

BUILDING BOOM ON SHORT LINE

Cut-off from Soda Springs to Preston to Be Built in Near Future.

DEVELOPMENTS IN OREGON.

O. R. & N. Operation to Extend to Nampa, Ida., which is to be Division Point.

Just as soon as the engineering department of the Oregon Short Line gets through with the building of the Northwestern road along the Columbia river it is on the cards that construction will commence on a line from Soda Springs to Preston, Ida., which has already been surveyed as previously noted in the "News." This line will afford a big cut-off on coal haulage from Kemmerer and other Wyoming camps and will be a boon to the residents of Cache valley and vicinity.

In the meantime work is being concentrated in eastern Oregon on the building of the new line from Huntington.

In this connection a special from Baker City to the Oregonian says:

"Harriman took another step in the eastern Oregon railroad situation by filing for record in the county court this afternoon amended articles of incorporation of the Northwest railroad, the projected line from Huntington through Iron Dyke to Lewiston down Snake river, which covers, as well as the Idaho side, the Oregon side of the river. The O. R. & N. engineers working up from Lewiston on the Idaho side will be met by Short Line engineers working down the river on the Oregon side. Part of the country through the Box canyon between Iron Dyke and Lewiston is so rough that track can only be built on one side, but it is stated on good authority that the track will be built on both sides of the river in all other parts in order to head off any opposition."

"Competing gangs on the Oregon side will be wary."

"General Manager Bancroft of the Short Line and some of the officials will be here next week to hold stockholders' meeting of the new company. It is also intimated that starting developments will be made in a few days in the Eagle Valley railroad matter, which is now being promoted by local subscriptions."

"It is also stated that Harriman's plans contemplate the establishment of division headquarters at Nampa, to which point the O. R. & N. line will be extended by the adoption of that portion of the Short Line under the Portland management, and that the Huntington division headquarters are to be eliminated."

The Allis-Chalmers company, of Chicago, has its engineers here tonight who will leave in the morning to examine the water power of Eagle river and the Oxbow-Snake river tunnel position. If the engineers endorse the preliminary reports the Chicago house and its clients will at once put in an immense power plant covering this entire county.

RISES TO EXPLAIN.

Pennsylvania Denies the Soft Impeachment Regarding Recent Conference.

The Pennsylvania railroad officials protest indignation at the press dispatches recently sent out to the effect that the railroads of this country, under the leadership of the Penn lines, are planning to defeat the purposes and contest the validity of the new interstate commerce act, and have mailed to the Deseret News, and presumably have done the same to every paper in the country, the following statement:

"The Pennsylvania Railroad company is not seeking to contest the validity of the new law, either on its own behalf or in conjunction with other railroads.

An exhaustive study of the measure is being made by both its legal and traffic departments, for the purpose of clearly understanding its scope and requirements, in order that they may be properly complied with. As is well known, the Pennsylvania Railroad company many years ago took a very firm stand, which it has maintained, in opposition to freight rate rebating, and the policy of the company has been to favor any measure which would entirely eliminate such practices from American railroading, in so far as it understands the purpose of the new law, therefore. It is this company's intention to co-operate with the interstate commerce commission in carrying it out, with the confident expectation that the law will be administered fairly and intelligently."

EXCURSIONS TO COAST.

The Salt Lake Route announces some cheap excursions to the coast during September. Tickets will be on sale Sept. 4 to 14 inclusive to Los Angeles and return for $30, return limit up to Oct. 3. In addition colonist rates will take effect Sept. 15 and will be on sale until the 21st. For $25 it will be possible to ride from Salt Lake to San Diego, San Jose, Los Angeles and other points.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

J. H. Race, foreman of the roundhouse at Lima, has been moved to Evanston, where he will act in a similar capacity.

Washouts on the O. R. & N. in the vicinity where the bad ones occurred last June are responsible for late trains from the west.

ROUGH RIDERS' ROSTER.

Pamphlet Issued Containing Names of Officers and Men.

