We have presented above the head and front of the special legislation clamorers. We do not do so because we consider them intrinsically worthy of notice, but because we consider it but right that the country, and especially Congress, should know the component parts of this head and front of the turbulent element, whose sole business is to create strite and contention, and to falsify, malign and misrepresent diately.

to falsify, malign and misrepresent in order to accomplish their ulterior and nefarious purposes. It is for Congress and the country to say whether or not they are heartily sick of the unhappy state of affairs that has been superinduced by the operations of the "carpet bag" ele-ment in various parts of the Repub-lic. We have shown that the kead, front and mainstay of the special legislation movement is essentially, nay almost exclusively, composed
