As the corporation endeavoring in this manner to utilize this dormant grant is not in an impoverished condition, you will allow me to make this public, as my purpose is to aid the public and prevent imposition by the sale of lands secured by a forfeited title, which may be declared worthless.

To the Secretary of the Interior.

DENVER, 8.—The hailstorm which visited Denver to-day was the heaviest ever known. The day was ushered in by a heavy shower of rain. At 9 o'clock the sky cleared, and the day promised to be exceptionally fine. An hour later the sky was again overcast; terrific thunder and lightning announced the approach of a storm, and increased with its fury. Soon rain drops and hailstones were coming down together. The streets were immediately deserted. The violence of the storm rendered it unsafe for any one to be out. Incredible as it may seem, fully eight inches of hailstones, some as large as plums, fell in the lower part of the city in thirty minutes. The street car drivers unbuckled their horses and sought shelter where they could. Horses insecurely hitched broke loose and went tearing through the streets, which being deserted no one was injured. The storm lasted fully an hour. Countless windows were broken, gardens dismantled, trees stripped of foliage, cellars flooded. The lightning struck several places in the city; strangely, no one was fatally injured. A Chinese house was crushed with the weight of hailstones, and the inmates dangerously hurt. The fact that the storm was entirely local leaves the damage to crops and fruit trees comparatively light.

New York, 8.—A short and heavy thunder storm passed over this city this afternoon. The streets were covered with ruin. Signs were demolished and telegraph wires damaged.

At Paterson, N. J., great damage was done. Several mills were partially unroofed, and the unfinished spire of St. John's Catholic Church demolished. Lumber piles were scattered, trees uprooted, the telephone system demoralized, and several persons slightly injured. There was a panic in the locomotive shops; the clatter from an overturned peddler's wagon caused two teams to run away, and the horses of each were killed, impaled by the shafts. In the collision the driver of one team, John Ferquehar, was badly hurt. Coal sheds were blown into the river.

Lexington, 8.—The stable of Jas. A. Grinslead, containing six thoroughbred yearlings, all by Imp. Thunderstorm, burned, and all the animals consumed. Loss $10,000; the work of an incendiary.

New York, 8.—Another collision occurred with serious results on Park Avenue yesterday. The horses hitched to the victoria in which were seated Mrs. Louise Lawton, of Cincinnati, now on a visit to W. G. Davies, of 308 Lexington Avenue, and a lady friend, became frightened and dashed away through the crowded east drive. At 86th Street the runaway horses came in collision with a coach, and Mrs. Lawton and the driver of the victoria, Fred K. Plowman, were thrown heavily to the ground. Mrs. Lawton was seriously cut and bruised; Plowman's arm was broken.

Quebec, 8.—A dispatch from St. Pierre Miquelin, says: A severe snow storm is raging to-day.

Pittsburg, 8.—A. O. Tensman & Co., coke manufacturers, whose financial embarrassment was announced Saturday after a prolonged consultation with creditors, made an assignment this evening to A. Hutchinson, of this city. The liabilities amount to $316,000. Of this amount $220,000 is secured. The principal creditors are banks in this city, and West Pennsylvania coke operators. No other cause is assigned for the failure than depression in coke.

Harrisburg, 8.—The Governor has issued a proclamation declaring forfeited the charters of all corporations which have failed to make returns to the Attorney General within three years, and which have not responded since the issuing of the previous proclamation, thirty years ago. Between 600 and 700 charters are declared forfeited. The list is composed largely of defunct concerns.

New York, 8.—In Surrogate Court yesterday, much excitement was created by the development of a peculiar, interesting and romantic story. The principal actors are young men of high social standing and wealth. The story is as follows: In 1869, W. T. Tilden, a relative of Samuel J. Tilden, died, leaving an estate valued at $2,500,000. He distributed it equally among his four sons, William, Willard O., Marmaduke and Beverly B. Tilden, aged 20, 16, 12 and 9 respectively. Josiah M. Fiske, Wm. Blogett, Davitt Louis, Chas. Tracy, and N. C. Ell were appointed executors. In 1870 the executors employed an Italian named Biaggia, as tutor and manager for the boys, and they were sent to Europe; in Paris they occupied the rooms formerly occupied by the Prince of Wales and other members of the Royal family of England. They then proceeded to Berlin and lived in sumptuous style, expending in six months about $70,000. The eldest of the four, William, purchased a palace in Coburg for $40,000, and with it the title of Baron, while in his palace he became very much interested in the wife of the former owner, and very soon was under the complete control of her husband, to whom he gave a power of attorney, and permitted him to purchase furniture for the palace. In 1872 the executors discovered the condition of affairs abroad, and by the payment of very large sums of money the young man was extricated from his difficulties. The four then conceived the idea of a ball in honor of the Americans in Germany. They hired an immense hall at great expense, and gave a ball, which was widely commented upon. When they returned home, the executors footed up their expenses for two years and eight months at $185,000. They were sent to Harvard College, but did not remain there. William was made executor of the estate, and in 1877 a partner in the business carried on by his father. This he was compelled to give up, owing to his inability to manage it. Many accountings were had, for large counsel fees paid. In 1877, Gustavus G. J. Thebaud was appointed guardian for Beverly B. Tilden. He received $1,250. Afterwards, it is alleged, he was locked up in Ludlow Street jail for 11 months for misappropriating $15,000 belonging to another estate for which he was attorney. From the accounting now in progress before the referee it appears that the two eldest sons have been paid $175,900 more than their share. It is also charged that a mortgage of $160,000 on Jersey City property, with interest, was collected by the executors, and that one of them deposited the money to his private account. The estate is in bad condition, and will now yield but $100,000 to each of the youngest sons. The executors are charged with procuring the ratification of their acts by threats. Beverly B. Tilden now seeks to have various accountings opened, on the ground that the expenditures were foolish, rash, unnecessary and contrary to his father's will. He also claims that the executors should be charged with the unnecessary expenditure. The executors make a general denial, and declare they have accounted for every cent they spent, and that the boys when they came of age ratified their acts.