R. H. Channing, Jr., of this city, is in receipt of a neatly gotten up pamphlet containing the full roster of officers and men of the First U. S. Volunteer cavalry, generally known as Roosevelt's Rough Riders. Mr. Channing was a private in K troop which was recruited almost entirely of New York men. Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., was the first colonel, with Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of war, as lieutenant colonel and afterwards colonel, and Alex Brodie, the well known Arizona man, senior colonel and afterwards lieutenant colonel. Two squadrons of the regiment managed to reach Cuba with the first lot of regulars, owing to the activity of Col. Roosevelt, while troops C, H, I and M were left at Tampa to herd the horses of the regiment. Major Brodie has a peculiar

WOOL ON DECLINE IN WYOMING STATE

Fears of Flockmasters Who Held For Higher Prices are Realized.

BUYERS ENTERED COMBINE.

An Adjustment of the Matter Was Had and Prices Again Became Satisfactory.

(Special to the "News.") Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 15.—The predictions made in these letters last spring have been verified, and the worst fears of the Wyoming flockmasters who held for higher prices have been realized. Wool is on the decline in Wyoming, much to the disgust of the man who consigned or stored his wool instead of selling last spring and during the early summer when buyers were as thick in the west as fleas on an Arizona desert. Early sales were very satisfactory, then came the report that the buyers had effected a combine and would "squeeze" the balance of the clips. An adjustment of this matter was had, and the result again was satisfactory, but the recent settlement upon the part of the buyers was taken by some flockmasters to mean that wool was going still higher, and they hesitated about selling. They waited too long, for only a few days ago one of the best clips in eastern Wyoming, upon which the owner received an offer of 24 cents in May, was sold for 20 cents, and the buyer didn't care much about taking it even at those figures. A drop of 3½ cents in less than three months certainly gives the man with the stored and consigned wool something to think about. And he has no one to blame but himself. And he cannot charge "combine" or yell "squeeze" this time, for haven't Montana wools fallen off several cents per pound, and haven't Montanas for the first time in years sold for less on the average than Wyoming clips? This is surprising, but quite true, nonetheless. Wyoming sheep are doing during the months of April and May brought from 20% to 25% cents, and the average price obtained for Montana clips the past few weeks is less than 22 cents, and the Montana wool is as good, and in most cases a trifle better than the Wyoming fleece, although the latter were away above the average this year, and showed the result of better breeding, better winter, plenty of grass and better care all around.

THE WYOMING CLIP.

It is safe to estimate that fully 20 per cent of the 1905 clip in this state has been disposed of, so that the decline will hit comparatively a few growers. A conservative estimate of the Wyoming clip gives 31,600,000 pounds, which is about 1,000,000 pounds short of previous estimates. The extreme lightness of the wool this year foisted the grower and statistician alike. But what Wyoming clips lacked in weight they made up in quality, and the high prices—the highest ever obtained for Wyoming—were satisfactory. The year was the most profitable in the history of the industry in this state. Lambs brought record-breaking prices, wool went at fancy figures, and even the stuff which had outlived its usefulness on the ranges was shipped to market and brought profitable returns. Owners expect continued prosperity in the industry, but the cash hardly hope for another autumn year as that of the fall, winter and spring of 1905-6.

Ranges in Wyoming could not be better. Frequent showers kept the grass growing and green until quite late, and just at the right time the storms ceased and the range feed is curing nicely, promising an abundant supply for winter feeding. The meadows have done even better than the record-breaking yields of last year, and hundreds of thousands of tons of hay have been stacked and made ready for emergency use during the winter months.

APPROPRIATION OF $5,000.

The bureau of animal industry has notified the Wyoming experiment station that $5,000 has been appropriated for the use of the Wyoming station the coming year, for sheep feeding and other tests. The director of the station will purchase 300 ewes in the range states of California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Utah. The selections will include animals that will make the largest, best mutton sheep, with the best and heaviest and finest fleeces of wool. The ewes will be run with pure blooded Rambouillet, and the progeny watched for improvement of the range breeds. These experiments are for the purpose of determining the best type of sheep for all purposes in the several range and mountain states.

