

DEWEY HAS FAITH IN AMERICAN NAVY

Is Confident it Would Give a Good Account of Itself if War Should Ever Come.

THERE'S NO BLUFF ABOUT IT.

Would Keep Ahead of Times by Replacing Older Ships With Most Modern Type.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Defending, with characteristic vigor, the American navy, Admiral Dewey today asserted that not only is our navy not a "bluff," but that he is confident that it would give a good account of itself should war ever come.

The admiral's remarks were called forth by a statement attributed to former Representative Landis of Indiana, who, in a recent speech at Cincinnati, O., on advocating ship subsidy, is reported to have said, "that those Americans who are informed considered our navy a bluff."

Declaring that he saw no war clouds gathering on the horizon, Admiral Dewey discussed several phases of the navy. He expressed himself as heartily in favor of ship subsidy legislation and made a strong plea for the continued upbuilding of the navy.

Referring to the remark attributed to Mr. Landis, Admiral Dewey said, of course, what Mr. Landis meant was that the navy would be comparatively useless in time of war without necessary auxiliaries drawn from the merchant marine.

The admiral expressed the belief that ship subsidy legislation could be secured were it not for the use of the word "subsidy," which he said many people did not like because they thought it meant to give something for nothing.

"But the American navy is not quite so helpless as one might imagine from Mr. Landis' remarks," said the admiral. "We have 15 colliers and several transports already in the service.
Of course, these would not be enough in time of war, and I hope that we will continue to add to that number.
If we were to have a war we could purchase as many ships as we might need.
It would of course be a great deal better if we had them already."

The admiral declared that the United States needed a merchant marine, not only for the value it might possess as furnishing auxiliaries to the navy, but to carry the American flag to the markets of the world.

"But," he said, "there will be no war.
And so long as we go ahead steadily and moderately in adding to our navy, replacing the older ships with the most modern type, thus keeping our navy abreast of the world, no one will ever be able to say, like Mr. Landis, that other nations do not regard the American navy seriously."

SHOT MOTORMAN BECAUSE HE MADE FUN OF HIM

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The shooting of Geo.
Mackey, a motorman, while on a Sixty-ninth street car on Oct. 4, was cleared last night by the confession of Harry Donnelly, a stenographer employed by a detective agency. Donnelly confessed to the police that he fired the two shots.
"Mackey always laughed at me when I got on his car," Donnelly said. "He kept it up morning after morning until I could stand it no longer. So I shot him. He had no right to make fun of me."
Donnelly, who was away from home for several days after the shooting, was accompanied to the station by his wife.
The police will have him examined as to his sanity this morning. Mackey said he did not remember Donnelly getting on the car and never ridiculed him.

WOOD DEFENDS JOINT MANEUVERS

Statement About Hardships Endured by Men in Boston Campaign Without Foundation.

THEIR HEALTH EXCELLENT.

Was Almost No Sickness and Few Accidents—Lessons Learned Are Invaluable.

New York, Oct. 7.—The critics of the joint maneuvers of the regular army and the national guard who have been predicting that the Boston campaign of last summer will be the last of such operations because the hardships and suffering of the militiamen were all out of proportion to the lessons learned, were answered today by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, commanding the department of the east.

Gen. Wood said:
"The statement purporting to come from some one connected with the war department at Washington relating to the hardships and suffering of the men engaged in the maneuvers in Massachusetts has no foundation in fact.
The amount of sickness was extraordinarily small."

"The report of Gen. William A. Pew, commanding the Blue division which has just reached me, says:
"The health of the men during the week under unusually severe weather conditions was excellent. In the entire division there were under 100 cases treated, and those were mostly minor injuries, sore feet and the like."

"The report of Maj. J. R. McCook, chief surgeon of the Connecticut brigade of the Red army, which has also just reached me, says in regard to the health of the men:
"There is almost no sickness and few accidents and what we had as a rule amounted to nothing."

"It is not true to say the hardships were all out of proportion to the lessons learned. In the first place, there were no hardships. No complaint has come from the enlisted men or officers.
There were possibly 5 per cent. of the militiamen dissatisfied with the maneuvers and they were the proportion which would prefer to remain in a camp."

"On the other hand the lessons learned were invaluable. One of them is that we have enough regulars or militiamen ready for mobilization to defend a city against such an attack as was made against Boston. The other is that it builds up the spirit of cooperation between the regular army and the national guard."

