

NO REPORT IN THE SMOOT CASE

None Will be Forthcoming This Session According to Latest Information.

TO RUN THROUGH SUMMER.

Senator Burrows Will Ask Utility To Bring Sub-Committee to Utah To Further Investigate.

Washington, Feb. 20.—No report will be made in the Senator Smoot case during the present Congress. This has been agreed upon by several members of the senate committee on privileges and elections, for the reason that the time does not remain for consideration by the senate of such report as the committee might make.

Sensors Spooner, Hale, Platt (Conn.) and several other senators, as well as members of the committee desire to discuss the case when it is brought to the senate. Members of the committee have practically determined to continue the investigation during the summer. When another meeting of the committee is called, Chairman Burrows intends to bring up the question of asking the senate to grant the committee authority to go to Utah and take testimony.

FOURTH-THIRD DAY OF LEGISLATURE.

Only Seventeen Days Remain for Completion of Work of This Session.

WHAT THE SENATE HAS DONE.

Hollingsworth's Portland Fair Bill the Subject of Special Consideration This Afternoon.

The senate, like the house, opened the forty-third day of its session this afternoon with nine bills up for passage, two set on special order; with the record showing a total of eighty-seven bills introduced, fifteen passed and sent to the house, twenty house bills on hand, eight house bills passed, and an even dozen bills signed by Gov. Cutler.

The activity of Friday at the expense of the house, when the proposition of celebrating Washington's birthday at a joint session was rejected, after the report of the program committee had been made, was not renewed today. The record had no trace of the felicitous sparring between senators, nor of the voting. Once again the committee on Federal relations brought in its report as though it had never been up before, and it was acted upon, this time favorably.

A special order for 3 o'clock today was Hollingsworth's bill No. 42, on the Lewis and Clark exposition, providing $20,000 for the commission, with strings-attached, for the purpose of investigating the expediency of the proposed exposition, which was wished to be investigated further as to the amount needed to make a creditable exhibit.

BILLS UP FOR PASSAGE.

The bills up for receiving final action today were: Williams' bill 49, on the state art collection; Callister's fish and game measure; Bonomi's bill 59, on the committee on public institutions, on the control of the state mental hospital; bill 55 by the judicial committee, on the salary of judges; Fishburn's H. B. 37 and 38, on school census funds, and the annual school census; and Wilson's H. J. 4, on Washington's birthday.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The committee on federal relations reported favorably H. J. R. 4, and suggested the appointment of two persons to formulate a program for the year.

The committee on livestock reported favorably H. B. 105, relating to trespass.

The committee on railroads, of which Senator Lock is chairman, made its report today. It did not recommend the passage of H. B. 74 on the contents of articles of agreement of incorporations.

The judicial committee reported favorably on five bills. They are H. B. 103, by Marks, on the statute of limitations and the manner of pleading; S. B. 52, by Hollingsworth, on the consolidation of courts; S. B. 62, by Lawrence, on issuing writs against property holders for the improvement of abutting streets; S. B. 76, by Bamberger, permitting the establishment of a board of state and city employees; and S. B. by Park, exempting national guardsmen from jury duty.

JOSEPH WITHDRAWS BILL.

He Gives no Reason for Calling Back Exposition Grant Measure.

In the house this afternoon Representative Joseph asked leave to withdraw H. B. 43, providing for an appropriation for the Lewis and Clark Exposition. Representative Roberts desired that the gentleman state his reasons for such withdrawal, but Mr. Joseph took hold this morning, succeeding Fred Wood, who is now in Los Angeles. Mr. Fisher is well known in Salt Lake, and has had extensive experience in the hotel business.

The members of the house are now guessing why the bill was withdrawn, but it is believed by some that it was for the purpose of making a more liberal appropriation.

The senate notified the house that it had disapproved of the passage of H. B. No. 5, abolishing the state institute of art. Joseph, the author of the bill, moved that a conference committee be appointed for the purpose of further considering the measure.

The senate notified the house that it had passed S. B. 46, 17, and 13, and that said bills had been signed by the president of the senate in open session.

IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS.

