

NO SOLUTION.

THE labor agitation has become a chronic national disease. The subjugation of its more turbulent and destructive phases is becoming a more and more serious question. Thoughtful people are casting about for the means of solution, but cannot find it. The application of force is not curative. It merely tends to temporary suppression, the malady gaining a greater hold on the system in the interims of quiet, to break out again with more violence than ever. Arbitration merely operates as a sort of soothing syrup without curing, giving temporary relief, but leading to still more unsatisfactory results.

The main hope seems to be in the majesty of the law maintained by enforcement in the courts. This reliance is about as chimerical as the other sources of supposed strength. Many of the leading judicial positions in the States are elective, and the labor organizations will soon have an overwhelming preponderance of votes. So great are their numbers that they will soon be able to gain possession of the jury boxes. In fact, what is to hinder them, as the agitation progresses, step by step, from ultimately being in absolute control of the legal and judicial machinery? If the Rock Springs tragedy, when taken into the courts, can be taken as a sample of how so important a power would be used under such circumstances, the situation would be awful in the extreme. Yet such a condition is fast gliding from the region of the possible to the probable. The labor question is one of the leading questions of the country, and the man who could offer a method whose application would be successful in solving it would be a national benefactor.

As a cure for insomnia and nervousness, there is nothing like Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron.

THOUSANDS SAY SO.

Mr. T. W. Atkin, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers; they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known, and will positively cure Kidney and Liver complaints. Purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills every year.
Sold at fifty cents a bottle at Z. C. M. I. Drug Store.

The danger that always goes along with a standard family medicine is the counterfeit or fraud, which follows as darkness does light. Protection against this danger lies in careful observation of what, and of whom, you buy. Doubt the honesty of any druggist who states there is any other Simmons Liver Regulator than that prepared by J. H. Zeilin & Co., Sole Proprietors; or that there is any liver medicine having like effective curative properties, or containing the same ingredients.

SUCCESS.

The sale of Syrup of Figs is simple, immense. Everyone is taking it, and it is the best medicine ever used. Children cry for it on account of its pleasant taste, and grown people who have used it once never take any thing else. Unlike other remedies for biliousness and constipation, it never loses its power to act, and it always leaves the organs on which it acts stronger than before. Besides, one feels fresh and bright and realizes that it is Nature's own true laxative. Z. C. M. I. Drug Store, Wholesale Agents, Salt Lake City.

Commonly Called Laziness.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 14, 1884.—In the summer of 1879, I noticed I was frequently tired. Had diarrhea. Family physician said I had malaria in stomach. Bowels would move half a dozen times, if I walked a block rapidly. Finally in August, I became too sick to leave my bed. Lay in bed six days. Had night sweats, and very yellow tongue. Six bottles of Warner's safe cure cured me.—WILLIAM WALLACE LOUNSBERRY, formerly with Nashua Lock Company.

OUR BREAD IN DANGER.

The Alarming Increase in Baking Powder Adulterations.

Among recent important discoveries by the food analysts is that by Prof. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, of large amounts of lime and alum in the cheap baking powders. It is a startling fact that of over one hundred different brands of baking powder so far analyzed, comprising all those sold in this vicinity, not one, with the single exception of Royal Baking Powder, was found free from both lime and alum.

The use of alum is to produce a cheap baking powder. It costs less than two cents a pound, whereas pure cream of tartar costs forty. Its effect upon the system has been ascertained to be poisonous, and overdoses have been attended with fatal results. Lime is the most useless adulterant yet found in baking powders. It is true that when subjected to heat a certain amount of carbonic acid gas is given off, but a quicklime is left, a caustic so powerful that it is used by tanners to eat the hair from hides of animals, and in dissecting rooms to more quickly rot the flesh from the bones of dead subjects.

The effect of lime upon the delicate membranes of the stomach, intestines and kidneys, more particularly of infants and children, and especially when taken into the system day after day, and with almost every meal, is pernicious in the extreme, and is said by physicians to be one of the chief causes of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the kidneys. Chemists have found 12 per cent., or one-eighth of the weight, of some of the baking powders prominently sold in this vicinity, to be lime. The wickedness of this adulteration is apparent.

The absolute purity and wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder—now affirmed by every chemist and food analyst of prominence, and conceded by all manufacturers of other brands—arises from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined by patent processes, which remove totally the lime and all other impurities. These facilities are possessed by no other manufacturer. The Chemist of the Department of Health of Brooklyn, N. Y., in which city the works of the Royal Baking Powder Company are situated, after recent numerous experiments, reports:

"I subjected several samples of the Royal Baking Powder, purchased from dealers in Brooklyn, to chemical analysis, and I take pleasure in stating that this powder has attained a most remarkable purity. I am unable to detect the slightest trace of lime tartrate in it, while all its constituents are pure and of the highest quality. The 'Royal' is a baking powder undoubtedly of the greatest leavening power, and perfectly wholesome.

DR. O. GROTHE,

"Chemist Department of Health, Brooklyn, N. Y."
