

Local and Other Matters.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, MAY 25.

Silk.—Justice Pyper takes much interest in the subject of silk raising, and has a cocoonery, which is under the management of his son, who has produced this season 30,000 worms of the very best quality, which are doing well, and are from the fourth years' eggs.

Benefit of Miss Dellie Clawson.—The Theatre will be open on Saturday evening for the benefit of Miss Dellie Clawson. This talented, intelligent and accomplished young lady is one of the most promising members of the dramatic company. Having trod the stage from a tender age, she has acquired an ease on the boards and a familiarity with dramatic matters which become like second nature. She is a rising young actress and is perfectly at home on the stage. Moreover she has manifested great willingness to play for the benefits of others, and has many friends in the company as well as among the general public, who will all be eager to muster in force to honor her on Saturday evening.

Nearly Drowned.—On Sunday a number of children were crossing City Creek, which is now considerably swollen, immediately above President Young's saw-mill, on a narrow plank. One of the little ones, an eight-year old daughter of Mr. Olif Hammer, fell into the stream and was carried down by the swift current. Fortunately Mr. W. D. Williams happened to be near by, heard the child scream, and ran to her rescue. He succeeded in extricating her from her perilous position. He was just in time, for when he reached her only her toes were visible above water, and when taken out she was insensible, but was subsequently resuscitated.

Parents should be careful not to allow their children to play near City Creek, as there is danger in it.

That Jubilee.—We understand that arrangements have been made to convey the Sunday School children of the various other parts of Utah County to American Fork, on June 1st, on the occasion of the proposed grand jubilee to be held there in honor of the birthday of President Brigham Young.

We understand also that special arrangements have been made whereby a limited number can be conveyed to American Fork on that interesting occasion from this City, but all desirous of availing themselves of the opportunity, so far as the special arrangements are concerned, must make early application to George Goddard, Assistant Superintendent Sunday School Union.

Silk Culture.—A few gentlemen and ladies interested in this important industry have recently taken the preliminary steps towards the organization of a sericultural society in this Territory, the leading object of which will be the diffusion of information on the subject. The projectors of the proposed association intend encouraging the raising of cocoons and the reeling of silk here, instead of merely producing and exporting the eggs.

A meeting, due notice of which will be given, of parties interested in sericulture will be held in about a couple of weeks from now, when it is probable a permanent organization will be effected.

There is a number of practical silk-reelers in this Territory, and in the meantime it is desirable that those capable of operating in that branch should report themselves to Mr. Paul A. Schettler, of this city, who is temporary secretary for the association.

A Beastly Outrage.—Mrs. Heath, eighty-two years old, and Mrs. Rance and family live in the same house, in different rooms, in the 10th Ward. About midnight last night, Mrs. Rance heard the old lady screaming for help, and opened the door of her room, which communicated with that occupied by Mrs. Heath. "What is the matter?" said Mrs. Rance. "There is a man here," was the answer, and, sure enough, a man jumped from the bed and rushed to the door, which Mrs. Rance held open. The latter jammed the door to, to prevent him gaining ingress to her room, but the fellow succeeded in getting one leg in, which prevented the door being closed. Then a fierce struggle commenced between the two, the lady trying to hold the door so as to prevent the scoundrel getting into the room, and he to gain an entrance. The fellow had the advantage and the brave little woman had to give way. After this brute got inside the room, he seized hold of Mrs. Rance, who must have exercised almost superhuman strength. She tore his clothing and fought with him most desperately. He placed his knee upon her side and hurt her considerably.

Seeing their mother thus attacked, Mrs. Rance's children, one a brave little fellow of six years, and a girl nine years old, flew at the beastly scoundrel and fought and tore at him. He knocked the little girl down, and she received an injury in one of her arms by the fall.

The fellow, finding that he had met with a brave woman who had the ability and determination to protect herself, and finding that he was unable to accomplish his brutal purpose, finally left.

