Samuel A. Mann has been appointed assistant manager at the Salt Palace for the coming season. He assumes charge of his new duties on Saturday. Manager Mulvey will hand over all the detail work to Mr. Mann, who is well qualified to look after affairs at the resort. Mr. Mann is well known to the public in this city and last year was traveling passenger and excursion agent for the Salt Lake & Los Angeles railway, in which capacity he made many friends. He is an oldtime theatrical and newspaper man and there is possibly not a branch of the amusement business with which he has not been connected at some time in his ca-reer. The appointment is a popular one, and with such a team as M. E. Mulvey and S. A. Mann directing affairs at the Salt Palace the future looks very bright for that resort.

The High school cadets have their field day out at Lagoon on Saturday. Excursion Agent Bean reports that he expects a big crowd on that day.

During the wind storm out at Lagoon on Friday the naptha launch Maude Adams foundered at her moorings. A gang of men are at work today raising the heat the second s the boat from the bottom of the lake.

At noon today there were 46 entries received for the Lagoon road race on Decoration day. The promoters of the event expect to have fully sixty entries before they close this evening.

Th miniature railroad at Lagoon is now practically in place. The name of the new line is the Denver Short Line, and it extends from the bowery to the entrance to the ball grounds. gine which draws the miniature trail s said to be the smallest that has been put into operation. It is so small the the engineer has to have a special to himself. It was built by J. Shriver of Denver last winter, who will run the train. Manager Critchlow states that the locomotive, while being so small, at the same time is a perfect oduction of a large engine in every letail.

All the resorts with the exception of the Salt Palace will open on Decoration day. The Ninth South resort will be wn open to the public on Monday
