyenne, named Wenzel and Knight, by a fellow named Mosier, the bloody deed being done to gain possession of about fifty dollars. It was also stated that the ruffian was subsequently captured and placed in the Cheyenne jail. Early on Sunday morning he was taken from the prison by a mob and hung to a telegraph pole. The wretch cried piteously for mercy, but the crowd was unmoved by his appeals. He was asked if he had anything to say before being strung up, but he made no statement.

A Magnanimous Druggist.—The Enquirer states that a druggist of Provo who had been prosecuted for illegal liquor selling, learned that a man who appeared as a witness for his prosecution had been engaged by the D. & R. G. as a brakeman. He called upon the officers of the company and threatened to withdraw his patronage from the road if the young man was retained in its employ. He also used the names of three other liquor sellers who had been similarly prosecuted as intending to take the same course. A number of respectable business men of the town, on hearing of the matter, represented that if the railroad company paid any attention to the whiskey man's application they would take a certain stand on the subject. At last accounts the D. & R. G. had taken no practical notice of the liquor dealer's awful demand, which necessarily emanated from an insignificant soul. There is considerable of the absurd, not to say ludicrous about this consistent attempt to intimidate a powerful corporation. Should the railroad continue stubborn toward the vengeance liquor man we would be pleased to learn whether or not it survives the consequent shock involved by the removal of the magnanimous man's patronage. If it results in a financial crash we would like to know it.

The Fire Brigade.—Last night, at its regular session, the City Council decided to have a paid fire department a proper step to take under the circumstances. The action of the city fathers in deciding to accede to the petition of the boys and in accepting their resignation was contingent upon unfavorable action upon it, was prompted by justice. It was also merited and wisely done to tender the members of the Brigade a vote of thanks for past services. We have not been slow in acknowledging the energy exhibited by the boys, while others have made a point in casting a shade upon their efforts.

The step taken by the Council is judicious because it is much better to pay the firemen such a stipulated amount per annum than a stated sum per hour for actual service at fires. In every department of labor all temptation to profligacy, especially of a character where its application involves loss of life or property, beyond any point where it is possible for it to cease should be avoided. No one supposes that any member of the Brigade would require any check so far as that is concerned, but the removal of every form of inducement in that direction and placing it rather on the other side is a necessary element of sound public policy.

The acceptance of the contingent resignation was proper on the ground that it gives the Chief Engineer, who is familiar with the several capacities of the men who have heretofore labored under him, an opportunity, in engaging the future firemen, to select the fittest. In performing this duty there should be no hesitation to act on account of any private interests or feelings, and we do not believe there will, the public good being the chief object in view. We believe the efficiency of the Brigade will be increased by the action of last evening.

THE JUVENILE FAIR.

A HIGHLY CREDITABLE EXHIBITION.

We have seldom been so much delighted with viewing a public exhibition of any kind as we were today by a look through the children's fair, in President Young's school house, near the Eagle Gate. Everything is arranged in apple pie order by the ladies in charge, and the collection of specimens is highly creditable to the young folks. It would be next to impossible to notice everything of merit on exhibition, and we are only enabled to mention a few among the many and necessarily omit numbers of articles equally worthy. We give a few details that the public may have some idea of the character of the fair and be induced to pay it a visit.

A suitable amount of space is allotted to the Primary Association of each ward. On the right of the entrance is the Eighteenth Ward, in whose collection we observed some very light and dainty-looking bread from Harriet Young, aged seven years. Annie Glade, 13, had some beautiful wax fruit; Alice Robinson, 11, showed some skillfully wrought tiles; drawings by Little Thatchers were excellent.

Among the Third Ward collection was some excellent work by Annie Z. Eardley, 13, while a 4-year-old toddler had some neatly made patch-work. Annie Weller had a delightful specimen of flannel flower-work on a black ground, while Annie Eardley's mat with representation of cat and kitten attracted much attention; flowering on velvet by Cora Hooper is notably meritorious.

