

WHAT THE "SUN" SAYS.

UNDER the caption of "Fair play for the Mormons," the New York Sun says:

"The Hon. Thomas Brackett Reed, who has returned from Alaska by way of Salt Lake City, gives this as the result of his observations in Utah:

The demand to make Utah a State seems to me to be a very clever effort, on the part of the Mormons to free themselves from the control of the people of the United States. They seem to be disposed unanimously to sacrifice polygamy for the purpose of maintaining a theocratic control over the region which they inhabit. It will be opposed by all the Gentiles of the Territory, who are a very able body of enterprising men who are engaged in developing the mineral resources of the Territory."

The Mormons, with every evidence of good faith, offer to abandon their position that polygamy is a matter to be regulated by conscience and not by law. They offer to put an anti-polygamy provision in their proposed State Constitution, and to put the power of repealing or nullifying that provision out of their own hands.

Does any reasonable person suppose the survivor of the twin relics of barbarism can be extinguished any quicker by compulsion from outside than by the operation of the laws of civilized progress? This appeal and surrender on the part of the Mormons is the strongest possible proof that the institution is dying a natural death.

What objection can Mr. Reed find to what he calls the "theocratic control of the region," provided polygamy is sacrificed, and a Constitution adopted satisfactory to Congress? Every State already in the Union is subject to theocratic control, provided anybody can erect a theocracy strong enough to control it."

BOB PARKER.

THE WYOMING DESPERADO TAKEN AT LAST.

North Platte, Neb., Aug. 18.—From Logan county parties we learn the following additional particulars in regard to Parker, the man who robbed Paymaster Bash. A short time after the robbery Parker appeared in Logan county. He had the money that he had taken from Bash with him, an original package, and in the same valise it was in when stolen. Parker put up a sod store about fifty miles northwest of Gandy, and purchased a lot of horses and cattle, paying for them with the proceeds of the robbery. In May Deputy Sheriff Carter, of Logan county, and a strong posse undertook to

on a warrant for robbing Bash. Parker stood off the posse and fired several shots at the deputy sheriff. About two weeks ago three men named Bagnall, Lucas and Johnson went to Parker's store and effected his arrest, claiming they were deputy United States marshals. They took Parker out into the hills, five miles from his store and took from him what money he had on his person, about $1,200, and a horse. It turned out that the horse did not belong to Parker, but to Haskell & Williams, who swore out a warrant for their arrest and arrested them at Plum Creek. Parker appeared in Gandy on Monday, expecting the return of the parties who had robbed him. Parker was and remained in Gandy all day. On Monday night Sheriff Doane returned to Gandy and determined to make the arrest. Parker was at the livery barn, armed with a revolver and bowie knife, where Doane's horses were. Doane, entirely unarmed, proceeded to feed his horses, keeping his eye on Parker, who was also watching Doane with his hand on his revolver. Doane managed to get within springing distance of Parker, when, with one bound he caught Parker and threw him on his face. Then ensued a life and death struggle between Parker and Doane for the possession of the revolver and knife. Parker succeeded in drawing both. Doane also got a grip on the revolver and Parker got Doane's thumb

BETWEEN HIS TEETH,

but Doane did not relax his grip of the revolver. Doane's other hand was cut in the struggle over the possession of the knife. For several minutes Doane maintained the dreadful struggle until a crowd was gathered, who disarmed Parker. Parker still held Doane's thumb and refused to let go of it until one of the bystanders jabbed the bowie knife into his throat, when he reluctantly let go. He was immediately bound hand and foot. A warrant was then issued by the county court of Logan to arrest Parker for shooting at Carter with intent to kill, and after a preliminary hearing he was bound over in $5,000 bail to appear at the next term of the district court. There being in Logan county, Sheriff Doane brought his prisoner to North Platte for safe keeping, arriving here yesterday. Parker's attorney sued out a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Snelling, of Lincoln county, on the plea that the bail was excessive. Snelling reduced his bail to $2,500, which Parker was unable to give, and was remanded to the custody of the sheriff. In the meantime telegrams have been received from United States officials at Omaha and Cheyenne authorizing his rearrest on the charge of robbing Paymaster Bash, should he be able to GIVE BAIL.

PLUM CREEK, Neb., Aug. 18.—On Sunday afternoon, Aug. 7, three men, Charles Lucas, Charles Bagnall and one Johnson, representing themselves to be deputy United States marshals acting under instructions from the United States marshal at Omaha, put in an appearance at Haskell & Co's ranch, at the head of Dismal River, in the unorganized territory, and stated that they were there for the purpose of arresting Charles Parker, the desperado who robbed Paymaster Bash last spring at Antelope Springs, Wyoming. Parker was present and suspicious of the strangers, but they finally at supper caught him at a disadvantage and DISARMED HIM.