St. John's, N. B., 9.—William Hughes, colored, found guilty on his own confession of murdering his wife, was hung here this morning.

CHICAGO, 9.—Washington special says: The attention of Secy Lincoln having been called to the report that Gen. Crook would be in danger of court martial for crossing the Mexican border, Lincoln says: "It is perfectly absurd. I have not the slightest idea that Crook will do anything not in accordance with the agreement between Mexico and this Government, because he (Crook) said in his dispatch that he would not."

The news of the divorce suit between Senator Fair and his wife attracted little surprise in Washington. Fair has brought his wife here but once, and it has been rumored that they did not live happily. A Congressman who claims to know the family history, said he was not surprised at the suit, as he had known for a long time that Mr. and Mrs. Fair did not live happily together, and he thought that the Senator would not oppose the suit. He says Mrs. Fair is of a very jealous disposition, and has often accused her husband of infidelity. The Senator, he added, is willing to accept separation on almost most any terms. When asked whether it might not influence Mr. Fair to resign his seat the gentleman replied, that he wouldn't be surprised, as Fair was not over-pleased, he thought, with his Senatorial life; he prefers the more free and easy western life.

CHICAGO, 9.—A special from Charlotte, Mich., says: Grimes & Co.'s mill at Vermontville, 10 miles north of here, was burned this morning, and two or three men, including the proprietor, were burned to death.

CHICAGO, 9.—Officers at General Sheridan's headquarters in this city do not credit the rumor of disaster to Crook's column. While it is true they have no recent advices from General Crook in person, they are in the way of receiving quick communications from any point in Texas or New Mexico in case of an engagement, and particularly so in case of disaster. Any report which General Crook might make of operations in or from Arizona would go to headquarters of the Department of the Pacific at San Francisco, and headquarters here would not be in receipt of any official report direct.

Correspondence.

WALES, May 7, 1883.

Editor Deseret News:

A letter dated April 27th, 1883, was yesterday read at our public meeting, though late it was nevertheless timely in that it destroyed the impression that the Nephi brass band had lent itself to the horse race fiasco of May 1, 1883, at the Wales Commercial Institution. The institution was left minus snipe and sack, for though their friends beat the bush the snipes did not come.

It was advertised that a dance would wind up the terpsichorean bobbin and that the lads and lassies would foot it to the exhilarating tunes of the aforesaid Nephi string band, but as the leader said in his letter to the Bishop it was Fama damosa, and we sincerely thank him and his honored fellow-laborers for this public declaration—that the advertisement was "unsought, unknown to them," "and their surprise was great" when they saw the fact flaunted in their face by posters at Nephi. The corrupting influences are enough as simply adorned as they are, but when the charms of sweet music are added and prostituted to the inauguration of a hurdy gurdy house or something similar, it is time our musicians before lending themselves to it should in the language of the immortal Uncle Ned "hang up the fiddle and the bow."

It may seem to the unthinking that the wholesome restraint sought to be imposed by our fatherly bishop is a great stretch of power, but many of our youth are Zion-born; the seduction of music, prostituted for crimes sake; the heat of wine; the glare of fashion; are new to us, and it is meet and proper for some to say if they pipe to you in the market places, you are not required to dance; to find audiences and prostitute your calling to their caprice.

The floodgate of intemperance is hoisted high enough, God knows; need we help it a quarter of an inch higher?

The Bad and Worthless are never limited or counterfeited. This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole World that HOP BITTERS was the purest, best and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprang up and began to steal the notices in which the press and the people of the country had expressed the merits of H. B., and in every way trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and good name of H. B. Many others started nostrums put up in similar style to H. B., with variously devised names in which the word "Hop" or "Hops" were used in a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such pretended remedies or cures, no matter what their style or name is, and especially those with the word "Hop" or "Hops" in their name or in any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits. Beware of them. Touch none of them. Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of green Hops on the white label. Trust nothing else. Druggists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or counterfeits. (3)