The committee on industrial school submitted a report recommending that one of the three trustees of said school be a resident of a county other than Weber, and that a compensation not to exceed $2,000 a year be paid the trustees.

The committee also recommended that the appropriations asked for by the board of trustees be allowed, as follows:

General maintenance $40,000
Manual training 10,000
Laying water service 2,000
General repairs, library and land, 7,000

Total $59,000

In addition the committee recommended that the costs of keeping and taking care of the children at the industrial school shall be paid by the parents or guardians of such children or by the county from which they come; and that all moneys so collected shall be turned over to the state treasury; this in accordance with an opinion from the attorney general.

It also praised the trustees superintendent for the physical condition of the school and for the progress and material advancement of the inmates.

The committee on judiciary recommended the passage of H. B. 134 by Marks, providing for the adverse possession of rights-of-way.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

H. B. 171 by Hawley, "An act relating to the making of false representation in writing by a person, of his assets or financial responsibility, for the purpose of obtaining credit thereon, and providing a penalty therefor."

H. B. 172 by Miller, "An act to abolish the arid land reclamation fund commission, and to further define the duties of the state board of land commissioners, and to repeal chapter 71, laws of Utah, 1893."

INDIAN VETERANS WANT PAY.

A committee representing the Indian War Veterans' association, presented the following petition: To the Honorable Legislature of the State of Utah: Gentlemen—We, your petitioners, in behalf of all the Indian War Veterans of this state, respectfully ask your honorable body to hear our petition and grant us the sum of $100,000 for our earliest convenience you pass an act recognizing our faithful services in some substantial way. If only by medals of honor, and memorials Congress grant us in pay for 30 days time in actual service in suppressing Indian hostilities in Utah, from the year 1860 to 1875 inclusive, and $100,000 to all beneficiaries under this act shall be paid as private of volunteer militia, and provided further, that the provisions, limitations and benefits of the act of July 27, 1892, and as amended by the act of June 27, 1902, shall be applicable to this act, and as in duty bound, your petitioners will ever pray.

HOW HE WAS KILLED.

Particulars of the Death of Hyrum Baker of Mendon, Utah.

The family of Hyrum Baker, the young man who was instantly killed in a railroad wreck at Milton, Cavalier county, North Dakota, on February 2, have received newspapers from that place, which give the first definite information they have had concerning the fatality. Mr. Baker was a resident of Mendon, Utah, and was on his way home for interment, as already chronicled in the "News." It appears that the local east bound freight train was standing on the main line when it was suddenly derailed into a heavily loaded special freight from the west. Young Baker, who was but nineteen years of age, was instantly killed and four other of the train crew were seriously injured.

An inquest was held over the body, but not many of the particulars of the sad event were forthcoming. The jury simply returned the verdict that which it said that "deceased came to his death by the collision of two Great Northern freight trains, while he was in the act of alighting from the wreck was one of the most disastrous of its kind in the history of the road, and interrupted traffic for a considerable time.

TRADESMEN MUST PULL TOGETHER.

Rev. Haggerty's Suggestion as to Solution of the Labor Problem.

CAPITALISTS ARE SHIRKERS.

Opines that Few of Them Are Producers, Hence Their Unworthy Designation.

Federation hall was crowded last night on the occasion of the address of Rev. Thomas J. Haggerty of Chicago, who spoke on "The Industrial Union Movement of America." The speaker said in part:

"There must be one industrial union movement before we can ever hope to cope with capital," and as an illustration of this, he cited how in case of strikes men of one trade would take the positions vacated by strikers of another trade. He called capitalists shirkers because the general run of them are not producers. "It is a fight between the shirker and the worker, and at present the shirker has the upper hand. All through the ages laborers have been taught to believe that they were beneath and not quite as good as the men who hire them. They have been taught to believe that there is a gulf between them that cannot be bridged. Should you ask a capitalist to explain why this is, he would probably answer that it seems to be fixed by providence. When a man has left a well paid job after partaking of tempting porters' wages and other good things, followed, perhaps, by several bottles of champagne, he seems to be a shirker. Even the alphabet fixes these things. Of course, the capitalist has nothing to do with it. I say that man who flips the ditch to carry off dirt, that man who digs the ditch, that would cause typhoid fever, is worth more to society than the learned physician who stands ready to treat the typhoid fever patient. To be a physician is to be a shirker. See if he is elevating and a greatly to be desired profession. To be a ditch-digger is to be a nobody, a common scum-of-the-earth prodigal. However, give the ditch-digger anywhere from $19 to $100 a day for his labor and to the physician give the ditch-digger's wages, and the fashions will soon change."

