WAR ON HORSE THIEVES IN TEXAS.

REMOVED AND RESIGNED.

THE BLAINE TRIP—TRAIN WRECKERS, ETC.

The Blaine Boom.

ST. MARK'S W, Na., 7.—After reviewing the procession at Parkersburg, last evening, Mr. Blaine, by special request, went up to Marietta, Ohio, to attend a meeting there. He made a short speech in which he alluded to the origin and early history of the place. He remained all night at Marietta, and was ferried across the Ohio river to Williamstown, where he met his special at 8:30 this morning when it came up from Parkersburg.

Canton, O., 7.—About noon the train arrived at Wheeling, where about 1,000 people greeted Blaine as he came out of his car. There was a large meeting in front of the State House. Blaine made a short speech in which he again presented a protective tariff as the leading issue in the campaign and declared that no State in the Union was more interested in maintaining it than West Virginia.

From the meeting his carriage was again escorted through Wheeling and across the river to Bridgeport on the Ohio Side, his private car having been transferred in the meantime. He bowed to the crowd and entered his car, whereupon the train started for Canton.

Stops were made at Mayward, Flushing, Freeport, Richville, New Philadelphia, Canal Dover and Masselion. At each Blaine appeared on the rear platform and spoke briefly, acknowledging the compliment paid him, and urging the importance of the tariff question.

At 3 o'clock the train arrived at Canton, the end of the day's journey. A torchlight procession escorted Mr. Blaine. He reviewed the procession and in response to calls of the people, made a very brief speech, in which he eulogized McKinley, the present Representative of the district in Congress, and urged his re-election.

Removed.

ALBANY, 7.—David Healey, chief clerk of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, was to-day removed from office by Commissioner Peck. The reason assigned by Peck for the action is that his subordinate has violated his oath of office and has been guilty of malfeasance in office, the latter charge consisting in his telegraphing some 46 messages, amounting to about $10, and charging the same to the Department. Healey indignantly denies the charges and will demand an investigation. Healey's friends claim he recently presided at a Butler meeting against the advice of Commissioner Peck.

Following is the letter of dismissal: "You are hereby notified that on and after this date your services will not be required in this department. Under ordinary circumstances I should feel willing and indeed, justified, in allowing you to resign, but, conscious as I am, not only of your base and unwarrantable treachery to me personally, but of your utter lack of manhood, decency and honor in the performance of your sworn duty, I am impelled by a sense of my official oath to remove you for grossly dishonest practices, and to denounce you as unworthy of the confidence of any man."

(Signed) CHARLES F. PECK.

Commissioner of Labor Statistics.

Peck, it seems, had told Healey he had no desire or wish to influence his (Healey) political action in any way. He thought he ought to see the propriety of not presiding at the Butler meeting, which, however, Healey did. Since then Commissioner Peck obtained copies of dispatches sent by Healey and charged to the Department. Between April 29th and August 6th, 40 dispatches were discovered, many of them signed Healey or Damon, his nom de plume, and all on private business or in connection with political labor movements, that had been paid for by the Department. The custom is to pay the telegraph bill monthly, those that were private being checked off and paid for by the parties sending them. This is the custom in all the State departments. Many of the 46 dispatches were in cipher. Peck states the bills were presented to Healey and he certified they were on department business. Healey denies the charges and declares the removal was for political reasons. Peck states that neither Gov. Cleveland nor any other State officer knew of or advised the removal, which he made on his own personal or official responsibility.

Tilden's Reply.

NEW YORK, 7.—The following is Mr. Tilden's response to the resolution of the National Democratic Convention, conveying to him the resolution of that body: "Graystone, Oct. 6th, 1884. To the chairman and gentlemen of the committee: I thank you for the kind terms in which you have communicated the resolution concerning me adopted by the late Democratic Convention. I share your convictions that reform in the administration of the Federal Government, which is our national want and is indeed essential to a restoration and preservation of the government itself, can only be achieved through the agency of the democratic party, and by installing its representative in the chief magistracy of the United States. The national historical traditions of the democratic party, the principles in which it was educated and to which it has ever been in the main faithful, its freedom from corrupt influences which grow up in the prolonged possession of power and the nature of the elements which constitute it, all contribute to qualify it for that mission. Opposite characteristics and conditions which attach to the republican party makes it hopeless to expect that that party will be able to give a better government than the debasing system of abuses which, during its ascendency, has affected official and political life in this country. The democratic party had its origin in the efforts of the most advanced patriots of the revolution to resist perversion of our government from the ideal contemplated by the people. Among its conspicuous founders are Benj. Franklin and Thos. Jefferson, Samuel Adams and John Hancock of Massachusetts, George Clinton and Robert R. Livingstone, of New York, and Geo. Wythe and James Madison of Virginia, and from the election of Mr. Jefferson as President in 1800, for sixty years the democratic party mainly directed our natural policy. It extended the boundaries of the Republic and laid the foundation of all our national greatness, while it preserved the limitations imposed by the Constitution and maintained a simple and a pure system of domestic administration. On the other hand, the republican party has always been dominated by principles which favor legislation for the benefit of particular classes at the expense of the body of the people. It has become deeply tainted with abuses which naturally grow during long possession of unchecked power, especially in a period of civil war and false finance. The patriotic and virtuous elements are it are unable to emancipate it from the sway of selfish interests which subordinate public duty to personal greed. The most hopeful of the best citizens it contains despair of its enfranchisement except through its temporary expulsion from power.