The experiment department of the Wyoming university has inaugurated a test wool scouring plant, which, on receipt of sample fleeces, will report on the quality of the market values of the clips from which the sample fleeces are sent. The sample fleeces are to be denoted and sent in excess of the value of the wool about offsetting express charges and the cost of the sampling test. It is expected the tests will give the flockmasters of the state a better idea of the value of their clips on a secured basis and they will not have to depend so much upon the estimates made by the buyers. Eventually Wyoming will have somewhere within her borders a scouring plant, and then it will be no seriously accused when much expense will be saved the growers.

MEETING OF DEMOCRATS.

They Discussed Plans for the Proposed Outing On Aug. 23.

With a view of impressing young people, not only to show honor and respect to the aged, but to add to their comfort and happiness whenever opportunity affords, the Mutual Improvement associations of the Salt Lake stake are arranging for an Old Folks' Day. The event will take place on Friday, Aug. 17, at Wadsworth and Main streets, giving all the people residing within the limits of the stake, regardless of sect or color, a day of unalloyed pleasure. The red, blue and white badges worn on regular Old Folks' Day, will be adopted, and all persons wearing one of those colors will be transported on streetcars free of charge and will receive free entrance to the resort. From noon onward a banquet will be served to the guests of the day.

Active and competent committees have the arrangements in hand, and the event promises to be a success from every standpoint.

LOGAN FISH COMPANY.

A copy of the articles of incorporation of the Cache Fish company of Logan was filed in the office of the secretary of state today. The capital stock of the company is $12,000, divided into shares of the par value of $100 each. C. J. Lindquist is president; Thomas Rose, vice president; G. W. Lindquist, secretary and treasurer.

INCORPORATED MAN ACCUSED.

A brakeman named G. W. Kellogg was locked in the jail last night on a charge of drunkenness, after he had failed to secure the detection of a friend, whom he accused of having robbed him.

Kellogg and Henry Wise, a Birmingham miner, were drinking in a John Commercial street, when the former accused the latter of taking from his pocket $45. The accusation was strenuously denied, but Kellogg was not satisfied and took the supposed thief to police headquarters.

He found the coin safe in the owner's watch pocket, and he was thrown into jail for intoxication, while the man who had so seriously accused went free.

YOUNG MAN BURNED.

Mrs. C. S. Burke who resides on West Temple street between Fourth and Fifth South, has been called by wire to Los Angeles where her son, Fred J. Wardrop, is an invalid in the hospital suffering from burns. He was working in the iron works at Los Angeles when a can of gasoline exploded inflicting serious injury.

READY TO MOVE.

Seey, Ensign of his office exhibits preparatory to removing them to the Swan building on west Third South street. The offices of the other two associations will move a little later.

RESULTS OF PRIMARIES.

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 15.—The success of the forces of Atty. Ruef in the Republican end of yesterday's local primary election was not unexpected, but the results have renewed interest in the state struggle between Gov. Pardee and Congressman Gillette for the gubernatorial nomination at the state Republican convention. If the assertions of politicians are to be credited, a deal was arranged prior to the election whereby the Ruef delegates were to be aligned with influences friendly to Gillette. This would mean that practically the entire 13th San Francisco delegation will be arrayed against Gov. Pardee.

A claim has been advanced by the friends of the Humboldt county congressman that the workers for the gubernatorial nomination at the state Republican convention.

If the arrangement was to be carried out, it would mean that the Ruef delegates would be arrayed against Gillette. This would mean that practically the entire 13th San Francisco delegation will be arrayed against Gov. Pardee.

THE DEMOCRATIC SITUATION.

The Democratic situation in this city is tangled. All of the old forces were routed, and it will probably require some days to determine what course will be pursued. The regular organization will be further upset by the appearance of the independence league which expects to draw heavily from the ranks of the Democracy.

RESULTS OF THE PRIMARY.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Results of the primaries in the various states are as follows:

Pardee: 33%; Gillette, 66%; Porter, 2%; Hayes, 3%; Parker, 5%; Ruef, 1%; Douglass, 1%.

The governor's friends figure he will get at least half of the doubtful votes, which will insure his nomination.
