The feature of the morning was the auction sale of the cattle owned by Lowell, Barroll and Dewitt of Denver. At 10 o'clock there were several hun-dred cattlemen on the grounds and soon Col. Edmondson's rich, deep voice was heard calling them together. Then was heard calling them together. Then followed a description of the registered Herefords from the famous Ridgewood herd, and bred from such stock as Randolph and Soudan, two bulls im-ported by K. B. At the Grand the crush was greater than ever, and the chances are that had Mrs. Fiske chosen to remain a week instead of three nights, she could have played on to constantly increashave played on to constantly increas-ing business. A wonderful piece of stage work is her delineation of "Tess." It stamps her as an undoubted genius even more than her work in "Becky Sharp," rare as her delineation of that part was. She held her audi-ence last night literally spelibound by the force of her interpretation of Hardy's heroine. There was plenty of applause, but it would have been re-doubled had not the very intensity on her work, and the horrible feeling it produced, exerted such a dypressing in-fluence over the audience that people fluence over the audience that people simply sat in silence, and stared at each other. THE LOWER MAMMOTH.

Property Denounced by Local Partics-The Shipment Assays.

A letter from the broking firm of Hudson Sons & Co, has been circulated in the East which tends to destroy confidence in one of the most promising of the Tintic properties. The letter refers to the Lower Mammoth and incidentally the Daly-West management in anything but flattering terms. The firm says: "Recently an examination was made of the property and we are assured by the man who went through it that there is not enough ore in the mine to much more than pay the present indebtedness, which is $30,000. Compared with the surrounding property it is far too high, and we cannot help from expect-ng a great decline. We have been inormed that the insiders, who are closeconnected and identified with Daly-West mine, are making an effort to sell Lower Mammoth stock to the Daly-West shareholders in the East, No one here who is not on the inside thinks that the property is worth any-thing like its present quotations. Af-ter the insiders have disposed of enough stock we would not be surprised to see an assessment of 20 cents levied to pay off the indebtedness. * * The Manhattan, which adjoins the Lower Mam-moth, sold today for 75 cent per 100 shares. The Manhaitan is a prospect pure and simple, but we would a great The object of the corporation is to conduct a general mining business and extracting metals of gold, silver, copper, lead and other precious metals from those certain mining claims and and mines known as the Henrietta, No. 1. The writer of the letter is entitled to his opinions regarding the mine and he must have a great deal of faith in them or he would not dare to publish such strong statements. RETURNS FROM DENVER.

Mr. J. E. Bamberger Promises Something Important on Lead Question.

Manager J. E. Bamberger of the Daly West Mining company is back from Denver after consulting with the leers of the smelting company in that State. Mr. Bamberger says that severa things are under consideration prove of interest to the stockhold ers of the Daly West, but he is not in ers of the Daty west, but he is not in a position to speak particularly of them just now. It concerns the lead output of the mines, of which the Colorado smelters are receiving a very plentiful supply This in Mr. Bamberger's opinion, will affect the price of lead shortly unless som thing is done to prevent it. The smelt-ing company has the lead proposition under consideration and Mr. Bamberger expects some interesting information within a few days. If arrangements are ompleted as at present outlined. Mr. Bamberger expects that the Daly West company may get a little more for its lead ore by shipping big lots when the
