

HUSBAND TURNED HER INTO STREET

Martha J. Davis Sues Myron W. Davis for Divorce on Cruelty Grounds.

SAYS HE CAME HOME DRUNK

On These Occasions, the Complaint States, He Would Curse His Wife and Drive Her from Home.

Charging her husband, Myron W. Davis, with repeatedly staying away from home for days at a time and returning home in a beastly drunken condition; with repeatedly, without cause, driving the plaintiff away from their home in the night time; with cursing her and swearing at her and calling her vile and obscene names, and lastly with being a habitual drunkard, Mrs. Martha J. Davis this morning filed suit in the district court seeking divorce from her husband.

The complaint specifies all the charges named above in detail, giving dates of three times she has been driven from home in the night time when she alleged her husband came home drunk and in a beastly condition. Particularly mentioned are the dates of May 3, 1908, when such a scene occurred; again on the 20th of August of the present year, and on September 20, on which last named date it is alleged Mr. Davis came home after having been away three or four days, at about 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, cursed and swore at his wife and ordered her to leave home, and compelling her to take refuge in the house of a friend. This and similar acts of cruelty are given as grounds for divorce. The plaintiff in the action is a woman probably 50 or 60 years old, having a son by a previous marriage, and on one of the occasions enumerated when compelled to leave home in the night time, she went to the home of her son for refuge.

RICH MINING MAN.

Plaintiff further alleges that her husband is possessed of considerable real and personal property, consisting of the home occupied by him, and holdings in various mining companies to the alleged value of $25,000. And plaintiff claims unless a restraining order is issued preventing him from doing so, defendant will dispose of all his property for the purpose of evading the plaintiff's right to alimony. She therefore asks that an injunction issue restraining defendant from disposing of his property, and the outcome of these proceedings. Plaintiff asks for $25,000 permanent alimony, $200 per month temporary alimony, and $2,500 attorney fees and costs of suit. The defendant is a mining man well known about town. The parties were married at Farmington, Utah, Oct. 26, 1898.

CARROLL GIVEN HEARING.

John Carroll was before Judge Diehl this morning for preliminary hearing on the charge of robbery. The state sought to show that Carroll had taken a watch from A. L. Folger, a bookkeeper, on Sept. 27 at the Continental saloon, while Folger was talking with a beggar who had asked for the price of a drink. The state failed to show the necessary elements of fear and force in their witness' testimony and a motion for dismissal was made by William Newton, counsel for Carroll. Judge Diehl stated as his opinion that the crime of grand larceny should have been charged, and was the contention of the defense.

Several adult children are living in the east and there are no minor issue of the marriage, the youngest child being now 22 years of age.

The company claims the death of young Tyler followed the results of his own negligence. The mother claims the boy was only 15 years old.

HOTEL THIEF CAUGHT.

Clerk and Police Co-operate to Get Troublesome Visitor.

Identified as the thief who has been plundering rooms at the Orchard hotel for some time, Leon Louder, who says he is 22 years of age, was arrested last night following a clever ruse at work on the part of Dennis O'Loughlin, clerk at the hotel, who essayed a detective's role. O'Loughlin, or Murphy, as he is better known, was arrested with a stolen watch and the unknown thief who had made life a burden for so many of the hotel's guests. For several days articles of various sorts have been missing from the hotel, and the clerk declared he saw him as he was leaving the place with a bundle and he challenged him. The fellow broke and ran, but Murphy was after him in short order. Louder was captured in the Du Nord hotel in Second South street, after quite a chase. When the thief entered, Murphy sought police aid and Patrolman Kelly was detailed on the case. He found the man in the saloon and he was taken to the police station. Louder, who is a native of the St. Nicholas hotel, back of the saloon, was found a bundle containing great quantities of stolen goods, including knives, shoes and other small articles.

ROBBERS IN GROCERY STORE.

M. J. Hardin First Victim of Winter Holdups.

The first holdup to come with the cold weather occurred last night, when M. J. Hardin was compelled by two unmasked robbers at the point of their revolvers to open his cash drawer and hand them the contents. Not over $10 was secured. The robbers were held in their operations. Both walked calmly into the store and asked the clerk for a certain amount of money. They drew their revolvers and commanded him to get the money for them. It was after 11 o'clock and few persons were in the store at the time. The men after warning Hardin not to move left the place and were lost in the darkness before Mr. Hardin reached his front door.

WITH THE POLITICIANS

To tell the people of Bingham canyon how hard they felt about Taft and how they could not possibly think of casting a vote for him unless accompanied by a straight "American" ticket, E. P. Wilson held a rally at that place last night. A fair sized audience listened to the frying of the hierarch and the appeal to join in a crusade of...

WEALTH OF TETON BASIN.

F. D. Gillett Tells of Accomplishments of Amateur Farmers There.

F. D. Gillett has returned from the Teton Basin, where he says it is the coldest weather, for this time of year, within the memory of man. Mr. Gillett noted the condition of the sheep, which he says is entirely satisfactory. Dipping is going on, the preparation being an antiseptic character, rather than the old-time lime or tobacco preparations. Mr. Gillett says lime burns the fleeces, while tobacco stains, so that where it is used to any extent, it will not take the dyes equally with the unstained parts. Mr. Gillett says the opportunities for farming in this section are remarkable. One settler with his first plowing and unscientific cultivation was able to harvest 47 bushels of wheat to the acre. Another man made enough out of a tract of land he had bought in one year to pay for it. There are other great possibilities in the Gem state.

ELECTION BETS GROWING IN VOGUE

Preliminary Symptoms of Final Flurry in This Line Begin To Show Themselves.