The screams of Mrs. Rance were heard by James Woods and Thos. Shreeve, who were on guard, and they immediately hastened toward the spot whence the sound proceeded, when they met a man at the corner of the block, bare-headed and with his clothing torn, disarranged and open. Thomas Shreeve, who reached him first commanded him to hold up his hands, at the same moment covering him with a pistol, when Mr. Woods darted forward and collared him. The fellow protested that he had not been doing anything wrong, but the guard took him back with them to the scene of the outrage, when the scoundrel, whose name is Nephi Vaughan, was identified by Mrs. Rance as the villain who made the attack upon Mrs. Heath and herself.

The guard who made the arrest found, on their arrival at the scene of the outrage, that Dr. F. D. Benedict and a couple of young men, named respectively Wilson and Riter, had reached there before them, they also being on guard in another part of the Ward, and hearing the screams had immediately run to discover what was the matter.

Old Mrs. Heath was so excited and nervous over the affair that the guard subsequently found her on the streets wrapped in a sheet, afraid to remain in her room, and it was with some difficulty that she was prevailed upon to re-enter it.

The prisoner was brought to the City Hall by Dr. Benedict and his two companions and he was placed in jail to await his examination.

Since the foregoing was written, the investigation of the case was held, this afternoon, before Justice Pyper, when the circumstances above narrated were substantiated, the proof against the accused, who is a low, ignorant, brutal looking fellow, was most conclusive, and Justice Pyper decided that he be held in $1,500 bonds, and in default that he be committed to jail, to await the action of the grand jury.

During the examination Mrs. Rance produced a piece of the prisoner's coat, which she had torn off in the struggle with him, and his cap was subsequently found in Mrs. Heath's bed.

The worst kind of a fate is no better than such a fellow deserves, and had he been caught at his brutal work a dose from a shot-gun would have been in order.

This and other such circumstances should be sufficient to put citizens upon their guard against such characters without it being necessary for us to reiterate the advice we have previously given on the subject.

CO-OPERATION, ECONOMY AND CULTURE.—The Chicago Temperance Co-operative Store is a success, and inculcates some lessons which the St. Louis Globe-Democrat thus comments upon and approves—

"Co-operation in this country is developing an ethical principle that, while it may not render it any more practical, will not render it less welcome. The Chicago Temperance Co-operative Store not only declares a recent dividend of ten per cent. on profits, but it speaks out some excellent maxims of business honor and what may be called business charity. It says one great cause of the poverty which is so general is the failure of our people to appreciate small things. There is no reason why in such a land poverty should be anything but the most rare exception. Men do not realize how a daily addition, be it ever so small, will soon make a large pile—precisely as daily petty wastes reduce wealth to penury. If the young will begin, at once, to save a moiety from their earnings, and plant in the soil of co-operative industry, or, what is the same thing, a savings bank, and add to their mite by the week or the month, they will wear the smile that competence gives in middle life. This movement is combined with the practice of temperance. The idea seems to be that a combination of those who know how to control appetite is sure of profitable remuneration—that the making of money should never be dissociated from mental and moral improvement. Especially should working men secure as they go a reasonable amount of culture and mind wealth. If the plan can be carried out, the members are growing rich in all ways at once. A reading-room is provided for in connection with the central and each branch store. There is certainly in all this nothing impracticable."

THE GLOBE-DEMOCRAT.—Double names are becoming more common among newspapers in this country. As stated in our dispatches a few days ago, the Globe and the Democrat of St. Louis have become joined together, under the name and style of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the first number of which is before us. The "salutatory," which is brief, says—

"It is more of a marriage than a birth in the history of journalism. It is in reality the union of two great newspapers under the proprietorship of the men who are known as the founders and conductors of both."

