THE OLD FOLKS' EXCURSION.

The old folks' excursion party yesterday was quite an event. It was conceived in a liberal spirit, designed for a worthy object and brought forth under the most favorable auspices. Honor to age springs from the highest instincts of our nature and is incited by the precepts of religion. The "ere and yellow leaf" of humanity should not be suffered to fall into obscurity and neglect, but be cherished for what it has been, and its relations to green and vigorous youth and maturity. The young and buoyant of both sexes are apt to forget, in the pleasures natural to their lively spirits, that the old folks take interest in all that gives joy to mortal life, and that though feeble and worn by time and care, they are still men and women with all the impulses, emotions and needs of the race. The idea of arranging a pleasure party for those who had reached the scriptural limit of three score and ten, was founded on a recognition of these facts, and having been carried to a successful issue, a repetition of the arrangement was encouraged.

The bishops heartily responded to the call of the committee, and Superintendent John Sharp made ample provision of cars, etc., so that at the time appointed a large company, consisting of all the aged people of the city without distinction of sex, creed, politics or race, started from the U. C. depot in good season. The morning was bright and pleasant, and light clouds broke the full glare of the June sun, while a pleasant breeze met the train as it moved out at 7.40 to the stirring music of the Tenth Ward Brass Band.

At each station on the way additions were made to the company, which reached a total of 552 souls before arriving at Ogden. The old folks highly enjoyed the journey, the chat by the way, the meeting of old time friends and acquaintances. President John Taylor, Elders Wilford Woodruff and Joseph F. Smith, of the Twelve Apostles were on the train; also President Bishop Edward Hunter, with his counselors Bishops L. W. Hardy and R. T. Burton; Elder Joseph E. Taylor of the Stake Presidency, and other Elders and Bishops. There were five persons in the party between 80 and 100 years of age; 31 between 60 and 80; 235 between 20 and 60; 152 between 60 and 70. Quite a number were just on the verge of 60, and the rest were in charge of the aged. On the road the 7th Ward Glee Club, assisted by Elder George Goddard sang lively pieces, and Brothers William Eddington and William Taylor were very efficient attendants, passing round refreshments and cheering all with kindly words.

At Ogden immense preparations had been made to receive the company. It seemed as though the whole city had centered at the depot. A score of bright little girls, dressed in white, formed a line near the track with bouquets in their hands, and 150 teams were ready to convey the visitors to Mayor Lorin Farr's grove, which he had tendered free for the use of the party. Governor Raymond White acted as Marshal of the day, and all but a few persons, who wished to visit friends in town, were taken to the beautiful grove by the banks of the Ogden river, under the Ogden Brass Band, headed by Captain William Foght. Here tables were spread, and stores were waiting to hand a cup of tea or coffee to all who wished to partake with their picnic. The park was green and abundant, the Cowditch brook meandered away, the heavy foliage made a splendid shade and the glittering sun-rays brightened and adorned the scene without unpleasant heat. A clap or two of thunder and a black cloud over the mountains threatened trouble for a short time, but like the portents of our enemies it proved only brief noise and darkness without actual mischief.

President D. H. Peery and his Counselors L. J. Herrick and W. F. Middleton, with the ward bishops of the city were on hand to assist in making the occasion agreeable in every way. Also Elder Franklin D. Richards and others. The first proceedings at the grove were the presentation of flowers by the children to the most aged persons present — those who were over 90 years old, and a feeling and eloquent speech from Bishop L. W. Hardy, who also received a fine bouquet. After the picnic, in which ample provision was made for all comers, the company was called to order by Brother Goddard, and the Hymn "Come, let us anew our journey pursue," was sung. Then followed prayer by Elder Levi W. Hancock. After this the Hoppatana brethren sang finely in Italian. Then various prizes were distributed, as follows: To the oldest persons present — Catherine Wilson 95 years of age, born in Marlborough, Wales; and William Wild, aged 95, born in Northamptonshire, England; the latter when 90 years of age challenged any one of equal years to a foot race round the Temple Block for a sack of flour, but found no takers.

The next prizes were to the oldest persons present who had drawn a handkerchief from the plains. These were taken by Joseph Ball aged 77, born in Norfolk, England; by Catherine Wilson, aged 75, born in the north of Ireland, and three other ladies not quite so old. Then father John Snow, aged 65, sang a song, "The Humble Thrusherman," with great vigor. The next prizes were to old ladies

SAN FRANCISCO, 12.—A Winemakers' dispatch says: The citizens held a meeting last night, and subscribed money to arm and equip a mounted volunteer company, and go out on the northwestern range road to scout and check the hostile Indians, who are reported numerous in the vicinity of Camp McDermott. The up stage from Summit was captured by Indians yesterday, and McCutchen, the driver, was killed. Hamilton, escaped on one of the leaders. The rest of the horses were taken and the stage gutted. The escaped passenger gave the alarm, and the road, and the settlers are all crowding into Camp McDermott. The stage contained several boxes of arms and ammunition for parties in Idaho.