They then securely bound him, and placing him in a buggy drove about six miles from the ranch to a very lonely place, where they told him if he would pay them a consideration they would turn him loose. He consented and paid them, as the Bee correspondent is told, $2,185. Then they skipped, leaving Parker unarmed and alone. One of the alleged officers, Lucas, was arrested at Broken Bow the Tuesday following; another, Bagnall, was arrested last Saturday morning at Kearney, while the other is still at large. Bagnall is an Englishman, and is known by a number of people in this city, having been in the employ of Edward Crewdson, a stockgrower of Custer County, Parker, as soon as he started in pursuit of his assailants, and, it is reported, overtook them, and in the fight which ensued was killed. Bagnall was in Cozad Friday, the 12th, and told acquaintances that he was on his way to England. The evidence the three men produced to show they were officers were telegrams which they alleged that they received at Whitman Station, the last one of the Burlington and Missouri branch west of Broken Bow, but whether the agent at the above station is implicated is not known. Sheriff Taylor, of this county, brought Bagnall from Kearney last Sunday on a a pair of horses and a buggy, the charge being preferred by the Haskell Brothers, from whose ranch the bogus officers forcibly took the same to convey Parker away. The matter was fixed up by Bagnall paying the Haskell $250, and he was on Monday discharged from custody, and he immediately mounted a horse and left the city. He said before leaving he was going to England. He was reported to have had in his possession when first arrested about $300, crisp new bills, probably a portion of those taken from Paymaster Bash. When he left here his pile had diminished to about $100, most of the money passing into the hands of lawyers here and at Kearney.

CHARGE OF STEALING

PARKER, OR HARRIS,

as he is known among the cattle ranches on the Dismal, first appeared there last spring. He is known to have had in his possession when he first arrived between $20,000 and $30,000, a part of which he has expended on buying horses and building a two-story building on a remote and commanding sand hill. It was generally supposed that he carried his money on his person and such a belief probably induced the three "snide" officers to effect his capture in the hope of making a big haul. What disposition has been made of Lucas, who was their leader, your correspondent has not been able to learn.—Omaha Bee.

LATE NEWS.

A BATCH OF CRIMINAL AND OTHER CASES.

Special to the Denver News.]

Shot at a Picnic.

EXETER, Neb., August 22.—A shooting affray took place yesterday about three miles southwest of here in which two brothers, John and Frank Newell, were instantly killed. A number of people were having a Sunday picnic with the usual accompaniment—plenty of beer. About 10 o'clock at night a disturbance was heard outside of the barn or house in which a dance was in progress, and John and Frank Newell rushed out. A number of strangers were trying to steal the beer. The Newells attacked them, and during the melee which followed two shots were fired from an ambush and both the Newells fell dead without speaking. Frank was shot through the head and John through the heart. The coroner is holding an inquest, but up to this time the guilty parties have not been discovered.

The Supposed Murderers Arrested.

CRETE, Neb., August 21.—Two men were arrested here to-day suspected of the murder of John and Frank Newell at the Exeter picnic yesterday. The men are railroad graders.

Parker Sues for Damages.

OMAHA, Neb., August 22.—The friends of Charles Parker, the cowboy who was arrested at Gandy last Thursday charged with robbing Paymaster Bash of $7,500 at Antelope Springs, Wyoming, on March 18th last, claim that his arrest was made without a warrant and was therefore illegal. They have begun suit against United States Marshal Burroughs and Sheriff Dolan, of Logan, who made the arrest, for $50,000 damages. Parker was arraigned before Judge Dundy in the United States court to-day and waived examination. He failed to give the required bail of $7,500, and was turned over to the United States Marshal of Wyoming to answer at the November term of the United States court in the second judicial district in that Territory.

Terrific Hail Storm.

LOVELAND, Colo., Aug. 22.—The only extended hail storm of the season swept over the country north and east of town last night. The storm started in the Box Elder country, north of the Cache la Poudre, and swept over that valley in a southwesterly direction until within three miles of Loveland. It then verged east and within a narrow strip to Emly and Evans, one branch turning south through the Sunnyside district. No definite account of the damage done has yet been received.

Cut by a Tramp.

