

home, so the interview was postponed indefinitely.

John Graham, of Mendon, was before Commissioner Goodwin on July 29 on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. Failing to obtain bonds he was taken by Deputy Whetstone to Salt Lake City.

Peter Oakleberry, of Goshen, Utah County, was taken to Provo Aug. 4, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation. He was placed under $700 bonds and his alleged plural wife under $300, to await the action of the grand jury.

The Facts.

The "Liberal" organ of August 3 contains a statement to the effect that those who composed the gathering of the party in the Eighteenth Ward on the previous evening were refused admittance into the school-house belonging to the ward corporation, and reflects upon Mr. Robert Patrick for his action on the subject. The facts of the matter are these: The man who seemed to be heading the rally induced a small boy to go to the janitor of the house and obtain the keys from him for Governor Thomas. On this presentation the keys were obtained. As the individual who secured them was about to open the door Mr. Patrick, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the building, approached and declined to allow the party to enter on the grounds that the building was private property, no application had been made for its use, and the keys had been obtained under false pretences, Governor Thomas not being present, and the owners of the building had not given their consent. Mr. Patrick's position was perfectly sound, while that of the "Liberal" gentleman who was running the rally, which consisted of about enough numerically to constitute a corporal's guard, was extremely rude and presumptuous.

People's Rally at Ogden.

At Ogden on the night of Aug. 3 occurred the most tremendous rally of the People's Party that Utah has ever witnessed. The town was ablaze with fireworks and the torchlight procession seemed interminable. The utmost enthusiasm prevailed and it seemed as though everybody had turned out to do honor to the occasion. The Tabernacle was filled to its utmost capacity and a much larger audience was on the square outside the building. There were several bands in attendance, and a number of transparencies with appropriate mottoes, after being paraded in the procession, were grouped upon the stand in the rear of the speakers.

At 8:45 Hon. Joseph Stanford was called to the chair, and the following gentlemen addressed the immense audience, viz.: Hons. John T. Caine, F. S. Richards, C. W. Penrose, Rich. W. Young, C. C. Richards and John Boyle. The audience was thoroughly waked up, and the applause was deafening. Every allusion to the "Liberal" party and its misdeeds was received with demonstrations, and the speakers were cheered to the echo. When there was talk of closing, such exclamations as these were heard, "Go on," "Keep it up all night," "Don't ever stop," "Talk forty days and forty nights!"

The immense audience outside was addressed by Hons. W. H. King, John T. Caine, Elias A. Smith, John Boyle and F. S. Richards, and were received with no less enthusiasm.

The People's Ticket was ratified by unanimous vote on motion of Hon. E. Stratford, and the meeting adjourned with the best of feelings and a firm determination if possible to defeat the intended frauds of "Liberalism," and maintain the power and progress of the People's Party.

Suicide at Pleasant Grove.

Our special correspondent at Pleasant Grove sends us by telephone the following particulars of a shocking suicide which occurred at that place Aug. 4:

When Mrs. Moroni Moore returned to her home last evening after an absence of a few hours, she was horrified at finding her husband's form cold and lifeless upon the floor with a gaping wound in his throat, caused by his own hand, from which his life blood had flowed. It is supposed that the deed was committed between two and three o'clock, as about two o'clock he called at a neighbor's house, looking rather wild, probably as a result of intemperance, to which he has for some time been addicted, and remarked that he was going to take a powder which had been prescribed for him by a doctor. He proceeded on home, where he was noticed afterwards sitting on the doorstep taking off his shoes. This was the last seen of him alive, for though in a thickly settled part of the town his actions failed to attract the attention of the neighbors and no one approached the house until his wife returned in the evening as already mentioned.

It seems that the man acted with considerable deliberation as, after depositing his shoes and stockings at the door, he procured a vessel in which to catch the blood to avoid having it flow upon the floor, and, after cutting his throat must have taken pains to hold his neck over it, as when found it was completely filled with blood.

Deceased, who was about 28 years of age, was formerly a resident of Spanish Fork, but has lived at Pleasant Grove for several years. For some time past he has been employed on Jones & Cutler's contract at railroad grading at the Point of the Mountain south, and prior to his death had been on a prolonged drunken carousal; to this cause is doubtless attributable the rash act which ended his life. He leaves a wife and two children, besides other highly respectable family connections, who are shocked and grieved beyond measure at his sad end, and are entitled to the sympathy of the public, which they will doubtless receive.

AT CANNONVILLE.

Pioneer day at this place was ushered in at early dawn by the firing of guns, the melodious strains of sweet music and the American flag proudly afloat in the gentle breeze. At 10 o'clock a. m. the people assembled at the meeting house. After being comfortably seated the marshal called the assembly to order and the following programme was ably rendered in honor of Utah's natal day:

Singing by the Sunday School choir. Prayer by the chaplain, Father Losee. The choir again sang an appropriate selection, "Columbia's fairest star." Counselor Andrew J. Hansen then spoke upon the rise and travels of the Church. Then followed an essay on the martyrdom of the Prophet Joseph Smith, by Miss Fanny Willis. Mrs. Lydia M. Dunning and Miss Betsy Hansen then sang "The queen of the west," which was, to say the least, par-excellence. J. M. Dunning gave quite a pleasing but brief synopsis of the famous "Mormon Battalion." Miss Betsy Hansen gave a recitation. Then followed a comic song by the inimitable Jacob Graff. The closing selection by the choir brought to an end the exercises of the forenoon. The benediction being pronounced the large concourse of people betook themselves to their homes for dinner. At 2 p.m. the children, accompanied by their parents, repaired to the meeting house, and enjoyed themselves in the pleasant dance, the latter amusement being interspersed with speeches and the passing around by Brother Hansen of a choice selection of confectionery, which pleased the children greatly. At the close of the dance everybody repaired to the public square to witness the outdoor amusements, the principal feature of which was foot racing, in which young and old participated, the victors gaining prizes. The sports and different amusements continued till the setting sun retired from view, thus ending the day's festivities.

JNO. M. DUNNING.
GARFIELD Co., Utah., July 26.

A GOOD EDUCATION.

The late Edward Everett condensed into a single brief paragraph his estimation of what constituted a good education. Here it is: "To read the English language well, to write with dispatch a neat, legible hand, and be master of the first four rules of arithmetic, so as to dispose at once, with accuracy, of every question of figures which comes up in practice. I call this a good education. And if you add the ability to write pure, grammatical English, I regard it as an excellent education. These are the tools. You can do much, with them. They are the foundation and unless you begin with these, not with flashy attainments, a little geology and all other ologies and osophies are ostentatious rubbish."—Ex.

Spare moments are the gold dust of time.