OWE ALL TO LABOR.

"I pity the man, no matter who he may be, when he says: 'I owe nothing to labor.' The fact is we all owe everything to labor. It is labor who produce the hundreds of things that go to make our life more comfortable. The shirker on our feet and every article that is used in their manufacture are the result of labor. Even the alphabet from which we select letters to form words with was the result of a great deal of labor, and had it not been for the shirker who would still be without a language, without the power of making each other understood."

"When it comes to strikes, no matter what the cause or what the injustice done, the answer of the shirker to the worker has always been the soldier's bayonet and the prison. Take the record and look it up several times. See if I tell you it is not true. Every time that a body of men have stood out for their rights, capitalists, at every opportunity, have compelled them to submit to the cause of the shirker, or men who are supposed to be possessed of brains, have gone on record as saying that $1.25 should prove ample wages for hard-working laborers."

THE WAGE QUESTION.

"Think of it! Think of a man working for $1.25 a day and trying to support a family of five or six. Suppose he wants a decent house to live in, with a bathroom and a few comforts. That alone would cost from $20 to $30 a month. Then there would be the need of food, fuel, and medicine, and doctors' bills—where in the world would $1.25 or even $2.25 a day be at the end of the month?"

"This is why thousands of poor girls, under paid, half starved, knowing not which way to turn, are tempted into selling their virtue for the necessities of life. Possibly they are department store girls, or what is better, or men who are supposed to be possessed of brains, have gone on record as saying that $1.25 should prove ample wages for hard-working laborers."

THE BABE OF BETHLEHEM.

The lecture by Dr. Talmage had for its subject "The Babe of Bethlehem." The lecturer gave a brief and concise statement of the Jewish nation, religiously, politically and otherwise, and explained the order for taxing or registering the people, through which decree Joseph and Mary were required to go to Bethlehem. Belonging as they did to the house of David they repaired to the seat of the royal family to be officially enrolled.

The speaker showed the scrupulous care in the observance of the requirements of the Jewish law—as in the naming of the child, his circumcision, his presentation in the temple as the first born of his mother, the mother's purification as prescribed. The incidents of Simeon's testimony and Anna's testimony were sublime in their simplicity and truth.

The visit of the magi received due attention and the phenomenon of the star was discussed. The historic fact that the presentation in the temple confirmed the biblical record. Through the enforced residence in Egypt prophecy found fulfillment in that the Son was literally called out of that land. The incident in the western continent incident to the Savior's birth, as set forth in the Book of Mormon claimed consideration. The speaker's words were full of meaning and truth.

BURGOLARS WERE BUSY.

Triad Four Places Last Night—Two Successes and Two Failures.

Erickson and Johnson's saloon on Fourth South and State streets was broken into last night and a couple of boxes of cigars and $4 in cash were stolen. The robbers bored holes through a rear door and in that way managed to fasten the lock. The robbery was not discovered until this morning when the proprietor opened the place. The police department was at once notified.

The Clift House bar was burglarized last night, the thieves gaining entrance by breaking open a rear window. The cash box was tapped and $50 taken. The matter was not discovered until this morning when the Clift House police. The latter are working on the case, but have no clue as to the identity of the robbers.

Attempts were made last night to burglarize the California Fruit company's store on Richards street, at the residence of Joseph George, 200 north State street. In both instances the burglars were driven away and secured nothing for their pains.

The case of the State vs. Price Fisher, charged with embezzling from the Wells-Fargo Express company, is before Judge Dierl today for preliminary hearing. The prosecution is in the hands of Assistant County Attorney Lyon, and D. S. Treman is looking after the interests of the defendant.