VICE PREST. SHERMAN ENTERTAINED AT LUNCHEON

New York, Oct. 7.—The New York chamber of commerce entertained at luncheon today Vice President James S. Sherman and the commanders of the American, German and British fleets, which took part in the Hudson-Pulton celebration.

The French admiral, Le Nord, was unable to be present and was represented by Capt. Huguenot of his staff.
President Simmons of the chamber, Vice President Sherman and all the naval officers made brief addresses.

Vice President Sherman said:
"We Americans rejoice in the visit of all the nations. We are rivals in commerce and it is well that it is so, a healthy rivalry that helps build up and develops the commerce of the world." On behalf of the American people he told the officers to carry back to their governments the expression of the appreciation of the American nation for the friendship of the foreign nations.

allusion by President Simmons to his distinguished service. "The service to which he alludes was in China," said the admiral, "when I was assisted by Admiral Mitchell and other American I was assisted by other nations, the Germans, especially, and after the Germans, the French and others whom I will take the time to mention now, and after what we did in China I am convinced that the nations are homogeneous, not to fight, but to preserve the of the world."

MANILA OPIUM SMUGGLER MAKES FULL CONFESSION

Manila, Oct. 8.—Louis Grant, a prominent American resident of this city, charged with complicity in extensive opium smuggling scheme discovered several weeks ago, entered a plea of guilty when the case was called today. He then took the stand as a witness for the prosecution. Grant said that William Kennedy and a Chinese banker, jointly with him, had arranged the plan and that he had not been informed of it until after a shipment of mining machinery had been consigned to him in which the opium was concealed.

Grant said that Kennedy offered him $5,000 to allow this opium to be landed and asserted that he had accepted the offer. He claimed, however, that he had no other part in the plan.

Grant's evidence was a part of the testimony in the trial of Kennedy which is now in progress.

MORE DIAMONDS BEING FOUND IN UNITED STATES

New York, Oct. 8.—The official report of Douglas Burritt to the United States geological survey, which has just been made public and which declares that more diamonds were found in this country than ever before, has created much surprise in Maiden Lane. Mr. Burritt finds that the diamonds produced in Arkansas are of as fine quality as those from the African fields.

Conditions in the Arkansas fields are more promising than ever before. At one point 500 diamonds were found, of which 60 were 27 karats. The stone which were cut proved to be worth from $20 to $25 a karat.

The other states in which prospecting is now being carried on are California, Florida and Kentucky and small diamonds are said to have been found in both.

borers, rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric

GREAT POSSIBILITIES IN SACRAMENTO VALLEY

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 8.—"The Sacramento valley has most tremendous possibilities of development. Irrigation properly applied will add millions of dollars to your wealth. It is my purpose and my desire, in so far as the laws will permit, to enforce and effect the saving and the right use of the public domain."

So spoke Secy. Ballinger at a banquet here last night, following his visit to the Orland Irrigation project Wednesday.

"I want to see California have a square deal," said Mr. Ballinger. "The interior department has questions of adjustment in all states and many of them arise as a result of laxness of administration.
All of these I want to see adjusted fairly."

"A different sentiment exists now regarding the public domain than that which was felt years ago. I can remember when it was considered the best thing was to get rid of public land as fast as possible.
"Absorbing certain lands and sequestering them then trying them up in a bag, so to speak, does not accomplish the most desirable result, but when put to practice by all the people which are the real beneficiaries."

"The work should go forward and that is what the administration will do to the best of its ability in following the policy of Mr. Roosevelt in trying to do everything possible to assist the western country. And when we find that our work is obstructed by laws, we will ask further authority and further assistance to continue."

TUNGSTEN LAMPS make electric light much cheaper.

They have two and one-half times the efficiency of the ordinary carbon lamp bibeiters in general use. The filament is made of a rare metal called Tungsten, which yields an intense brilliancy at low cost. In shape and size the bulb is just like any other incandescent lamp. Why not try a Tungsten lamp yourself? Get one of the 32 C. P. size and use it somewhere in your house or place of business instead of one of your carbon lamps, then observe the great difference. Note the clear white light, exactly twice as brilliant and costing you one-fifth less for electricity. Tungsten lamps are destined to displace all others, for both store and house lighting.
