DESPONDENCY LEADS TO SUICIDE

Frank White Wanders in Hills Sunday and Takes His Own Life.

DEATH OF JOHN C. CROMER.

Young Student Succumbs to Brief Illness from Peritonitis—Railroads Want Water—News Briefs.

Ogden, April 14.—The body of Frank White, a laboring man of 30, who had been residing on Twenty-third street, was found yesterday afternoon by Lester Blake, a young herdsman, in the foothills east of Ogden, near Taylor's canyon. In a secluded ravine near the blue hills, a four-course bottle, half-filled with carbolic acid, lying near the body, and tell-tale burns about the mouth and face, bore mute evidence as to the shocking manner of his death. The police were notified and Patrolman Walter S. Martin was sent to convey the body into the city. It was taken to Lindquist's undertaking establishment to be prepared for burial. No motive for the suicide can be obtained other than supposed ill health. To his father, George W. White, who lives at 908 Twenty-eighth street, White complained last Friday of feeling sick and appeared at the time to be very despondent. White had been working for J. J. Brummitt up to Saturday night. At that time he was paid what was due him and left with the understanding that he would be back Monday morning. Mr. White was married in Ogden six weeks ago to a young lady named Palmer. His mother died about the same time. It is said that he told his wife on several occasions that he was going to kill himself. The people for whom he worked noticed his despondency, and his father, whom he visited last Friday, said that he was feeling very much depressed.

YOUTHS PLACED ON PROBATION.
 Judge V. C. Gunnell of the juvenile court has filed decrees in four cases of incorrigibility of youngsters who were brought before the court several days ago, charged with petty larceny. The lads, Vilas Van Buskirk, Gus Thander, Simon Jensen and Norman Poulsen, were given into the custody of their parents and placed on probation, at the same time being required to appear before the court every Saturday to report their conduct for the week. Unless the lads can show a clean bill of good behavior in the future, it will be necessary to send them to the state industrial school.

RAILROADS WANT WATER.
 A meeting between representatives of the Harriman system in Ogden and members of the city water commission was held Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of making arrangements for securing water for the railroad buildings and grounds. No definite agreement was reached but it is very probable that some action will be taken next Monday night by the city council.

DEATH OF JOHN A. CRAMER.
 John A. Cramer, aged 25 years, died at the Ogden hospital Tuesday, after a week's illness from peritonitis. The young man had been attending the Agricultural college at Logan and was brought to Ogden about a week ago. An operation was performed but no relief could be obtained.

It is as easy to prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best spring medicine as it is to say it.

 It is the most effective of all blood medicines.
 There is solid foundation for this claim, in the more than 40,000 testimonials of radical and permanent cures by this medicine, received in two years, this record being unparalleled in medical history.