ANOTHER AMERICAN RESIGNS

J. Walcott Thompson Decides He Has Had Enough of the Kearns Company for One Season.

How much money have you got to bet on the election and on whom will you place it?

The question is a prominent one along the curb. Election fever has a way of reaching a crisis on the betting board. Along towards the last, after those who take the thing seriously have passed the zones of argument, the bets begin to flash out on the board.

For 1908 the betting season is now just beginning to open. It will not reach its full force until the beginning of election week, and the fact that the preliminary bets are not being actively taken indicates that caution is not being wholly abandoned.

Here's today's schedule from the Second South street board. It's a small list, and only forecasts the interest that will hang about the board in the final culmination of the campaign, when its prophecies will overflow and find their way up and down the curb in personal interviews between two men of opposing opinion, witnessed by a third with a trusted hand into which the stakes can be slipped. The list now posted includes these offers:

$200 to $100 that Taft is elected.
$100 to $500 that Bryan carries Montana.
$25 to $100 that "American" party carries Salt Lake county.
$100 to $75 Taft will carry New York.

NORTHERN CAMPAIGN.

The principal development of the political situation today is the determination of the Republican party to put its men through the northern part of Utah as it has put them through the southern part in the week just closing. Next week Ogden and Logan will both hear from Senator Carey, and in the last half of the week, Candidate Spry will be in Weber county all day Wednesday. Candidate Howell will be there all day Monday, Nov. 2, and Senator Sutherland will spend one evening in the county. Sumner, Borelder and Morgan are not being overlooked in the work, and all three counties will be given the going over the south has already had. A speaking schedule for the next week in the north will probably be given out by Col. Squires tomorrow.

THOMPSON OFF.

At the last call for resigning candidates from the various state tickets, J. Walcott Thompson has found that he has had enough of "American" company and is willing to let go. He has sent in his resignation from the Taft-Liberal ticket, for attorney general. Thompson, who with him $34.85 of the total taxes paid by the "American" ticket men, and the ticket power for tax payers than would any one of thirty other candidates out of the forty upon it.

He was formerly stationed at Annaberg, Germany, but since July has been consul at Warsaw. While he does not speak Russian or Polish he is learned rapidly, and says he likes the post very much. The promotion from Annaberg to Warsaw is well appreciated by Mr. Ifft, and the position is an important one. Mr. Ifft says that our cities do not compare favorably in cleanliness with the cities in Germany.

Gave His Wife a Lot, Pays Fourteen Dollars.

Comes now W. H. Bramel, the other partner of the Street & Bramel law firm, seeking credit for taxes justly paid to the gatherer of the public funds. And he specifically lists $14 in taxes that are due to be credited to him in that a lot which he gave to his wife is assessed in this amount. This raises the total contributions to the carrying of the general expense, to just a little less than what many a single small taxpayer pays—than we have seen in the case of income tax and an unobscured down town business and a modest home. Here is Mr. Bramel's declaration of interest in the tax burden: Deseret Evening News, City, Gentlemen.

gave an interesting report of the civic and forestry committee, when Mrs. Allen spoke of the savings banks in public schools, and said that the movement was in hearty accord with the views of prominent bankers. Prof. Stewart of the state normal school is highly in favor of it, and is working to have it installed in the school. It is already in successful operation in the Park city school.

Miss Larsen of Gunnison sang a solo, after which an open parliament was held for the discussion of current questions, among them, the juvenile court problem, "The Abuse of Our National Holiday," "The Overworked Telephone Girl," "The College Woman," "The Woman's Club," "Housework," "The Idealism in the Home," and "The Submerged Christian Spirit." All these were discussed at length and many striking points brought out, upon which the members will doubtless work with reformatory vigor.

The first part of the afternoon session was taken up with the report of various clubs. The address of the afternoon was given by Mrs. E. H. McMahon who took for her topic "The Great Philanthropist of our Nation," and illustrated what had been done and what yet remains to be done for the unfortunate of the earth. She spoke of the conditions existing among the poorer classes, both in regard to poverty, morals, and disease, and showed that with the great wealth in America, fault was at the bottom of such crying evils, and that this fault was "greed." Mrs. McMahon also read reports of the Canyon Crest institution, citing it as an illustration of what might be done by faithful and combined effort in ameliorating conditions. Music was rendered by Misses Alfred in violin solos, and M. J. Brines with vocal numbers, during the afternoon.

The feature of the evening session was the address of Rev. E. L. Goshier, who chose for his topic "The Cost of Liberty," a masterly talk, filled with splendid and decisive points, and thoroughly enjoyed by his audience.

HOW POWDER TRUST DESTROYED COMPEITION

New York, Oct. 22.—Methods alleged to have been employed by the so-called powder trust to gain control of the powder trade in the United States, as described by R. S. Waddell, former general sales agent of the United States for the big powder company, at today's session of the hearing in the Sherman anti-trust law. He had declared that the defendant company controls between 85 and 98 per cent of the trade in gunpowder, and 90 per cent of the trade in blasting powder. Today he told of the formation of the Southern Powder company, which was organized in Cincinnati with mills in Georgia, and absorbed by the big company a few months later.

"We went right after the Southern as soon as they entered the market," said Mr. Waddell. "The fight continued until the general round-up in July, 1896."

"What do you mean by the general round-up?" was asked.

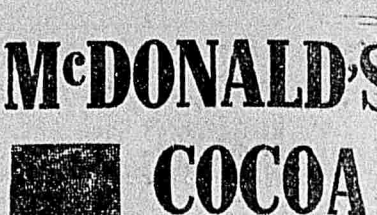

"I mean the complete elimination of competition by absorbing the competitors," replied the witness.
