THRICE MARRIED.

Mrs. Allen G. Campbell Forms One More Matrimonial Alliance.

Advice received in this city from Riverside, Cal., tell of the marriage of Mrs. Allen G. Campbell to Frank C. O'Kelly, a former bell boy of the Glenwood tavern, and afterwards private secretary to its proprietor. The marriage is the result of a romance beginning over a year ago when O'Kelly was attacked with nervous prostration and appealed to Mrs. Campbell, who was actively interested in Christian work, to assist him. He received much benefit from the treatment, it is stated, and promptly proceeded to exercise his returning powers by acquiring a desperate attachment for the lady. It does not appear, however, that the fact that she was married to a millionaire so much as the fact that she was a Christian. Although his former chief states he was a man of good character and had a million dollars he was thrown down hard, and went away to die in grief in the wide of the Calgary lumber camps. There he brooded and wrote letters and made them so pleading that he was finally told to come back to his own, and receive the heart that was ready for him.

The present Mrs. Campbell O'Kelly has had a romantic career. It began in Salt Lake 15 years ago, when she was a newspaper woman, writing under the name of "Pota Potapie" for the society columns of a local paper. She was then known as Mrs. Helen Young, and had one child. Twelve years ago her marriage to Allen G. Campbell, a millionaire mine owner, over 30 years of age, proved a stir in local society circles, and it was then foreseen that a little while ahead she would be a rich widow with a million or so in her disposal. The couple went to southern California to live, and when Mr. Campbell died a little over a year ago Mrs. Campbell remained in that locality. Two children resulted from the marriage.

Starting Fat Tunes.

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theater in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, and more than 100 times this number or over 500 people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing mention of either one of these cases of pneumonia resulting from a cold and could have been prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have avoided it by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Two months cannot be said in the history of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I have saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia." W. D. WILCOX, Logan, New York. Sold by all druggists.

Amusements

That always beautiful drama by Jas. A. Herne, entitled "Shore Acres," was played again last night at the Salt Lake Theater, and in the evening, a stormy night and an interrupted car service, it drew a good sized audience. The charm of the homely play remains undiminished, and those who love a play acted by a company of realists, could find no better opportunity than in this engagement. The main players are the same as those that visited us last, and while some of the characters are not so well sustained, the Nat Berry of Mr. Galloway, the Martin of Mr. Lawrence, the Blake of Mr. Burrows, and the other players of Miss Thorne, are as strong and admirable as ever. The children's parts are daintily sustained, and the "thinking" role of Little Minnie, and the usual brought down the house. The same bill goes this afternoon and evening, and will no doubt do good business.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Mother's Favorite.
The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste to children, and its permanent cure have made it a favorite with people everywhere. It is especially valued by mothers and nurses for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief. It is also a valuable remedy for the harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

EXTENSION OF EIGHT-HOUR LAW

Hone Introduces Measure Making It Apply to Mills, Factories And Shops

FOUR BILLS PASS THE HOUSE.

Solons Agree to Visit Agricultural College Next Sunday--New Bills.

A bill of more than ordinary importance, and one which is likely to precipitate lively debate before reaching its final passage, is H. B. 94 by Hone, extending the provisions of the eight-hour law to factories, shops and mills. Contrary to custom, Speaker Hull referred the bill to two committees--labor and manufactures and commerce--who will likely have their hands full agreeing on a satisfactory report. Of the former committee Representative Cronin is chairman, while the latter is presided over by Representative Lyman. This committee meets Tuesdays and Fridays from 10 to 11 a. m. Other bills introduced in the house yesterday afternoon are as follows:

H. B. No. 92--Simons, exempting farmers and truck gardeners from paying license for the sale of their products in municipalities. Municipal corporations.

H. B. No. 93--Joseph, to submit amendments to state Constitution consolidating the government of the city and county of Salt Lake. Judiciary.

H. B. No. 94--Edwards, reducing the state board of corrections to three members and providing for salaries of $100 per annum. Penitentiary and prisons.

H. B. No. 95--Edwards, reducing the state board of corrections to three members and providing for salaries of $100 per annum. Penitentiary and prisons.