"It has been boastingly asserted by a modern Massachusetts statesman, struggling to reconcile himself and his followers to their presidential candidate, that the great republican party contains a disproportionate share of the wealth, the culture and the intelligence of the country. The unprincipled Grafton when taunted by James the Second with his personal want of conscience, answered: "That is true; but I belong to a party that has a great deal of conscience.' Such reasoners forget that the same claim has been made it alleges against new reforms. It was alleged by the Tories of the American Revolution against the patriots of that day. It was repeated against Jefferson, and afterwards against Jackson, and it is alleged by the Conservatives against those who in England are now endeavoring to enlarge the popular suffrage. All history shows that reforms in government must not be expected from those who sit serenely on the social mountain tops enjoying the benefits of the existing order of things. Even the Divine Author of our religion found his followers not among these self-complacent Pharisees, but among the lowly minded fishermen.

"The Republican party is largely made up of those who live by their wits, and who aspire in politics to advantages of the rest of mankind, similar to those which their daily lives are devoted to securing in private business. The Democratic party consists largely of those who live by the work of their hands, and whose political action is governed by their sentiments or imaginations. It results, then, that the Democratic more readily than the Republican party can be moulded to the support of reform measures which involve a sacrifice of selfish principles. The indispensable necessity of our times is a change of administration in the great executive offices of the country. This, in my Judgment, can only be accomplished by the election of the Democratic candidates for President and Vice-President.

(Signed) SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

To R. H. Henry, Chairman, B. B. Smalley and others of the special committee of the Democratic National Convention.

Arrested.

TOPEKA, Ks., 7.—James and August Forney and Wm. Mound were arrested to-day, suspected of wrecking the Santa Fe train near Emporia early Sunday morning. The men had been idling about town some time, and left Saturday and returned to-day. Their horses show marks of hard service. The prisoners are held in $10,000 bail each.

Diamond Thief.

BOSTON, 7.—Mrs. Georgina Heustis was arrested to-day on a requisition from the Governor of New York, on a charge of fraudulently obtaining diamonds of the value of $2,000 from Teresa Lynch, a diamond broker of New York City. She had been stopping at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and it is said, upon her claims of being connected with wealthy and influential families, she obtained the valuable diamonds, which were disposed of in this city.

German Murderer.

NEW YORK, 7.—Chief of Police of Meridan, Connecticut, is reported here in consultation with the German Consul, claiming that there is now residing in Meridan the Carl Selfert and wife whom recent German papers say owned the tavern in Lepsig, Prussia, in which were found, after they had vacated, the skeletons of seven persons.

$200,000 Thief.

Louis Green, Jr., accused about two years ago of swindling certain Fall River manufacturers and brokers in New York of nearly $200,000 by means of forging bills of lading and forged orders as a cotton broker of Columbus, Miss., was arrested in a hotel last night. He recenely returned from Europe.

Resigned.

John D. Warren, chairman of the republican State committee, yesterday received the following letter:

Sir—I wish to tender my resignation as republican elector of this State. I am sorry to say that I cannot conscientiously support the present nominee for President, James G. Blaine.

I remain yours respectfully,

W. E. FORREST.

Forrest is a prominent doctor of this city. He refuses to say anything beyond what is in the letter.

Attack on Horse Thieves.

WASCO, Texas, 7.—Last night at Pipe Springs, a mob attacked the residence of a farmer named Hayes. A son-in-law of Dunlap and a young son of Hayes went out to meet the mob. The mob instantly killed the former and fatally wounded another son of Hayes. They had been concerned in horse stealing. A committee notified the elder Hayes to leave the country. He refused to comply. A posse of citizens has started in pursuit of the assassins, several of whom were recognized by Mrs. Hayes. Trouble is anticipated.

McLogan, of Chicago, called the meeting to order, and an address of welcome was delivered by City Attorney General on behalf of the city in the absence of the mayor. The object of the annual assembly is to discuss the questions at issue between capital and labor and to disseminate such views among the organized working people of the country as will secure recognition for them. The delegates number 80 and claim to represent nearly a million wage workers. Politics will form no part of the deliberations.

THE MURDER OF STEWART.

Armistice.

LONDON, 5.—Telegraph's Paris correspondent says he has reason to believe the United States Government is continuing its generous efforts for mediation in the difficulty between France and China, a mediation by which Ferry made probably find the only means of exit from the imbroglio in which France is entangled. The correspondent adds: The United States, and not Germany, will have the last word in the Chinese question.

