TABERNACLE ORGAN IN PLACE

Impromptu Recital Given by Choir
And Prof. John J. McClellan.

HEARINGS IN DISTRICT COURT.

Divorce and Other Suits—Sad Case of Destitution Discovered at Union
Depot—News Notes.

Ogden, Utah, Jan. 11.—The new Ogden Tabernacle organ, manufactured by the Kimball Organ company of Chicago, was completed Wednesday and tried out last evening by Prof. John J. McClellan with the tabernacle choir. Many prominent church men of Ogden and many citizens were present to hear the new organ, and all were gratified beyond their greatest expectations, and returned home feeling that the choir of which Ogden is proud, now has an instrument with which it can do good work. The old organ was a great handicap to the excellent organization, and has held it back in its work, but in the future Prof. McClellan expects to make rapid progress.

The early part of last evening was spent at rehearsal after which Prof. McClellan delivered an address on the organ of the following numbers:

Selection from the opera "Mignon," Thomas "The Pilgrim's Song of Hope," Badiate "An Old Melody," which was encored, and he played as an encore, "The Swanee River." His closing number was "Toccata," by which which all the selections best presented the grand tone and power of the organ. Short talks were made by C. J. Ross, Fred J. Kiesel, Bishop James Wetherston, President Shurtliff, Heber Seweroff, and Edward D. Jardine, of Chicago, the official tuner of organs for his company, who claims that the instrument has the sweetest voice possible to be turned out of the Kimball factory.

Prof. McClellan said the organ was a perfectly toned instrument, with a wonderful action. As compared with the great Salt Lake Tabernacle organ, he considered it equally as good for the building it occupies, in some respects he considers the tuning even better than the Salt Lake organ. Its tones are unusually sweet.

The instrument cost $5,500 and has 1,500 speaking pipes. The vox humana is especially sweet and delicate, and conveys the impression to the audience that a hidden choir is singing.

The new organ is set in the building in such a way that it does not lessen the seating capacity of the auditorium, and there is much improvement in the manner in which the choir seats have been arranged.

The organ will be formally presented to the public at a grand concert by the Tabernacle choir on the night of January 14. Prof. McClellan will preside at the console.

DISTRICT COURT BUSINESS.

Divorce and Other Suits Heard by Judge Howell.

Ogden, Jan. 11.—In the district court Judge Howell and a jury heard the case of M. J. Stone against the Oregon Short Line Railroad company. The testimony of the prosecution went to show that a quantity of goods, consisting of enlarged pictures and frames, were shipped over the railroad company's line to plaintiff, but were not delivered to him in proper time; that defendant lost time and profit on his business in tracing up the goods, all to his damage in the sum of $712, for which amount the jury gave a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

Laurence Dalton appeared before the court and asked for permission to change his plea of not guilty to felony to guilty, which was granted, and date of sentence set for Jan. 16. As the boy is scarcely 18 years of age, he may be sent to the reform school.

Joel Clifford has filed suit in the district court against Mattie Clifford, asking for a decree of divorce. The complaint alleges that the couple were married at North Ogden Jan. 16, 1890, and that two children have been born to them; also that defendant has been cruel to her husband and has now deserted him. Besides the decree the plaintiff wants custody of one of the children.

Marie Wilkinson has filed a divorce suit against David Wilkinson, to whom she was married Aug. 11, 1905. She alleges that defendant has failed to provide her with the necessities of life, although able to do so.

In the case of the First National Bank vs. N. C. Mortensen, judgment was entered in favor of the bank for $732. The suit was brought to recover on a promissory note.

In the matter of the estate of Anthony Frank, deceased, petition was filed by Clara Frank, praying for her appointment as administratrix of the estate, which is valued at $500. In the case of the Utah Construction company against the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, wherein a judgment was entered a month ago for $12,000 in favor of the plaintiff, the defendant has filed petition for a new trial.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

N. O. Ogden swore to a complaint in the municipal court against Rose Raleigh, charging her with the embezzlement of $245 belonging to the N. O. Ogden company. The girl was taken before Judge Patton, before whom she admitted her guilt, and gave her age as 18 years. The judge bound her over to the district court, fixing her bond at $500, which she was unable to furnish, and was therefore turned over to the custody of the sheriff.

The girl is large and appears to be about 21 or 22 years of age although she declares she isn't. The girl's mother lives at Park city, but has failed to lend the girl any assistance or even to come to Ogden to aid her in securing counsel.

SAD CASE OF DESTITUTION.

A most distressing case of destitution was brought to light last night at the Union depot. Mrs. Bessie Rhodes, formerly of Salt Lake, was sitting in the ladies' waiting room waiting for a girl friend with whom she was going to Salt Lake, holding her 15-months old infant, which was sick. She had been there for hours, and had gone all day without food, and suddenly fainted. She received attention from lady passengers, and finally Dr. Baker was called and gave her medical attention.

She was removed, with her child, to the home of Mrs. Wilcox, on Twenty-fifth street, formerly married to the Crittendon home, and will be cared for until she regains her health. The Crittendon is at present so filled with inmates that it could not accommodate her.

She relates a pitiful story of destitution, and says she was married in Salt Lake. When her babe was three weeks old she was deserted by her husband, and he has given her no aid since. She came to Ogden in October and worked wherever she could, but the babe was hindered to her and she lost one place after another, and finally was no longer able to earn support.

The first case to come up was the state vs. George Ferre, and the case is now being tried. Ferre is charged with assault with intent to commit murder. The case grows out of a stabbing affray, which occurred in the Exchange saloon in this city on the afternoon of July 24th, last year. Thomas G. Wright and some other young men were playing pool and it is claimed they were annoyed by a man by the name of Davis, a relative of Ferre, and that after some disagreement between Davis and the players Davis went out. Ferre came in soon after and struck Wright and a short time thereafter, when Wright asked Ferre why he struck him, Ferre took hold of him and a scuffle ensued in which both men were hurt. Wright being on top, and that Ferre cut Wright in the back with a pocket knife, inflicting five wounds, one penetrating the heart sac. It was feared for some time after the stabbing that Wright would die, but he recovered in a comparatively short time.
