Has Capital of Two Million and a Half—A Big Enterprise.

WILEY TO THE EDGE OF PARK.

Project is Financed by Big Horn Development Company and Comprises Fifty Miles of Road.

Opposed to the "Neville," Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 17—the Wyoming Short Line railroad has filed articles of incorporation here, with a capital of $2,000,000. The company is financed by the Big Horn Development company, which is constructing the great Oregon basin enterprise in the Big Horn country. A line of natives 50 miles in length, starting from Wiley and reaching the eastern edge of the Yellowstone national park, will be constructed. The road passes through Gerington and Grey Bull, prosperous farming towns. The Big Horn Development company has completed a large portion of its canal and will turn water in a few days. The enterprise is one of the largest in the west.

COMPULSORY TRAMPING.

George Neal, a workman of Chicago, was locked in a freight car in that city by joking companions. A switch engine came along and pulled the car out of the yards and not until he got into Wyoming did George Neal see daylight. He telegraphed to Evanston, Wyo., to Evanston, Ill., his own home for money and came on to Salt Lake. After getting some greatly-needed clothes, food, sleep and rest, Mr. Neal left for Chicago. He is of the opinion that the joke played on him was carried "entirely too far."

CONFERENCE IN OGDEN.

Harriman's Wire Experts Meet to Discuss Changes and Improvements.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, Nov. 18.—Certain changes contemplated in the Harriman telegraph interests in Ogden have been gone over by A. C. Roots of San Francisco, superintendent of the Southern Pacific company; J. R. Johnson, assistant general foreman of the telegraph department, and B. F. Forbes, superintendent of the telegraph of the Oregon Short Line, at a conference in Ogden.

"About the most important thing we have on at the present time," said Mr. Roots, "is the building of an additional copper circuit from the coast to Ogden to connect with the 100 circuit between Ogden and Omaha. This is quite an expensive proposition and has been made necessary by the increase in the telegraph business on the coast."

SPIKE AND RAIL.

W. D. Pike, at one time a resident of Salt Lake, but now of the passenger department of the Salt Lake Route, was in the city yesterday en route to New York and New England.

The company formed recently to take up the coal mines 20 miles south of Price is to let contracts for the building of a branch line from the R. G. W. within a few days. The road will be known as the Blue Mountain. The Neosho ranch on Miller creek has been bought by the new concern as this ranch has excellent water rights and other accessories. Miners are now at work on the coal deposits to have them open in good shape by the time the railroad is built.

The Tonopah & Tidewater railroad is now running passenger and freight tracks into Beatty and Rhyolite, and the cost of transportation has been greatly reduced.

MEN DID THE COOKING.

The East Side Baptists held a Boston Tea party the other evening at the church. The feature of the occasion was that the cooking was entirely by the men. The tables set by men and the serving by men. Prof. W. C. Gough of the state university was the chief cook and Boston baked beans, ham, potatoes, bread, rolls, pumpkins, pie, and lots of other things were in evidence and the women folks who ate the "heavy" luncheon on and sampled everything with a critical tongue, declared the spread could not be beat.

The head cook was also chairman of the committee in charge. He was assisted by F. M. Stinger, B. D. Cutler and Benjamin L. Corum. Then as hired A. L. Palmer as his chief helper. Arthur Brown to take charge of his dish department, L. D. Shea as his chief detective, to see that no woman stole either the silver or the devils of the famous chef, J. C. Coopers, dishwasher, and B. L. Lester, chief waiter. Then there was a full list of attractive "blushes."

The result is that the women folks think that the men cooks are really good for something after all.

BOON TO MISSIONARIES.

Rule of Postal Union Will Work to Advantage of Many.

An important change has been made by the postal authorities in regard to providing a means for persons in foreign lands to remit letters from the United States without cost to them. The post office department has simplified postmasters with whom are known as remittance companies 5 cents. The recipient of a letter containing one or more remittances to his postmaster, anywhere in the world, upon exchange for the remittance postage is the amount in which he is accounting to the value of 5 cents.

Heretofore it has been necessary for a person in a foreign country to buy a stamp and then affix it to a telegram from this country. A float of remittance from friends in this country, especially to missionaries, has created a demand for postage money that the person could not afford to lay out. Now this is done away with and an answer may be sent now without cost to the person receiving the coupon.

PATRIARCH WARD E. PACK.

Ward E. Pack, oldest son of John Pack and Julia Ives Pack, born at Vernal, N. Y., April 17, 1831, died at Vernal, Utah, Nov. 1, 1907.