A Times Pekin dispatch of Saturday's date: Your correspondent is assured on high authority that China is ready to submit to arbitration, and will abide by the consequences. The Foreign Committee at Kelung is safe. No casualties to the men of war before Tamsui are reported.

The War.

PARIS, 5.—Courbet telegraphs: We completed the occupation of Kelung without resistance. The batteries at Tamsui were dismantled. It will be necessary before proceeding that the coal mines to fortify the principal positions so as to enable a small force to hold them. The sunken junks and torpedoes in the river, are being removed.

Col. Negrier is massing his troops to march against the Chinese in Tonquin. An engagement is soon expected. Courbett has ordered Lespes to act very cautiously at Tamsui and not land his forces unless able to hold his position.

At Longchamps races to-day, a mob, dissatisfied with the riding of an English jockey named Sharpe, pulled him off the horse and brutally kicked and beat him. The horse was also injured by blows from sticks, stones and umbrellas. Sharpe was carried into the weighing enclosure in a critical condition. A violent row followed, the mob breaking into the enclosure. Soldiers on duty were compelled to guard the place from the infuriated crowd, and one of whom was seized by three jockeys and only escaped lynching by the interference of the police. The jockeys had already stripped the fellow's clothes off and were about to hang him. The weighing room was besieged by the rioters for half an hour and another English jockey was maltreated.

The Murder of Stewart and Party.

Cairo, 7.—Advices from the Nile state that after the stranding of the steamer, on which were Colonel Stewart and his men, three natives came on board and stated to Colonel Stewart that he was only a short distance from Marawee, which they could reach on foot, and where they could get assistance to float the steamer. They offered to guide them there. Colonel Stewart and two companions started for the village, and when they had traveled out of sight of the steamer a number of men sprung from ambush and murdered the party. The rebels afterwards attacked the steamer, killing all aboard except four.

M. Barriere, French diplomatic agent, has received a telegram stating M. Herbin, French Consul at Kartoum, was killed at the same time as Colonel Stewart. His party was massacred by Arabs.

The Cholera.

Pittsburg, 7.—The lockout of Oliver Bros. & Philips' rolling mills began this morning, and 3,000 more men are added to the already large number out of employment in this city. The men positively refuse to accept the 12½ per cent reduction, and the firm gave no orders to light the fires, so that instead of a strike it is a lockout.

San Francisco, 7.—A large number of Chinese passengers by the steamer City of Peking lately arrived are taking advantage of Justice Fields ruling that Chinese born in the United States are citizens and entitled to land. Thirty writs have been taken out the last few days by Chinese who claim to be Americans by birth.

St. Louis, 7.—John McCullough arrived here this morning. He spent the day with old friends in quite a pleasant way. He will probably go to the Hot Springs, Ark., in a day or two, as the guest of Dr. Jas. Meller, an old and intimate friend and physician of that place. He will spend two or three weeks there, after which he will go to New York. His friends here consider his trouble almost wholly physical.

Long Branch, 5.—The funeral services of the late Chanfrau, actor, were held this afternoon at Chanfrau Cottage, Cedar Avenue. The attendance, mostly actors and theatrical people, was large. The floral tributes were elaborate. Rev. Elliot D. Tompkins, Rector of the St. James Protestant Episcopal Church on Broadway, Long Branch, officiated. He spoke feelingly of Chanfrau as a man, neighbor, husband and actor. The remains were interred in the cemetery at Branchburg.

Chicago, 7. — Springfield, Illinois, special: Gov. Hamilton held a consultation with State Veterinian Paarian to-day on the subject of pleuro-pneumonia. It was decided to accept the proposition of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange, refused by Dr. Solomon, Chief of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, to expose 10 head of healthy cattle to pleuro-pneumonia in order to decide if it is contagious or not. A quarantine will in the meantime be strictly maintained.

Altoona, Pa., 7.—The Mechanics' bank of this city closed its doors to-day. No notice was placed on the door. It was subsequently learned that the withdrawal of a large sum precipitated the suspension. There is no statement of assets or liabilities, it is thought, however, that the concern will pull through. Other banks here anticipate a run by small depositors to-morrow.

A vast crowd assembled in and around the Court House yard. Both candidates held an informal levee upon the platform, shaking hands, etc., at the close of the debate.

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts supreme Court, writes as follows:

"76 E. 61th St., New York, May 18, 1882.

Messrs. J. C. AYER & Co., Gentlemen: Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable chilling humor, showing more especially my limbs, which lasted intensely at night, and burned to intense, so that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from severe catarrh and catarrhal cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite immediately almost from the first dose. I Rapidly gained strength, my cough was relieved, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until I am now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took the small doses three times a day, and the large size, less than two bottles. I place the facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.

Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS."

The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice, which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Arouses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility, and all Disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.