PUEBLO, Col., August 22.—About 7 o'clock this evening on the South Side in an alley, a man named Van Trott, a German aged 38, was terribly cut and will probably die, the gash extending across the left side of the neck from the jaw well back of the ear and reaching the spinal column. His assailant was a tramp who had demanded 25 cents, and Van Trott refused to give it, whereupon they quarreled. The tramp produced a razor and attacked Van Trott, who in self-defense struck the fellow with a shovel. The thug then cut him and ran, but was caught and turned over to the police, and is now in jail. He gives his name as David Kelleher. He is a young fellow about 20, and says he came from St. Louis a few days ago. He had a partner, but the latter was trying to prevent him from attacking Van Trott. Van Trott bled terribly after being gashed. He is at the hospital. He has a wife and several children in Salt Lake City. He has been employed as a cook at a city restaurant a short time. Kelleher denies that he did it, and says the officers got the wrong man. He is identified, however, by spectators.

Raised and Lost Again.

DULUTH, Minn., August 22.—The propeller A. Booth, owned by the Booth Packing Company, which sank last year off Grand Mary's reef, Lake Superior, has been successfully raised by J. G. Falcon, a well known Chicago wrecker, and was in good condition, the damage being trifling. She was brought to this port for repairs. The casks with which she was floated were fixed firmly to her. She had traveled about 25 miles of the distance when a heavy nor'-easter set in, breaking several casks so that the boat was keeled over starboard side and sank three-quarters of a mile off Poplar River in twenty fathoms of water. One minute and a half after she disappeared part of her figure had risen to the surface indicating she had struck on a "nose." She will be a total loss. Value, $1,000.

A HAND AMPUTATED.

A Little Girl's Hand Mangled in a Machine.

A correspondent furnishes the following account of a casualty that occurred at Swan Creek, Bear Lake Valley, on Thursday last, in the carding mill of Alonzo Cook:

"Little Annie Cook, aged about eight years, was in the mill with her mother, carding wool. Another little girl was also present and was talking to Annie, who had just gone around to the back of the 'picker' to pull some wool out of the machine that had got clogged up. Her attention was taken by the other girl and she got her hand in too far. The sharp teeth of the cylinder caught the back of her left hand, pulling it in and tearing it terribly. She pulled her hand out and her mother ran to her and carried her down to the house, and held her arm to keep her from bleeding to death, holding her for four hours, until assistance came. Word was sent to Brother Cook who was at his ranch quite a distance away, and Dr. C. A. Hoover of Montpelier was telegraphed for. But not getting a correct message he did not get over until the next day when he received another message. He drove over in very quick time, making about 30 miles in two hours and a quarter. He examined the hand and found that some of the joints of the fingers were pulled out and said that he would have to amputate the hand. He administered ether to the child and amputated the hand just above the wrist, which was very successfully done. In the evening the parents started out for Montpelier, where Dr. Hoover will have the child under his care. She is a smart and bright little girl and endured the pain with great fortitude, but felt very bad when she found that her hand was taken off."

When a tramp is fortunate enough to get hold of the upper portion of a roasted fowl he generally makes a clean breast of it.

HARD AND SOFT WATER IN COOKING.—All cooks do not understand the different effects produced by hard and soft water in cooking meat and vegetables. The Journal of Chemistry says that peas and beans cooked in hard water containing lime or gypsum, will not boil tender, because these substances harden vegetable tissue. Many vegetables, as onions, boil nearly tasteless in soft water, because all the flavor is boiled out. The addition of salt often checks this, as in the case of onions, causing the vegetable to retain their peculiar flavoring principle, besides much nutritious matter which might be lost in soft water. For extracting the juices of meat to make a broth or soup, soft water, unsalted and cold at first, is best, for it much more readily penetrates the tissues; but for boiling where the juices should be retained, hard water or soft water salted is preferable, and the meat should be put to while it is boiling, so as to seal up the pores at once.

THREE KINDS OF COAL.

The coal trade of the D. & R. G., under the new management of A. L. Williams, Esq., is increasing, and a move inaugurated by that gentleman lately, will still further popularize the coal of this company. It is being screened into three varieties which will be sold at $4.35 and $6.25 per ton respectively, delivered. The first is called "nut," and though small is free from dirt. The middle size is called "egg," from the size of the lumps, and is springing into great popularity as a household article. The lump coal is the third size, and is furnished in the large blocks that characterize the D. & R. G. mines.

HAY FEVER.

For twenty-five years I have been severely afflicted with Hay Fever. While I was suffering intensely I was induced, through Mr. Tichenor's testimony, to try Ely's Cream Balm. The effect was marvelous. It enabled me to perform my pastoral duties without the slightest inconvenience, and I have escaped a return attack. I pronounce Ely's Cream Balm a cure for Hay Fever. —WM.