His parents joined the Church and moved to Vernal when he was a child; they were victims of the mobings at Far West and moved to Navoo, Ill., with the saints.

The packers were chosen, his father was one of those selected. He came west, leaving his family and Ward, who was then 14 years old, at Vernal. Questioning the packers came to Salt Lake in the following year and settled in the Seventeenth ward. In 1859 Ward Pack was called on a mission to the Sandwich Islands with President Smith and others who made up the second company of missionaries to teach those islands.

Mr. Pack remained in the Islands until the missionaries were recalled by President Young in 1860.

In 1860 he performed a year's mission to the eastern states with his father and mother, their work being among friends and relatives. Upon returning the family took its residence up Kamas in Summit county, Utah, where the family home has been located ever since.

When the Saints stake was organized Mr. Pack was chosen second counselor to President W. W. Cluff, a position he held until the reorganization of the stake when he was ordained a patriarch.

He subsequently filled two more missions to the Sandwich Islands, presiding over the Sandwich Islands, and many thought some trouble had broken loose. Sixty Greeks of all ages and sizes were moving restlessly in and about the railroad offices, all talking at once. Inside the office the scene was more bewildering. A half dozen attaches of the ticket department were sitting at as many phones. Now and then conferences would ensue between the better appearing Greeks and the railroad boys. Towards noon "Dick" Neslen, general agent, spoke to a Greek, evidently a leader and the Greek turned and after getting attending, spoke to the 50 foreigners gathered around him. When he finished what resembled a quiet respite and a majority of the swarthy-skinned beggars hurried out to lunch. After the lunch hour they were back in the Burlington depot again. Not long after one of the railroad men at the phones would straighten up, throw on his coat and hurry out—not for lunch, though.

Altogether the situation was unique. Mr. Neslen has another way of describing it.

WHAT IT DID MEAN?

At 12:30 the railroad boys began to wear smiles and the same signs of relief began to show among the foreigners. A 2 o'clock situation was clearing rapidly and at 3 p.m. the welcome end was in sight.

A riot? No. A strike? No. An attack upon the Burlington offices? Twice, not

WHAT IT DID MEAN.

The story is this. The "News" told a few days ago how thousands of foreigners were leaving for their native lands because of unsettled conditions in this country. Hundreds of them are in evidence and a large concourse of sorrowing friends attended the services and followed the departed to her last resting place in the member plot in the cemetery.

The service was conducted by Elder Benjamin Geddes, the closing by Bishop James Maxwell and Bishop M. S. Woolley dedicated the grave.

Mrs. Bayliss was born in England, May 13, 1824, and was married in 1846. At the age of 18 she became a member of the First Ward of the Christian Latter-day Saints. In 1861, in company with her husband and family of small children she emigrated to Utah, crossing the plains in Capt. Eldredge's company. The family located in what is now the Twenty-first ward among the earliest residents of that section, their home at present being on the extreme eastern limit of the city.

Mrs. Bayliss is survived by two sons and three daughters, the eldest, Ephraim, residing at Elba, Idaho, the youngest, Mrs. Bertha Dearborn, residing at Chicago and Lorenzo J. Emma A. and Anna, residing at the family home 29 K street this city.

MAIL BOX BROKEN INTO.

A United States mail box at First South and West Temple street was broken into Saturday night, but so far as known only one letter was taken.

The lock was torn off and the side of the box crushed in. The police are certain that robbery was the motive of the person who smashed the box.

The postal authorities are making an investigation and if the guilty person is apprehended it will go hard with him.

LUCKY ACCIDENT.

SIXTH STREET CAR COLLIDED WITH POLE BUT NO ONE HURT.

A Sixth street car collided with a telephone pole last evening, breaking the pole to splinters and damaging the front vestibule of the car but luckily hurting no one. The accident happened at the corner of Sixth and Main block below the terminus of the line. Gravel wagons in passing over the tracks have been dropping dirt until the tracks became buried. When the car started for town the motorman threw his brakes to "ring notches," maximum speed and just as the trip was commenced in earnest the cars struck the pole, causing the car to turn over and the pole to snap in the center of the strength with terrific force. The motorman jumped just in time and as no passengers had been picked up there was none else but the conductor on board. The pole was broken off and pulled four feet from its original place. No wires were down but as the front end had been turned back against the partition the "dinkie" had bent up the rails, had a difficult time. Finally, this was accomplished and the car taken to the barns. Traffic was not disturbed.