We observed from Draper Primary, from Sarah Reed, 12, a representation of her parents' house, worked in wool, very neatly done, while there was a specimen of golden edged butter from May Day, aged 9. L. Smith exhibited coconuts, while L. Jackson, 11, showed some corn, the cobs being fully 14 inches long.

To be brief we will name some of the specimens without details. In the Twenty-first Ward department were some excellent tiles by two daughters of S. P. News, aged 7 and 9. Twentieth Ward: toothsome bread and cake, Kate Romney, 8; Little Potter, pretty worsted work; Emma Lyon, beautiful tidy; John N. Sharp, toy chair; handsome white baby dress, Maud Lewis, 6 years; handsome hood, Nellie Lewis, 8 years; Georgina Tenne, beautiful tiles.

From the Twelfth Ward there was a beautiful hanging basket exhibited by May Brooks, 8 years.

In the Seventeenth Ward division was a quilt, the patch work being done by little girls, aged between 3 and 6, the quilting being done by older ones. Edna Hyde, 9 years, a child's dress; Laura Hyde, a child's dress; May Dallas, 10 years, 109; woolen cuffs and petticoat, Stella Jacobs, 4 years; beautiful silk embroidery on black satin, Emma Ellerbeck, 14 years, 109 and cup, J. Barrows, 10 years.

In the 8th Ward collection was some wax ornamental work, one of the finest specimens, age of the exhibitor considered, in the fair, Mary Rula Pansig, 7; also neat dress, Sarah McMurrin, 12; work box, Nellie Sheets; very wide fringe dainty done, Susie Keyser, 12; neatly painted plate, Lizzie Groesbeck, 16; wax flowers, Lila Young, 7.

Ninth Ward—Tidy, Lila Rlob; slippers, Louisa Bone; the Lord's Prayer, in wool-work, Ann Veto.

Sixth Ward—May Hunter, only 8, a pretty book marker; Susanna Butler, wool flowers; Sarah Latham, 5, nice cake; Maggie F. Irvine, 14, most excellent specimen of hair ornamentation.

Tenth Ward—Large doll's dress, and five kinds of fringe, Lydia Ballon, 14; a pretty kite, F. Meek. This Ward has other excellent specimens.

Thirteenth Ward—A dress beautifully ornamented with needlework, Agnes McDonald; wool flowers on black ground, Agnes and Mar Chapman, 11 and 12.

Fifteenth Ward—Bedding for a toy bedstead, beautifully done, age considered, by Katie V. Morris, 7; good specimen of stocking darning, Almira Conrad, 12, items of Church History, one of the most creditable things in the fair, as showing intelligence and careful research, Tacey Conrad.

Seventh Ward—A toy house, Clements Woods, 14; May Salisbury very fine lace apron, 13; kneeling board and ornamental cover, Mary A. Lambert; five fresh fruit and the Lord's Prayer; the latter in wool-work, Zetta Farnsworth; bread, Maria James, 6; woolen mat, Little D. Lambert.

Among the collection were also articles that took our attention on a second glance around. Of these were, light bread, Katie McGhie, 6; jelly, R. McGhie, 9; of Sugar House; wool-work on black ground, Little E. Davis, Big Cottonwood; cake and fruit, Clara Ferguson, 6; plush and gold banner screens, Queenie Ferguson, 12th Ward; crocheted work, Eliza Jane Jackson, 7, 10th Ward; ornamented slippers, Alice Taggart, 12 years, 21st Ward; Eliza Olsen, blue corded bag; excellent cake, Annie Ewen, 8 years, 7th Ward; beautiful wool-work, Eva Barfoot, 11, 21st Ward; a large squash, raised by J. R. Urieve, 11 years, raised on the dry-bench by refuse water from the house.

Among the best articles exhibited were a bridge and small valves, by Richard Amberson, 13 years old. There are numerous specimens well worthy of special attention, but want of space will not admit of their being named. The fair is a good place to spend an hour or two. It will remain open during the week.