The Globe-Democrat is to be Republican in politics and to adhere to the tenets of the Republican party, so long as they represent, as at present, the means of attaining the best and highest form of self-government. It is to be true to the party while the party is true to its principles, and endeavor to be a comprehensive newspaper as well as a political journal.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.—The payment of a thousand pounds sterling by the Harpers to the family of Dr. Livingstone on account of their publication of his "Last Journals," has been followed by some comment, alleging that they withheld this justice to other foreign authors. This is not warranted by the facts. The payment to Dr. Livingstone's family was in accordance with an established rule of the Harpers. They paid a thousand pounds to Sir Samuel Baker, on account of his "Ismailia," and by the same rule considerable sums have been paid for their reprints of the works of other foreign authors. Charles Reade, Wilkie Collins, Geo. Eliot, Miss Thackeray, Miss Muloch, Castelar, Victor Hugo, Kinglake, Thomas Carlyle, B. L. Farjeon, Anthony Trollope, Miss Braddon, and many others, received from the Harpers the same copy-right that is paid to American authors. Some of these are so well pleased with the liberality of their American publishers, that their productions are sometimes printed first in this country. The same course is pursued with regard to foreign illustrations printed in the Harper periodicals; and it is now tolerably well known abroad, that foreign authors and artists find in this country a market for their productions quite as remunerative as at home.—Philadelphia Ledger.

OF THE

"Chicago Pitts"

THRESHERS & SEPARATORS

AND

LIGHT DRAFT HORSE POWERS.

Threshing, Separating and Cleansing all kinds of Grain and Seeds, without waste or loss of time by Slow Work, and Heavy Draft on the Teams.

Threshermen buy them and Farmers employ them on account of their Reliability and Durability.

FARMERS AND THRESHERMEN LOOK TO YOUR INTERESTS.

BUY THE BEST; THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST.

The intelligent, first-class, old experienced threshermen, and thrifty well-to-do farmers, buy and employ the "Chicago Pitts." Farmers employ them to thresh their harvest of grain and seeds, and often pay an extra price per bushel to the owners of Chicago Pitts Machines, because they thresh clean out of the heads, separate perfectly out of the straw, save the grain and seeds clean, fit for market, doing the work with the utmost speed, and do not keep a gang of men and teams on their place by reason of breakages, slow work and heavy draft on the horses.

Threshermen of long experience in the business buy them, because the Chicago Pitts is in perfect running order when it leaves the factory, and because of its superior durability and finish in all its parts, may be vigorously operated with the best results. It will thresh as much grain as any good set of hands care about handling, and it cannot be surpassed by any machine in the land, for Lightness of Draft and Good Work.

We have again secured the exclusive agency for the sale of these excellent machines and extras for repairs, for Utah Territory.

One of the Company visited us a few days ago, to ascertain precisely what was wanted in our dry climate, and we arranged with him for enlarged riddles and cleaning functions, also for two wheat riddles for each machine, one of them a fine mesh, to suit the wants of the farmer, for either foul or clean wheat; also for oats, riddles with a finer mesh, and enlarged elevators, on a different principle from the old. Warranted never to clog or choke under any circumstances.

The master wheel of the Horse Power of these machines is cast of a new pattern, much heavier than the old one, and is well banded with wrought iron.

We say, in confidence to our friends, that these light draught and durable Machines have no rival in this dry climate, and we offer them for sale at the very lowest possible living rates, and on easy terms; also all kinds of extras for repairs.

Ayer's AGUE CURE,

For the speedy relief of Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, etc., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

HAS been widely used, during the last twenty-five years, in the treatment of these distressing diseases, and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. The shakes, or chills, once broken by it, do not return until the disease is contracted again. This has made it an accepted remedy, and trusted specific, for the Fever and Ague of the West, and the Chills and Fever of the South.

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system, and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease, so that not only Complaints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, L.D. senterly or Debility follow the cure. Indeed, where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison, it removes the cause of them and the disease disappears. Not only is it an effectual cure but, if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria, it will expel the poison and protect them from attack. Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease. The General Debility, which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm, has no speedier remedy. For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy.
