Women of the town, colored female pickpockets and murderous thieves and the army and murderous theves and the army of loafers who did nothing but gamble, steal, smoke opium and live from the wages of sin of fallen women, were practically protected. Other cities ran the crocks out of town and many of them flocked here where their votes were appreciated by the "Americans."

SHERIFF SUPPORTED.

The sheriff is receiving the support of all good citizens for the work he has undertaken in ridding the city of the criminal element, and especially the negro crooks. The nurders, attempted murders, robberies and other orimes which can be traced directly to denizens of Com-mercial street and other vice breeding localities, are simply appalling.

RECORD OF CRIME.

RECORD OF CRIME. On Sept. 11, 1900, two desperadoes, King and Lynch, entered the Green Light gambling hell on Commercial street with the purpose in view of rob-bing the same. Col. Godfrey Prouse, one of the proprietors, resisted and was murdered in cold blood. Lynch woth the and King were artested and convicted of murder. King managed to get out of the state prison. Lynch made an attempt to escape but was captured. His death sentence was com-mut d to life imprisonment and he is now an inmate of the Utah state prison. About one year ago Georgie Burton, a woman of the town, was chased up the street by her infuriated lover, shot to death, and he then committed sui-cide. About two years ago a negro mane d Harry Wilson was shot by a colored man known as "Dirty" Thomas. Wilson died at the hospital shortly after the shooting. In addition to these crimes, there does, vicious assaults and thefts too. In addition to these crimes, there for been robberles, attempted mur-ders, vicious assaults and thefts too sullivan and Joe Garcia planned the probery of the Albany bar. In carry-ing out their crime they committed a greater one by murdering in cold blood a brave and faithtu guardian of the public peace, Patrolman Charles S. Ford. On Sept. 11, 1900, two desperadoes, AMUSEMENTS.

Choral Society Concert-At the Tabernacle last night a good sized audience assembled to greet the newly organized Salt Lake Choral society; in fact the attendance was surprisingly good, considering the plethora of music we have had of late. No doubt many of those in attendance were conference of those in attendance were contended arrivals, who came too late for the Elsteddfod, but there were also many Salt Lakers and tourists in the audi-ence and from one and all went up a verdict of high pleasure at the pro-gram provided. longer than it should have been, no en-cores were allowed, and the coming artists were kept treading on the heels of the going artists, in a fashion that was very pleasing, and might well be copied in future Tabernacle events. A large part of the program was made up of the recent prize winners, the principal attention being attracted to the society itself, which gave the two numbers "Sylvia" and "The Chal-lenge of Thor" in beautiful fashion, the effect rather being heightened by the division of the voices after the style of the Denver chorus, the male voices on the two ends, instead of being massed together. The prize winners, Miss Edna Evans, soprano, Mr. Hal-sett, baritone, Mr. Andrews, violinist, the ladies quartet, consisting of Mrs. Kirkman, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Vaness and Mrs. Wise, the ladies' chorus, in "The Bells of Aberdover," Miss Barnes contralto, Mr. Summerhays tenor, Miss Mae Hawley, planist, and Mr. Hough-ton, barttone, were all rewarded with some big bursts of applause. Addition-al numbers were furnished by Mr. Brines, whose big round tone was heard to fine advantage in the tenor solo from Elijah, and by Mr. McClel-lan, who gave three organ numbers, was tempestuously applauded and made to bow his acknowledgements. The familiar Andantino, "To My Wife," was especially exquisite in the closing movement; the stop employed in the opening seemed somewhat loud for a really tender effect. The trio for violin, organ and plano, rendered by Messrs, Weihe, McClellan and Kimball, was the acme of soulfulness. Mr. Rob-inson's sweet baritone voice was giv-en fine chance in the Elijah number and he too had a warm welcome. Mr. Weihe has few things in his repertoire that he does better than the enchant-ing Faust Fantasia, and he had one of the occasions of the night. His playing was generally fine, but a strict adjudications would say that he has done some of the intricate parts with greater accuracy. Mr. McClellan con-ducted, as well as sharing in the ac-companiments, the other accompanists being Mrs. Sa being Mrs. Sanborne and Mr. Kimball. At the conclusion there was a genauton and the members remained to indulge in handshaking and to listen to a few encouraging remarks from Governor Thomas, Mr. Weihe, Mr. Stayner and Prof. McClellan.

The street has been a rendezvous for criminals of all classes. Young girls have been lured there and ruined. Boys have been taught all manner of vice and many of the crimes can be traced to the habit of opium smoking. Occasionally the police have raided hop joints, but the croows usually escaped punishment. As long as this class of joints, but the croows usually escaped punishment. As long as this class of undesirables are permitted to ply their nefarious trades just so long will hop joints and other crime centers exist, and just so long will there be mur-ders, suicides, robberles and other crimes committed, and the only way to put a stop to it is to run the thieves out of town,

STREET CAR COMPANY SUED.

Mrs. Brimhall Traces Misfortune to a Carcless Motorman.

The damage suit of Sarah A. Brimhall against the Utah Light & Railway company is on trial before Judge Ritchie and a jury in the district court today. The plaintiff is suing to recover damages in the sum of $20,100, for injuries alleged to have been sustained by her on the night of May 2 last. She was riding on a Waterloo car which she claims was overcrowded with passengers. She wished to alight at Ninth South and Fourth East, but was Ninh South and Fourth Last, but was unable to make her way from where she stood in the car to the rear. Going to the front of the car, she told the motorman where she wanted to get off, but as a fire was raging in he neighboorhood the motorman heedlessly and negligently brought the car to a sudden stop, throwing plaintiff to the ground so for-

It has not been ascertained that Mr. Wilson left any irregularity in his ac-counts with the company which he was instrumental in organizing, and which includes such men as W. S. McCornick in its directorate, and Col. N. W. Clay-ton as its president, but the fact that the secretary has disappeared without leaving any definite idea as to where he was going and how long he would stay, is causing some little anxiety among the stockholders of the company. Wilson left a note in the office of the company, at 14 West Third South street. Saturday morning, saying he was leaving town to purchase some machinery for the new plant the com-pany proposed to erect here, and on Wednesday morning a letter which had been mailed from Ogden was received at the offices of the company, in which Wilson asked an assistant to keep the matters of the company in order until be should exture and saying he would

Considered as Blessing in Disguise by People in That Sect on.

Word was received at the Short Line offices last evening that the depot building at Minidoka, Idaho, was on fire and in a fair way to become en-tirely consumed. Minidoka is the point of junction between the main line of the Short Line and its branch leading to Twin Falls. The station building, although considered equal to any demands that might be made upon it at the time of its construction, became woefully inadequate for depot purposes when Minidoka as the junction point when Minitoka as the junction point for the Twin Falls country began to expand, and the disaster is looked upon rather as a blessing in disguise by the residents of that section of country, as there is little doubt that the railway company will at once begin the erection of a station building large enough to take care of the increasing business passing in and out of Minidoka. How he fire originated is a mystery.

In announcing that the letter would be read, President Kavanaugh referred to it as one of the strongest of many able papers by Mr. Hill. Mr. Hill declared that the assertion hat the railroad interests are hostile to the development of the country's wa-terways is one of many cheap slan-ders by which a political campaign against railroad interests has been pro-moted in the past. Said he: "I am glad to emphasize right here the fact that the relation of rail and water transportation is one of harmony, helpfulness and co-operation."