H. B. No. 96--Kinney, making liquor licenses transferable to place or person. Municipal corporations.

H. B. No. 97--Kinney, allowing writs of execution to issue in counties where transcript of the judgment has been filed as well as in those where judgment was given. Judiciary.

H. B. No. 98--Dean, reducing the board of trustees of the state school for the deaf, dumb and blind to three members, providing for the appointment of the superintendent by the governor, and fixing his salary at $1,000 per year. Deaf, dumb and blind.

H. B. No. 99--Kinney, requiring street car companies to provide seats for motorists and air-brakes on all cars. Railroads.

After the reading of the journal, Tolson moved that the order of the day be struck out and that the business be taken up and that the members simply point out necessary corrections. The matter was discussed for some time and finally Richards moved that the motion be tabled, and it was so ordered.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.
Committees reported as follows: House committee on bills, to be struck out. Adopted and rule ordered printed.

Mines and mining, recommending non-passing of H. B. No. 28, by Joseph, establishing a department of mines and mining. Adopted.

Same, recommending non-passing of H. B. 29, by Joseph, relating to health and safety of employees in metalliferous mines. Adopted.

Same, recommending passage of H. B. 87, by Gundry, relating to manner of locating and recording quartz and mining claims. Report adopted, but consideration postponed pending printing of bill.

Judiciary, recommending passage of H. B. 11, by Kuchler, concerning the venue in civil actions in municipalities. Adopted.

Same, recommending non-passing of H. B. 13, by Kuchler, relating to civil jurisdiction in municipalities. Adopted.

Education and arts, recommending passage of H. B. 5, by Joseph, repealing law creating state institute of arts. Adopted.

Claims and public accounts, disallowing claim of John DeGrey Dixon for $625.00 for auditing accounts, and approving claims aggregating $693.13 for repainting and furnishing house chamber. Adopted.

JOSEPH WANTED TO KNOW.
There being no further reports, Joseph asked that the committee on public funds be required to inform the house just when it would be ready to report on the expenditures of the state. A full committee is desired, a member of the committee, very curtly replied that the report was not ready and wanted to know when Mr. Joseph had become keener of these committees. The incident was declared closed.

BILLS PASSED.
H. B. 68, amending section 3329 of the Revised Statutes, relating to motions and orders, passed by a vote of 43 yeas.

H. B. 69, relating to the preparation, settlement and signing of bills of exception, passed by a similar vote.

H. B. 9, making mines and net proceeds taxable as personal property, including coal and salt, went through with a vote of 45 yeas.

FROM THE SENATE.
A communication was received from the senate notifying the house of its passage of H. B. C. R. No. 2, limiting the production of bills to the 45th day. The senate also gave notice of passage of H. B. 44 by Kinney, relating to repairing and a similar vote.

The senate also reported the passage of S. B. 29 by Hollingsworth, relating to fees in municipal courts. Referred to committee on judiciary.

WILL GO TO LOGAN.
On motion of Joseph the house accepted an invitation to visit the Agricultural college, the trip to be made by special train next Saturday.

Fishburn asked leave to withdraw H. B. 63, extending terms of city officers one year. Granted.

Kinney gave notice that he would remove for a reconsideration of the vote by which H. B. 25, with senate amendments, was passed by the house.

THE FABLED EGG OF GOLD.

THE MAN of the nursery-tale, who "killed the goose that laid the golden egg," founded a SCHOOL OF FINANCE and an ECONOMIC SYSTEM which have not yet become extinct. He has an occasional follower among the merchants of today. These disciples of the "Golden Egg School of Finance" are the merchants who discover that they are paying too much money for newspaper advertising. While the past year has been a prosperous one, and they have made more money than ever before, the totals of their advertising bills for the year frighten them, and they ask: "Wouldn't it be fine to have all of this money in the bank?" And, like the founder of that philosophy, who wanted all of the golden eggs at once, they figure that they might just as well put the money in the bank as to pay it to newspapers. And if the man who killed the goose in order to secure the golden egg was wise, then the merchant who tries to SAVE THE MONEY WHICH ADVERTISING COSTS HIM is wise, too--for the two propositions are of exactly the same nature. Perhaps, however, the man of the fable would have been wiser to have fed, to have cherished, to have cared for his valuable fowl--to have spent money for her comfort? If this is true, it applies to the store advertiser, too.