A Fiftly Brute.—A gentleman called to-day and informed us that a man advanced in years made incident advances to his niece, a little girl ten years old, yesterday, at Liberty Park. He has iron-gray hair, and is a thick-set fellow. It is the second attempt of the same kind by the ruffian within a few days. He needs looking after.

THE JOURNEY OF THE IMMIGRANTS.

INTERESTING INCIDENTS THAT OCCURRED ON THE WAY.

This morning we received a pleasant call from Elder F. F. Goss, who returned on Monday in charge of the company of immigrants from Europe. He left here on the 20th of September, 1881, and on arriving in Switzerland, was appointed to labor in the Bern Conference, remaining in that position until the following May, when he was appointed to preside over the Swiss, German and Italian Mission, retaining that office until his release to return, when he was succeeded by Elder John Q. Cannon. The work has been quite prosperous under his administration, aided by the Elders under his direction.

With the exception of some rough weather experienced on the ocean, the journey was generally prosperous. One accident occurred during a storm at sea to a Scotch sister, who was tossed about between decks by the rolling of the ship and very much cut and badly bruised. She was rendered insensible for some time, but with good care survived her injuries. A gash in her head is still open, however, and causes her much suffering and inconvenience. She is a lady of great power of endurance, and never uttered a murmur concerning her condition.

An accident also occurred on the U. P. at Plum Creek, by a mistake in manipulating the switches. The way-car was thrown off the track, down an embankment and ditched, and was left there. The next car, filled with immigrants, also jumped the track, but nobody was hurt, escaping as if by a miracle. The car following had two wheels off the track, but no damage was done. The accident occurred late on Friday night, and caused a number of roughs to congregate on the spot. These parties made a point of interfering with the Elders, and acting most outrageously. They drew pistols and threatened to shoot, using, at the same time the most filthy and blasphemous language. While this was in progress the train moved off, and further trouble was thus avoided.

The accident caused the company to be divided, the people being in two trains, other trains, in the meantime coming between. This was the reason of one part of the company arriving in Ogden on Monday morning, and the other in the afternoon.

The company, Elder Goss says, were treated with great courtesy on the way, with the exception of between New York and Buffalo, on the Erie road, where strangers were crowded into cars allotted to the party, and at Omaha, where the operator acted rudely and insolently. At Council Bluffs the treatment was all that could be desired. Elder Goss returns in excellent health.

Important Educational Movement.—It will be seen from our advertising columns to-day and a circular issued, that an important educational movement has been made by the University of Deseret. The officers of that institution, in compliance with a desire widely diffused among the people, have at length determined to establish a winter course of study for the accommodation of students who can attend school only during the winter season. Such a school has long been desired, and the friends of education believe it to be an imperative need in Utah, where so many of our youth are actively otherwise engaged during the greater portion of the warm season. We believe that the officers of the University of Deseret have performed a very creditable work in thus bringing the rudiments of an education within easy reach of our young people. If we mistake not, this opportunity will be eagerly improved by our younger men and women, if not by some of the older ones.

This preparatory school will open on Monday, October 29th, and close on Friday, March 21st, thus occupying the portion of the year when a large part of the business operations of the Territory is at a comparative stand-still. Reading, elocution, English grammar, penmanship, physical and descriptive geography, orthography and punctuation, and practical arithmetic are the studies that comprise the course, together with such other instruction as shall seem best adapted to impress upon the class principles of honor, self-respect, and social politeness.

It will be observed that for the most part the studies pursued are those of the common branches; the instruction given consists largely of the practical. Upon completing the studies of this course, the student may be prepared to enter some one of the regular courses of study in the University. The movement is evidence of an earnest endeavor to bring a fair education within the reach of our young people, many of whom have not now the opportunities they desire to acquire a knowledge of the studies here presented, during the winter terms. We hope their appreciation of this important step will be shown by the attendance of a large class of young ladies and gentlemen earnest for an education.
